Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures never designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

—A man went into a photographic gallery at Stockton, California, to sit for his likeness, and borrowed the proprietor's watch and chain to adorn his person while having his picture taken, and when the operator took the plate into the dark room walked off with the jewelry.

—Rudolph Fenerstein, a painter by trade, registered his name at a hotel in Lawrence, Kan., one night, and was found dead in his bed the next morning. There was a letter on the table in which everything was explained. "The candle gives no time for details. Valise stolen on the way from Dalton to Kansas City, at L. and K. Junction, while eating supper. Tired living. Struck a streak of bad luck on March 11, when I was born. Another March 1, 1854, when my father died. Another March 20, valise stolen, and hand in my checks this night, March 24 to 25, 1877, if morphine I bought at Kansas City is any account. I am sorry I cannot tell my whole history; it would be worth $20,000 to somebody; but the time is over."

—One of our townsmen, being in New York recently, had occasion to visit one of the city banks. A gentleman entered the bank, and with a nervous air pushed forward to the principal officer's desk, where he presented a note for a heavy amount and desired to have it discounted. The bank officer took the paper, examined it, and pointing to the name on the back, said: "That name, sir, is not good here; we can't take that paper." "Then," said the other, "I am ruined—ruined!" With a hurried glance at the bystanders, the man was about to withdraw the worthless note, but another gentleman who had been engaged close by, and who had evidently observed what was going on, quietly put fourth his hand, took the rejected paper, scrutinized it, and then having taken a good look at the man who had presented it, lifted a pen from the desk, and deliberately wrote under the previous endorsement, "Wm. H. Vanderbilt." The action was accompanied by the simple words, "I guess that'll go." Then the seventy-five millionaire—for he it was—turned hastily away and went about his own business. Henceforth, for him, at least, the name of Vanderbilt will mean something more than railroads, stocks, and bonds.—Ellenville (N. Y.) Journal.

A Guinea is Scarce Yellower

Than the complexion of a person becomes who omits to regulate his liver when that important gland grows neglectful of its secretive function. Moreover, the stomach under such circumstances becomes disordered, the bowels are constricted, pains in the side and between the shoulder blades are felt, the head aches, and the nervous system shares in the general derangement. This concatenation of evils is, however, easily remediable with that matchless regulating tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the secretion and flow of healthy bile, acts gently but effectually upon the bowels, and removes every symptom of nervous or digestive trouble. The result is that renewed tone is given to the entire system; the sallow, haggard appearance of the face to which biliousness gives rise is superseded by the glow of health, and the frame gains in substance as well as vigor.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. A. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!!

The Glory of Woman

Is a fine set of teeth as well as a fine head of hair. If we the enamel glistens after a good brushing with fragrant Sozodont! Nothing destructive to the teeth can exist on the surface or at the roots, if this vegetable antidote to corrosion is duly applied.

Convenient alike to the business centre and the best resident portion of Philadelphia, and conducted as a model first-class hotel, the COLONNADE has achieved a deserved and enduring popularity.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1877.

News and Notes.

Capital punishment was abolished in Maine, in March of last year, and since that time nine murders have been committed in the State. In the year previous to the passage of the act abolishing the death penalty only one murder was committed, and in the six years preceeding only two murderers were executed.

The Reading Railroad on Saturday suspended all the Brotherhood engineers, thirty-two in number, on the Germantown and Norristown branches; seventeen had been previously discharged, and all remaining members of the Brotherhood have been given two days in which to withdraw their connection with the organization, failing to do which they will be dismissed. A general strike is looked for, as the existence of the Brotherhood as an organization would be terminated by the railroad's success in the attack made on the order.

A Saco youth of nineteen summers became infatuated with a Biddeford girl of fifteen, and forged the signatures of her parents to a document consenting to her marriage. By this means he procured a license, and then was arrested for the forgery and safely locked up.

Gratitude is a fine art, and not often achieved by ruffians. The property of the Farrell brothers, near Covington, Ky., has been levied on to satisfy the bail bond for $3,000, on which they were sureties for the return of Tom Allen to stand trial for engaging in the prize fight with Joe Goss. Allen deserted the young men who risked their little fortune to save him from a few weeks confinement in jail, and fled to Canada.

If every man woman and child in the United States should emigrate to Texas, that State would then be less thickly populated per square mile than Massachusetts is at present.

On Wednesday night Timothy H. Green, a lazy, worthless fellow who has for some time past been living on his widowed mother in Lowell, went into a saloon in Portland street, Boston, with two men whom the saloon proprietor suspected were thieves. Knowing that Green had considerable money about him, the saloon keeper told the other men that they couldn't do any stealing in his saloon, and the three men left. On entering the stall where they had been, the proprietor found $980 in greenbacks, and at once notified the police. Next forenoon Green returned, looking for his money, and was arrested. His account of where he got the money was not satisfactory, and he is held for further developments. He has robbed somebody, without doubt.

A first-class bell buoy was on Saturday substituted for the second-class nun buoy off the outer bar of Newburyport harbor.

The Glasgow iron ship Teviotdale, coal laden, on her voyage to Bombay, caught fire in the hold early in the morning, October 31. The pumps were worked all day and night, and then the hatchways and ventilators were battened down. But two days later the hatches blew up, the decks took fire and the masts fell, and the crew were forced to the boats. After rowing hard for several days and nights in a rough sea, they landed on an island in the Chagos archipelago, where the twenty-six men lived for fifty-four days on what fish they could catch, when fortunately all were rescued by a passing schooner.

The total disappearance of the infamous Bender family, who kept a wholesale murder establishment in Kansas some years ago, was remarkable, considering the number of people who knew them and the red-hot chase made by the people of Kansas. At different times since, the arrest of "old man Bender" has been chronicled, but it has always turned out to be some one else. The Kansas City Journal says: "It is positively stated that old man Bender, wife, son and daughter were captured by a band of vigilants and lynched while attempting to escape from Kansas. This statement is based on the confession of one of the party who participated in the lynching, and all of the facts are said to have been in the possession of Gov. Osborn and Senator York, brother of Dr. York, one of the Benders' victims, ever since the occurrence."

Rev. Dr. William Augustus Muhlenberg, founder of St. Luke's Hospital, New York, and author of the hymn "I would not live alway" and other pieces, died in the hospital he founded, Sunday night, aged about 81 years.

The great walking match of six days, for $5000 a side, between O'Leary and Weston, at London, England, which commenced at 12:05 o'clock Monday morning of last week, resulted in a victory for O'Leary, who walked 520 miles against Weston's 510. At 2:50 o'clock Saturday afternoon O'Leary had completed 500 miles. Weston was then 22 miles behind.

It is evident that James Gordon Bennett will not return to America for some years. All his best horses and coaches were shipped to him in Paris on Wednesday. His yacht Dauntless is now being fitted out for a sea voyage. The Herald proprietor is at home in Paris. He was educated there and speaks the language like a native. He is also very popular among the aristocratic bloods because of his liberality and love of sporting. The chances are that he will never marry Miss May. He supplies the Herald by means of daily cable dispatches in cipher.

Jeremiah S. Putnam, M. D., of York, Me., who died Thursday afternoon, April 5th, aged seventy-eight years, was born in Danvers, Mass., Aug. 20, 1798; went to York in 1819; commenced the practice of medicine in 1821; graduated at Bowdoin College Sept. 7th, 1825, and has been in continuous practice fifty-two years in the town. He was eminent in his profession, and widely known. The family consisted of seven brothers and three sisters, only one of whom, Mrs. Matilda S. Moody, now in Brooklin, N. Y., survives. All the brothers who attained their majority became sea captains, and two of the sisters also married sea captains.

At Opelousas, La., recently, two negroes, a man and a boy, were arrested, charged with having poisoned a well. The Vigilance Committee took them from the jail and hanged the boy, but the man escaped after being wounded. In shooting at the flying negro one of the Committee named McCall was shot and instantly killed.

Turkey has refused to sign the protocol, and "war is inevitable" some more.

At an extraordinary general meeting of the Direct United States Cable Company, held in London on Saturday, Mr. Pender's resolution favoring an alliance with the Anglo-American Company was carried by 2,060 against 1,670. The directors then resigned and were succeeded by the following: Messrs. William Ford and John Pender, Directors of the Globe Company; Rev. Lord Hawke and Mr. E. M. Underdown, members of the committee; Capt. Mayne, R. N; Messrs. Bury, Mesara and Gunther.

New Hampshire Items.

John Conant of Jaffrey died Saturday, aged 80 years. He donated during his life $100,000 for benevolent purposes.

The Concord City Government on Saturday voted an appropriation of $25,000 in aid of the extension of the railroad from Hillsboro' Bridge to Peterboro'.

During the absence of the workmen at Fuller's frame manufactory at Milford Saturday afternoon a nine-year-old son of T. H. White started up a buzz-saw and sawed off four of his fingers.

The little Congregational Church at Troy has, within a few years, secured a parsonage, bought the basement of their meeting-house, fitted up rooms for meetings at a cost of $1500, and given nearly $5000 to benevolent objects.

Great Falls has had an Enoch Arden case. The long-lost one came home and found his wife with another husband and five new children. No. 2 magnanimously stepped out, and No. 1 took possession of wife, children and all.

It seems that the recently-adopted constitutional amendments do not go into effect until such time as the Legislature, which assembles in June, shall fix. Railroads in pursuit of town grants are governing themselves accordingly.

Daniel Mullen, while oiling the shafting in the carpet mills at Nashua, Saturday afternoon, was caught in the machinery and carried around the shafting several times. He received some severe bruises, and it is feared that he is injured internally.

Martha Davis, wife of Charles H. Davis of Concord, died suddenly on Saturday morning at the house of H. M. Parker, where she was employed as a domestic servant. Her husband visited her Friday night and was awakened about midnight by her heavy breathing; he roused the family and a doctor was called, but the woman died about seven o'clock. A post-mortem examination was ordered, the case being regarded as very suspicious.

A French boy named Leonard Pall was drowned in Peabody River, Gorham, March 28th. As the river was high and rapid, the body was not recovered until four days afterwards, and then the Catholic priest, Father Charland, threw a loaf of bread into the stream where he fell in, after blessing it. Then he told his parishioners to follow the bread until it stopped, and there the body would be found. It stopped in an eddy half a mile down stream, and there the body was found.

A young fellow evaded his fare by stealing a ride on the locomotive pilot of the night express train from Hooksett to Manchester, Tuesday evening. When he arrived at the latter place, he was hatless, his eyes were blurred and wild from the wind, and he was chilled and frightened.

A case of hydrophobia occurred at the Cheshire Almshouse in Westmoreland Saturday. Mr. Thomas Jordan was bitten by a dog last December, in Keene, and was taken sick with the symptoms of madness on Friday last and died Saturday. It was a terrible case of intense suffering, and while rational he begged of his attendants to shoot him.

Mrs. Sarah Patten, who will be one hundred and three years of age next June, passed through this city Tuesday night on her way to Montreal. She came from Chester to Derry in the afternoon and then up on Conductor Doolittle's train. She was accompanied by her youngest daughter, who is fifty-one years old. Mrs. Patten will pass the remainder of her life in Montreal with one of her daughters.—Manchester Mirror.

Some logging men at Sawyer River, Bartlett, were surprised while eating their dinner by a swollen stream breaking in one end of their shanty. They climbed to the roof and consulted. When the water subsided somewhat they had a hard time getting to camp, three miles distant.

A tramp stealing a ride on the Sunday train was discovered near Foundry Station, Great Falls, on Sunday night. He jumped, fell under the wheels, and one leg was cut off. He refuses to give his name. He is a Nova Scotian.

James M. Cummings, of Littleton, while oiling a gang of saws at H. C. Libby's mill, Bethlehem, had his sleeve caught in the machinery and was thrown upon the saws, and killed.

—Even if a boy is always whistling "I want to be an angel" it is just as well to keep the preserved pears on the top-shelf of the pantry.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS fronting on Cottage Street, Spring Street, and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 30x40 feet and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which are under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon the latter two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees, bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

ST. JOHN'S PARISH.

At the annual Parish Meeting of St. John's church, holden on Easter Monday, April 2d, the following officers were elected:

Wardens—John Christie, Washington Freeman;

Vestrymen—Lyman D. Spalding, Albert R. Hatch, Wm. F. Parrott, John R. Reding, Christopher C. Jackson, Robert C. Peirce, H. W. Briant, Daniel L. Stover, Arthur F. Pfeiffer;

Parish Clerk—Francis M. Hatch;

Auditors—Robert C. Peirce, John H. Slater;

Delegates to Diocesan Convention—Lyman D. Spalding, John Christie, John Hatch.

The election of Treasurer was deferred to an adjourned meeting, to be holden on Monday, 9th inst., at which time Hon. John R. Reading was chosen.

ATTEND TO YOUR DRAINS.

One of the first things needing attention on the opening of Spring is the cleaning out and repairing of drains (for a defective or insufficient drain is a perfect magazine of disease and death) and the laying of new ones where required; and for the latter purpose we believe the very best, most durable and most economical pipe in the market is the hydraulic cement stone pipe made by Mr. Dennis Shea in this city at No. 26 Water street, and near the gas works in Dover. We have seen much of this pipe laid where it has to stand the hardest usage from outside pressure and frost, and we believe it has given entire satisfaction in every case; we know it has in nearly every one. Shea's cement lined water pipe is also very highly recommended by parties who have tried it, though we cannot speak of its merits from personal knowledge; but we know that the drain pipe cannot be beaten—or at least has not yet been—for durability and cheapness in the long run. It is made in all sizes, from small tubes for sink drains, etc., to big pipes able to carry a young mill-stream and just suitable for culverts and large sewers. If you are in need of anything in that line, you cannot do better than by calling on Mr. Shea.

FISHY.

During the past winter the fishermen out of this port (as all along the coast) had rather hard luck. In the early part of the fishing season the weather was very unfavorable, so much so that often for a week at a time there was not a single "fishing day;" bait was also very scarce; and notwithstanding the very moderate amount of fish taken, prices ruled very low. Later in the season bait (frozen herring) was plenty enough, but very high, and fish did not advance much in price, even the lenten season failing to bring prices up to what they have been in years past, though the local wholesale buyers paid all they could afford to and realize a reasonable profit.

A very large fishing fleet used this harbor during the winter, including the able vessels belonging to this port, others from Newburyport, Rockport and Gloucester, Mass., and a few from ports to the eastward. This spring, owing to a lack of other employment, many men who have hitherto worked at something else have taken up fishing, and quite a number of small vessels have been added to the already numerous mosquito fleet fishing from our harbor. We are informed that C. Morris Tredick, Esq., has given generous assistance to several men who had not the means to purchase boats for themselves, by procuring the coveted craft and turning them over to the fishermen, making the terms of payment easy and buying all the fish they catchit at full market rates, thus enabling the fisherman to earn a living and pay for his boat at the same time. Mr. Tredick has given employment to a large gang of men during the winter, and has dressed for curing a large amount of fish, besides sending considerable quantities of fresh fish to other markets. He finds a ready sale for all his dried fish, and it is to be hoped he realizes a handsome profit, for every man who helps others to employment deserves success.

It is a good certificate of the caution and skill of the fishing skippers that so few accidents have happened during the season just finished, although thick and stormy weather and blinding snow-storms have been unusually prevalent this winter. No lives or vessels have been lost, nor any vessels sustained any very material damage; few of the craft have touched bottom at all, and those that have were nearly all swept ashore by the strong currents in the river, and in almost every case came off on the next tide unharmed.

An item was recently published to the effect that "most of the Newcastle dragboats have been disposed of, some of them having been purchased by parties in this city, and others sold to Kittery Point and other places." Immediately afterward a gentleman came into our office and asked us, "What kind of a boat is a drag-boat?" We looked at him in astonishment, and asked: "Is it possible that you, a man bred and born in this city, don't know what a drag-boat is?" "Quite possible," he said; "what is a drag-boat, anyway?" As soon as we found that he really did not know what a drag-boat was, we explained to him that we did not know either, but we have found out since, and now explain that a drag-boat is a vessel of any size—generally a small schooner—that sets a net at nightfall and keeps one end fast to the vessel till morning, when the net is drawn, the vessel laying-to all night. This style of fishing we are informed is becoming quite popular, and is fast superceding the old plan of anchoring both ends of the net.

The Berger Family and Sol Smith Russell, who will appear at Franklin Hall on Friday evening next, have met with almost unparalleled success wherever they have appeared. They have received especial praise in the cities of this State, and we see by the papers of other States that their success has been as remarkable everywhere. They were in New Britain, Conn., a short time since, and the Hartford Courant says the people "are so enthusiastic in praise of the whole programme that they have set the whole community economizing to save money to purchase tickets for their next appearance."

Schooner "W. H. Y. Hackett" sailed for the Western Banks on Saturday, and the "Gov. Goodwin" on Monday. The rest of Mr. Doane's fishing fleet will follow in a few days.

"Every day an 'opening day,'" on and after April 15th, is what is advertised by J. M. Tebbetts, who has just returned from New York with a choice selection of millinery goods, and will be ready on the date named to show a nice assortment of trimmed bonnets and hats in Spring and Summer styles.

The Portsmouth Dramatic Club will on Thursday evening present "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" at Franklin Hall, with a very strong cast. The proceeds will be applied to a charitable object, so patrons of the entertainment will be helping on a good cause while having a good time.

Our informant was in error in stating that George E. Hodgdon, Esq., is intending to leave this city to engage in the lumber business in Virginia. Mr. Hodgdon did at one time intend to do so, and had nearly completed his arrangements, but circumstances have since arisen causing him to reconsider his determination. He will continue his law practice in this city.

Blue is the color, and no mistake. We got a bottle of blue ink Monday afternoon, and used the first pen-ful to sign a receipt for a man who came in to pay a bill of twenty-five dollars!!! [N. B. We continue to recognize our old acquaintances just the same as formerly.]

The San Francisco Alta California of Sunday, April 1st, referring to the wreck of ship Frank Jones on the previous Friday, says: "The tugs proceeded to the stranded ship on Friday night, and at ten P. M. found that she had five feet of water in her hold. They took hold, however, and at high water all the power possible was put on the tugs, but they could not move her, and finding at this time that she had twelve feet of water in her hold, abandoned the attempt for getting her off, and came to town. An Alta reporter paid a visit to the wreck yesterday afternoon, and found her lying quite easy, it being very smooth at the time. The crew had unbent all the sails, unrove and sent down the best part of the running rigging, all of which, in addition to the stores and officers' and men's clothing, etc., were put into a lighter, which was moored her off-shore side, and at four P. M., everything being in readiness, the captain, pilot and crew came to town in the lighter. In connection with this affair, we give the captain's statement in regard to the pilot's management of the vessel. An inquiry thereto having been made of him, in presence of the agents of the Board of Underwriters, he stated to them that he exonerated the pilot from any and all blame in the matter. He was perfectly cool and collected in the trying emergency, and did all that was possible for a man to do to extricate the vessel from her dangerous position. The anchors were let go with a good scope of chain to each, but they failed in bringing her up, and the ship lies a total wreck."

Lovers and judges of good horse-flesh,—and there are many in this city, are on the qui vive about a trot which is to come off here between animals of noted quality, a bet having been made between Woodbury Locke, owner of the chestnut horse "Canozo Boy," and Frank W. Hilton, owner of a valuable animal named "Julius Cæsar," for $250 a side, the stakes for which are now planked. The contest will take place about May 10th, the course to be from this city to the Union House, Hampton, distance ten miles. All things considered, a big contest is anticipated.—Times.

On Saturday a large dog belonging to Mr. Benjamin Canney bit a little daughter of Mr. J. B. Trefethen on the hand, the teeth penetrating the flesh. The dog was taken to the police station in the evening and killed.

The cargo of shooks of the beached schooner Superior has been sold to Messrs. C. Morris Tredick and William Downs.

Political.

The New York World says "Rhode Island is perhaps the most thoroughly republican State in the Union, and exhibits the natural tendencies of republicanism by prescribing a property qualification for her foreign-born citizens, as New Hampshire prescribes a religious test for its office-holders." New Hampshire has abolished the religious test, notwithstanding the fact that nearly every one of the strongly democratic towns voted heavily against the abolition; so the World's fling at republican prescription of foreign-born citizens in this State is uncalled for. If the religious test had been retained, it would have been owing to the votes of that party with which the Catholic citizens have always voted almost unanimously.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing phys cian, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

—A young married man of Skinner's Eddy, Wyoming county, Pa., named Andrew Champion, was recently thrown out of work. When he went home and told his wife he had failed to find employment, she said: "I will not live with you another day!" Champion drew a pistol, and replying, "Then you won't live with any one else!" fired. The ball took effect in Mrs. Champion's right side and was subsequently discovered lodged in the flesh of the left side, having passed clear through the body. Champion ran up stairs after firing, and, entering a bed-room, shot himself dead. Mrs. Champion lived five days. The parties in this tragedy were of good standing in the community.

—The Missouri legislature has rejected a whipping post bill that, if passed, would have been likely to fill the State with wailing and woe. It provided that any person convicted a second time of petit larceny should be publicly whipped on his bare back with a rawhide, the lashes to be forty, save one. Persons convicted of grand larceny a second time, in addition to imprisonment in the penitentiary, were to receive thirty-nine lashes, to be administered by the Warden or other keeper, immediately upon being received at the prison. Parents or guardians for cruelly beating or abusing children, and wives and husbands for cruelly beating and abusing each other, were also to be punished with the lash.

—James Russell Lowell has been twice married. The first Mrs. Lowell was an exquisite creature, according to all accounts; beautiful alike in person and character, and possessed of many gifts and accomplishments. She was also a poetess, a volume of her poems, distinguished for supreme delicacy and tenderness, having been published after her death, which occurred in 1859, nine years after her wedding. Cambridge still blossoms with traditions of her perfect loveliness. He has but one daughter, who shocked the cultured exclusiveness and old family feelings of little Cambridge—a sort of Weimar in its way, as Weimar was in the Schiller and Goethe days—by accepting as her husband a young Mr. Baker of Burrett's cocoaine commercial fame. The Cambridgians could not bear to think of an alliance between the sole heiress of the house of Lowell, which boasts of eighteen generations of scholars, and the son of a prosperous nobody with a trade-mark for a coat-of-arms. Young Baker is declared to be a very nice fellow, however, and his wife and father-in-law think highly of him, despite the snobbish prejudices of their neighbors.—Chicago Times.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
IN THE
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard Teller, for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the Doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of matrimonial life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage, entitled "Secrets of Life," price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichet's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Gynegic Pills.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and receiving medicines of Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir.—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of soldiers' pains, rather than exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir.—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS and as I know what they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had, or you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheuma in Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Hours Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for nearly seven years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I often I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partial relief. I at a third many patent nostrums with no good result. I have been confined to my room about all the time for the last three years, and 1,000 miles travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable, and most stubborn at that. I had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of my Mother in Maine, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have sent applications to send the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laurie, Sherre Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing as good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me five packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and adviser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Corrective he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
—USE—
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His effered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.
A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.
Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proc. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.
With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the Editors has been to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.
Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.
TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.
The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.
Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is interesting, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanic Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Articles of all kinds; Useful Notes, Receipts, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Elevated Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which, however, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICKS IN ITALY,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Alaska, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

For Sale by all Book and Newsdealers.

PRICE, 35 CENTS.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with leaders of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influences combined."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given in each weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Farmers are deeply interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and better corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

A Canadian Clergyman on Dancing.

The people of the province of Ontario are willing to bet their boots that they can produce a more fearful and wonderful man of God than Brother Talmage of Brooklyn, in the person of Rev. Wm. McDonagh, Presbyterian minister of the flourishing town of Paris, on the Great Western Railway. Brother McDonagh has for some years been regarded as the champion blazes exhorter of the Dominion. The other day he preached a sermon on dancing. The heads of the Synod sent a stenographer to the church and the report of the sermon has been filed away as the foundation of an indictment against Brother McDonagh, which will be brought before the high Presbyterian tribunal that meets in Toronto in June next.

The text was Isaiah, V., 12: "And the harp and the viol, the tabre and pipe, and wine are in their feasts; but they regard not the works of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands." I send you a copy of those portions of the manuscript report on which the venerable chiefs of the church in this city are preparing charges of "indecent and shameful conduct" on the part of the preacher. The church, it may be well to state, was filled to suffocation by an immense congregation, including two or three hundred ladies. "The history of dancing is full of all that is beastly, envious, murderous and lustful. It has been stated that the terrible moral debasement of dancing in the United States has been the primary cause of nine-tenths of all the divorces in the country. Where do you libertine and lustful Christians get your dances from? I will tell you: They are sent from hell to France, and thence to Canada via New York and Chicago." [A voice—"No, we import direct from headquarters and save the middlemen; we're Grangers, we are." Laughter, cheers and great commotion.] "I believe you; I verily believe this town is a small hell, and this Dominion a hell nearly four million square miles in area. I'll show you what dancing is. I looked through a window at a dance in this town the other evening (do you want me to give names?) and I saw a young fool of a fellow approach a young lady, and I'll show you what followed." Here Rev. Mr. McDonagh tripped across the pulpit platform, and bowing politely to an imaginary young lady, said in soft tones: "My dear Miss M, can I have the pleasure of a dance with you?" Then the reverend gentleman tripped back as if bearing a lady on his arm. This exhibition created great laughter. "And now watch that young couple. The young woman begins to perspire, her eyes flash; the young man takes hold of the young lady's hand, his touch thrills her through and through, and off they go into the dance; he is ready to pounce on her virtue the first chance that offers." [A voice—"You know how it is yourself." Cheers and great excitement.]

This is the kind of man Brother McDonagh is; but as the report does not state that any of the females in the congregation left the building during this performance, he must have an appreciative flock.—Toronto Cor. Chicago Times.

Romance in Real Life.

Ten years ago a big, handsome Kentuckian passed through Monticello, and was noticed by a young girl sitting at a window of the most aristocratic house in town. The young girl loved him on sight, and a local paper gives the happy result. The young girl had wealth, culture and beauty; and he was poor, with only his splendid physique and intrepid spirit, and was a cattle herder in Texas. There he soon rose to be proprietor of a ranch, and took his money to California and hunted for gold. After many ups and downs, fortune favored him, and he found himself the owner of a silver mine at Silver City, New Mexico. The girl, meanwhile, had bloomed into a rarely beautiful woman, and developed unusual literary ability, and became a contributor to the Apostolic Times, the organ of the Reform church published at Lexington. By some means the girl had learned who the unconscious object of her fancy was, and, though he had never seen her, the two corresponded throughout the ten years. She never wrote a word of her personal attractions nor family, nor did he speak of his good fortune; he had a mind well stored with judicious reading, and their correspondence was only that of book-loving friends. A few weeks ago, however, the love she had always borne him bore its fruit. He wrote her proposing marriage, and soon followed his letter to her Kentucky home, where he saw her for the first time. Recently they were married, and Miss Annie Berry, that was, will be surprised to find on reaching Silver City that her husband, R. B. Metcalf, is the greatest capitalist in New Mexico.

—Yesterday afternoon a Piute Indian was passing along C street, just about half slewed with Gold Hill whiskey. His appearance, however, did not attract much attention, as he was by no means uproarious. A white man with the same quantity of liquor aboard would have banged off his six-shooter at the omnibus, bet all his money on the ace, cleaned out a saloon, or rushed into a newspaper office to pay for a year's subscription; but with the stoical Indian it was different. He merely walked along the street and occasionally stopped twice before he planted his foot in the right piece. When he felt wearied he leaned against an awning post and seemed buried up to his neck in thought. Presently he spied a wooden Indian woman in front of a cigar store. She displayed the usual lavish calf, and was otherwise gorgeously arrayed. The Piute contemplated the inanimate figure for several minutes and began gradually to advance. Then he put his arms round her neck and remarked, "Noosha kamee (bie) nashkeets." Observing that, although his advances were not reciprocated, they were certainly not repelled, he continued to spoon the woman, to the delight of a number of young squaws who sat on the sidewalk a little distance away and giggled immoderately. Presently the buck locked his arm in that of the wooden squaw and was about to lug her off, when the proprietor of the place rushed out and prevented the abduction of his sign by knocking the Indian down and replacing the wooden woman on her pedestal.—*Virginia (Nev.) News and Notes.

A Cheyenne special says: "Spotted Tail has arrived at this agency from the mission to the hostiles undertaken at the instance of the department commander, bringing with him Crazy Horse and 1500 men, women and children who have surrendered. This leaves only the Cheyennes still on the war path in this department. A large force of Indians have been enlisted at the agencies to bring these in. The Sioux war in the Department of the Platte seems to be near a final termination now."

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular announcing that silver will be paid for National bank notes forwarded for redemption in sums of $1000 up to $10,000.

Boston had a grand ball in aid of the Old South Preservation Fund, Monday night. The decorations were fine and the company large, many "notables" being present.

Pittsburg, Pa., with her big debt of $13,-000,000, defaults half of the interest of $300,000, and borrows the rest by a method of doubtful legality. The city finances are in a dreadful way, with the sinking fund largely made up of overdue taxes.

The brigantine Clarence, Capt. John K. Butler, and the schooner Bessie Gardner, Capt. Bowman Crosby, both belonging to the port of Yarmouth, N. S., are now given up as lost. They both sailed for the West Indies in December, and are supposed to have succumbed to the great gale of the 9th of that month. It is a singular fact both the above named captains lost their vessels in the West Indies last summer in a hurricane, viz, the brigantines Clifford and Sophia, and both returned to Yarmouth with Capt. Telford, in the brigantine Vesta. All three perished upon their return trip; Capt. Telford was washed overboard in the gale of the 9th; the particulars of the fate of the others will probably never be known.

A Paris correspondent says that the "eel-skin" dress is now the great rage both in London and Paris. In the wildest days of the tie-back or pin-back mania, there never was seen such a tightness in the matter of skirt as now prevails. The desired effect of youthful slenderness is generally obtained by the "eel-skin," but at a good deal of sacrifice of personal ease.

Alonzo Bell has been appointed Assistant Secretary of the Interior. He was Chief Clerk of the Interior Department under Mr. Chandler, and was promoted on the ground of merit.

Mr. Adamson, Consul-General of the United States at Melbourne, Australia, advises the State Department that no American should emigrate to Australia who does not carry with him the means for return in a year, as such emigrants are likely, in most instances, to want to get back to the United States by that time.

The long-stranded steamer Amerique was gotten off the beach Tuesday morning, and anchored in deep water.

Several large scows laden with the dirt and garbage of New York city broke from the tugs towing them to the lower harbor on the 9th, during a gale. One was carried to sea, two or three sunk and several others drove on to the Jersey and Long Island shores. It is believed that most of the Italians employed on them were saved, but it is rumored that several were drowned.

Two children of Mr. Nathl. Houghton of Clinton, Mass., a boy of eight years and a girl of four, were drowned in a pond on Tuesday.

The wrecked steamer Rusland was broken in two by the heavy swell on Monday, and is fast going to pieces.

The ownership of the Colts' navy revolver, the small Sharpe's revolver and the large knife found in the Jewett's counting room after the tragedy which resulted in the death of two of the partners, has been traced to Orville D. Jewett.

A Cincinnati special says Gen. Sam. Cary has been found guilty in Court of appropriating $28,000 entrusted to him to buy a Colorado mine, and has been ordered to account therefor to the stockholders.

Robert Hill, while trying to rescue some money from his burning house in Harmony township, Pa., on Saturday, was caught by a falling chimney, held in the flames and burned to death in the presence of his family.

A Zanesville, Ohio, despatch says the window glass blowers demand an advance of wages, which the employers refuse, as they earn six to eight dollars per day now. A strike is threatened, to be followed by similar ones throughout the country.

The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the United States must be reimbursed the $1,500,000 loaned to the Centennial, before the stockholders can receive any dividend.

New Hampshire Items.

Reuben B. Pratt, of Fitzwilliam, was found dead in his barn last Saturday noon, hanging by the neck. He has been more or less insane for the past five years, and complained the day before that his head troubled him and that he couldn't stand it much longer.

C. L. Russell & Co.'s storehouse at West Swanzey, filled with staves and pail bottoms, was burned Monday night; loss $800; insured.

Political.

Senator Dorsey, of Arkansas, has been advertised as one of the republicans who would probably vote with the democrats, on account of his disapproval of the Southern policy of the administration. He called at the White House last week and said to the President that he was greatly pleased with the new policy, and should do everything in his power to ensure its success.

For a month past the roll of the new House of Representatives has been the prime secret of current politics. Every one wanted to know just which of the Representatives whom the people had elected Clerk Adams proposed to admit. The secret is out at last, and an exposition of it is given in another column, which is absolutely accurate and may well be called important. Mr. Adams has swelled the democratic majority from five to twelve after a most extraordinary manner. For instance in one disputed State he puts on the roll members who have certificates from both Governors; in another, he kicks over his own principle and refuses to put on the roll a member declared elected by both republican and democratic courts. His crowning wickedness, however, is the exclusion from the roll of the member from Colorado, who bears the only certificate issued by the Governor of the State and has as clear a right to his seat as any member of the House. If Mr. Adams supposes that he is to be allowed to reverse the verdicts of States in this high-handed fashion, he mistakes the temper of the American people. This injustice, at least, must be corrected at the start. It may take all Summer, but it will be well spent in defense of popular rights.—Tribune.

—A man in Jersey City found a sneak thief in his hallway, and kicked the fellow down the stairs and into the street. He afterward discovered that the thief wore his best suit of clothes when he received the booting.

—San Francisco is the most romantic city on the continent. The courtship of Lieut. de Kalanda and pretty Jennie Burdick was a sweet and touching story, and so, too, is the elopement of Sammy Sharp, aged nineteen, and Katie Wasson, aged fourteen. They lived and loved in Sacramento County, and his father, a rich farmer, took a shotgun and followed them to San Francisco. But he was too late. They were minors and could not get a marriage license except on the requisition of the parents; but they were advised by counsel that the State's jurisdiction did not extend beyond three miles from the coast, so they determined to charter a towboat and a parson, and to marry on the high seas. The weather was blustering, the waves ran high, and the wedding guests were seasick—very. When the "Elizabeth Mary" (towboat) was a marine league from the heads, the clergyman called the children aft and married them.

A Guinea is Scarce Yellower

Than the complexion of a person becomes who omits to regulate his liver when that important gland grows neglectful of its secretive function. Moreover, the stomach under such circumstances becomes disordered, the bowels are constricted, pains in the side and between the shoulder blades are felt, the head aches, and the nervous system shares in the general derangement. This concatenation of evils is, however, easily remediable with that matchless regulating tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the secretion and flow of healthy bile, acts gently but effectually upon the bowels, and removes every symptom of nervous or digestive trouble. The result is that renewed tone is given to the entire system; the sallow, haggard appearance of the face to which biliousness gives rise is superseded by the glow of health, and the frame gains in substance as well as vigor.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!! Try it!!

Convenient alike to the business centre and the best resident portion of Philadelphia, and conducted on a model first-class hotel, the COLONNADE has achieved a deserved and enduring popularity.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

—A Nova Scotia farmer, passing a bad piece of road, upset his load of potatoes. Angrily he declared he would make the road commissioner pay roundly for the damage. Referring to the list, he discovered that he was the commissioner for that district, and he concluded to overlook this neglect of the roads.

—The following is told of a grave digger in a cathedral town in the north of England: One day, whilst "gathering in" the remains of an aged parishioner, he observed some women weeping by the grave side. Turning round, he sharply demanded of them, "What are ye crying for? If ye dinna bring 'em at eighty, when wad ye bring 'em?"

2 AND 4 BOW STREET, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS fronting on the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek Street and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN about forty feet square, and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, April 10th.

John Casey, drunk, $3 fine, costs $8.04. Same, brawl and tumult, $5 fine, costs $5.73. Jail in default of payment. Mr. Casey has but recently returned from Brentwood, to which place he is reported to have said he should soon go back; he has not yet gone back.

DANGEROUS SPORT.

On Monday evening, shortly before nine o'clock, several young fellows passed the entrance to the Heavy Artillery armory, and—doubtless by way of a rich joke—threw a lighted bunch of fire-crackers up on the stairs, where they exploded, making the usual amount of pleasing racket and scattering fire about on the wooden stairs with the usual liberality of fire-crackers. Several other places were serenaded in the same manner by the sportive youths, but we did not hear of their throwing their incendiary musical instruments into any other building. Who the young men were we do not know; but we trust they will not regard it as impertinent for us to suggest to them that there is a municipal ordinance prohibiting the firing of crackers in the compact part of the city, and that if their amusing proceedings should result in the destruction by fire of a valuable building it might be a serious matter for the owner thereof, who would hardly be able to detect the latent wit in the affair. And it might be unpleasant even for the jokers, if they should be detected.

A SURPRISED LIGHTKEEPER.

The contemplated erection of a new house on White Island for the keeper of the Lighthouse thereon, reminds the Newburyport Herald of an incident that occurred there some years ago and which it relates as follows:

The light was then kept by a man named Haley, a friend of whom, one Johnny Bragg of Seabrook, was in the habit of fishing off the Shoals, and in case of a storm would stop with the light-keeper. On one exceedingly stormy night, while Bragg was stopping at the house and both were feeling pretty well from the frequent potations they had indulged in, the conversation turned upon a personal devil, and Haley asked Bragg if he believed in one? "No," said he, "and if there is one I would like to have him walk in now." Immediately after this remark a loud knock was heard upon the door, at which they both trembled, for they knew they were the only occupants of the island, and no one would venture forth in such a gale of wind. The knock was repeated, and Johnny Bragg recovering his strength, summoned up his courage, and "the devil or no devil," he would open the door. When this was done there stood before him a strapping negro, reeking wet, which gave him another fright, and he ran to Haley and told him the devil had got them sure. But it proved to be the only survivor of a Portland brig which had gone to pieces upon the rocks, who fortunately escaped and made for the light-keeper's house.

That is a pretty good story, but it is not exactly correct. At the time the negro sailor so unexpectedly appeared on the island, the lightkeeper, Mr. Haley, (there was but a single keeper then, as the old style of lights did not require any standing watch,) was on shore to procure provisions, and Mr. John Bragg Downs of Gosport, (not "Johnny Bragg of Seabrook,") who still lives at the Shoals and is good for many years yet, we hope, was tending the light for him. And neither Mr. Downs nor his companion were jolly with grog, as Mr. Downs always has been and is to-day a temperate man; neither were the two discussing abstruse points in theology. There was a thick snow-storm at the time, with a heavy gale, and a tremendous southeast sea rolling in on the island; and Mr. Downs having asked his companion, jestingly, "What would you think if somebody was to knock at the door just now?" the latter answered, "I should think it was the devil himself, for nobody else could land on the island at such a time as this,"—when instantly there came a vigorous knock on the door! Startled, as well they might have been, the two men sat in astonishment for a moment, when the knock was repeated and a voice was heard; hurrying to the door they opened it, and then thought old Jimmy Squarefoot had come, sure enough, for there stood a six-foot-high darkey, black as the ace of spades, with blood running down his face and his eyes and teeth glittering in the light of the lantern; but the castaway's salutation, "Brig ashore right here, sah," reassured them and they at once went out to aid the rest of the crew. The vessel was a brig from Russia, laden with hides and tallow, and she struck the point within a hundred feet of the dwelling and not much further from the lighthouse, before the crew saw the light; the negro let himself down from the bowsprit end by a rope, groped his way on his hands and knees over the perilous route to the house, and gave the alarm—an "alarm" it was, indeed—as related; and a half-hour later the entire crew, thirteen in number, were safe in the house and the brig swept off into deep water and sunk. The rescued crew were on the island for fourteen days before the sea went down so they could get across to Star Island, and as the keeper was short of provisions before he received such a big addition to his family, the whole lot were about half starved by the time they got relief.

Years afterward another keeper of the same light was astonished on entering the porch of the house after extinguishing the light one morning, after a fearfully stormy night, to find a strange man standing there, wet and nearly chilled to death. After the man got warmed up enough to talk he explained that he was one of the crew of a fishing schooner called the Flying Fish, which had been driven out of Star Island roads with only he on board the night before, and wrecked on Seavey's Island, which is connected with White Island by a half-tide bar. He had groped his way to the house, after the tide fell, and had been standing in the porch several hours when found; and on being asked why in the world he didn't go in, or make a big noise so that some one would come to the door, he replied that he "thought they were all asleep, and he didn't wish to disturb anybody!"

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Richard D. Smart has disposed of his confectionary store and saloon on Market street to his son, Richard D. Smart, Jr., and Mr. Benjamin Atwell.

The Berger Family and Sol Smith Russell will appear at Franklin Hall on Friday evening in their musical and humorous entertainments. Says the New York Herald: "The Berger Family made so decided a hit last week that they are to be retained during the week to come, in conjunction with Sol Smith Russell, who is one of the most entertaining of humorists. Mr. Russell's great talent for mimicry has been satisfactorily demonstrated, and in make-up and ability to imitate odd characters and eccentric persons, he may be esteemed without a rival. The effect he produced last evening was simply immense, not only by his droll sayings, but by his clever changes of voice and countenance, whereby he instantaneously depicts diverse characters in an exceedingly comic way. The musical selections of the Berger Family were well rendered, and are deserving of unreserved commendation." Seats on sale at Preston's drug store.

Schoolcraft & Coes' Minstrels gave a good show, Monday evening, to a good audience, —a very good audience, considering the fact that three other evening entertainments were advertised in the papers for the same week, and a fourth reported to be coming on Saturday night.

The Temperance Reform Club will go to Dover on Thursday (Fast Day) at half-past one o'clock P. M., sharp, returning to this city by special train at six o'clock. Fare for the round trip, forty cents; all are invited.

The attention of our readers is respectfully called to the display advertisement of the Kentucky Cash Distribution Co., from which it will be seen that that organization will distribute on June 30th the sum of $310,000. This will be the second of the series of Grand Drawings under the Company's charter, and will be conducted in the same manner as the first, the fairness of which is conceded by all, and to which a long list of distinguished officials have certified. This second scheme is the best ever offered to the public, and the price of tickets is only $10, which are sold in halves and quarters. Messrs. G. W. Barrow & Co. of Louisiana, Ky., are the General Managers, and the old and well-known firm of Thomas H. Hays & Co., No. 697 Broadway, New York, General Agents. Any communications or orders for tickets directed to either of these firms will be promptly and courteously filled.

United services will be held on Fast Day morning at eleven o'clock, in the North church. Sermon by Rev. James W. Hubbell, on "Puritan principles: has the century outgrown them?"

Capt. Jacobs was injured on Tuesday, at Fernald's shipyard, by a block striking him on the head from the giving away of a derrick. He was partially stunned and lost considerable blood, but it is hoped his hurts are not serious.

This evening, before the Eclectic club, at Miss Morgan's Seminary, Mrs. Julia Van Ness Whipple will give dramatic readings and an original poem, and will preface the readings with a few remarks on Dramatic Elocution.

Ship William H. Marcy, of this port, arrived at San Francisco April 9th, from New York.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley on Tuesday sold the Henry Works place on Christian Shore at auction, for $1525, Mr. B. F. Rice being the purchaser.

The public will be glad to learn that plans are being drawn for a fine amusement hall to be erected by a stock company on the site of the Temple, recently burned. A subscription paper is now circulating among the citizens, with shares at one hundred dollars each, a generous number of which have already been taken. The paper is to be left at Preston's drug store for the benefit of all interested. The work is in thoroughly competent hands and we are assured that nothing will be left undone to make the proposed new hall first-class in every respect and commensurate with its importance; so give it your hearty encouragement with money and by voice. The building will be commenced just as soon as the necessary stock is taken up.

The following, concerning the merits of a newly-invented fog-signal, we find going the rounds of the paper: "The compressed-air whistle is simple in its construction, easily worked and requiring neither experience nor skill in the person operating it; ready for working at an instant's notice, and occupying not more than two feet square of space, it should at once supersede the steam whistles, which are now maintained at so much expense on the light ships and which do not exceed it in volume or shrillness of sound." If there is really an efficient whistle such as is thus described, and which takes up so little room, we may hope there will be one on Whale's-back before another winter sets in; it is pretty certain there will be no steam-whistle there by that time.

It is proposed to raise a May pole in Langdon Park, with appropriate ceremonies, on the 23d of May next, that being now historically decided upon as the day on which the first settlers of New Hampshire landed on Odiorne's Point. The exercises suggested, include a floral dance round the pole, and crowning of a queen of the May; with brief addresses by several distinguished sons of Portsmouth and others, and appropriate music, etc. Hon. C. L. Woodbury of Boston has consented to deliver an address on that occasion.

On Monday, just as the schooner "Gov Goodwin" was leaving the wharf to start on her trip to the Western Banks, one of the crew, named James Brackett, attempted to escape taking the cruise by jumping into the river. As he had received a liberal advance it was thought only fair he should render some return, so he was fished out and returned on board, to make the voyage whether he will or no.

NEW AND YET OLD.

The God who has made this world has made known the end of it by events that shall take place to the end of it; these events are to be literal on the stream of time so that any man who lives and watches the events foretold, can say this is that was written by such a servant of God, and by so doing he could tell where he was living on the stream of time, and as all of those events spoken of are in the past, and can be proved but two, and they about to take place, and these are that the powers of heaven are to shake as they never have, and that Russia shall drive Turkey out of Europe into Asia upon its mountains, now man has no authority to spiritualize the kingdom of God, nor the king, nor its subjects. For every promise that God has made to his son and his people as an inheritance is to be on earth and nowhere else, and he has promised his people that they shall live two lives in one body on earth, and he is coming back from heaven very soon to get his people and be united to them by marriage and dwell with them forever on the earth after it is cleansed by fire. My advice is to all to make a preparation now to meet the King face to face very soon. WM. S. WILLEY.

—An eastern man, in writing to his friends of his marriage in California, thus describes his bride: "She has a head as red as a woodpecker's, and owns sheep until you can't rest."

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG: MY DEAR SIR: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

—It is not often that a sudden shock is fatal so quickly as in the case of a Nevada man the other day. He had been a heavy drinker. He entered a saloon and called for a glass of liquor. The bar keeper gave him a glass of water and he drank it. A moment afterward he fell dead on the floor.

—A statue of Berryer, the celebrated French advocate, is to be placed in the Palace of Justice in Paris. He was once asked by one who knew his circumstances why it was that he had not, with his splendid talents and his acquaintance with the wealthy, realized a fortune. "You had only to stoop and pick up a fortune." "But you forgot the 'stooping,'" said Berryer.

—A vender of hair invigorator called at the store of a bald business man and urged the merits of his preparation, saying he would guarantee it to cover that bald spot with a luxuriant growth of hair in a few weeks. "Well," said the bald man, "I will take a bottle of the invigorator, and if it accomplish what you promise I will send you your dollar and a lock of the hair."

—Nearer and nearer in large cities are we approaching the simplicity of French women in street attire. A soft all-wool costume, neatly made, without eccentricity, is more becoming for a walking dress than a vulgar display of exaggerated style which attracts the attention of the passer-by. It is beginning to be pretty well understood that when a woman wears a dress in the latest fashion upon the street, it is because she has nowhere else to wear it.—Jennie June.

—A writer in a German engineering journal contrasts the behavior of different animals toward steam machinery. That proverbially stupid animal, the ox, stands composedly on the rails without having any idea of the danger that threatens him; dogs run among the wheels of a departing railway train without suffering an injury; and birds seem to have a peculiar delight in the steam-engine. Larks often build their nests and rear their young under the switches of a railway over which heavy trains are constantly rolling, and swallows make their homes in engine-houses. A pair of swallows have reared their young for years in a mill where a noisy 300 horse-power engine is working night and day, and another pair have built a nest in the paddle-box of a steamer which plies during the season between Pesth and Semlin.

ESTABLISHED IN 1833.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1833 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 30 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting Dr. Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

COMMED PAPERS-FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are represented to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 21st of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure their aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"the Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an inch from the Rheumatism for twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I used I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have confined to my room and bed all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to deal with. One told me I should never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was going to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
—USE—
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, October 19, 1870.
R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions, have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.
Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Mechanics, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room: in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish to the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following:

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy M. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the ripest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS OF THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and are carefully and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best conceivable evidence of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS OF THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of contributors and editors than it has ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Ploughing or Burning.

The time was when it was thought that everything on the top of the ground should be ploughed under, and that a crop of weeds, grass, and dilapidated cornstalks would materially benefit the soil. That they possess some value is an admitted fact, and, if turned under in the fall season, so that they will rot by spring, are of some advantage to the soil; but should they remain until the next Spring opens they should be burned. The insect world is possessed with wonderful powers of multiplication, and we know of no method equal to good burning to destroy them. In the early settlement of the country, when the prairies were burned regularly every year, many insects now common and injurious were unknown. We think we can in a very great measure attribute their absence to those fires. Lands thus cleansed are more easily cultivated than those not so treated. Many noxious seeds are destroyed and farm implements do their work much more perfectly than when they are dragging through great masses of weeds and grass. These considerations induce us to advise the burning over of fields before ploughing, and we believe all doing so will be pleased with the experiment.—Journal of Agriculture.

A Bull Story.

San Francisco had a lively sensation the other day, in which a wild steer was the leading actor. It broke out of a corral near the wharves and rushed up town, closely pursued by a vaquero, who, though he threw a lariat about its horns, found his horse too weak to hold it. The animal charged through a store, creating a general stampede, tossed a man who was unfortunate enough to get in its way, and was shot at several times by a policeman. Another man then attempted to stop it by shooting at it, but was charged upon and pinned to a house for his pains, though fortunately he managed to get between the animal's horns and was not much hurt. A woman, two men and a little girl were then tossed, at which point the policeman again came up and fired six one-ounce balls against the creature's head, though without much injury, as the balls rebounded as from solid rock. The animal then rushed upon his opponent, trampled him under foot, gored a horse which had pursued it and tossed the rider over a lamp post. Again rushing away it tossed several other persons, but was finally brought down by a well-aimed shot. The animal's body was found to contain over fifty bullets, which had been fired at it by various persons.

Served Him Right.

A curious circumstance in regard to the marriage of John Kemble, the actor, is told in Banister's memories. One of the daughters of a noble lord formerly holding high office, but then living in retirement, had fallen in love with the graceful and showy actor, merely from seeing him on the stage. Kemble was sent for by the father, and to his astonishment, was acquainted with the circumstances. The noble lord then told him further that it was in his power to do him a great evil or a great favor; and that if he would do the latter, by relieving him of all apprehension of the lady indulging in her fancy, and relieving him entirely by marrying some one else for whom he might have an attachment, his wife should receive a dower of £5,000. Kemble immediately proposed to Miss Brereton, a pretty actress in the company, and the marriage took place without delay. But the amusing part of the tale is that the afflicted and magnanimous father instantly recovered his spirits and lost his memory. On being applied to for his thousands, he said he had no recollection whatever of the compact, nor indeed any of the idea further than some general conversation on such matters with the "very intelligent person in question," and he added "that if he had to pay £5,000 for every whim of his daughter, he must soon be a poorer man than he ever intended to be." It is believed that Kemble never got a shilling from this very sensitive nobleman, and that, for the rest of his life, he attached a new value to the vulgar etiquette of signing and sealing beforehand, even with the most plausible of mankind.

—A down town man who read that the habit of tobacco chewing could be cured by tasting an apple every time he felt inclined to partake of the "weed," gave the receipt one day's trial. As he felt a hankering for the "weed" all day, he devoured a bushel of apples before bedtime, and retired with a chunk of the fruit in his mouth, which accidentally slipped down his throat, and nearly choked him to death. He resumed the use of the "weed" the next morning.

—"Stranger, I want to leave my dog in this 'ere office till the boat starts. I'm afraid somebody will steal him." "You can't do it," said the clerk; "take him out." "Well, stranger, that is cruel; but you're both dispositioned alike, and he's kinder company for you." "Take him out!" roared the clerk. "Well, stranger, I don't think you're honest and you want watching; here, Dragon," he said to the dog, "sit down here and watch that fellow very sharp," and turning on his heel, said, "Put him out, stranger, if he's troublesome." The dog lay there till the boat started, watching and growling at every movement of the clerk, who gave him the better half of his office.

THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1877.

South Carolina.

On Tuesday, the 10th, Governor Chamberlain issued the following strongly written letter:

To the republicans of South Carolina.

By your choice I was made Governor of this State in 1874. At the election the 7th of November last I was again by your votes elected to the same office. My title to the office upon every legal and moral ground to-day is clear and perfect. By the recent decision and action of the President of the United States I find myself unable longer to maintain my office rights with a prospect of final success, and I hereby announce to you that I am unwilling to prolong a struggle, which can only bring further suffering upon those who engage in it. Announcing this conclusion, it is my duty to say for you that the republicans of South Carolina entered upon this recent political struggle for the maintenance of the political and civil rights constituting beyond question a large majority of the lawful voters of the State. You allied yourselves with that political party whose central and inspiring principle has hitherto been the civil and political freedom of all men under the constitution and laws of our country. By heroic efforts and sacrifices which the just verdict of history will rescue from the cowardly scorn now cast upon them by political placemen and traders, you secured the electoral vote of South Carolina for Hayes and Wheeler. In accomplishing this result you became victims of every form of persecution and injury. From authentic evidence it is shown that no less than one hundred of your number were murdered because they were faithful to their principles and exercised their rights solemnly guaranteed to them by the nation. You were denied employment, driven from your homes, robbed of the earnings of years of honest industry, hunted for your lives like wild beasts, your families outraged and scattered, for no offence except your peaceful and firm determination to exercise your political rights. You trusted, as you had a right to trust, that if by such efforts you established the lawful supremacy of your political party in the nation, the government of the United States, in the discharge of its constitutional duty, would protect the lawful government of the State from overthrow at the hands of your political enemies. From causes patent to all men, and questioned by none who regard the truth, you have been unable to overcome the unlawful combinations and obstacles which have opposed the practical supremacy of the government which your votes have established. For many weary months you have waited for your deliverance, while the long struggle for the Presidency was in progress. You were exhorted by every representative and organ of the National Republican Party to keep your allegiance true to that party, in order that your deliverance from the hands of your oppressors might be certain and complete. Not the faintest whisper of the possibility of disappointment in these hopes and promises ever reached you while the struggle was pending.

To-day, April 10, 1877, by the order of the President whom your votes alone rescued from overwhelming defeat, the government of the United States abandons you; deliberately withdraws from you its support, with the full knowledge that the lawful government of the State will be speedily overthrown by a new interpretation of the Constitution of the United States at variance alike with the previous practice of the government and with the decisions of the Supreme Court. The executive of the United States evades the duty of ascertaining which of the two rival State governments is the lawful one, and by the withdrawal of troops now protecting the State from domestic violence, abandons the lawful State government to a struggle with an insurrectionary force too powerful to be resisted. The grounds of policy upon which the action is defended are startling. It is said that the North is weary of the Southern trouble. It was weary, too, of the long troubles which sprung from the stupendous crime of chattel slavery, and longed for repose. It sought to cover them from sight by wicked compromises with the wrong which disturbed its peace, but God held it to its duty until through a conflict which rocked and agonized the nation the great crime was put away, and freedom was ordained for all. It is said that if a majority of the people of a State are unable by physical force to maintain their rights, they must be left to political servitude. Is this a doctrine ever before heard in our history? If it shall prevail, its consequence will not long be confined to South Carolina or Louisiana. It is said that the democratic House of Representatives will refuse an appropriation for the army of the United States if the lawful government of South Carolina is maintained by military forces. Submission to such coercion marks the degeneracy of the political party of the people which endured it. A government worthy the name, a political party fit to wield power, never before blanched at such a threat.

But the edict has gone forth. No argument or considerations which your friend could present have sufficed to avert the disaster. No effective means of resistance to the consummation of the wrong are left. The struggle can be prolonged. My strict legal rights are wholly unaffected by the action of the President. No court of the State has jurisdiction to pass upon the title to my office. No lawful legislature can be convened except upon my call. If the use of these powers promised ultimate success to our cause, I should not shrink from any sacrifices which might confront me. It is a cause in which by the light of reason and conscience, a man might well lay down his life, but to my mind my present responsibility involves the consideration of the effect of my action upon those whose representative I am.

I have hitherto been willing to ask you, Republicans of South Carolina, to risk all dangers and endure all hardships until relief should come from the government of the United States. That relief will never come. I cannot ask you to follow me further. In my judgment I can no longer save you by further resistance to the impending calamity. With gratitude to God for the measure of endurance with which he has hitherto inspired me, with gratitude to you for your boundless confidence in me, with profound admiration for your matchless fidelity to the cause in which we have struggled, I now announce to you and to the people of the State that I shall no longer actively assert my right to the office of Governor of South Carolina. The motives and purposes of the President of the United States in the policy which compels me to pursue my present course are unquestionably honorable and patriotic. I devoutly pray that events may vindicate the wisdom of his action, and that peace, justice, freedom and prosperity be the portion of every citizen of South Carolina.

[Signed] D. H. CHAMBERLAIN,
Governor of South Carolina.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9th,

To many of the thousands of strangers who visited the National Capital, last summer, in going to or returning from Philadelphia, the partially completed shaft of marble, three-quarters of a mile south of the White House and but a few rods from the river's bank, known as the Washington Monument, was one of the most interesting of the many objects of national repute they remember seeing in and about Washington. More than a quarter of a century ago the project was conceived of rearing at the Capital City a lasting monument of our gratitude to him who brought our desperate struggle for independence to a successful issue, served the Republic for eight years as its first President, and who lies entombed at Mount Vernon, seventeen miles below this city, on the west shore of the Potomac river. One dollar subscriptions were solicited all over the country and were generously responded to. Many foreign governments contributed blocks of marble to go into the monument. Its progress was satisfactory till the wave of Know Nothingism that swept the land in 1853-5 reached here, bringing dissensions and sowing the seed of discord whose effects are to-day visible in the incomplete shaft in plain view from our window. After laying a few courses of stones, the Know Nothing managers who were brought in under the stimulating effects of that excitement, quit work, funds having given out, and it has never been resumed. July 6th of last year, Senator Sherman, incited by the patriotism absorbed at the Centennial Exposition the day before, moved the appropriation of $200,000 to complete the work. There was very little opposition to the motion and it was carried by an almost unanimous vote. Three army engineers were at once designated to test the foundations and ascertain whether they were sufficient. They went about their work in a systematic way, sinking several shafts many feet deep for that purpose and it is understood the tests resulted in a recommendation that work be resumed. The shaft now stands 171 feet high and 81 feet square at its base, tapering gradually upward; $200,000 (less the amount spent in the testing experiments) and quite an amount privately contributed from time to time, are now available for completing the work. The original plan contemplated a height of 600 feet, which will, it is said, be adhered to. President Hayes has recently expressed himself as heartily in favor of its early completion, as has also Mrs. Hayes, and we are encouraged to hope that with such influential co-operation as has been promised by him and others, it will be finished in a few months, the grandest spectacle of monument building in the world.

One would suppose the office seekers—many of them of the same old lot that assaulted the President on the first day of his occupancy of the White House—would in time become tired out with their lack of success and go off home; but they appear to be almost as numerous now as on the first week of the new administration. The President played it on them handsomely on Saturday, by stealing off on an excursion to the Great Falls, a place of great attractions to the admirers of nature in her wildest pranks, up the Potomac some fifteen or sixteen miles. A very sorrowful crowd wended its way down the Avenue from the Presidential mansion when informed of the President's heartless conduct.

Many friends of Miss Blanche Grey in this city, where she is well known, were pained by the intimations of the New York Sun in a late issue to the effect that she is the female companion of Oakey Hall's exile. No lady of the dramatic profession stands higher, morally, in this community, than Miss Grey, with those intimately acquainted with her, and all the obstacles that she has had to contend with and which she has nobly overcome. KNOX.

News and Notes.

W. B. Moore, Supervising Special Agent of the Treasury, who figured quite prominently in connection with the stories set afloat against the late Assistant Secretary Conant and other Treasury officials, was on Tuesday removed from his position by Secretary Sherman, and Special Agent A. K. Slagle appointed to the place. Mr. Single formerly filled the position, but was removed to make place for Moore.

The U. S. troops moved out of the South Carolina State House at noon on Tuesday.

A large tin case, filled with dynamite and connected with a number of wires, was found in a newly-imported cask of wine in a government appraiser's store in New York on the 9th. It is said to be an infernal machine intended to explode in mid ocean, but which failed to do its work. The name of the ship in which the cask was imported is not given.

Steamer Amerique arrived at New York on the afternoon of the 10th, and was docked at Erie basin, Brooklyn.

G. M. Lockwood, Chief Clerk of the Patent Office, has been appointed Chief Clerk of the Interior Department vice Bell. F. A. Seelye is appointed Chief Clerk of the Patent Office vice Lockwood.

The expenses of floating the Amerique averaged $1000 a day. The vessel is valued at $1,000,000.

A man named Hiran Arbuckle killed his brother-in-law, George Bancroft, by shooting him in the head, at Montpelier, Vt., on the 10th, and badly wounded a youth named Short, who was favored by a young lady whom Arbuckle was enamored of. When a Sheriff arrived to arrest the assassin, the ruffian ran into the yard of his home and shot himself through the heart.

John Simpson, fifty years old, was struck by a train on the Boston and Maine Railroad in Saco on the afternoon of the 10th, and instantly killed. The body was horribly mangled. Simpson was very deaf, and was walking on the track.

Five well known gamblers were arrested in New York for fleecing Mr. Hodnutt on Saturday. The gamblers were released on bail and are at their games, while Hodnutt is in jail, denied interviews with friends, and the case postponed by a New York justice for a week.

Timothy H. Green, the worthless bummer who left over $800 in a Boston saloon and did not go for it till next day, when he was arrested, it seems stole $1500 from an aged aunt of his whom he was visiting at Benedicta, Me. Green, who belongs in Lowell, was visiting his aunt and uncle when the the old gentleman suddenly died; the widow was half crazy with grief, but asserted that her husband had $1500 in the house, which, however, could not be found. Young Green left for Massachusetts, unsuspected, and if he had not got stupid drunk on some of the stolen money would have escaped punishment.

It is estimated that 75,000 people attended the opening at Jordan, Marsh & Co's, Boston, on the 10th.

The following from Panama is the latest concerning the war which is usually in progress in Central America: "The British merchant steamer Mexican took on board at Savonille nine hundred national troops for Rio Hacha. At Santa Martha she was to receive 2,000 more for the same destination, as the revolutionists who hold Rio Hacha have given notice that the port is closed. If the Mexican attemps to enter she is likely to be fired into, and an effort to land troops will probably be similarly opposed."

Another Horror.

The Southern Hotel at St. Louis, said to be the largest hotel in the country with the exception of the Palace Hotel at San Francisco, was burned on Wednesday morning. The fire caught in a storeroom in the basement, and ran up the elevator; it was first seen at half-past one o'clock, and in half an hour the whole upper part of the hotel was in flames. The house was full of guests, and the loss of life was terrible, the estimates ranging from 50 to 200; most of them were suffocated, but many were killed by jumping from the fifth and sixth stories. The pecuniary loss is about $1,000,000.

Political.

On Wednesday, at noon, Gov. Chamberlain of South Carolina turned over to Wade Hampton all the papers in his possession belonging to the State. Gov. Hampton is now undisputed governor of South Carolina, which proves that the shot-gun is mightier than the ballot-box, even if the sword is not a fair match for the pen.

Evidence continues to multiply that the extra session of Congress will enter upon a calendar of general business. Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania says he intends to press his bill for the remonetization of silver, and has assurances from enough members to secure its consideration. The Army, Naval Deficiency and River and Harbor bills will be passed, and some plan for disposing of the balance of the Geneva award is to be presented.

"TEN NIGHTS IN A BAR ROOM."

The play of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be given at Franklin Hall this evening by some of our Portsmouth stage talent. Nearly all the actors in the cast of this drama have been before the public, so that no introduction is necessary. Alderman Bryant takes the part of the Yankee, and judging from what we have seen of him heretofore in similar parts, will keep the audience in a state of merriment the greater part of the evening. Simon Slade the barkeeper, is to be represented by Mr. William Kennedy, who is also well and favorably known among us as a character actor. Messrs. Archibald and Larrabee took their parts nicely in the recent play of Bombastes, and it is not too much to expect that they will do even better in their performance of this evening. Romaine and Willie Hammond will be presented by Messrs. Leslie and Peyser respectively; both of whom have played before, the former many times. Miss Annie M. Kennedy, in the difficult role of Joe Morgan's wife, will add to her present good reputation as an artist, we think, and so, taken as a whole, we shall predict a successful and pleasant evening's performance.

The entertainment will be under the management of J. Albert Sanborn, Esq., who is well qualified to fulfill the task in a manner creditable to himself and the company.

JOTTINGS.

To-day being Fast Day, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

The "New York Star Alliance & Female Minstrels" gave a show at Franklin Hall on Tuesday evening; and if slang is fun and vulgarity is wit the "show" is not likely to be beaten in a hurry, in this city. The attendance was quite large.

The first match game of base ball of this season will be played between the Granite States and Atlantics at the Plains this afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

Ship Frank Jones was towing to sea with her own hawser at the time she was wrecked; had she taken the steam-tug's hawser she would probably have gone out all right,—for it is rarely that a ship's hawsers are not in bad order after the first voyage, from dry rot, no matter how "bright" they may look.

There will be an excursion to Boston on Thursday, April 19th, to attend the Moody and Sankey meetings, provided one hundred names shall be subscribed. Fare $1.70 for the round trip. Leave your names at W. R. Preston's.

Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts State Chemist, having analyzed several specimens of enameled iron vessels, called marbleized ironware, found the enamel to contain lead and arsenic in dangerous proportions, which is very likely to impregnate many kinds of fluids and sauces. Serious sickness, Dr. Hayes states, has resulted from the use of this ware. The "Perfection Tea and Coffee Pots," advertised for sale by Mr. John P. Sweetser, are not of this "marbleized" variety, but are made of what is called "granite iron," and Dr. Hayes (as may be seen in the advertisement) gives this material his endorsement as being entirely safe for use in all cooking utensils.

Elbridge G. Towle, the popular conductor on the Eastern Railroad, has seen longer service there than any other person now connected with that road, having been in its employ continuously since 1846, nearly twenty-five years of which time he has served as conductor.

The first meeting of the new Board of Directors of the Direct United States Cable Company was held in London on the 9th. The subject of the reported amalgamation with the Anglo-American Company was taken up, and it was decided to give a public contradiction to the report. An official telegram was prepared and sent to General Eckert, Supt. of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company informing him that there is no intention whatever of amalgamation and that the agreement with the Atlantic & Pacific Company, which covers eighteen years to come, will be scrupulously adhered to, and that the Direct United States Cable Company will continue to maintain its independence.

Steamer Mystic, of Dover, on the 10th inst. towed to York Nubble a gondola loaded with the frame of a summer cottage to be put up there for Mr. Charles H. Sawyer, of Sawyer's Mills, Dover.

Post office hours to-day: General Delivery from 8 o'clock to 11:30 A. M., and 5 to 6 P. M.; Box Office, 7 A. M. to 9 P. M.

The Reform Club excursion to Dover starts at half-past one o'clock sharp, by special train, and returns at 6 o'clock this evening. Fare for the round trip, forty cents.

The Berger Family and Sol Smith Russell give one of their choice entertainments at Franklin Hall to-morrow (Friday) evening. This company is known here, and will draw a full house. Their performances are entirely removed from the coarse and vulgar tone which often pervades variety shows, and at the same time are not so severely "classical" as to be beyond the appreciation of a popular audience. The musical portion of the programme consists of bell-ringing, music by the Berger silver band, solos on various band instruments, and vocal selections by Louise Franklin. In every one of these features the several members of the company display rare excellence. The variety part of the performance is given by Sol Smith Russell, who is a whole variety troupe in himself. His character impersonations are superb and inimitable. His masterly assumption of different and widely diverse types of humanity, and the ease, grace and effect which attends his acting, shows him to be a real artist, and not a clown who amuses by mere grotesqueness of demeanor. Reserved seat tickets at Preston's.

Ship William H. Marcy, Capt. J. Touro Marcy, from New York for San Francisco, when off the Falkland Islands, leaked at the rate of ten inches per hour, but having excellent pumps she was kept free.

Wednesday was a very uncomfortable day, cheerless and chilly, with plenty of wind and a great deal too much dust.

Capt. B. F. Jacobs was hurt on Tuesday by a fall, occasioned by the breaking of a limb on which he was standing while adjusting a derrick guy, and not by the breaking of the derrick as reported in Wednesday's CHRONICLE.

Grand Master John J. Bell, of Exeter, District Deputy Daniel W. Edgerly, of Farmington, and Grand Lecturer Russell B. Wentworth, of Rochester, paid a visit to St. John's Lodge, F. and A. M., of this city, on Wednesday evening. Work on third degree.

Furbishs' Fifth Avenue Combination will on Saturday night appear in Franklin Hall, in Boucicault's last and most popular comedy, "Forbidden Fruit," which had such a remarkably long and successful run at Wallack's Theatre in New York last season. The company is a large one, and under the efficient management of Mr. Charles E. Furbish; and brings all the accessories necessary to the satisfactory presentation of the comedy. Tickets at Preston's; see advertisement.

New Hampshire Items.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council Tuesday forenoon, Joseph M. Clough, of New London, was appointed Brigadier General of the First and second Regiments of the State Militia.

Spofford's steam planing and box mill in Danville, was totally destroyed by fire on Monday. Part of the machinery was saved. Loss, $8000; partially insured. The fire originated from a stove in the second story.

New England thrift was illustrated in the life of Farmer John Conant of Jaffrey, who has given $108,000 to charity. One of sixteen children, he bought a farm at twenty-six with $1340 given him by his father, and from this and through judicious, non-speculative investments, he made a fortune. He married well, studied some at home, went to the Legislature and ranked high in the community. He gave $70,000 to the Agricultural College, and contributed to the State Insane Asylum, the New London Academy, the Jaffrey schools and churches and deserving poor.

On Tuesday, at Concord, Barney Murphy was acquitted of the charge of assault with intent to kill a Mr. Wight of Contoocookville, who was found nearly dead beside the railroad track in Concord some months ago.

Gorham has a newpaper. The first number of the Mountaineer appeared on Friday, the 6th inst., under the management of Mr. V. V. Twitchell, who was clerk at the Waumbeck house last summer.

Major Al B. Thompson, present Deputy Secretary of State, will be a candidate for the Secretary's position the present year.

Hon. Isaac Adams of Sandwich has constructed a stone wall around an eighteen-acre field in that town that is nine feet high and nine feet thick!

The proprietors of hotels and boarding-houses at North Conway are already brushing up and getting ready for the appproaching summer's business.

A daughter of J. W. Fisk of Raymond, fourteen months old, was burned to death on Sunday afternoon by her clothes taking fire at an open stove.

Bailey, who was shot by Campbell at the Antrim political fracas, has become insane.

—A facetious Texan lately caught a full grown mule-ear rabbit, and, for his amusement, wrote to Barnum about it, giving a glowing description of its fleetness, the difficulty of its capture, its habits, etc., without naming the beast. The alert showman, anxious to possess so singular an animal, offered $25 for it. It was promptly expressed, the check duly sent in return, also a free ticket to the show, with this appreciative letter from Barnum's agent: "I am anxious to see you, for you are the only man living who ever humbugged Barnum. The rabbit is worth here in the market seventy-five cents."

—The new Secretary of the Navy inquired which was the right bower anchor and which deck was the euchre deck, and the sailors called him a trump.

—Zion's Herald cites the conversion of a reporter on one of the Boston papers as an instance of "the power of the gospel upon unexpected and unpromising subjects."

—Caution often averts danger. A man who heard burglars in the house woke up his wife and sent her down stairs for a drink of water, and then crawled under the bed and wasn't injured in the least.

The Dividing Line.

In the Rocky Mountains there is said to be a house so situated, that the rain falling on one side is carried to the Pacific, while that falling on the other side, is carried to the Atlantic. So there are places in life where one overt act changes prosperity, health, and happiness into disaster, sickness and early death. In America many thousands die annually of consumption, and yet Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will, in its early stages, effect a perfect and permanent cure of this fatal disease. It corrects and purifies the blood, thus striking at the root of the evil. When complicated with catarrh, sore throat, and hoarseness, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy in connection with the Discovery. If the liver be torpid and bowels irregular, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. For particulars of treatment, see "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," over 900 pages, $1.50. Address the Author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for Dr. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,

CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

—A Mobile Sunday paper of April 1st invited its readers to go to the railroad depot and see a mammoth frog said to weigh at least 200 pounds. Some went, and they blasphemed that wicked newspaper.

—Brown: "Hullo, Jones! What's the matter?" Jones (amateur tenor): "Oh, dreadful chronic inflammation of the larynx! Lost my voice entirely!" Brown: "Dear me! You don't mean that?" "Jones: "Yes—been obliged to give up singing altogether!" Brown, with alacrity, "By George, look here, old fellow! Come and dine with us to-night, and spend the whole evening."

—An immense African lion, about 60 years old, escaped from its cage in a managerie at Augusta, Ga., into a crowd of people. Great consternation and a thorough stampede resulted. "Emperor" went to work on a $2000 Tartary yak, and finished it, then tasting gently of the calf of a man's leg, sat down to rest, when a rope was secured around his neck and he was choked into his cage.

—The body of a shark was exhibited Friday at the Abbott Iron Company's wharf, at Canton, Md., which was caught two hundred miles eastward of the capes by the crew of the bark Cybela. The shark was fifteen feet long, and on being opened was found to contain eighty young ones. Seventy-seven of them measured each fourteen inches long, and the others were several inches in length.

—Edward Everett was once travelling in Essex County, Massachusetts, before the days of railroads. He was travelling in a crowded stage, which seemed too full for the traditional "one more," when a schoolgirl came out of a house and wished to get in. They made room for her, Mr. Everett offering his knee for her to sit upon. She sat some time upon that primitive seat, when Mr. Everett said, "Perhaps you would like to know upon whose knee you are sitting?" She said she should. He said "My name is Edward Everett." "Do tell!" she replied; "be you a sailor man?"

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical conditions and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments a continuous variety of information "worth a year's subscription" to any Fruit Grower, and aggregates to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as any journal combined, to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as further guides to Buyers and Sellers, the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so much else, that it would fill a column or two for the Household, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 18[illegible]

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2[illegible] years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 23, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have hopes I shall regain my old flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not send them, and he has been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried the patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mullis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Ipecacuc Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is audorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trving climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Editorial Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While contains nothing that is disturbing to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufacture, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & Co., 37 Park Row, New York.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMERS' PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy: In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standards.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

How She Made Mischief.

The San Francisco Bulletin tells the following, which if true connects a woman more directly with the Mountain Meadow massacre than has been before made manifest, though the flight of Mrs. McLean from New Orleans with the Mormon scoundrel, Orson Pratt, and the husband's pursuit and deadly vengeance on the destroyer of his home, is an old story:

"Mrs. Elinor McLean, an educated, respectable woman, with strong emotional religious tendencies, became infatuated years ago, with Elder Pratt, a Mormon missionary laboring in this city. She attended the meetings secretly, and became his most devoted disciple. She used to wash the elder's feet in true apostolic fashion whenever he made his surreptitious calls upon her, and it was during one of these primitive performances that her husband discovered the state of affairs, and a scene ensued in which the would-be apostle ran off bare-footed without benefit of towel or ceremony. Then the aggrieved husband packed off his wife and children to New Orleans, her former home. The deluded woman, however, fell once more under the influence of the elder, and, yielding to his solicitation, she abducted the children and started for Salt Lake City to participate in the questionable bliss of ninth concubine to her spiritual lord. Pratt joined Mrs. McLean in western Arkansas, but her husband was hot on the trial, and the couple were overtaken and captured. Concluding that the elder could not be legally held, the authorities set him free, whereupon the injured husband promptly took justice into his own hands and shot the Mormon dead. Pratt, it seems, was a shining light of the church, and the saints were sorely exercised over his untimely taking-off, and laid up cherised thoughts of revenge. The Arkansas company which was massacred at Mountain Meadow is believed to have contained in its numbers some of the very men who helped McLean to destroy Pratt in Arkansas, and the massacre is believed to have been instigated solely by a spirit of revenge for Pratt's death, although other reasons have since been given by the Mormons themselves. As for Mrs. McLean, she would be joined to her polygamous idols, and once more and successfully she fled her husband's roof and gained Salt Lake City, where she is now said to be engaged in teaching a school of juvenile saints."

California Millionaires.

We have more than a hundred millionaires in this city (San Francisco) alone. Most of our old citizens will recall their histories. Some have gotten rich by sudden fortune; some by plodding toil. Some have crawled along the slimy path of usury; some have leaped into unexpected wealth by unexpected luck. Some have grown rich by careful and prudent business management; some by bold adventures, some by the growth of real estate, and some by a fool's luck. Not one of the number inherited even a decent start. Our rich men are all self-made. We beg our Eastern readers not to think that our millionaires are by any means confined to an exact million. Many are worth ten, some five, and nearly all over two millions. We could name a hundred jolly Bohemians who enjoy life much better than these toilers in the mill financial. We could pick out many a pinched and sordid soul from among these millionaires with whom we would not ourselves exchange either our capacities for enjoyment in this world or our hope of salvation in the world to come. They cannot eat more nor sleep longer than we do. Their digestion is not better than our own; their clothes are not as good, and old Charon will only find under their tongues the same sixpence that will pay to ferry us across the black river of death.—San Francisco Argonaut.

—The will of the Baron de H. R., who died last month in Paris, says: "I leave all my fortune, consisting of 800,000 francs, to the bold man who will, in presence of a notary and another witness, administer to my wife fifty blows with a stick. In case no one should fulfil these conditions, I devise my property to the State for charitable uses. In order to avoid trickery on the part of my eventful heir, I declare the legacy void in case he should espouse my wife." The will will be contested by the Baroness as the work of a lunatic, although her husband was of apparently sound mind on making it.

—Officers in the army of Saxony are not allowed to marry until they are assured of an income of $250 per annum, and, although they are expected to live in good style and to dress in such a manner as to be at any time presentable at court, this is thought to be enough for their comfortable support.

—A safety envelope to prevent tampering has been devised. On the flap the words "Attempt to open" are printed with double chemicals, the first impression containing nutgalls and the second green vitriol. If the flap be steamed or moistened in any way the magic printing will appear.

—An exchange remarks: "The only jokes that women like to read are those which reflect ridicule on men." Yes. On taking up a paper, a woman invariably turns to the marriage column.

—A man out near Oswego has got into trouble by devoting himself too closely to a sewing machine. She was seventeen years old and he was nearly forty.

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1877.

News and Notes.

The details of the St. Louis fire show it to have been a terrible affair. Only a few bodies had been found up to Thursday night, and it is hoped the loss of life will turn out much less than at first reported. As many people seem to have been killed by jumping from windows from which there was no other escape, as lost their lives by the fire and smoke.

In Wallingford, Conn., on the 10th, Mrs. Israel S. Burr died, and was buried in less than an hour after, her husband and son riding to the grave on the coffin.

Isaac N. Cox, the boy who murdered his father for reprimanding him for bad behavior in church, in Bath, was on Thursday found guilty of manslaughter by a jury. Sentence was deferred.

The Dominion Government has received a communication from the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, relative to the Nova Scotia great seal. The law officers of the Crown, to whom the matter was submitted, decided that the Queen's warrant was merely directory and non-compliance does not render the old seal illegal, or the document on which it was used invalid.

Mr. Patrick Fitzpatrick, a respectable Irish laborer who shot to death John Brasset, one of a gang of drunken roughs who assaulted him on a bridge at Ansonia, Conn., some weeks ago, was acquitted by a jury on the 12th. Proper.

A Havana letter of April 6th says the cane field on three plantations near Sagua have been partly burned by the insurgents. The loss is put at 1000 hogsheads. Nineteen German merchants of Havana were embargoed for refusal to pay a thirty per cent. contribution. The German Consul at Havana received a communication from the Imperial Government, stating that the German residents in Cuba, are, according to treaty, exempt from paying extraordinary contributions. It is said at the same time Novellar received an order from Spain not to proceed against the German merchants, and let the matter rest for the time.

Ross Winans, a well-known, wealthy and highly respected citizen of Baltimore, died Wednesday morning. He was eighty-one years of age, and for a long time was extensively engaged in building locomotives. He made many important railroad inventions. He was the father of Thomas Winans, who built railroads in Russia and amassed an immense fortune.

At Ipswich, Mass., at midnight on the 11th, Robert F. Lord attempted to force an entrance to the house of his brother-in-law, J. J. Goodrich, Esq., and was shot at three times and hit once, receiving a slight wound.

Twenty-five houses and stores at Pomeroy, Ohio, were burned Wednesday night. Loss $100,000.

Schooner Iona, of Brewer, Me., was abandoned at sea on the 9th. Crew saved.

J. M. Carson, a reputable citizen of Oil City, Penn., on Thursday shot dead David Mikesell, his wife's paramour.

A queerly-matched couple were seen at Newark, N. J., last week, in a handsome young white woman, daughter of a Mississippi planter named Debezon, and worth $174,000 in her own right, and her black husband. The negro was formerly a slave on her father's plantation, and he saved her life at a steamboat excursion by putting her on his back and swimming ashore, though one arm was shattered. He became the family pet, and the little girl taught him to read, then mathematics and French. He became an accomplished gentleman, and when the girl grew up she fell in love with him. Mr. Debezon, who is a prominent democrat, of course opposed the match, and the couple ran away and are now spending their honeymoon at the North.

Base ball clubs are being organized for the season by the dozen. At the rate new clubs are springing up, there will be two thousand nines on the field by June.

The coroner's jury in the Jewett case returned a verdict that George W. Jewett came to his death by the explosion of a hand grenade taken to the office by Orville D. Jewett, and that the latter was killed by pistol-shot wounds inflicted by himself. The general impression regarding the mysterious tragedy is that it was a case of premeditated murder and suicide, and that Orville D. Jewett was insane.

The terrible disaster at St. Louis will make about as permanent an impression upon the public mind as did the burning of the Brooklyn Theatre. In the Southern Hotel, and in the sixth story of it, there were scores of persons who had not the slightest aid provided by foresight, for escape in case of fire. It may be said, at the outset, that there is little sense in building, in any town in the United States, a hotel six stories in height. It ought to be said, over and again, that any such hotel ought to be avoided unless it is constructed with more regard to safety from fire than is the usual rule in American public buildings. Take this very case: It would seem that the fire originated below, and was carried to the upper stories by the elevator openings. It is perfectly evident that there were no means of escape when the halls were once filled with fire and smoke. The fact that so many jumped from the windows only to meet a death more dreadful than that by fire, proves the utter inefficiency of the precautions, if indeed any there were, as against a catastrophe which, next to the theatre, the hotel is especially liable to. Warnings do not amount to much. Catholic churches are set on fire in their millinery just as though newspapers were not published, and hotels have less means of escape than cotton mills. All the same it remains the duty of the citizen to lift his testimony in behalf of the thoughtless and helpless, and to insist upon such construction of buildings, and such means of self-protection, as will enable the strong and cool-headed to have some chance for life in case of fire.

A Maine paper says: Capt. Gardner, who wrecked the Eastern Clipper on the Nova Scotia coast in a fair day, last October, sold her at auction, pocketed the money, and then disappeared, has been heard from once more. He left the provinces for Gloucester, Mass., and shipped in a fisherman bound to Georges Banks. The vessel was wrecked, and Mr. Gardner lost his life.

William Hurd, a New Haven lover, who was discouraged in his suit by being kicked out of the house by one Clark, a friend of his adored, tried to revenge himself Friday night by shooting through the window at the family, one of the shots narrowly missing Clark's head. The police are looking for him.

A widow in Iowa, whose husband was burned to death while under imprisonment for drunkenness, has obtained a judgment for $6000 against the man who sold him liquor.

The President of the Ohio Fat Men's Association has just died. His name was John Templeton, and he is asserted to have weighed 505 pounds. His wife, who survives him, weighs only ninety pounds.

Very extensive revenue frauds in the manufacture of tobacco in North Carolina have been recently discovered, and the Treasury Department purposes vigorous measures to bring the parties concerned to punishment. Some thirty manufacturers in the county of Surry, charged with participation in fraudulent transactions, have been indicted.

It is considered at Washington that the diplomacy shown by the Russians has been masterly; they have committed all Europe to their side of the quarrel, and will for a time at least be able to prevent any active measures being taken for the relief of the Turks by Great Britain.

It seems to have just occurred to the Maryland authorities that the Bennett-May duel was fought on that territory, and at this late day Judge Stump has charged the grand jury of Caroline county to investigate the affair, and indict the principles and accessories if they find it was perpetrated in that county.

Governor Hampton has been married twice, and is a widower. He has had three children—two sons and a daughter. His eldest son, Preston Hampton, was killed at Gettysburg, and the second, Wade, Jr., lives in Washington county, Miss. His daughter, Margaret, is the wife of Colonel John Hascall, of South Carolina.

Charles H. Gilman, of Lowell, a sewing machine agent, was found in the reservoir at Rockport, Mass., Wednesday afternoon. There were wounds upon his head, showing he had been murdered and thrown in, as is supposed, a short time previous. The body was still warm when found. William Williams, his assistant, and two other men, were arrested on suspicion.

The Empire of Japan desires to make a new treaty of commerce with the United States. Its main purpose seem to be to derive more revenue from imports. Under the old treaty the duties average about five per cent. It is said that the Japanese Government desires to levy a higher rate, but offers in return to open all the ports of the empire to American vessels. This is significant as indicating a disposition to remove what remains of the restrictions which once separated Japan from the commercial world. That country promises to take its place among modern civilized nations on an equal footing at no distant day.

Mrs. Mary Marshall, of Chicago, on Thursday walked 100 miles in twenty-seven hours at Horticultural Hall, Boston, having twelve minutes to spare at the finish.

The New York correspondent of the Washington Capital says that the "May family are unfortunate, certainly. Mr. Louis Montant, Miss Edith May's fiancee, and one of the best-liked young men in New York, has just died at the early age of twenty-seven years. Mr. Montant saved Miss May's life at the time of the Mohawk disaster, risking his own for the young lady, to whom he subsequently became engaged. He was a fine, manly fellow, a member of the Union and Lotos Clubs, and the possessor of abundant means."—

Schooner John C. McShain went ashore at Point No-Point, below Baltimore, in a gale on the 11th, and only one of the crew escaped. Ship Assecuradeur, Falcke, from Baltimore for Hamburgh, and bark Orpheus, Jensen, on the same voyage, are ashore at Cape Henry, and will both probably become total wrecks.

The Providence Journal states that A. D. Goodwin, of the firm of Warner & Goodwin of that city, and the absconding United States Vice-Consul at St. John, N. B., has returned to Boston and made restitution of about $7500 to parties who interviewed him. It is alleged that as usual there is a woman at the bottom of the difficulty.

Clarance Hurd and William L. George were tried by the Supreme Court in Concord, on the 11th, for assault with intent to kill upon James H. Jepson of Warner, and were fined $200 each and sentenced to six months in the State Prison.

Patrick Murray, living on Auburn street, Manchester, was arrested Monday night, the 9th, for causing a noise and brawl. In a barn owned by him was found $1000 worth of carpenter tools, which had been stolen from different hardware dealers and carpenters.

Dr. N. H. Carey, the father of Annie Louise Carey, died at Durham, Me., on Tuesday, aged seventy years.

There was a narrow escape from collision at Somerville, Mass., on the 10th, between two trains, one on the Eastern and one on the Maine road. The latter train approached the crossing at a high rate of speed, and was stopped within ten feet of the Eastern train, which was just moving on toward Boston.

Political.

The Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche, one of the ablest of the papers heretofore supporting the democratic party, wishes to see the old Whigs of that section stirred up to oppose the Bourbons. In a recent issue it asks and answers the following questions: "Who appeals to President Hayes to withdraw troops from Louisiana? Is it Thurman of Ohio? Is it Eaton of Connecticut? Is it Barnum of the same State? Is it Wallace of Pennsylvania? Is it Kernan of New York? Is it McDonald of Indiana? Oh, no! and yet they are all democratic Senators. The contemptible part these gentlemen play is somewhat extraordinary, in view of the noise and clamor of certain organs of the democratic party that denounce Hayes and his Southern policy. Not one of the democratic Senators named above have called to protest or to intercede; and not one of the prominent members of the House of Representatives, some of whom are candidates for Speaker, have ever uttered a word. Tammany Hall and its followers are silent as the grave. This is the class of leaders the Bourbon democrats would have the South follow and obey."

The democratic press of Chicago has gone raving mad over the municipal election which resulted so favorably to the republican cause. The Times says: "A more irreclaimable lot of idiots and asses than the persons who set up for managers of the old graveyard party in this city, this State, and this nation, the planet we occupy does not contain."

Mr. Chamberlain's way of leaving the office of Governor of South Carolina became him as much as anything he ever did in it, and that is saying a great deal.—N. Y. Tribune.

Knowledge is Power.

This is a nation of enlightened freemen. Education is the corner-stone and foundation of our government. The people are free to think and act for themselves, and that they may act wisely it is necessary that they be well informed. Every individual gain increases public gain. Upon the health of the people is based the prosperity of a nation, by it every value is increased, every joy enhanced. Health is essential to the accomplishment of every purpose; while sickness thwarts the best intentions and loftiest aims. Unto us are committed important health trusts, which we hold not merely in our own behalf but for the benefit of others. In order that we may be able to discharge the obligation of our trusteeship and thus prove worthy of our generous commission, it is necessary that we study the art of preserving health and prolonging life. It is of paramount importance to every person not only to understand the means for the preservation of health, but also to know what remedies should be employed for the alleviation of the common ailments of life. Not that we would advise every man under all circumstances to attempt to be his own physician, but we entreat him to acquire sufficient knowledge of his system and the laws that govern it, that he may be prepared to take care of himself properly, and thereby prevent sickness and prolong life. In no text book will the people find the subjects of physiology and hygiene, or the science of life and the art of preserving health, more scientifically discussed or more plainly taught than in "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y. It is a volume of over two hundred and eighty-two engravings and colored plates, is elegantly bound in cloth and gilt, and is sent, post-paid, to any address by the author at the low price of one dollar and fifty cents a copy. Nearly one hundred thousand copies have already been sold, and the present edition, which is revised and enlarged and more especially adapted to the wants of the family, is selling very rapidly. It treats of all the common diseases and their remedies, as well as of anatomy, physiology, hygiene, human temperaments, and many other topics of great interest to all people, and is truly what its author styles it, "Medicine Simplified."

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in each town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

By order of the Assessors,

M. BUFFORD, Secretary.

—Whittier does not relish the idea of Maud Muller being put upon the stage. He recently wrote to a friend: I never thought much of Maud Muller, and since she has got upon the stage I utterly disown her. There is something exquisitely absurd in the idea of the old judge and the over-done matron with as many children as the "old woman who lived in a shoe" finding their "affinities" at this late day.

—Among the new favors for the woman, that of "the heart" is much used. A tiny pair of gilt scales are employed, and each lady has a small gilt heart. From a number of silver hearts, which are placed in a casket, each gentleman selects one; then each of the ladies place, one at a time, her golden heart in the scale, while the gentleman who holds the silver heart that matches it in weight obtains her for his partner.

City of Portsmouth.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

THE Inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their Polls and Estates, ratable by law, on or before the fifteenth day of April.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirements in handing in an inventory of their ratable estate, and making oath to the same, will have no legal claim for abatement.

The Assessors, or any Justice of the Peace, or the City Clerk, are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory shall have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be handed to one of the Assessors, or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's Office on or before the fifteenth day of April.

"FORBIDDEN FRUIT"

Will be served out to all comers, this evening, at Franklin Hall, by Furbish's Fifth Avenue Combination. This is Boucicault's latest and is said to be his best comedy, and is never been presented in this city. It had a great run at Wallack's Theatre in New York last season, and will probably draw a full house to-night. See advertisement for particulars. The Furbish Combination was heartily endorsed as being a good company, by Sol Smith Russell, from the stage last night.

"TEN NIGHTS IN A BAR-ROOM."

The Temperance drama, "Ten Nights in Bar Room," was given at Franklin Hall in the evening of Fast Day to a well filled house. The play was unusually well managed, and the acting uncommonly good for amateurs. Sample Swichel, by Mr. O. D. Bryant, was exceedingly well done, the betitted and good natured Yankee being typified to perfection. Mr. William Kennedy, as Simon Slade, the bar-keeper, seemed quite at home behind the well arranged and tempting-looking bar, and fully sustained his previous good reputation as an actor. The character of Joe Morgan, the poor inebriate, although a difficult one to render, in its many vicissitudes, was very well taken by Mr. Charles W. Gardner, it being his first appearance on the stage as an actor. Harry Green, the gambler, was finely presented by Mr. Robert G. Archibald, who has distinguished himself in similar roles on former occasions. Willie Hammond, the son of the wealthy Judge Hammond, was represented by Mr. Gustave Peyser in a most creditable manner. The character of Mr. Romaine, the gentleman of leisure and travel, and Frank Slade, son of the bar-keeper, were faithfully taken by Messrs. C. H. Leslie and Charles F. Larrabee.

The ladies engaged in the play took their several parts most creditably. Miss Annie Kennedy, in the trying personation of Joe Morgan's wife, succeeded admirably, while the little girl's part was so well done as to draw unwonted moistnre from many eyes unused to that sort of thing. Miss Marston took the part of Simon Slade's wife very nicely; and Miss Lou Andrews did the pony Mehitable Cartwright in good style, and added much to the merry side of the picture. Take it all together, the play was remarkably well done; and we believe we are not alone in surprise at finding how much real stage talent our city possesses,—and it may be as well to suggest, in this connection, that it might be an advantage to encourage its development and thus furnish a portion of our own amusement.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Lamprey's dancing school for young ladies, masters and misses opens at Congress Hall this (Saturday) afternoon; the latest styles of waltzing, the minuet, and all other fashionable dances taught. See advertisement.

At the recent election of officers for Palestine Commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, in New York city, Capt. Thomas B. Rand, a son of Portsmouth, was chosen Captain-General.

A large number of the members of the Reform Club went to Dover by special train on Fast Day, to take part in the mass meeting in the city hall. At its conclusion a dinner was furnished by the Dover ladies.

A correspondent says: "For real excellence of accommodations, convenience to places of interest, and in fact to all parts of the city, I commend the old and well-known American House of Boston. This hotel is one of the largest and perhaps best known of New England hotels, and its extensive patronage from business men, tourists, families, and parties making excursions through Boston, shows that others besides myself appreciate its advantages."

Wanted, at this office, a good boy; superior natural abilities no objection, but no boy wanted whose knowledge of the world is greatly superior to that of the editors, and who will not allow the foreman or proprietors to have an occasional word as to the management of affairs in the office. The editor will do most of the sweeping up, going of errands, etc., but cannot be depended on to do the whole of it, not even in the base ball season. A boy who is willing to do a fair share of the work we shall be pleased to talk with on business.

Mr. Hartley W. Mason is be build a fine house the present season, on Lafayette road, near the residence of Mr. Jerome C. Butler, at a cost of about $8000.

A second Mission Sunday School has been established in Cartledge's Hosiery Factory, at the Creek, by the North Parish, with Mr. Oliver W. Ham as Superintendent.

Mr. Loyne acknowledges the receipt of a check for thirty-five dollars from a Portsmouth gentleman, and one of fifty dollars from a friend in New York, of which latter $25 is for Faith Home and $25 for the Bow Mission.

The British schooner Emma E. Potter came off the marine railway at Kittery on Wednesday, and hauled alongside the wharf at Spring Hill, where carpenters are finishing the repairs on her hull. Men are now engaged in making new and repairing the old sails, and the vessel will be ready to leave this port for Nova Scotia early next week.

Charles W. Hidden, the "Boy Orator," will speak in Mechanics' Hall on Sunday evening at half-past seven o'clock, under the auspices of the Reform Club; tickets five cents, to defray expenses. No tickets taken except those bought at the office.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences (Quarterly) for April is issued, and contains even more than the usual number of articles of interest and value to the medical profession. Philadelphia; Henry C. Lea, 706 & 707 Sansom Street; $5 per year, free of postage.

You can get Vermont maple sugar and syrup—the gennine article, and new at that—not venerable old stuff left over from last year—at Butler & Laighton's, No. 1 Market square. The CHRONICLE force have sampled the sweets aforesaid, and fully endorse their virtues.

It may not be generally known that the American terminus of the Atlantic telegraph (known as the Direct Cable Company's line) is at Webber's Cove, Torbay, which is 120 miles east of Halifax, Nova Scotia, and that the European terminus is at Ballinskellig's Bay, in the southwest of Ireland, a little below Valentia Island. This direct cable, 2,790 miles long to Nova Scotia, is continued from Torbay to Rye Beach, New Hampshire, by a line 650 miles in length, and the whole system of land lines and cables from New York to London is 4,200 miles long by this "direct" cable, which now carries about 33 per cent. of all the messages across the Atlantic. Other things being equal, the working speed of submarine cables is inversely proportioned to the squares of their lengths. Thus, a cable 1,000 miles long will carry four times as many words per minute as a similar cable 2,000 miles in length, and having regard to this law, it is claimed that the carrying power of the direct cable between Ireland and Nova Scotia—twenty-one words per midute—is higher than of any other.—St. John (N. B.) Globe.

The service at Bow Mission, Sabbath afternoon, will be in the interests of kindness to animals; the officers of the S. P. C. A. are especially invited, and chairs will be reserved for them. A special programme has been arranged for the occasion; new pieces will be sung by the quartette, and recitations given by the children, with short addresses by friends of the cause. "Open thy mouth for the dumb." Prov. 31, 8. Service at 4:15; Bible service at 2:30; free to all. W. A. L.

Surely Portsmouth possesses talent of a high order, and the Eclectic Club has done its share in bringing it to the surface. A large company was highly entertained at Miss Morgan's Seminary by the recitations of Mrs. Whipple, which were given with infinite taste and power. Miss Robinson's assistance in the scene of Henry the Fifth's courtship was much appreciated. Mrs. Whipple's original poem, vividly bringing before the mind's eye the long train of Shakspeare's heroes and heroines, was indeed exquisite, and we hope to have it presented to the public. The peg shop belonging to Young & Smith, at Sunapee, was burned Wednesday night; all the valuable machinery and 1000 bushels of pegs were destroyed. The fire originated in a defective chimney. Loss over $5000; insured $2000.

The farm buildings of Amasa S. Rogers, in Dover, were burned Wednesday night; loss $2000. Mrs. Rogers had a narrow escape from death. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Ever since the winter opened a squirrel has come regularly every day from the woods just back of the house of Mr. Richard Fogg at Hampton Falls, to be fed by members of Mr. Fogg's family, and has become so tame that he now takes apples from their hands.

William Chadwick, seventy years old, was knocked down and injured, probably fatally, by a runaway horse, Thursday morning, in Dover.

The annual State convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held in Nashua on Thursday.

The annual examination of the State Reform School took place on Wednesday.

Aaron P. Wingate of Exeter absconded on Monday last. It turns out that some time since he forged a note against his sister for $1200, getting John Bellows to cash it. On learning of Wingate's absence Bellows attached property, which proves to be mortgaged. Wingate leaves two children; his wife left him previously.

The grand jury of the Supreme Court at Exeter, came in on Wednesday with ninety indictments, eighty-four of which were for liquor selling. Court then adjourned until Monday forenoon.

A Card for Rational Readers.

Irrational people always reject good advice, and in nothing is their folly more frequently conspicuous than in ignoring precautions necessary for the retention of health. Forecast, on the other hand, is a notable characteristic of the rational, and it is the exercise of this quality which we would suggest to them. Protect the system against disease which fasten upon the debilitated, the nervous and the dyspeptic, by bracing the physique, regulating the stomach, bowels and liver, and banishing despondency with the purest and most efficient of botanic invigorants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That these effects follow its use, and that it prevents as well as annihilates intermittent and remittent fevers, are facts established by indisputable evidence. To enjoy the twin blessings of "a sound mind and a sound body" in all their plenitude, try a course of this sterling medicine.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevalling sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

What Sweetens the Mouth,

preserves and whitens the teeth, keeps the gums from becoming spongy, neutralizes all impurities that adhere to the dental enamel, and effectually prevents the toothache? Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

—The Chicago Tribune proposes to have Sergeant Bates, Eli Perkins and Private Dalzell sent South, and to recognise the government that will kill them first.

—When a Vermont editor gets up and refers to a Wisconsin man as a Wisconsinner, the latter simply telegraphs back that he wants nothing more to do with a Vermont-ctrosity. Would a citizen of Stoneham appropriately be called a Stonehammer, then, and a citizen of Randolph a Randolphin? If yes, then a citizen of Scituate would be a Scituatian; a resident of Marlborough a Marl-burrower: and an inhabitant of Lee would be a personified Leer.

—An ingenious Brooklynite has invented an arrangement which he calls the "American cat teaser." It consists of a sheet of tin with triangles cut in it symmetrically, the base of the triangle remaining intact with the main sheet. The triangular piece is then turned point up, and the triangles are so close together that the cat cannot walk over them without great inconvenience. Then these strips are nailed on fences and along ridge-poles.

—Victims of the sharp dealing of sewing machine operators—and they are legion—will be glad to hear of a recent decision by Judge Gilbert in Brooklyn. A poor woman had taken a machine to be paid for by instalments, according to the usual terms given in such cases. According to the formal agreement, the intending purchaser holds the machine on a lease, and all payments are simply rent for the use of it. If payment is made in full, very well; but if there is default on any payment, no matter how small the sum needed to complete the purchase, the dealer takes away the machine and the payer loses all the money he hoped to count as a part of the purchase money. The Brooklyn buyer had paid eighty dollars on the machine when it was seized for default of a periodical payment, the company claiming the whole sum already paid in. Suit was brought to recover it, and the judge immediately directed the jury to render a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount, with interest.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly prints a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its editorial pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 20 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 21st of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package. JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 19, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and what they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he says it has been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Seven Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near seven years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrod, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

For the terrible diseases engendered by the busy trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proc'. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication, in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. "A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its column, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which covers its pages."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read in Brooklyn and people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS.

'Twas when the toddling baby year
Its greeting to the world was giving.
I shed a melancholy tear
And vowed to change my mode of living.
"My wicked ways I'll mend," meditated,
"To be sedate I'll now endeavor;"
But all my schemes have come to naught,
I still remain as bad as ever.

Methought, "I waste my morns in bed"
(I seldom rose till twelve or later),
Which laziness it must be said
Full often agitates my pater.
Anon at five A. M. I'll rise,
"At once from these late hours I'll sever;"
But (let it not excite surprise)
I still "turn out" as late as ever.

"Now, as to cash affairs. I fear
I'm past all remedy" I pondered
"I grieve to think that all last year
No end of coin I rashly squandered.
O Fortune, one chance more I crave;
O heart be prudent, now or never.
At once I'll try what I can save—"
Alas! I'm just as poor as ever.

Ah me! with grief my mind's beset,
And duns continue still to storm me;
I'm just as hopelessly in debt,
And long for some to to reform me,
Though conscience knows 'tis all in vain,
I thought myself extremely clever.
My plans went wrong, and I remain
As big a reprobate as ever.

—London Fun.

An African Enoch Arden.

As Mr. James Coffee, an unemployed colored waiter, was seated in the bosom of his family, regaling himself with his favorite dish of fried flounders and a hard boiled egg, a sudden rap was heard at the outer door. Requesting Mrs. Coffee, his buxom helpmate, to attend the summons, the door was no sooner opened than a grand scuffling ensued, and the smacking of an enormous pair of lips was heard. "Dinab, don't you know me?" exclaimed the new comer, again indulging in osculatory refreshment. "Go 'long, you sassy nigger!" Mrs. Coffee screamed. "What's all dis?" cried Mr. Coffee, dropping a bit of flounder and springing to his feet. "Don't you know yer own husband?" cried the stranger. "What, Tim Johnson?" "Dat is me!" "Where's yer stiffcate?" inquired the astonished host. "Oh, I lost dat in the sea!" "Do you recognize him for your fuss husband, Dinah?" inquired Mr. Coffee. "Never seed his ugly jaws 'fore in my life!" replied Mrs. Coffee. And thereupon old Coffee "went for him," and in another minute the stranger was footing it up Railroad Square in a manner that filled all the cats and dogs for blocks around with amazement. Mrs. Coffee lost her first partner at sea, but she says her present "old man" is all her fancy painted him. —Exchange.

—An Omaha man is doubly in trouble. He deserted his wife to elope with a girl, and the wife is chasing him. Then he deserted the girl, and she is chasing him. The chasers have joined in the pursuit, and he fears the worst if they catch him.

—Ah Moon, a San Francisco Chinaman, being on trial for murder, was told by his lawyer that the best defence would be an alibi. The prisoner said that he could arrange readily for witnesses, and he did. Three of his countrymen swore that, at the time of the murder, he was at work in a wash house; two swore that he was asleep at home, and others would have sworn that he was in other places, had not the lawyer interposed.

—The New York Graphic has analyzed the relative stages of moral depravity in making assaults on another's property, and announces the following result: A spoliation of $1,000,000 is a case of genius; of $100,000 is shortage; of $50,000 is litigation; of $25,000 is insolvency; of $10,000 is irregularity; of $5000 is defalcation; of $1000 is corruption; of $500 is embezzlement; of $100 is dishonesty; of $50 is theft; of $25 is total depravity; and of one ham is war on society.

—One of the stories which Judge Davis acceptance of the senatorship has revived, has, says the Chicago Times, for a good story, the unusual advantage of being true. A farmer had failed to comply with certain technical requirements in relation to land, and a shark was about to snatch all that he had. The shark's attorney was arguing the case before Judge Davis, then on the Supreme Bench of Illinois. Judge Davis said to him, indignantly, "Your client is trying to steal that man's farm! And he can't do it in my court!" "Then," retorted the lawyer, "I'll carry it up to the full bench, and see if law is law." "By —, sir, I will be there before you!" roared Davis, and, oddly enough, fortune so decided his destiny that he was able to keep his word.

—When you see a young man sitting in a parlor, with the ugliest six-year old boy that ever frightened himself in the mirror, clambering over his knees, jerking his white tie out of knot, mussing his white vest, kicking his shins, feeling in all his pockets for nickels, bombarding him from time to time with various bits of light furniture, calling him names at the top of his fiendish lungs, and yelling incessantly for him to come out in the yard and play, while the unresisting victim smiles all the time like the cover of a comic almanac, you may safely bet, although there isn't the sign of a girl apparent in a radius of 10,000 miles,—you can bet your bottom dollar that howling boy has a sister who is pimping in a room not twenty feet away, and that the young man doesn't come there just for the fun of playing with her brother.

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 16, 1877.

The Southern Hotel Disaster.

Of the servants all but about twenty have reported, and the proprietors of the hotel do not think more than three were lost, excepting, perhaps, Charles Kieffnicht, head waiter, of whom nothing has been heard since the night of the fire. The last seen of him he was going through the fifth story, arousing the guests of the house, and it is feared he was overcome by the smoke and fell a victim to his noble impulse to save the lives of others.

The death list is reported as follows: Rev. A. R. Adams of England, George Frank Gouley, Henry Hazen, Mrs. W. S. Stewart, Charles Sieman, Andrew Eitman, H. J. Clark and wife, Kate Reilly, Kate Dolan and Mary Moran, servants, and William Felix Munster of England, the latter a suicide, committed under derangement brought on by intense excitement. Mr. Gouley was Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Missouri; his body was recovered on Friday, as was also that of Mrs. W. S. Stewart of Syracuse, N. Y.

It is now thought the list of deaths will not rise above twenty.

J. F. Russell, chief engineer of the hotel, has made a statement which throws some light on the origin of the fire. He says that he left the engine-room about half-past 11 o'clock, leaving an assistant in charge, and went to his room on the fifth floor, near the baggage elevator. He was aroused about five minutes past one o'clock by shrieks of women. He hurried out and found the hall filled with smoke, which came from the freight elevator, but saw no fire. He was obliged to crawl on his hands and knees to prevent suffocation, the smoke was so dense. There were a number of women on the fifth floor crying piteously for help, whom he told to follow him to the lower floor. Some did, and others were too distracted apparently to do as he directed. Finally he reached the dining-room floor, passed into the kitchen and descended to the basement. Here he found the smoke was very dense, and that the pumps connected with the engine had been in operation. Some of the employes had been throwing water on the fire, which at that time was raging furiously in the store room. A nozzle had been blown off before he reached the basement. Another was put on. He then put the pumps at work again, and turned a stream on the fire. This was continued until the fire became so hot and spread so far that all were obliged to flee for their lives. They made their exit through the basement, under the rear part of the building, and emerged on Elm street. This account does not state how long the fire had been burning before the fire alarm was turned on, but it does show, and conclusively, that efforts were made to subdue it before the guests in the house were aroused or any attempt made to notify them that the building was burning. It seems very certain, at all events, that the hotel was known to be on fire by the employes twenty minutes to half an hour before the Fire Department was notified. Mr. Russell also states that there was a pile of mattresses in one corner of the store-room and a lot of loose hair, and about five feet from them on the floor was a box in which the stock of matches was kept. He thinks the mattresses and matches had a good deal to do with the origin of the fire, but does not know anything definite about it.

New England Gospel Temperance Convention.

It is proposed to hold a New England Gospel Temperance Convention in the Tabernacle, Tremont Street, Boston, Friday, April 20th, under the conduct of Messrs. D. L. Moody, Ira D. Sankey and C. W. Sawyer Services will commence at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and be continued in the afternoon and evening. Addresses may be expected from Rev. T. L. Cuyler, D. D., of Brooklyn; Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., D. D., and Hon. Wm. E. Dodge, of New York; Geo. H. Stuart, of Philadelphia; John B. Gough, and others. Mr. Sankey will lead the service of song, assisted by a full chorus under the direction of Dr. E. Tourjee. A prominent feature of each meeting will be the testimonies of men delivered from the captivity of strong drink by the power of the Gospel. Churches, Young Men's Christian Associations, and other organizations in sympathy with the movement, are invited to send delegates. It is hoped that three thousand ministers and laymen will gather from various parts of New England each bringing intemperate friends with him, that their lives, under the influence of the addresses and testimonies, and especially under the power of the Holy Ghost, may send forth the light of a new hope, as they return to their homes to lead others in the way of safety, happiness and eternal life. Tickets, entitling to reserved seats, will be furnished to all delegates who shall send certificate of appointment and stamped envelope. All communications should be addressed to Rev. D. W. Waldron, Com., Tabernacle, Boston.

News and Notes.

There seems now a prospect that Miss Mary Ella Harrington, whose supposed abduction from East Boston last September caused such a sensation, will be traced out. A man named James H. Favor, employed by a Lowell barber named John H. Breed, was arrested in Lowell on Friday and taken to Boston. Favor has an ill-favored record, having been in custody twice previously. He admits that he was acquainted with the Harrington girl and was on very intimate terms with her. It is stated also that he saw the girl in Lowell in September last, at which time she was quite sick and that he took her to a private boarding-house and left her in charge of a woman, and has not seen her since. He denies having kidnapped her, and says that he knows nothing of her whereabouts; but, it is said, thinks that she is not living. His reasons for such a belief he positively refuses to give, and says that he knows nothing further of the case. It is rumored that a Miss Folsom, who was an intimate friend of Miss Harrington previous to her disappearance, and is now in Lynn, has stated that she knew last fall that Miss Harrington was in a delicate condition, and that she went to Lowell to get rid of the consequences of her folly. The case will now undoubtedly undergo a searching investigation, and it is to be hoped that the mystery attending the case, which has brought so much trouble on the family of the missing girl, will be cleared up.

Charles Cleveland, residing at Dover, N. S., a fishing town about thirty miles from Halifax, on Thursday got his gun to shoot a son with whom he had a lawsuit. His wife endeavored to prevent him leaving, when he shot her, loading his gun again and firing a second charge into her. He then reloaded and shot himself dead. They leave five sons and three daughters, all married.

By the caving-in of Blue Point Graham mine, at Smartsville, Yuba county, California, on Friday, seven men were killed and six badly injured.

Ex-Mayor Lambert, of Brooklyn, is a defaulter to the amount of $50,000 of trust funds belonging to his wife's sister. His reputation had always been high.

Chief Naval Constructor Hanscom will be retired in June, when he attains the age of sixty-two years.

The news from Europe smells more strongly than ever of gunpowder. A Vienna dispatch of Saturday morning said a declaration of war by Russia was expected on Tuesday. Turkey refuses to prolong the Montenegrin armistice. The Russian army of the Pruth is advancing. Fighting had been going on in the Miridite country since Sunday.

Reuben Kemmerer, aged forty-five, a married man, living at St. Clair, Penn., has been missing since Friday, 6th. He was found Thursday night dead by a fishing party a few miles from St. Clair with his throat cut.

Sheldon L. Jones, of Memphis, and Gen. M. Makeley, of Little Rock, Ark., fought a duel with pistols on the Fair grounds near the latter city on Friday. Nobody was hurt, the seconds having very discreetly loaded the pistols with powder only. Principals and seconds were arrested; Jones was fined $50 and costs, and Makeley held for trial.

An Havana letter of the 7th says it is reported that the insurgents massed their forces and so badly defeated Gen. Campos that the Spanish troops are entirely incapacitated from further movements this summer. Advices by the same mail say Martinez Campos has commenced a forward movement into the central department of Cuba. He is reported at Puerto Principe, but the bulk of the troops are not there yet. Everything is quiet in Vuelta Abajo.

The jury in the case of W. H. Ottman, tried twice for criminally receiving $47,000, which was stolen from the Treasury some two years ago by B. H. Hallock, one of the clerks, were unable to agree and were discharged.

Coroner Gaines' jury at Saco, Me., find that John W. Simpson was accidentally killed by a locomotive of the Boston and Maine Railroad; that said Simpson was unlawfully on the track; further, that the locomotive was running through a compact part of the city at an unlawful rate of speed, and the company is culpably negligent in not giving their engineers proper instructions regarding speed and signals.

Samuel Wright, of Manchester, England, and William Woffle, of Fulton, New York, deserters from the whaleship Ellen Rodman, of Fairhaven, were rescued from a boat which they had stolen, by the British troop ship Simoon, 60 miles southwest of Sierra Leone. They deserted at Bravo, Cape Verde Islands, Feb. 15, at 11 P. M., and had only four pounds of biscuit and four gallons of water, which were soon consumed. For ten days they were without food or water, and were in a desperate condition when rescued, almost famished to death. They were landed at St. Vincent. William Woffle, with the boat, was placed in charge of the American Consul, and Wright would be taken to England in the Simoon.

G. W. Custis Lee has instituted an action of ejectment for the recovery of the Arlington estate.

Political.

Barnaby, the late democratic candidate for Governor of Rhode Island, not only lost the election, but he appears to have lost considerable money which he foolishly invested to further his chances. One of his agents, to whom he entrusted $380 for the purpose of paying registry taxes, has been arrested for embezzlement, as he paid out only $78, reserving the balance to pay his own taxes probably.

Last November the democratic majority in Milwaukee, Wis., was 106, but a few days ago the republican candidate for Mayor was elected by 2000 majority. This is one of the localities to which Mr. Tilden's friends sent "sinews" just before the election.

It having been said that a letter criticising the Southern policy of the President has been written by Congressman Martin I. Townsend of Troy, N. Y., that gentleman telegraphs that it is an entire mistake.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles Sargent, of Danbury, aged 27 years, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart, on Friday, at that place. No cause is assigned for the act. He was nephew of ex-Chief Justice Sargent, of Concord.

A little daughter of John Holden, of Peterboro,' three years old, was badly burned Saturday morning. Her clothes took fire from a heap of burning brush, and both legs, the entire left arm, neck, and face, were burned to a blister. She cannot survive.

The dwelling-house, barn and carriage-house of Richard K. Brickett, of Hampstead, was burned, Thursday. The total loss is $5000; insured $2000. The fire is reported as accidental.

The jury in the case of Patterson against the city of Manchester brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, giving him $2700 damages for a broken leg caused by a defective highway.

It is intimated that Col. Daniel Hall of Dover is likely to succeed Gen. Harriman as Naval Officer of the port of Boston.

There were in New Hampshire last year 2,498 ordinary schools, 458 graded schools, 18 town high schools, 21 district high schools, and 86 higher English and language schools. There were 941 schools averaging 12 scholars or less, and 290 schools averaging six scholars or less. There were in attendance 34,748 boys and 31,951 girls. There were in private schools and not enrolled in the public schools 3,892 pupils. There were 4,156 children between the ages of 5 and 15 years who were not attending any school. The whole number of scholars and children thus reported was 74,747. The average daily attendance was 48,857. There has been a decrease in attendance of 1,153 boys and 780 girls for the past year. This is a much larger decrease than the annual average diminution for the last 25 years, and is mainly attributable to the depressed condition of business affairs in the State. As regards compulsory attendance of pupils, it is found that the law enacted for that purpose is universally approved. Although the law has accomplished favorable results, yet it is effective only where a slight disinclination to attend school prevails, and is generally ineffective where there is a disposition to evade it.

Mr. William H. Phillips, a well known house carpenter and an estimable citizen of Wolfboro, died very suddenly Friday morning. The cause is supposed to be a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. He was apparently in his usual health up to the time of his arising. He was 43 years of age, and leaves a widow and three children.

Most of the $25,000 needed for the Manchester horse railroad has been subscribed.

The jury in the Dickey (incendiary) trial at Laconia, were out all night, and brought in a verdict of guilty Saturday morning. The sentence is seven years in the State Prison, and the costs of prosecution, to stand committed until paid. Judge Hibbard, of the prisoner's counsel, took exceptions.

Farm for Sale.

THE well-known "STODDARD FARM," containing upwards of fifty acres of land situated on the Rye (or Elwyn) road, about three miles from Market Square. On the Farm is a new Dwelling House 28x32 feet, containing eight rooms; there is also a Barn 22x65 feet. The Farm is well divided into mowing, pasture and woodland; in the pasture, near the barn, is a pond of never-failing water. This would be a splendid place for poultry raising.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

By order of the Assessors,

M. BUFFORD, Secretary.

Portsmouth, April 11, 1877.

City of Portsmouth.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

THE Inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their Polls and Estates, ratable by law, on or before the fifteenth day of April.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirements in handing in an inventory of their ratable estate, and making oath to the same, will have no legal claim for abatement.

The Assessors, or any Justice of the Peace, or the City Clerk, are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory shall have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be handed to one of the Assessors, or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's Office on or before the fifteenth day of April.

A GOOD SHOW.

The entertainment on Friday evening by the Berger Family and Sol Smith Russell drew a good audience, the body of the hall being pretty well filled, notwithstanding the prices of tickets (seventy-five and fifty cents) were above regular hard times rates, and there had already been three evening entertainments the same week and another was to follow on Saturday night. The concert of course was first-class, as this company never offers anything else, that is, the music was all of the very best of its kind, and of a kind sufficiently elevated to please an educated ear yet not so severely classical as to be enjoyed only by one in a hundred; and the fun in Russell's delineations was fun, unmarred by any hint of vulgarity. The after dinner speech of the amateur yachtsman in response to the toast of "The Old Salt" was hugely enjoyed by the amphibious element in the audience,— and like Portsmouth audiences generally, this one had a goodly number of the amphibia in it,—though some of the astounding feats of seamanship described by the "old salt" went a long way ahead of anything ever achieved by any Portsmouth mariner; Dorcas Pennyroyral's love experiences, also, touched a tender chord in many a heart. The bell-ringing and "crystal chimes" were pleasing, as was also Miss Franklin's ballad singing, and the solo on the "saxophone," which is a queer-looking instrument apparently built in imitation of a crook-necked squash.

But to us quite as pleasing a feature of the entertainment as any, was the gentle firmness with which persistent encores were not acceded to for the second time, though Miss Franklin did give one song not down on the programme, and a good many other numbers were added in obedience to the demands of the audience. When a programme providing for more than two hours' uninterrupted action is faithfully carried out, it should suffice to satisfy the listeners; and if extended much beyond that length of time is pretty sure to become as wearisome to the audience as to the performers. We would like to live long enough to attend one good show where no demands will be made for more than is on the bills, but do not expect to. The audience was more liberal with applause than is usual here, and there was none of the abominable "keeping time" with the feet which ruins the effect of the best music at so many concerts.

JOTTINGS.

Persons in want of carriages may find it to their interest to read the advertisement in another column of Mr. J. H. Randlett, of Dover, who has on hand a large variety of wagons, buggies, phaetons, etc., all of his own manufacture, made in the best style, and for sale as cheap as first-class work can be offered.

Mr. Wm. P. Walker, having laid in a stock of cloths suitable for spring and summer wear that will compare favorably with any he has ever had, is ready to make the same into garments for his patrons, either according to their fancies or the fashions, at as reasonable rates as the best of materials and work will allow. Regulation uniforms for the army and navy are a specialty; and a large assortment of gentlemen's furnishing goods, fine shirts, ect., can always be found at No. 8 Market square.

Walter C. Harriman, Esq., son of Ex-Governor Walter A. Harriman, has opened an office in the Portsmouth Savings Bank building and will serve out law as required. Mr. Harriman has had quite a large experience before the courts, for a young man, and we do not doubt that those entrusting their business to his care will get satisfaction—that is, if there is any such thing as satisfaction in going to law.

In the advertising columns this morning will be found a notice of the proposed sale of the "Stoddard Farm," situated on the Rye Road leading from Elwyn's to the Sagamore Road. The opportunity offers rare inducements to obtain a good business in a pleasant and quiet locality. A fine dwelling house and a spacious and convenient barn have just been completed, making the farm a most desirable one in many respects.

An examination of the wrecked ship Frank Jones was made on the 6th inst., a week after she went ashore, and showed that about twenty-six feet of her keel and a large part of the planking on her starboard (off-shore) side were gone. The work of stripping her was progressing finely, and the purchaser of the wreck hoped to save enough of her material to make a good thing of it, if the fair weather continued.

A correspondent of the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, writing from Auburn, thus refers to Mr. N. M. Perkins, for some years a resident of this city and formerly a member of the Naval Band: "Last evening the members of the Auburn cornet band gave a grand supper complimentary to Mr. N. M. Perkins, their new director. The tables were spread with the best of the season, doing great credit to the lady members. A large and beautifully ornamented cake with the word 'Director' inlaid on one side and on the other the initials 'N. M. P.' was the centre dish. It was formally presented and Mr. Perkins replied, kindly thanking the ladies and members of the band for the entertainment and prophesying for the band a future and brilliant success. The tables were then cleared away to make room for dancing." Another ex-member of the Naval Band, Mr. Ralph Reinewald, is leader—and a thoroughly competent leader, too—of the Dover cornet band.

The counsel for Charles S. Simonds of Utica, New York, assignee in bankruptcy of Davis, Moulton & Co. in the New York District, appeared before District Judge Clark at Manchester, on the 10th inst., with a motion to set aside the bankrupt proceedings in the matter of J. C. Carr of this city, upon the ground that the proceedings in bankruptcy against the firm of Davis, Moulton & Co. in New York, of which firm Mr. Carr was a partner, were begun anterior to the proceedings against Mr. Carr in New Hampshire, for the benefit of his individual creditors. Hon. J. S. H. Fink represented the bankrupt, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett appeared for E. P. Kimball, assignee of the Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank, and Wm. H. Rollins, Esq., appeared for the Portsmouth Savings Bank and other creditors. The granting of the motion was resisted on the ground that there was no evidence adduced to sustain the motion showing the proceedings claimed to have been instituted in the New York court. Mr. Cookingham of New York desired three days further time in which to file the proper evidence. To this the New Hampshire counsel objected, for the reason that engagements in court in this county would prevent their attendance again that week, and the case was continued until May 3d.

The Odd Fellows of this city propose to celebrate the 58th anniversary of the Order, on the 26th inst., by a parade at four o'clock P. M., to be followed by a collation at Franklin banquet hall, from five to eight o'clock. At eight o'clock literary exercises will commence and continue until nine, when dancing will commence at Franklin Hall and continue until a reasonably late hour. The Odd Fellows of Kittery will be invited to participate.

The fishing fleet of this port has been increased by the addition of the schooner Clara Bella, late of Gloucester, Mass., purchased by Messrs. William C. Williams and Daniel O. Seawards of Kittery Point.

The boys implicated in the thefts at Wm. P. Walker's store were brought before the Police Court on Saturday, and their cases were continued another week.

At the annual meeting of the Franklin Land, Mills and Water Company of Franklin, Me., held in Kittery on Wednesday, 11th inst., the old board of officers was unanimously re-elected as follows: Ebenezer T. Farrington, A. S. Tosier, Elvin D. Hall, of Boston, Ichabod Goodwin and W. L. Dwight, of Portsmouth, Directors; and E. D. Hall continues Treasurer, and R. F. Gerrish of Kittery Point, Clerk and Agent.

YORK.

YORK, MAINE, April 9.

Messrs Editors:—My telegram to you on Wednesday last, in regard to Dr. Putnam's decease, was premature; the information upon which I based my report being, from what I then presumed a reliable source; but it is positive that the good old man passed away on Thursday afternoon, April 5th, at four o'clock.

My idea of words is perfectly inadequate to express the kindly feelings of myself (and I think I may safely say of every citizen in York) toward this good, noble, high-minded, courteous, honorable, exemplary and upright man.

Born at Danvers, Mass., Aug. 20, 1798, therefore aged 78 years; been in successful practice in this quiet town of York for fifty-two years, he leaves not a stain upon his long record as a physician—and as a man.

How much the poor class of people will miss "the Doctor!" He was ever ready and willing to go at call, for rich or poor, by day or night; and it may truthfully be said (as he remarked to me not long since he expected to do) that he "died in the harness." He has always been a good citizen, with all that word implies; has for many, many years filled the office of Superintending School Committee and took a great interest in the cause of education, always giving satisfaction to all except those teachers whom he would not "whitewash" with a favorable report when not deserving it. He was also Collector of Customs during President Lincoln's administration, which office he filled satisfactorily.

Never calling upon a debtor, yet ever ready to pay all debts; never exorbitant in charges, yet ever willing to let others live by their trade; politically a republican, yet (ever consistent) willing always to allow the opposing party their just rights; never taking advantage of power, even when within his grasp; no trickery nor hypocricy; a firm and faithful friend; he followed his own dictates, and being of strong mind and superior abilities, his dictates were ever right.

He has, in his fifty-two years of continuous practice, attended to the births of over 3200 children.

Peace to his ashes. G. F. P.

—"I know why you won't give me that $30 new bonnet to wear on Easter," said a Chicago wife to her husband, spitefully. "And why won't I, my dear?" asked he, and immediately answered his own question by adding, "It is because I can't afford it." "No, it isn't," declared his wife, "It's because you're a bad man, an infidel and unbeliever, and don't believe in religion."

—The "Fruits of the Wine Cup," recently played by the Hanover reform club, pointed a moral, but not so sharply as did the intoxicated student who came in late and took a front seat, with the title of the play in large letters on his back.

—A church congregation in Petersburg, Va., became weary of waiting for their pastor a few nights ago, and dispersed. Some of them, while on their way home, espied their spiritual guide seated in a parlor conversing with a lady friend, and apparently so delighted with her company that he had forgotten the fact that it was the night of the church meeting—a fact which he subsequently admitted to be true.

A Card for Rational Readers.

Irrational people always reject good advice, and in nothing is their folly more frequently conspicuous than in ignoring precautions necessary for the retention of health. Forecast, on the other hand, is a notable characteristic of the rational, and it is the exercise of this quality which we would suggest to them. Protect the system against diseases which fasten upon the debilitated, the nervous and the dyspeptic, by bracing the physique, regulating the stomach, bowels and liver, and banishing despondency with the purest and most efficient of botanic invigorants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That these effects follow its use, and that it prevents as well as annihilates intermittent and remittent fevers, are facts established by indisputable evidence. To enjoy the twin blessings of "a sound mind and a sound body" in all their plenitude, try a course of this sterling medicine.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these direful ills, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

What Sweetens the Mouth,

preserves and whitens the teeth, keeps the gums from becoming spongy, neutralizes all impurities that adhere to the dental enamel, and effectually prevents the toothache? Any body can answer this simple question who has ever witnessed the wonderful effects of that matchless vegetable preparation—Sozodont.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, writes as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

American Inventive Progress.

Under the above heading the Scientific American of May 7th has a long and interesting article, from which we make the following extracts:

"To show with what rapidity inventors made improvements on inventions embodying original principles, says the writer, it may be noted that in the early days of the sewing machine 116 patents were granted for improvements thereon in a single year; and out of the 2,910 patents issued in the year 1857, 152 were for improved cotton-gins and presses, 164 for improvements on the steam engine, and 198 for novel devices relating to railroads and improvements in the rolling stock. In the year 1848, three years after the publication of this paper was commenced, but 660 patents were granted; but under the stimulus of publishing those inventions as they were patented, ten years later, in 1858, the number had increased sixfold, reaching 3,710, while up to January 1, 1860, as already stated, the aggregate of patents issued amounted to 17,467; since that time and up to the present the total is 181,015.

And curiosity here leads us (adds the editor) to review our own work, extending back, say, twenty years, or to 1857, a period during which 170,745 patents have been issued. We find, by actual count, that 62,062 applications have been made through the Scientific American Patent Agency for Patents in the United States and abroad. This averages almost ten applications per day, Sundays excluded, over the entire period, and bears the relation of more than one quarter to the total number of patents issued in this country up to the time of writing."

—The poet Bryant was recently made the recipient of a singular present from the Misses Lucille Clinton, the artist, in the shape of a glass globe filled with moss, in which were merrily chirping a lot of little crickets which he had caught on Longfellow's premises in Cambridge, last summer, and kept through the winter in a corner of her studio. A pink shell in the globe contains their food—oatmeal and sugar—and their chirping at this season of the year is as pleasant as it is novel.

—"Experience," says Jean Paul Richter, "is the best school master, but the school-fees are somewhat heavy."

To the Hon. Judge of Probate

FOR THE COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM,

In the State of New Hampshire.

RESPECTFULLY shows SAMUEL C. PERKINS of Boston, Mass, that he is trustee under the will of Mary E. P. Emery, late of Newington in said County, deceased, testate, for the benefit of Lois Pickering, a minor child of said testatrix, by the appointment of the Judge of Probate for the said County of Rockingham, that his said cestui que trust is seized of a certain farm and buildings situate in said Newington, one part of which is bounded northerly by land of T. Benton Hoyt and Dudley Pickering, easterly by land of Reuben L. Lane, southerly by the new road, and westerly by the road leading from Newington Meeting-house to Greenland; the other piece is bounded northerly on said new road; easterly by land of R. L. Lane, southerly by land of the heirs of Abigail Richardson now in the occupancy of Ephraim Pickering, and westerly by said road to Greenland. The whole containing about seventy acres, more or less. That in his opinion it would be for the interest of said cestui que trust that the same should be sold and the proceeds of said sale invested in some safe manner as will be most for the interest of said cestui que trust; and as your Honor shall prefer. Wherefore he prays that he may be authorized to sell such trust real estate and invest the proceeds of such sale according to the statute in such case made and provided.

SAMUEL C. PERKINS, Trustee.

By his Attorney, WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ROCKINGHAM, ss.

Probate Court at Portsmouth in said County, March 29, A. D. 1877.

Upon the foregoing Petition, it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the Second Tuesday of May next; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Daily Morning Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improvements of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of intelligent Readers everywhere.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to these and to the Interests of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Miscellaneous Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory at all times of principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 3½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.00.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later—Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Himself in Thirty Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875,

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to "walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very rapidly, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indivisel brought one of your Condition Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he was not long in recovering from the Rheumatism he had for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember! am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DANGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head, and have tried my best with many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have recommended to my friends and all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs. These have suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had any case to treat. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have live applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians and the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England;

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that THE ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Müller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of the Mechanical Inventions and Discoveries, containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 242 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often conclusive argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in free liberal suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article known and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. As Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper published in the country, and the fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in part politics, the interest of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of correspondents and writers than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

How Safes are Blown Open.

A criminal lately gave to a reporter of the New York Herald the following mode of introducing powder within a safe for the purpose of blowing open the doors.

"What tools did you use in drilling the holes?" asked the reporter.

"Good cracksmen don't use tools," answered the burglar. "I'll show you how to blow open any safe in New York without any tools. Just take me to a safe."

There happened to be a safe in Judge Kilbreth's private room, and the writer acquainted the magistrate with the prisoner's proposal. "By all means," said he, "let us learn;" and in a moment the room was filled with spectators.

The prisoner knelt beside the safe, which was locked. "Look," said he, "at this door. It fits so tightly that no instrument can be introduced in the cracks and powder cannot be inserted. So far so good. The burglar," continued he, "simply sticks putty all along the cracks except in two places, one at the top of the door and one at the bottom, where he leaves about an inch of space uncovered by the putty. At the lower place he puts a quantity of powder and he sucks out the air from the upper place, either by a suction pump, which is the better way, or by his mouth. The vacuum created in the safe draws in the powder through the small crack below. The entire work does not occupy more than five minutes."

Opposition to Machinery.

We are informed, says Capital and Labor, (English paper) that in an eminent coach-building establishment, a short time ago, the principals desired to introduce an American machine for making the wheels. These, of course, have to be prepared and fitted together with the utmost accuracy; and the machine in question secured this so that any number of wheels could be turned out strictly to gauge. Some of the men engaged in this department were ready enough to work the machine, by which their own labor was lightened, and higher wages were offered to them. But as the use of the machine was contrary to the trade union rules, the men were ordered to desist. The machinery was therefore put aside. Since that time wheels made by similar mechanism have been imported from America, this being the only way by which the public requirements for light and strong wheels could be met. It is a curious fact that some of the English carriages exhibited at Philadelphia last year were mounted upon American wheels, which had been sent over from the United States to England, painted, and then returned, with the body of the carriages for exhibition. We understand that large numbers of wheels are thus imported, which might have been made in England but for the insensates opposition to the use of machinery.

An Appeal for the Birds.

As spring approaches, and we are anticipating the coming of the birds, we repeat our appeal for their protection. Some of the citizens of Massachusetts prize the few cherries that the birds deprive them of, more than the lives of the birds, and they encourage their boys to shoot them. If they fully realized the value of the birds in the destruction of insects, they would rather furnish cherry trees for the exclusive use of the birds. Careful observers assure us that each insect-eating bird destroys several thousands of these pests in a season, and but for this destruction we should soon have no fruit at all. Parents who encourage their boys to use a gun upon these protectors, or "garden vocalists," as some call them, are inflicting a public injury. The law imposes a fine for killing these birds, but few people are willing to enter a prosecution against their neighbors, and hence the law is not enforced. We must rely, therefore, in a considerable degree, upon convincing the public of the usefulness of the birds, and upon appeals for mercy toward a class of animals which adds so much to our pleasures and to the beauty of the fields.—Our Dumb Animals.

A Slight Mistake.

The present Archbishop of Dublin, the gifted author of the work, so widely known, on the Study of Words, is not in very robust health, and has been for many years apprehensive of paralysis. At a recent dinner in Dublin, given by the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, his Grace sat on the right of his hostess, the Duchess of Abercorn. In the midst of the dinner the company was startled by seeing the archbishop rise from his seat, and still more startled to hear him exclaim, in a dismal and sepulchral tone, "It has come! it has come!"

"What has come, your Grace?" eagerly cried half a dozen voices from different parts of the table.

"What I have been expecting for twenty years," solemnly answered the archbishop—"a stroke of paralysis. I have been pinching myself for the last twenty minutes, and find myself entirely without sensation."

"Pardon me, my dear archbishop," said the duchess, looking up to him with a somewhat quizzical smile—"pardon me for contradicting you, but it is I that you have been pinching."—Harper's for May.

News and Notes.

The European news grows more and more warlike. On Friday, in the Russian capital there was a grand council of war, the Cabinet having declined the Porte's proposal to send an envoy to St. Petersburg, deeming further negotiation useless. The defiant tone of the Turkish circular accounts for this decision, the Russian Government having previously been desirous to receive a Turkish representative. Concurrently with the council of war, all soldiers on furlough in the military district of St. Petersburg were called to arms. At Constantinople, the Ottoman Government was doing its share to provoke hostilities. It rejected the Montenegrin claims, declined to renew the armistice, and resolved to send war vessels to Sulina, at the mouth of the Danube, as well as others to the Mediterranean.

The mystery attending the disappearance of Mary Ella Harrington of East Boston at last is solved. It now appears beyond a doubt that the girl left her home ostensibly to visit Newton on the 11th of September last, but really went to Lowell, where she was met by the young man Favor, who conducted her to the house of a notorious woman named Mrs. Delia Avery, who was to help her out of her trouble of approaching maternity. Miss Harrington died either during or in consequence of the operation, and Mrs. Avery has since died. Miss Folsom, a friend of Miss Harrington's, who has been prominent in the case from the fact that she persisted in asserting that Miss Harrington had gone to Europe, now acknowledges that she has not told the truth, and was cognizant of the cause of Miss Harrington's disappearance and the object of her visit to Lowell; but having promised not to reveal the secret she kept the facts concealed until now. Favors asserts that he knows nothing further of the girl than what he has already stated. He has been placed under bonds to the amount of $10,000 to answer to the charge of enticing Miss Harrington from her home for the purpose of procuring an abortion, and for aiding and assisting therein. Favor's grandfather has also been placed under arrest at Lowell, as it is charged that he was the one mainly instrumental in having the abortion performed, and paid all the expenses.

At Altoona, Pa., Saturday, a miner named William Haskins, supposed to have been insane from drink, stabbed two men named Hugh Courtney and J. G. Krupb, the latter fatally, and in return received fatal injuries.

Pilot boats Mary K. Sprunt and Uriah Finimore, one with seven and the other with six men, chiefly pilots, left Smithville, N. C., last Wednesday morning, going to sea, and have not been heard from since. Both are thought to be lost.

The steamer George Appold reports seeing off Newport, R. I., Friday, the schooner Mary Mankin, with both anchors out, sails loose, wheel broken, boat gone, and the vessel low down in the water and apparently abandoned.

Edward Booker, who abducted a child from the neighborhood of Columbus, O., recently, has been sent to jail in default of $1500 bail to answer to the charge of child-stealing. Young Havens was restored to his parents Saturday.

Edgar M. Moore, the young man who shot and killed Mabel Hall, a ballet girl at the Theatre Comique at St. Louis, Mo., about a year ago, and who was convicted of murder in the first degree, was sentenced Saturday to be hanged Friday, June 1.

The findings of the court-martial in the case of Major Reno of the Seventh Cavalry, tried for insulting the wife of Capt. Bell, have been in the possession of the Judge-Advocate-General of the army for several days. The sentence is his dismissal from the army, but strong influences are at work with the President to induce him to remit to suspension from rank and pay for a year.

Minnesota papers say that farmers in almost every locality are going to plow and to sow as usual, perhaps not so much wheat, but something that will afford sustenance if the wheat should again be devoured by locusts.

A student at Princeton College, aged nineteen, recently eloped with a Taunton, (Mass.) miss of sixteen, but before they could get married they were captured and returned to their mammas. A generous dose of slipper administered to each before they went to bed that night would no doubt have been beneficial, but the papers don't say whether they got it or not.

The late Dr. Mahlenberg was in his youth engaged to marry Miss Coleman, a sister of the lady to whom James Buchanan was betrothed. The young woman died before the time set for the marriage, and it was his grief for this loss that found expression in his famous verses, "I would not live alway." He never married.

The steamship Leo, from Savannah for Nassau, N. P., was burned at sea on the 13th inst. Three passengers and all but thirteen of the crew are supposed to be lost.

Mr. Leon Lewis, of Penn Yan, New York, has conceived the idea of building the Mexican Pacific railroad from Yucatan to Acapulco, a thousand miles more or less, to compete with the Panama railroad, the Darien canal, the Suez canal, and all other known or imaginary routes to the East. The Penn Yan Chronicle says Mr. Lewis has made a fortune by writing stories for the New York Ledger, and he says himself that his personal resources will suffice to build and equip the first hundred miles, after which he may issue bonds on the completed section, though he hopes to pick up enough treasure out of the tombs of the Aztec kings on the route, to finish the work without borrowing. He expects to get rich land grant, and wants a million families to settle on the line of his road. This magnificent enterprise will be explained before long in a Prospectus which Mr. Lewis proposes to issue in a handsome volume and sell for $2 to all who are interested in his project.

A hatful of coppers, large old fashioned cents, none of a date later than 1849, was recently found in the Fuller woods, Augusta. The value was about $15. It is supposed that burglars in their flight found them too heavy and hid them there and did not have an opportunity to return for them.

There has been a splendid tobacco crop in Cuba. A military camp and settlement, called Dominquez, on the Trocha line, caught fire and was entirely destroyed. It contained military provision, warehouses, a barracks for wounded men, bakeries, a telegraphic station and cavalry station. The loss is said to be $2,000,000.

Political.

Providence, R. I., had an election for State Senator and ten Representatives, on Friday. Nine republican Representatives were chosen, there being no choice of Representative in one district, or of Senator, an election having been defeated by the efforts of Gov. Lippitt and one Dawley, chairman of the Republican City Committee of Providence, who used all their influence in favor of the democratic candidates, in obedience to the demands of the liquor interest.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says that a comprison of the difference between Louisiana at the time Kellogg entered the Governor's chair and the time he left it, shows that, as far as that State is concerned, the rule of the "carpet-bagger" was not quite so black as it has been painted. The carpet-bagger regarded in any light is not the most fascinating creature on the footstool, but he is to be preferred at any moment to the bull-dozer. When Kellogg went into office he found a State debt of $23,000,000 and a State tax of 22 1-2 mills. When he left office the debt had been reduced to less than $10,000,000 and the tax to 14 1-2 mills. Perhaps a democratic administration whould have done better, but Nicholls has started out in a way that promises to increase the debt again.

Who had authority to determine the election of either Hayes or Packard? Not Mr. Hayes, most assuredly. The competent authority to decide the Presidential election was Congress. Congress did decide it, and there is no appeal from its judgment. The competent authority for deciding who was elected Governor of Louisiana is pointed out by the Constitution and laws of that State. President Hayes has no more to do with it than he has with the question who is Governor of any other of the thirty-eight States. He is the legal President because Congress declared him elected, there being no other power competent to make the decision. He cannot even review his own title, the Constitution giving him just as little jurisdiction to decide local questions arising under the laws of Louisiana. The conclusive answer to Blaine's argument is that Mr. Hayes' own title and the title of Packard are alike beyond the province of the President to decide. Every question must be decided by the authority having jurisdiction, and it is the plain duty of the President not to intermeddle where he has no legal power.—N. Y. Herald.

John H. Burbank of Londonderry backed a horse and sled, loaded with wood, over a precipice Saturday. The horse, sled and wood landed 100 feet below, killing the horse instantly.

A son of James Martin of Dalton was killed by a tree falling on him on the 5th inst.

Rev. Mr. Cook of Dover has accepted a call from the Freewill Baptist Church at North Berwick, Me.

A desperado escaped from the jail at Manchester, Sunday evening. About five o'clock George L. Stearns, turnkey, unlocked the cells occupied by Emmet Lyons and James G. Gonnier, letting them into the corridor to wash. Gonnier is a mulatto, about thirty-five years old, weighing nearly 200 pounds, and in for breaking and entering. Upon entering the corridor, he made a desperate attack upon the turnkey, knocking him down and holding him, while Lyons got possession of his pistol, the keys in the meantime being thrown beyond his reach. Lyons with the pistol in his hand then went to the ticket hole, and demanded of Mrs. Stearns to be let out. Upon being refused three shots were fired at her, whereupon the door was opened and he escaped. Several men in the neighborhood came to the rescue and prevented Gonnier's escape. Lyons is about twenty-two and known as a desperate character.

The Iron Mountain House in Jackson, was burned Wednesday afternoon. Loss $10,000; insurance $7000.

The house and barn of Bennett P. Greenleaf, in the outskirts of Lancaster, were burned Saturday. Loss about $800; no insurance.

The evidence against Williams, the suspected murderer of Charles H. Gilman at Rockport, Mass., is becoming more and more convincing. Williams's real name appears to be Albert Joy, and he is a son of the late Robert Joy of Belfast, Me. He has a mother still living in Newmarket, in this State, where she has married Benjamin Page. The reason of his assuming the name of Williams is supposed to be to deceive his mother as to his whereabouts. He has the reputation of being an uneasy and roving nature, having joined Barnum's circus in Maine two years ago, and travelled with it for a brief time. As his former character is unravelled it is found to be of a doubtful sort. He is now wanted in Maine for an assault committed in a passion. He is reported to have called on a man, who owed him one dollar, and failing to get it, assaulted him, knocking him down, and throwing him through a closed window. State Detective Philbrick has telegraphed from Maine to hold him on the above charge.

Ira Crombie, who drives a stage between Peterboro' and Munsonville, was seriously hurt by falling from his coach at Harrisville on Friday last. He is seventy-six years of age and has not missed a trip before all winter. He is the oldest stage driver in the State.

The ell of Joseph Welcome's house, and his stable, in Concord, were burned Sunday. Loss $1000.

Strikes.

On Saturday evening the Conference Committee of the Brotherhood of Engineers decided that a general strike should take place by the Brotherhood men on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. Grand Chief P. M. Arthur at midnight telegraphed to the different points along the main line to strike, and the men, numbering in the neighborhood of four hundred, did so. Nearly every man on the road turned in their engines. On Sunday everything was quiet and the company met with no trouble in running their trains there being but few on Sundays. It was expected, however, that next day the company would find it difficult to get enough non-Brotherhood men to run the trains. A large meeting of the engineers was held Sunday, but the proceedings were secret. It is understood, however, that resolutions were then passed expressive of confidence in the Brotherhood's position and a determination to hold out.

The strike of the workmen at the Trenton, N. J., potteries has ended, after continuing sixteen weeks. At a meeting of the strikers on the 12th inst., the president announced that supplies had been exhausted, and that debts were accumulating, with but little prospect of their payment. Under these circumstances, it was absolutely necessary for the men to go to work again. Unfortunately, this is more easily said than done. During the strike the employers obtained new help from abroad, so that there is now work for only about half of the strikers.

Thirty or forty employes in the hand-sewed department of the shoe factory of Lilly, Young, Pratt & Brackett, No. 127 Federal street, Boston, are on a strike for an advance of seventy-five cents on a case.

The sale of Sarsaparillas for blood and liver medicines is almost entirely superseded by the introduction of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which far surpasses in efficacy these old-time medicines.

Farm for Sale.

THE well-known "STODDARD FARM," containing upwards of fifty acres of land situated on the Rye (or Elwyn) road, about three miles from Market Square. On the Farm is a new Dwelling House 28x43 feet, containing eight rooms; there is also a Barn 22x66 feet. The Farm is well divided into mowing, pasture and woodland; in the pasture, near the barn, is a pond of never-failing water. This would be a splendid place for poultry raising.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in each town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

By order of the Assessors,

M. BUFFORD, Secretary.

Portsmouth, April 11, 1877.

City of Portsmouth.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

THE Inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their Polls and Estates, ratable by law, on or before the fifteenth day of April.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirements in making in an inventory of their ratable estate, and making oath to the same, will have no legal claim for abatement.

The Assessors, or any Justice of the Peace, or the City Clerk, are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory shall have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be handed to one of the Assessors, or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's Office on or before the fifteenth day of April.

JOTTINGS.

The iron steamer "Allentown" (steam collier No. 13) arrived at Concord Railroad wharf on Monday afternoon from Philadelphia, with 1602 tons of coal.

Schooner "Charlie" arrived at Doane's wharf on Monday, from Essex, Mass., to fit for the Banks.

Furbish's Fifth Avenue Combination will repeat the excellent entertainment, "Forbidden Fruit," given on Saturday, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at Franklin Hall. The comedy is amusing in the extreme, and the company is such a one as rarely visits this city, and together should suffice to crowd the hall.

Harper's Magazine for May, with a score of articles and nine-five illustrations, is replete with variety and superbly beautiful. The gem of the Number is Mrs. Frances L. Mace's poem "Israfil," with eight illustrations by Fredericks. A richly illustrated article on Florence is contributed by O. M. Spencer; Wirt Sikes contributes another illustrated article about Wales; Mrs. Mary Treat gives some fresh observations concerning the familiar birds of the South, with illustrations; an illustrated article by Ernest Ingersoll, entitled "At the Gateway of the Catskills," is an interesting sketch of a region in the neighborhood of the metropolis, but still retaining the primitive customs of the last century; in "An old Gentleman's Recollections," Horace E. Scudder gives some entertaining extracts from the diary of Mr. Samuel Breck, relating to society in Boston and Philadelphia, just after the Revolution, with illustrations from that gentleman's sketches; and there are instalments of continued novels, short stories and poems, and the usual editorial summaries. Now ready at the book-stores.

The Cotton Mill at Pittsfield will be sold at noon to-day, on the premises, to the highest bidder. See advertisement.

A correspondent writes: "The appearance on the streets recently of the barge Fanny Fern, drawn by six spirited horses and managed without brakes by that veteran knight of the whip, Mr. William D. Perkins, calls up reminiscences of olden times and of old-time horse men. In the year 1845 Mr. Perkins was in the employ of the late Willis Barnabee, Esq., then the popular landlord of the old Franklin House, of which John Hodgdon, Esq., was then clerk. Mr. Perkins had previously been employed by Messrs. Samuel Robinson and Sherburne Somerby, at the stone stable now occupied by Mr. Locke, and afterward at the brick stable now owned by Mr. Beacham. In 1847 Mr. Perkins established five-cent fares for the vehicles then in use in Portsmouth. Few men understand the business to which they are brought up better than does Mr. Perkins the business from which he is now retiring."

Proposals for the purchase of the drug store and business of H. W. Briant will be received by the Assignee, Col. J. Horace Kent, until Saturday next, April 21st; terms cash.

On Sunday night a large grey horse was stolen from the premises of Mr. James A. Rand at Breakfast Hill, Rye.

Ichabod N. Ferguld, who died at his late residence in Boston on Friday, was born in this city in 1825. He served his apprenticeship in the Portsmouth Journal office, and removed to Boston in 1846. He was for a number of years foreman in the office of the True Flag. In 1860 he and Mr. James Brigham started the newspaper known as the Wide World. He was also connected in the publication of the Western World, but of late years has been employed at the office of the Boston Directory.

Those who desire to go to Boston on Thursday at half fare for the round trip, should add their names to the paper now at Preston's drug store. Unless a sufficient number are secured the train will not run.

SUPREME COURT.

In the Supreme Court at Exeter, on Monday, Thomas Maguire, of Newmarket, was fined $50 and costs on one indictment for selling liquor, and the costs on thirty-seven other indictments (which still remain on file,) the whole amounting to some $300.

Joseph Langley, of Nottingham, was fined $50, costs $131, for same offence.

John McCloskey, for assault on police officer White of this city, was sent to Portsmouth jail for six months and fined $200.

John McCarthy, indicted for an assault on police officer Conners, of this city, was liberated on his own recognizance, the indictment remaining on file, he having been in jail since the 5th of November last.

Case of Edward H. Parks of Portsmouth, for keeping disorderly house, was on trial Monday evening.

Case of Frederick D. James for embezzlement, was set for Tuesday; also the case of George Felch of Newburyport, for secreting a fugitive from justice.

ENCOURAGE LOCAL TALENT.

Messrs. Editors:—In connection with the very just praise of the play "Ten nights in a bar-room," I observed with pleasure the suggestion that "it might be an advantage to encourage the stage talent our city possesses, and thus furnish a portion of our own amusement." Nothing can be more wise and timely than this advice. In the first place, the expense of travelling with a large company is too great to enable outside talent to visit us with profit, as any of the managers of the excellent dramatic troupes which have visited us the past month will affirm; that most charming entertainment offered by Furbish, Saturday night, with all its attractions, failing to draw two hundred persons. So there seems to be no other way left us but to do our own acting for the present,—till people feel more flush than now.

If we need encouragement from elevated circles we have it all along through historic pages. Looking back more than a hundred years ago we find that in 1701 Rosseau's Magic Girdle was played by the princes of the blood, before the Duchess of Burgundy; and Voltaire speaks of the Duke of Orleans and such persons of the court as were most conspicuous for talent, performing in a small theatre erected for them. Later we have accounts of Maria Antoinette's theatre at Petit Trianon, where the Queen herself performed,—"Le Barbier de Seville," "On ne s'avise jamais de tout,"—being favorite plays; we must be true to history and add—"that the company for a private company was good enough and was applauded to the skies; nevertheless, as the audience withdrew criticisms were plainly heard, and it would be observed that the piece was royally ill played." To come down to the present time we know that Dramatic Clubs exist in Boston and Charlestown, composed of the most talented and accomplished ladies and gentlemen in the community, and they have drawn so much on the public favor as to seriously interfere with the patronage of the public Theatres.

APPRECIATOR.

NEWINGTON.

NEWINGTON, April 16.

The people of this town were entertained on Fast-day evening by a concert, given by home talent under the direction of Mr. James Drew. The exercises consisted principally of vocal music, and throughout the somewhat lengthy programme good order was maintained, and the audience returned hearty and frequent applause. A male quartette rendered several pieces with good effect. The singing was varied by three farces of Prof. Drew's composition, and presented then for the first time, which kept the audience convulsed with laughter. Besides these a number of songs given in costume, by Mr. Drew and Miss Jeannette Hoyt, were especially fine. Among other selections on the programme were "Come, Brothers, tune the lay," "Farmer's Song," "We'll have to mortgage the farm," "Slowly and softly," "Log cabin," "Knocking at the outside gate" (introducing "Little Maud"), "My dear old wife and I," "Slavery Days," etc. The town hall and entries were filled to overflowing, many being present from surrounding towns. The whole affair reflects great credit on Prof. Drew's training.

RYE.

RYE, April 16.

As there was no service held in either church on Fast day, the next thing most appropriate for the proper observance of the day seemed to be a game of base ball, but as our national game has heretofore failed of receiving that attention which its merits demand among our citizens, it was somewhat a matter of doubt whether enough of the able bodied men in town could be prevailed upon to come together and risk their limbs and perhaps lives, in an attempt to show all who wished to learn, how the thing is done in this most popular of all out door sports. Fortunately for the credit of the town, which claims to have within its borders material for most any duties either temporal or otherwise,—and had, before, everything necessary for the well being of its citizens except a "base ball club,"—a sufficient number came together on the "Training field," armed and equipped with one bat and one ball, and immediately proceeded to business. First, two captains were selected, and they chose their nines,—and said they would go down to posterity as the "Grasshoppers" and "Potato Bugs." An umpire, chosen by himself to see that the game was played (not) according to the rules of the "league" (because he didn't know what the rules were) called time, and playing commenced. Eight innings were all that could be played, it being then time to go to supper. Notwithstanding the many dangers to which a person is exposed in playing this game, not a Grasshopper or P. B. received a scratch; not a hand was at any time within a rod of being inconvenienced by a "fly" dropping into it. Home runs were the rule, and there was not the least difficulty in "getting home" if a player once got started from the home base. Several highly educated individuals well up in arithmetic and abbreviations, undertook to keep the score; but when the end came all that was legible was the number of runs—fifty-three for the Grasshoppers and twenty-three for the Potato Bugs. The band came out in full uniform and had a street parade, and notwithstanding the frequent snow squalls it was, on the whole, quite a successful affair.

The Rye Minstrels and Variety Troupe gave a "Parlor Entertainment" at the Town Hall on Friday evening, which, considering that it was the second occasion in which they have appeared in public, was quite meritorious.

The snow has all gone; the roads are in a splendid condition and the vane on the church has pointed northeast since the first of March, with but very slight variations. The farmers are ploughing in most parts of the town, but it is reported that up at Breakfast Hill they have got all done planting and hoeing, and are sending postals to the manufactories they ordered their mowing machines and hay tedders of, requesting them to hurry up their goods. NAT.

—Alexis and his terrier went to a photographer's and were "took" in every city they visited. The Duke is easily distinguished from the terrier by his princely air and a standing collar.

—He was a solemn looking traveler, and he walked through the depot singing, "Heaven is my home," when one of the boys called out: "Then you are going the wrong way, stranger; that is the train to Syracuse."

—Gay young Soph., loquitor: "I knew that blue glass business was all humbug. Didn't I wear blue eye-glasses all last year to give me a studious look, and didn't I get rusticated all the same? The faculty saw through them better than I did."

A Card for Rational Readers.

Irrational people always reject good advice, and in nothing is their folly more frequently conspicuous than in ignoring precautions necessary for the retention of health. Forecast, on the other hand, is a notable characteristic of the rational, and it is the exercise of this quality which we would suggest to them. Protect the system against diseases which fasten upon the debilitated, the nervous and the dyspeptic, by bracing the physique, regulating the stomach, bowels and liver, and banishing nervous despondency with the purest and most efficient of botanic invigorants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That these effects follow its use, and that it prevents as well as annihilates intermittent and remittent fevers, are facts established by indisputable evidence. To enjoy the twin blessings of "a sound mind and a sound body" in all their plenitude, try a course of this sterling medicine.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

[The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

—An exchange encouragingly remarks that the average young man is so unreliable that fathers ought to hide their daughters. What the average young man is afraid of is not so much that a father will hide his daughter as that he will hide the average young man.

—"Is be a good doctor?" asked one gentleman of another, speaking of an acquaintance. "Well, people call him so," replied the other, "but as far as my experience goes, if I were a patriotic man and there was going to be a long war, I should like to have him in charge of the enemy's wounded."

—A French police officer recently arrested three robbers, and escorted them all to headquarters. They marched in front of him, and were not handcuffed. He hit upon the idea of cutting all the buttons from their pantaloons, and they had enough to do to keep their unmentionables in place without thinking of running away.

—At the recent election, license and anti-license being the issue, license carried the day in Shenandoah, Iowa. And then the powers that be, empowered by the existing laws, gently but firmly placed licenses at the moderate sum of $13,000 per annum. And the licensers smile grimly and say that five or six more such victories would be very discouraging indeed.

—A correspondent of the London World is responsible for the following: "Close upon the Patti scandal comes the news of the unhappy matrimonial arrangements of Mme. Ilma de Murska. This gifted lady's husband, M. Strambilla, amused himself during the honeymoon, according to Australian advices, by ruthlessly slaughtering the two small terriers of the songstress, her three canary birds, a parrot, a monkey, and five cats of rare breed, which she had acquired with difficulty, and was maintaining at untold expense. I have the more sympathy for Mme. Ilma de Murska inasmuch as this is the seventh time she had vainly essayed to obtain a suitable partner for life."

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and one additional copy for the year, free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other agricultural journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains annually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Fruit-yard, and so on. The weekly issue is a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages form a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I hope for faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get one of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and as has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried almost every medicine that I heard some result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCLINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

The Pulmonine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and lightful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait)—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS,—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. Its may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sacredness of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. As Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE FIRES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respecting course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Minister of Durham from 1718 to 1739.—Dover was settled in 1623. Durham was a part of the town, and in that section there were settlements about 1635. The first meeting house in New Hampshire was built in Dover, at the Neck, where the settlements were, in 1633. Durham, before being separated from Dover, was called Oyster River. In 1651 it was voted by the citizens of Dover, that there be preaching at Oyster River. Mr. Fletcher, Mr. Buss and others preached there until 1718 when Rev. Hugh Adams was settled.

Mr. Adams was a graduate of Harvard College, and had been settled in two towns in Massachusetts before coming to Durham, and when he took charge in Durham he was over forty years of age. After the close of his pastorate in town, he continued to reside there till his death in 1750.

Mr. Adams was a man, it appears, of good powers of mind, sincerely pious, but knew little of human nature.

The royal Governor of New Hampshire was J. Belcher. In May, 1738, Mr. Adams sent a curious petition to the Governor for the appointment of Joseph Drew of Durham and Edward Hall of Newmarket as Justices of the Peace. The petition is headed thus:

Mal. 2:7. Luke 10:16.

The reader will find the first passage, "For the priest's lips should keep knowledge," etc. The second is, "He that heareth you, heareth me," etc. The application of these passages can be readily conjectured. He then stated, that in his conscience, he thought them qualified, that they were of an honest report, full of wisdom, having rule over their own spirits, appetites, passions, were humble, meek, modest and courteous. He went on much further in their commendation. Then he changed the subject by saying that the inhabitants of the town by a majority had grown exceedingly vicious, disorderly and unruly especially on every public day and night following, for the want of such an officer to see the laws duly enforced. Then lastly he alluded to Col. D. who held the office in Durham. He represented him as doting, superannuated, selfish, covetous, partial, old and foolish and would no more be admonished and unfit to longer hold the office.

It will be seen that Mr. Adams was in the way of speaking his mind plainly. In those times ministers were settled and paid by the town. He did not get his full pay, as many ministers since have not. He took decisive measures for a remedy. In the same year, 1738, he sent a petition to the Provincial Assembly, in which he represented Durham as an Achan in the camp; as the seven sons of Saul in the days of King David, and as Jonah in the ship of the Province. He prayed that neglect to pay a minister might be made a penal offence as it was in Massachusetts. He gave the Assembly to understand, that the State name, by virtue of such a law, had been proportionately saved from the throat pestilence and other judgments, that had come on New Hampshire. He signified that his people had robbed him of £50 salary, he ought to have had, and that in one instance, as a judgment, deserved by them, he had prayed it might not rain, and it did not for three months, but some prevailed on him to appoint a fast. He says it was observed. The Lord was pleased to hear and sent a plentiful rain.

The contention and commotion in Durham was somewhat sharp for years, and at length, Jan. 23, 1739, all matters were referred to an Ecclesiastical Council, composed of eight ministers and twenty delegates. A large assembly of people attended. The Council protested against the imprecations of the Divine vengeance on some by the minister, and the idea on his part that calamities that had come on some, were the result of his prayers. The Council judged that the pastoral relation should be dissolved. Mr. Adams was not fully satisfied, but submitted with considerable grace, continued to reside in town, had the respect of many, and at his death in 1750 was 74 years of age.

Frog Soup.

Mr. Breck's father was a rich merchant in Boston, who was agent for the French government, and brought into close connection thus with the French officers attached to the squadron which for a time was anchored in Boston Harbor. His house was the resort of the foreigners, who were looked upon with unbounded curiosity by the Boston people, brought for the first time into acquaintance with a nation uniformly traduced by the British. It was incredible to them that persons who were popularly supposed to subsist mainly on frogs should be so plump and well-favored; but the original facts were stoutly maintained and supported by the rumor that they had been discovered hunting for their favorite food in the Frog Pond on the Common.

With this last notion in his head, Mr. Nathaniel Tracy, who lived in a beautiful villa at Cambridge [formerly Washington's head-quarters, and now Mr. Longfellow's house,] made a great feast for the admiral and his officers. Every thing was furnished that could be had in the country to ornament and give variety to the entertainment. My father was one of the guests, and told me often after that two large tureens of soup were placed at the ends of the table. The admiral sat on the right of Tracy, and

M. De l'Etombe on the left. L'Etombe was consul of France, resident at Boston. Tracy filled a plate of soup, which went to the admiral, and the next was handed to the consul. As soon as L'Etombe put his spoon into the plate, he fished up a large frog, just as green and perfect as if he had hopped from the pond into the tureen. Not knowing at first what it was, he seized it by one of its hind-legs, and, holding it up in view of the whole company, discovered that it was full-grown frog. As soon as he had thoroughly inspected it, and made himself sure of the matter, he exclaimed, "Ah! mon Dieu! une grenouille!" Then turning to the gentleman next to him, gave him the frog. He received it and passed it round the table. Thus the poor crapaud made the tour from hand to hand until it reached the admiral. The company, convulsed with laughter, examined the soup plates as the servants brought them, and in each was to be found a frog. The uproar war universal. Meantime Tracy kept his ladle going, wondering what his outlandish guests meant by such extravagant merriment. "What's the matter?" asked he; and raising his head, discovered the frogs dangling by a leg in all directions. "Why don't they eat them?" he exclaimed. "If they knew the confounded trouble I had to catch them, in order to treat them to a dish of their own country, they would find that with me, at least, it was no joking matter."—From "An Old Gentleman's Recollections," in Harper's Mag. for May.

News and Notes.

A daughter of James Abbott of Baltimore died suddenly while alone Sunday. Mrs. Abbott, on making the discovery that her daughter was dead, was so shocked that she dropped dead.

William J. Reed, foreman of the pattern shop in the Corliss steam engine works, at Providence, R. I., died on Monday, in consequence, it is alleged, of a mistake of a druggist, who put up a prescription with morphine instead of quinine. Reed had charge of the setting up of the Corliss engine at the Centennial Exposition.

A bed of yellowish colored paint, covering an area of at least two acres, and having a thickness of four feet, has been discovered near Cullman, Ala. The paint is found to be superior to ochre, as it can be worked without adding white lead, and cannot be surpassed for water colors.

A Washington despatch says there is considerable comment among members of the pay corps of the navy at the recent selection of Paymaster James E. Tolfree to be fleet paymaster of the European fleet, in place of Inspector Foster, deceased. Fleet paymasters, as well as fleet engineers and fleet surgeons receive a compensation of $4400 per annum, and $1000 less than the captain of a ship, and it is claimed that a fleet paymaster should be either a pay director who ranks as captain or a pay inspector who ranks as commander. Mr. Tolfree is a very efficient officer and stands high in the department.

A freight car on the Eastern Railroad containing cotton bales for the Laconia company, was discovered on fire near Saco on Sunday morning. The flames burned through the top of the car, while one bale of cotton was broken open and the fire ran over two others, but so far as the cotton was concerned the damage was slight.

A Canadian firm are endeavoring to get an order filled in Charlestown, W. Va., for 2,000,000 feet of sawed lumber, to be used for lock-gates of the Welland Canal. The order was sent South on account of the great dimensions of some of the pieces, there being no trees sufficiently large for the purpose in Canada.

Colonel Alexander K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, was assaulted in the street in that city on Monday by Mr. Nathaniel McKay, who struck him with a whip. McClure seized McKay by the throat, and was struck several blows by the fist of some person, one Curtis having been arrested as the striker, though McKay asserts that no one assisted him in the assault. McKay is a government contractor, and McClure had assailed him in the Times.

The Czar has conferred on Mr. G. R. Champney of Boston the order of St. Stanislaus, in testimony of his satisfaction at Mr. Champney's improvements in dies, coinage and gun work. These improvements involve an immense revolution in all the existing systems of coinage and render the present minting arrangements useless. The patents for these improvements have been sold to Austria, Germany, Italy and Belgium.

It is announced that Secretary Sherman of the Treasury will between now and the 1st of May discharge from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing five hundred employes whose services are of no use.

District Judge Billings, at New Orleans, has rendered a favorable decision in the case of Myra Clark Gaines, involving millions of dollars in property in New Orleans. This ends forty years of litigation in favor of the claimant.

A Philadelphian of 73 years took his fifth wife last Monday, after mourning the deceased fourth six weeks. Number five was number four's sister, and has survived three husbands.

Cox, the Maine boy who murdered his father, has been sentenced to six years in State prison.

Steamer R. L. Myers is ashore, bottom up, on King Beach, N. C. All hands supposed to be lost.

Tweed has confessed, and fully implicates Oakey Hall in all the ring thefts. Hall's share of the stealings was ten per cent.

Advices from Oglethorpe county, Ga., report the killing of three or four negroes by gangs of white men at night. The governor has offered a reward for the murderers.

A boy was arrested in Bangor Friday for forging a name to an order on the Liquor Agent for whisky.

Mr. Henry A. Swanton of Hallowell, Me., who has recently been released from the county jail at Augusta, requests the Kennebec Journal to caution all persons not to sell him intoxicating liquors, and to say that he will prosecute them if they do.

The three-masted schooner Charles E. Elmer, Carson, master, loaded with molasses, is reported ashore, off Topsail Sound, bottom upward, the cargo and vessel a total loss. A log book was picked up, supposed to belong to the vessel, which showed that the crew consisted of sixteen men, who, it is thought, are all lost. A schooner, loaded with lumber, is ashore near Rich Inlet. The vessel is broken in two and with the cargo is a total loss. It is feared the crew are all lost.

Some of the people who believe there wasn't any real ground for reprieving Phair are raking over the past record of Downing, the Boston man whose declaration saved his life, and are trying to show that he is unprincipled and unreliable. They report him a chronic swindler.

Capt. Cuthbert, sailing master of the yacht Countess of Dufferin, has attached her for wages. If he gets control of her, Canadian capitalists will advance the means to put her in condition to again challenge for the Queen's cup.

It is stated that Manager Frank Uffner offers Kate Claxton $100 a night and her expenses to star through the country as "The Daughter of the Flames." It is a remarkable fact that Miss Claxton's grandfather was one of the victims of the burning of the Richmond Theatre in 1811. Miss Claxton has had three escapes from fire—in Brooklyn, in Washington and in St. Louis. Mr. Uffner is the show proprietor of the "little midgets," and also of Miss Briggs, the 450-pound fat girl, Barnum's "Fejee Islanders," the "What-is-it" and the "Aztec Children" of former years. These latter were children of a mulatto family named Brown, in Southern Indiana, and one of them is still living near Boston.

The betrothal of the Princess Charlotte, eldest daughter of the Crown Prince and Princess of Germany, and therefore granddaughter of Queen Victoria, took place at Berlin on Sunday, the 1st of April.

Alexander H. Stephens recently sent his compliments to Dick Thompson, asking him if he remembered the present of a gold-headed black walnut cane which he made Mr. Stevens some thirty odd years ago. Mr. Thompson said he had not forgotten it, adding: "Both of us have changed a good deal since then, and I suppose Aleck, as he is now, could sit down in the shadow of that cane and keep cool the hottest day in summer."

Warren Putnam Newcomb of Hartford, who has just been appointed to a West Point cadetship, is the only male descendant of the Revolutionary Generals, Joseph Warren and Israel Putnam, and a grandson of Joseph Warren Newcomb, whose mother was Gen. Warren's only daughter. The young man figured in the Bunker Hill Centennial celebration.

One of our exchanges says: "It is not, unfortunately, generally known that in the case of fire in buildings containing horses, if the harness be merely put on,—however roughly,—the horses will quit the stables. A knowledge of this fact may be the means of saving many a valuable animal from a horrible death."

Supposing the potato should fail, for awhile, as the peach did, what of it? We are going to get the peach back again. Without potatoes we should plant more asparagus, celery and lettuce. We should use more peas, beans and corn. We should plant more parsnips, carrots and salsafy. We should grow more sweet potatoes, and learn to keep them too, near the chimney, in the chamber, or garret. The potato is a very modern form of starch. Wouldn't you as lief have rice, wheat, barley, oats, or even buckwheat? Bright men and women were raised before potatoes were thought of. I heard an old Yankee enquiring for artichokes the other day. Artichokes are good raw and boiled, too, and there are a hundred kinds of fruit better than any roots. If we plant potatoes, and the beetle piles on so as to whip them out, why then we may be able to comfort ourselves that we have got our railways built for awhile and don't need potato civilization so much now.—Hartford Courant.

Prof. Marsh some time ago read a newspaper item to the effect that there had been found near a village in Switzerland a fossil "pterodactyl" with the wings in perfect preservation. The Yale professor knew that among all the fossils of this animal none was known with the wings preserved. He instantly repaired to the telegraph office and sent a message to a Swiss naturalist: "Buy the new pterodactyl and send to Yale College." The naturalist obeyed, paying for the fossil a little over $1,000. Soon after it was sold, telegrams poured in from every museum of the world—Boston, Berlin, Paris, St. Petersburg, London—asking the price, requesting photographs, etc.; but it was already on the way to the man who said buy it.

Political.

Hon. Edward McPherson, who has studied the subject pretty thoroughly, expresses the opinion that the democrats will have at least fifteen majority in the next House.

The democratic Richmond Whig, remarking upon the symptoms of vigorous war to be made upon the President's policy by the "malcontents," says it will be the duty of the Southern people, both to themselves and to the country, to rally to his support and defend and sustain him with all their hearts. His conservative course, that paper says, had made friends of his enemies among the best and boldest and most influential of the Southern people, and they will strike as heavy blows for him as in the canvass they struck against him.

Ben Hill is talking wonderfully plain language to his constituents in Georgia. He tells them that Georgia has kept herself poor by keeping the negro ignorant; and that if she would prosper she must make industry honorable and intelligent. "Our duty," he says, "is plain, and our interest is equally plain—we must do all in our power to educate, elevate, protect and advance the negro." That's the true doctrine.

The Harrington Mystery.

Mrs. Annie A. Harrington, mother of the girl Mary Ella Harrington, has written to one of the Boston Post staff the following letter in explanation of the course of the girl's family since she disappeared:

"I received your note last night, requesting me to write to you all I know in regard to the disappearance of my daughter. When she left home she told me she was going to visit a young lady in Newton, and she went with my consent, as I never doubted her in any sense, having never had occasion to do so. At the time I made the statement to the police I did so in good faith, believing everything said by her and Miss Folsom to be the simple truth, and told it exactly as it was told to me. After the police commenced the search Miss Folsom came to me and pledged me never to divulge what she would tell me. She then said Mame did not go to Newton as they stated, but went to Lowell for a cause. She said she had seen Favor, who told her Mame was dead, or that he had heard so, and that the woman she was taken to was also dead; that if she kept the secret it could never be found out, and that if she told she was liable to State's Prison as an abettor. I considered the matter, and having doubts of the truth in regard to her death and some faint hope that she might be found, I could not bring myself to make the story public, for the sake of the family. I thought his conviction would be nothing to us compared to her loss and the disgrace to her connections. Besides, knowing as I did that Miss Folsom's only reason for making a wrong statement was to shield my daughter's good name, I could not be the one to contradict it."

The keenest search of the burial lot of Mrs. Avery, the Lowell abortionist, and of the yard of her house in Centralville, has failed to discover the unhappy girl's body; but no doubt is entertained of her death.

—Dennis Hurley of Worcester, who was in New York city last week intending to sail for Australia, was victimized by a sharper at a well-worn game. The sharper was going to Australia, too; was a large shipper. Another man stepped up and demanded pay for "freight on those goods." He had only a $1000 bond; would Hurley advance the money? Hurley did, giving him $40, all he had, and postpones his Australian trip.

Our efforts to please the tastes of our customers have not in the least abated, and we advertise every day an "opening day," instead of one or two crowded, confused days, as formerly. Feeling that this new arrangement will be for the interest of all concerned and thanking our friends for the very liberal share of patronage bestowed upon us during the ten years we have been in Portsmouth, we remain, Yours Respectfully,

J. M. Tebbetts.

"FORBIDDEN FRUIT."

This really good comedy, which was presented last Saturday evening at Franklin Hall in such excellent style by Furbish's Fifth Avenue Combination,, will be repeated this (Wednesday) evening by the same company at the same place. The comedy is unquestionably Boucicault's best one, and the company plays it with the same careful attention given at Wallack's or the Fifth Avenue theatres. The unanimous verdict of those who attended the representation on Saturday evening is that the play and players are both first-rate, and that the performance given that evening was one of the best theatrical entertainments offered in this city for many months.

JOTTINGS.

"Forbidden Fruit" at Franklin Hall tonight.

Ship Grandee, Capt. Shillaber, of this port, arrived at Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 24th, from New York. On the passage out, when in latitude 49 25 south, longitude two east, the Grandee bumped against an iceberg, damaged her bows and took a quantity of ice on board. The ship made no water, and after a short delay to repair damages, resumed her voyage to complete repairs at Melbourne.

Senator Blaine and family, and Gail Hamilton, passed through this city Tuesday evening, bound west. The Senator looks in good condition.

Furbish's Fifth Avenue Combination this evening.

We are informed that there is a bad if not a fatal hitch in the proceedings looking to the erection, on the site of the old Temple, of an amusement hall large and commodious enough for the needs of the city; the interest of the March estate in the land having been sold to parties who do not desire the erection there of such a building. But the city is to have a good hall in spite of all drawbacks, as we learn by the following from Tuesday evening's Times: "It is now definitely decided to remodel Franklin Block into a splendid amusement hall, Mr. Alfred Stavers having engaged the services of a Boston architect to immediately draw the necessary plans, and work will commence as soon as the season closes. It is intended to have the new hall completed by September 1st."

The State Council of Sovereigns of Industry have elected Lowell Jenness of this city vice president, and Thomas Moore outside guardian.

A rich dramatic treat at Franklin Hall this evening—Boucicault's best comedy.

Alfred L. Rust, B. A., a graduate of Yale college in the last class, has finished his school in Rye.

The steam collier Panther, bound from Philadelphia for Providence, and the schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., of this port, bound from Providence to New York, were in collision in Providence river Monday afternoon. The steamer had her smokestack broken off, small boat stove, rail and bulwarks on port bow crushed in, and foot of foremast either broken or unstepped. The schooner lost bowsprit and had head gear carried away, and returned to Providence for repairs.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "It appears that the 'Frank Jones' is not the total loss which was at one time apprehended, and although no doubt little better than a total loss as far as the underwriters are concerned, she is not likely to bleach her bones upon the rocky resting place of Fort Point. A contract has been made with A. W. Von Schmidt, of Blossom Rock fame, to get her off, the contractor to pay all the expenses, and, if successful, to get two-fifths of whatever she may sell for when afloat, and earnest work has already begun. The masts and spars are being taken out, and she is being put in a condition to be raised high and dry, when repairs will be made and she will be launched. A week or two in dry dock and the wreck which sold for $4750 will be worth $50,000. Opinions of nautical men differ as to the probability of success. Some of them maintain that she never can be got off, while others have implicit faith in Von Schmidt's practical knowledge and his ability to carry out the job, provided only that the weather gives him a reasonable chance. At any rate, the stake is a high one and worth playing for; $50,000 for less than $6000 leaves a wide margin for expenses and profit—only what the underwriters may say is a different matter. There has been a good deal of talk about an inquiry as to the way in which the good ship managed to go ashore, and if, after going ashore and being abandoned, she is got off without much difficulty, a searching inquiry will be very expedient, both for the sake of those on whom the loss falls and for the good name of the port of San Francisco."

Lippincott's Magazine for May is an unusually varied number. Of the illustrated articles, "Down the Rhine," the first of a series by Lady Blanche Murphy, is noticeable both for the exquisite engravings and its agreeable sketches of famous old towns. "Parisian Club Life" is described by C. H. Hardieg, while Chauncey Hickox discusses briefly some of Schliemann's discoveries. Walter Mitchell writes of "Burials and Burial-Places," and J. Brander Matthews gives theatrical gossip and anecdotes relative to the subject of "Damned Plays." Of stories, in addition to a long installment of "The Marquis of Lossie," we have "The Abbess of Ischia," by Robert A. McLeod, which has a tragical interest; a humorous love story, called "A Superfluity of Naughtiness," by Edward Bellamy; and "A Queen of Burlesque," which is both odd and pathetic, and is evidently drawn from real life. There are poems and a number of short papers on miscellaneous topics. The contents are of a thoroughly popular and attractive character.

The second Mission School at the Creek, started in Cartledge's Hosiery Factory, was not established by the North Parish as stated; it is a Mission Sabbath School, free for children or adults of any society whatever, but not to be claimed by any particular one. Mr. Oliver W. Ham is Superintendent of the school, though he was not at the time the first mention of it was made, having been elected at a meeting for choice of officers since that time.

SOUTH SEABROOK.

At the vestry of the Congregational church, Monday evening, three young men were arraigned before Charles Lamprey, Esq., of Hampton, for profanity, on complaint of Ananias Fowler. Mrs. Fowler testified to the young men coming on Mr. Fowler's premises in an intoxicated condition, and cursing her for ordering them off. Nathan H. Robie, Esq., of Hampton Falls, appeared as counsel for the accused. A fine of one dollar each was imposed, the costs being divided among them; from which sentence the young men appealed.

Charles S. Dow and David F. Souther have been appointed police at South Seabrook, George Chase on the main road, and Francis Beckman and Jeremiah Chase at Seabrook depot.

New Hampshire Items.

The New Hampshire Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will commence its annual session in the Methodist church at Dover this forenoon at 9 o'clock.

All but five shares of the Manchester Horse Railroad stock have been taken up, and the enterprise is an assured success. Ex-Governor Frederick Smythe visited Lawrence Monday to consult with the horse railroad people there in regard to various matters connected with the scheme. Work will be begun at once.

W. Denison Hurlbutt of Hanover Centre, committed suicide by cutting his throat on Monday morning; cause, insanity. He was sixty-six years old.

The following Sealers of Weights and Measures were appointed by the Governor and Council on Monday: George F. Adams, Derry; Uriah Wiggin, Dover; Samuel W. Sanders, Laconia; Jefferson H. Jewell, Ossipee; Samuel F. Morrill, Concord; H. C. Merrill, Manchester; Virgil A. Wright, Keene; David E. Willard, Orford.

The Pittsfield cotton mill was sold at auction on Tuesday for $67,500, to Harry S. Hovey, of Boston.

At a Cabinet meeting Tuesday, the appointment of Col. Daniel Hall, of Dover, to be Naval Officer at Boston, in place of Gen. Harriman, was determined upon. The appointment will be made at once.

Israel Herrick, a Milford farmer, dropped dead in the street on Tuesday.

The stock train on the White Mountain division of the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad was delayed three hours on the 16th by one car being thrown from the rails between Lisbon and Bath; damage small. Had the train broke apart the whole train would have been thrown into the river.

The late Caroline Hastings of Pelham bequeathed $3000 to the town for the establishment of a High School, one of the conditions being that the school should be kept at least six months of every year, but at the last town meeting the town voted—104 to 82—not to accept the legacy.

Milford has procured a fog horn with which to alarm the citizens in case of fire. It takes two men at the wheel to get up wind enough to blow the alarm. The village will be divided into districts and the location of a fire signified by the number of "toots."

Herbert O. Soule, indicted for stealing a horse, wagon and harness in Hopkinton, was sentenced either to three years in the State Prison or during the remainder of his minority in the Reform School. He accepted the latter.

The assault upon Mr. Stearns, turnkey of the Manchester jail, Sunday afternoon, came near resulting in a general jail delivery. Seventeen, including two United States prisoners, were out on the landing at the time the assault was made. The job was put up by Wm. White of Nashua, a desperate character under arrest for larceny from the person, who commenced the assault; young Lyons, who made his escape, and the negro Gonnier, who held the officer while he was being disarmed. Several prisoners were disposed to assist the turnkey, but Lyons threatened to shoot them if they interfered. After the escape of Lyons the rest of the prisoners made their way to the shop where the stone work was carried on, and with the aid of two iron window weights broke the locks from the large door opening into the yard. A large iron gate supposed to be impassable was forced open, and the entire gang rushed into the yard, and were scaling a fifteen foot fence when the neighbors and turnkey, with revolvers in their hands, drove them back into the cells. Lyons, who fired three shots at Mrs. Stearns with a revolver taken from the turnkey, is still at large; White and Gonnier are confined in a dungeon, where they will propably remain until the May term of the Supreme Court.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, on Monday, the votes on the constitutional amendments were counted. All the amendments but the first and twelfth are carried. The first was to strike out the word "Protestant" from the bill of rights. The twelfth was to prohibit the removal from office for political reasons. The seventh amendment, to abolish the religious test as a qualification for office, was carried by the following vote—yeas 28,475, nays 14,231. A two-third vote was requisite to carry the amendments, so the seventh one just got through by the skin of its teeth, having but thirteen more than the needed two-thirds.

A Stage Battle.

The San Francisco papers tell of a lively time between the two prime donne, De Murska and Fabbri, which came to pass during a rehearsal in that city recently. Jealousy was probably the cause. Besides the gods and goddesses of lesser dignity, Strauss, John Hill, De Murska, Muller and Fabbri were present. Mr. Hill seemed to be in bad temper and kept pulling his mustache and muttering to himself and towards the baritone Muller remarks not complimentary to that gentleman. De Murska, with a beautiful bouquet, was singing a love duet with the baritone, and, as it was in her part to do, stretched out her arms lovingly towards him, when Fabbri rushed on the stage with a shriek and "went for" De Murska's hair. Muller separated the women and then pitched into Hill, catching him by the throat and shaking him till his face was the color of a lobster. "Let go of me, you horrid giant," gurgled Hill. Meantime the ladies had set to again, and tore and scratched each other in the liveliest manner, accompanying the action with tones and melodies not usually heard on the operatic stage, till Muller was forced to leave Hill and separate the infuriated females once more. Of course there was the wildest excitement, and the terrified maestro Strauss sheltered himself behind a group of women, Muller yelling to him meanwhile to "come and hold these two fools." With the help of somebody else Muller at last got the women off the stage and then sought furiously for the maestro, who rapidly took refuge in flight, but was caught by the fell pursuer, who laid him across his knee and gave him a most unmerciful spanking. Hill escaped in a coach with De Murska, whose head was in a very badly damaged condition.

—Comfortable, broad-soled, low-heeled shoes are in favor.

—The Jubilee Singers from Nashville are making a very successful concert tour in Holland.

—"Let me see," says the nurse of a sick man, "the doctor said one teaspoonful every ten minutes; that makes six every hour, say seventy-two during the night. I shall give him seventy-two right away, and have a chance to get a little sleep myself."

—The members of the Chinese embassy were charmed with Madame Tussaud's wax works shown in London. It is probable they would have displayed less enthusiasm had not ignorance of the language prevented their appreciation of a passing cabman's remark: "Look, 'ere, Bill, here's all the images broke loose and a-coming out for a walk!"

—A practical joker advertised in the San Francisco papers for 1,000 able-bodied men at a salary of $2.50 a day, and 2,000 workingmen assembled opposite the Merchants' Exchange on April 5. After they had become convinced that they were the victims of a silly hoax, they marched to the City Hall and requested the Mayor to ferret out the author of the outrage. He was arrested on the next day after he had paid for another advertisement offering a reward of $25 for information concerning the man who inserted the first one. It is probably the only instance on record of a man's offering a reward for the arrest of himself.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual y than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,

CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

By order of the Assessors,

M. BUFFORD, Secretary.

Daily Chronicle.

—A dark lantern—One that is out of oil.

—It was a Haverhill lady who in speaking of a fashionable party said that all the illicit of the town were present.

—A scarf pin with head formed as a gold fishing-pole, with reel and line, and a speckled trout on the hook, is a novelty in gentlemen's trinkets.

—The Christian Union says that it makes a man purer and better to cherish a rejected love. There is more fun, however, in going off and making love to another girl.

—The people of Portland have decided literary tastes. They have stolen 2000 volumes from their Public Library.

—A cynical observer recently remarked the striking resemblance between the biblical lily and the girl of the period in the matter of toiling and spinning.

—It is the glass which makes so much mischief with both men and women, but the difference is in the use, while the likeness is in the evil.

—When your wife puts a scuttle of coals on the top stair, and you have a race with it, to see which reaches the bottom first, do not sweat, but hereafter see that you carry it yourself, all the way up.

—A natural bridge, far more wonderful than that in Virginia, has recently been discovered in Elliott county, Kentucky. It is of solid stone and forms a magnificent arch 162 feet long and 15 feet wide at the top, the river, the Little Channey, rolling over 100 feet below. Fifty yards above the bridge is a waterfall, sixty feet high, and the view from the bridge is said to be extremely beautiful.

—Captain Nowland had a sad experience at the late burning of the Mississippi river boat "Garland." The flames were already scorching the passengers, and he had to choose between forsaking his two children or their mother. Taking the little ones in his arms he kissed them farewell, and then jumped overboard with his wife. But Billy Staples, a deck hand, saw the scene, and grasped the children, and swam with them to the shore.

—The report that the Emperor of Germany is to retire from his position among the effete monarchs of the Old World and become a drummer of a Boston firm is an error. It arose from the fact that he has received eighty foreign orders, but no such brilliant future opens before him, and he will probably go down to the grave as ambitious but a disappointed man.—Norwich Bulletin.

—The slumbers of an Irish gentleman being disturbed by another gentleman who had come to administer a horse-whipping, he asked him whether he meant to be so unmanly as to flog him while in bed? "Certainly not," was the visitor's reply. "Well, then," rejoined the other, quietly rolling himself up very snugly in the bedclothes, "you may wait as long as you please, but hang me if I'll get up while you're in the house."

—An establishment has been discovered at Radna, Hongary, where children, kidnapped from the cities, are converted into cripples for begging. Some have their legs or arms cut off, some their eyes put out, and they are variously mutilated to fit them for a successful career. Over 100 victims were found, and it seems that the devils who kept the concern had bribed the authorities to secrecy. It was discovered by a medical professor from Prague, and it was difficult to prevent the infuriated citizens from lynching the proprietors.

—One of the strangest trials on record occurred at West Union, Doddridge County, W. Va., recently. A murderer, named Thomas Powell, confined in the jail at that place, was allowed to become one of a drinking party which the jailer had called together, and, after all hands had become thoroughly hilarious, a trial of Powell was instituted, with judge, prosecuting attorney, etc. After a hearing Powell was adjudged not guilty and the prison door was thrown open, through which he made his escape. The jailor has since been arrested and a reward for Powell's recapture offered.

—A good anecdote is related of a lady at a party whose dress and form were faultless. Just before dinner an admirer offered her a flower from his button-hole. The dress being fastened behind, the flower had to be adjusted with a pin. Just then they went down to dinner, and the gentleman thought he heard a noise as though wind was escaping from a bellows. The lady had soon lost her fair proportions and the tightly-fitting dress was most baggy. It appears that the latest fashion for thin ladies' dresses is an air-tight lining blown out to the proper size. The pin put to keep the flower in had penetrated the air-tight lining and caused a grand collapse.—British Court Journal.

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.
WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1876.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.
WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1876.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 5th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of your Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.
WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them my praise, as I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I induced him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had or you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from rheumatic complaints for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. EVARE.
Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for nine or ten years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and taking medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The package of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.
LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I am recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing to its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the root of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," no does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.
A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.
Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.
With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to the class of body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.
Besides the 192 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.
TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $8; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.
The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times"—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a powerful, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all things.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes and the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Contributions, Poems, Sketches, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given during the week, of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Live Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respecting course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

MARJORIE.

Marjorie hides in the deep, sweet grass;
Purple its tops bend over;
Softly and warmly the breezes pass,
And bring her the scent of the clover.

Butterflies flit, and the banded bee
Booms in the air above her;
Green and golden lady-bugs three
Marjorie's nest discover.

Up to the top of the grass so tall
Creep they while Marjorie gazes;
Blows the wind suddenly—down they fall
Into the disks of the daisies!

Brown-eyed Marjorie! Who, do you think,
Sings in the sun so loudly?
Marjorie smiles. "I'll be bobolink,
Caroling gayly and proudly."

Bright-locked Marjorie! What floats down
Through the golden air, and lingers
Light on your head as a cloudy crown,
Pink as your rosy fingers?

"Apple-blossoms!" she laughing cries.
"Beautiful boats come sailing
Out of the branches held up to the skies,
Over the orchard railing."

Happy, sweet Marjorie, hidden away,
Birds, butterflies, bees above her;
With flowers and perfumes, and lady-bugs gay,
Everything seems to love her!

Celia Thaxter, St. Nicholas for May.

The Man who Stops his Paper.

Philip Gilbert Hamilton, in his papers on "Intellectual Life," thus talks to the man who "stopped his paper:" "Newspapers are to the civilized world what the daily house talk is to the members of the family—they keep our daily interest in each other, they save us from the evils of isolation. To live as a member of the great white race that has filled Europe and America and colonized or conquered whatever territory it has been pleased to occupy, to share from day to day its thoughts, its cares, its inspirations, it is necessary that every man should read his paper. Why are the French peasants so bewildered and at sea? It is because they never read a newspaper. And why are the inhabitants of the United States, though scattered over a territory fourteen times the area of France, so much more capable of concerted action, so much more alive and modern, so much more interested in new discoveries of all kinds, and capable of selecting and utilizing the best of them? It is because the newspapers penetrate everywhere, and even the lonely dweller on the prairie or in the forest is not intellectually isolated from the great currents of public life which flow through the telegraph and press."

Fashions of Disposing of the Dead.

Almost every barbarous tribe has its own recipe for disposing of the relics of mortality. The Hottentots basket them. The Kaffirs use them as ground bait for lions. The Orinocos place them where the flesh is nibbled from the bones by hungry fishes. Some South American tribes grind the skeletons of their dead to a powder, with which they afterwards pepper their food. New Zealanders stretch dead bodies on lofty platforms and leave them to the crows and buzzards. The Hindoos burn their dead, and do not even care to preserve the ashes. Civilized individuals, too, have their little eccentricities in relation to the post-mortem disposition of the human clay. One would keep the worms from their food by metal sheathings. Another considers a rosewood coffin, with silver mountings indispensable. A third would have his head embalmed. A fourth prefers a spacious vault to the sexton's dark pit. A fifth thinks that the fittest resting place for the body, when its toils are over, is a narrow bed under the greensward, and a sixth has faith in cremation.

The fashions of mourning for the dead have been and are as various as the methods of putting them away from among the living. The old Romans bottled their tears and put them into the tombs of the deceased. The Greeks mourn the departed in white. The Egyptians in yellow. In ancient Jewry the relatives of the dead tore their gabardines and poured ashes on their heads, and be believe that strict Hebrews do the same now. Vermillion is the mourning tint of the Chinese. The Turkish women grieve for their lords in blue. It is only in the most enlightened lands that black is worn in memory of those who are supposed to have passed to a brighter world.

A Fishy Lizard Story.

We have always considered the popular mythical legend or delusion in regard to the salamander's being able to go through fire unscathed as one of the most preposterous of mythical delusions. A gentleman of this city, however, recently related to us a story in relation to the lizards of Nevada, which would seem to confirm the possibility of their enduring intense heat for a short time at least. The black lizards of that sage brush State are very easily domesticated, harmless, sociable and intelligent. This gentleman had several pet lizards, one of which lived near a furnace where he burned retorts or moulds for silver bullion. This work required a very hot fire, which he made open at each end. The lizard would sit on the tree near by watching him. His dog would frequently chase the lizard, if it ventured to the ground, and compel it to take to the tree again. Frequently, however, the lizard, apparently for the sport of the thing alone, would dash down off the tree and induce the dog to give it a sharp race, when it would run right through the furnace, coming out of the other end like a flash, unscathed, while the dog, in his eagerness, would be burned at the fire before he could stop. This would be a daily occurrence, and the lizard actually seemed to enjoy the joke on the dog. The time that the lizard or salamander was in the fire was very short, and it doubtless could not have remained there a very great length of time, but the fact of its not fearing the fire is sufficient to have given rise to the idea of the fireproof salamander.—Marysville (Cal.) Appeal.

Why Oakey Hall Ran Away.

Tweed's confession, offered to the Attorney General of New York on Tuesday, says that to carry the city charter through the Legislature in 1870 he was obliged to give Senator W. B. Woodin $200,000, the negotiation being carried out by Senator Winslow. The money was to be divided between Messrs. Woodin, Samuel B. Frost of Richmond, Augustus R. Elwood of Otsego, W. H. Brand of Leonardsville, Norris Winslow of Watertown, James Wood of Genesee, Isaiah Blood of Saratoga, George Morgan of Dutchess—all members of the State Senate; also with Van Pelton, Williams, Crowley, Merriam and Beaman for their influence in the Legislature. Tweed was a member of the State Senate at the time, and all the persons named voted for his charter.

Governor Hoffman signed the charter the night it passed, and Tweed arranged with Mayor Hall for all municipal appointments, with Tweed as Commissioner of Public Works, Peter B. Sweeney at the head of the Police, and John J. Bradley as Chamberlain.

The confession gives in detail the proceedings of the Board of Audit of May 5, 1870, when so many millions in claims were passed upon, together with the ratio of fraud to real merit of the separate claims. It gives the circumstances of the division of spoils between himself, Sweeney, Hall, Connolly and Woodward, through whom the division was made, as well as of particular amounts set apart for various tradesmen and mechanics by whom claims were presented. It implicates Garvey, Ingersoll, Davidson, Watson and a majority of the members of the Board of Supervisors, among them John Fox, James Hayes, Henry Smith and Isaac J. Oliver.

Mayor Hall's proportion was 10 per cent. He shared throughout in all profits, was in full collusion with the various details of fraud, and was fully aware of the fraudulent nature of the contracts presented for his signature. He secured from the Board of Police the John L. Brown street cleaning contract, and shared in its proceeds. With reference to the document purporting to be a record of the proceedings of the Board of Audit of May 5, 1870, by which Hall on his trial secured an acquittal on the ground that he acted only in a ministerial character, Tweed says that it was manufactured after the exposure. Hall came to Tweed and Connolly, after the exposure, with that document in his own hand-writing and already signed by himself, and asked them to sign it also. Each of them did so, and then Hall took it away. The resolution was never presented to the Board of Audit. The next that Tweed heard of it was when produced in court, purporting to have been found in the county auditor's safe.

Among the persons to whom he paid money for influence in the Legislature, besides those already mentioned, was Hugh Hastings, editor of the Commercial Advertiser. He says he gave Hastings a check for twenty thousand dollars, dated three or four days after the passage of the charter of 1870, with the understanding that the money was also to go to Senator Woodin.

Shortly after the publication of the "secret accounts" in July, 1871, Tweed says that Francis N. Bixy and ex-Sheriff (then State Senator) James O'Brien came to him and offered to secure him against any further investigation of his bank accounts, his relations with the city, or indeed from any further trouble, if he would pay $150,000 toward O'Brien's claim against the city for $298,000 for unpaid fees. The two represented to him that they had such influence over Tilden, Judge Barrett and Wm. C. Barrett as to immediately squash any further steps in the pending investigation. He mentions Thurlow Weed by name, but does not connect him with any equivocal transaction.

He mentions Judge Folger of the Court of Appeals and George H. Purser of New York as persons to whom he paid money.

The confession concludes with a promise that the writer will be a witness for the city in any suit brought by the city for the recovery of moneys from any of the persons mentioned. He does not ask that suits against him may be quashed, but that he be released from confinement without bail.

All paintings and book cases in Recorder Hackett's house were paid for by the city.

Tweed purchased votes of sufficient members of the Common Council to secure a majority and the passage of any of his measures, and the names of these various persons, as well as of many others whose influence was obtained by similar means, are given, together with amounts paid to each. He also obtained a majority of the Supervisors by the same means, and the names of corrupt members are given, with sums paid to each. Among the aldermen mentioned are Morgan Jones and Thomas Coman.

Hugh Smith, Sweeney's particular friend, attended to all transactions with Judge Cardozo, by which judicial action was taken in behalf of the ring. Tweed says the Navarro claim of $1,000,000 against the city, now pending in courts, being for water metres furnished to the city, is a fraud. The contract with Navarro was fraudulent, and the metres never answered their purpose.

News and Notes.

Before the war the States of Mississippi and Alabama were the largest cotton producing regions of the South, but neither one ever exceeded the 650,000 bales produced by Texas last year.

The Savannah Ga., News says a man named Monsee was savagely assaulted on Sunday night by a woman named Winny Johnson, and had his throat cut. The alleged offence was Monsee's selling whiskey to Winny's husband. It is thought Monsee's injuries may prove fatal.

St. Louis papers admit that there was a fire in the basement of the Southern Hotel a week previous to the one that destroyed it. It was extinguished by the employes, and no information was given to the police or fire departments. The insurance collected for the damage done by this fire was $325.

Wong Tin Lou, a Chinaman who settled in San Francisco four years ago, learned the ways of this country so readily that he was chosen by his country-men on the coast to superintend the interment and subsequent removal to China of their dead. Another result of his acquirement of American ideas has just been manifested. He has absconded with $13,000 belonging to his friends.

There was an immense Tichborne demonstration in London on the 17th, over 50,000 people taking part in it.

Major Reno, recently tried by court martial on the charge of insulting the wife of a brother officer and sentenced to be dismissed the service, has forwarded to the War Department a request for delay in the presentation of the case to the President, claiming he has additional evidence which will tend to the mitigation of the sentence. The request was granted.

Dario Ragglianti, an Italian, sentenced a year ago to five years' imprisonment for passing counterfeit money in New Haven, with two or three other Italians who led him astray, has been pardoned by President Hayes at the request of the Italian Government.

State Senator Woodwin, of New York, who was mentioned by Boss Tweed as the man who disbursed $200,000 and over to aid the passage of Tweed's charter, flatly denies every allegation made by the Boss in relation to him, and has demanded a committee of investigation, which has been appointed, to report in ten day. This is a slur upon the reputation for veracity of Mr. Tweed.

The British barque Karnack, Captain Cook, with a cargo of corn and oil cake valued at about $28,000, sailed from Philadelphia November 28, and has not since been heard from. The British brig Balclutha, Captain Alton, sailed from St. Johns, N. F., in December, for Bristol, England, and is given up as a missing vessel. The schooner Mary Haley, Captain Haley, sailed from Philadelphia March 21 for Georgetown, D. C., with coal, and as she has not since been heard from fears are entertained for her safety. It is probable that the crews of all three vessels, between thirty and forty pearons, have perished.

Vandalism on Grecian Ruins.

It has been feared that Greece will some day demand back from England the marbles now in the British Museum. Should there ever be such a state of society in that land as to insure their protection, it would probably be the wish of the world to see them back in Athens. But now that they have once been brought away, they ought to be kept in London until the Acropolis is in less danger from the bombshells of attacking forces, and until the Athenian museums are in better condition. Of the care taken by the Athenians of the remains still exposed, Mr. Mahaffy furnishes from his own observation some interesting examples. He saw tombs used as targets by the neighborhood, and peppered with shot and bullets. From the Acropolis he saw one young gentleman shooting with a pistol at a piece of old carved marble work in the theatre of Dionysus. His object seemed to be to chip off a piece at every shot. Fortunately, Mr. Mahaffy, standing on the Acropolis, had the advantage of him in position, and recollecting the tactics of Apollo at Delphi, was able to put him to flight by detaching stones from the top of the precipice and rolling them down upon him.

Lord Elgin has of late years been thought an unjustly abused man; but he does not appear, from some accounts, to have got more abuse than he deserved. After he had obtained his firman from the sultan permitting him to take down and remove the sculptures, he appears not to have paid the least personal attention to the work, but to have left it in the hands of paid contractors. The traveller Dodwell was present at the time the work was done, and he says that, little as Greeks or Turks cared for the ruins, such a sense of the wickedness of the desecration was felt throughout Athens that the contractors were obliged to bribe workmen with additional wages to get them to do the work. Dodwell does not even mention Lord Elgin by name, but speaks of him as the "person" who defaced the Parthenon. This traveller beheld with especial disgust their method of proceeding when taking up one of the great white marble blocks which form the floor of the temple. They wanted to see what was underneath, and Dodwell, who was there, saw the foundation—one of Pirreic sandstone. But when the inspection was finished, they left the block where it was, making no attempt at all to put it back into its place.—Scribner for May.

—A story is told of two worthy New England deacons between whom a bitter feud had long existed concerning some contested point. Neither would yield, and the matter threatened to be handed down to the next generation, when one day, Deacon Smith appeared before his old enemy, and solemnly said, "Brother Jones, it is a great shame that this quarrel of ours should bring scandal upon the church. I have prayed earnestly for guidance in the matter, and have come to the conclusion that you must give in, for I cannot."

—Somebody advertises in one of the Westfield papers for a servant-girl "who would not be above placing herself on an equality with the rest of the family."

Two Irreconcilable Conditions.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a trifling, disorder of the system. Alone, or a want of nervous vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promote digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic protects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

is worth a dozen dead ones, and to secure the teeth from decay, it is only necessary to use the Fragrant Sozodont. The odor of this pure preparation is so delightful, that it is a luxury to apply it, and its beneficial effect upon the teeth is marvellous.

SICK HEADACHE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 5, 1877.

I have suffered with Sick Head-Ache as often as every two weeks, for Fifteen Years. At times in such severe pain I fainted away. I tried every thing I could hear of and was attended by Physicians. I continued in this condition until last December when I commenced with the Little Giant Pills. I have not had a Head-Ache since. I want every person who suffers as I have, to try this Medicine and be cured, and if any such are not able to pay for a box, I will buy a box and give them.

JOTTINGS.

As the fishing schooner "Glide" was coming up the river, Tuesday afternoon, she ot out her dories to tow, there not being ind enough to keep steerage-way on the essel. A puff of wind suddenly filled the ails, and sent the schooner ahead so quick- that the dory nearest her could not get ut of the way and was run down, her ern and one side being stove in and the o men in her thrown into the water. One the oarsmen was about half-drowned hen picked up, having swallowed so much it water as to lower the tide in the riv- half an inch—so the other fishermen say.

The U. S. S. Adams sailed from Norfolk, a., on the 17th, for the South Atlantic, to in the Brazilian squadron, where she will main until November, and then round the orn for Callao and join the South Pacific quadron, her station for the next three ears. Lieut. Comdr. George E. Wingate, this city, is her executive officer.

The Eldredge Brewing Company are out to erect a large cooper-shop in connection with their brewery at the Creek.

Mr. Wm. Sladden is to open, soon a new rocery and provision store near the corner Cabot and Austin streets, in the store rmerly occupied by the late Benjamin orton.

The rooms of the Health Lift Company, Daniel street, are visited daily by many the prominent ladies and gentlemen of is city, who after taking the exercise feel sured of its perfect safety by the system- ic form of lifting used. Those that have ready subscribed and taken the exercise r the past few weeks, are so well satisfied to the benefit to be gained by it that they ve signified their intention to continue r a longer time. One of the subscribers siting Boston recently, continued her actice at the rooms there, and finds that regularity in taking the exercise,—hav- g missed but one day out of five weeks, she feels greatly benefited. An invalid this city, being advised by her physician use the Health Lift, has purchased a achine, as she is unable to go to the rooms it fatigues her even to walk a short dis- nce. We merely mention this to show at the weakest need not fear, as the exer- se is not to test the strength but to in- ease it, by a systematic principle of lift- g. Those that are taking the exercise at e rooms are either advised to do so by eir physician or are thoroughly satisfied the safety in taking it. Those of doubt- g minds as to the safety in taking the ercise, should call and examine. See vertisement.

Steamer Perkiomen arrived at this port ednesday morning from Philadelphia, th 1205 tons of coal.

Six street gamins, brought before the lice Court on Wednesday on a charge of eaking glass and the Sabbath, were dis- arged owing to a defect in the warrant.

Several trawls belonging to the fishing hooner Alfaretta were stolen from the hing grounds recently. This is meaner an door-mat stealing.

The Portsmouth Dramatic Club are to re "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" at the wn hall in Rye on some evening next ek, half the proceeds to go to the Rye rnet Band, who will furnish music for occasion.

On Tuesday a horse attached to Mr. iah Blaisdell's store-wagon ran away, rting from his house at Christian Shore, ng stopped on Deer street without any m being done other than the breaking some parts of the harness. Mr. George aisdell, who was driving, was thrown , but fortunately not much hurt.

W. K. Jones, of Massachusetts, has been pointed an operative in the United States ret Service, and assigned to the New gland Department. Col. J. Horace nt, of this city, was tendered the position Chief of the New England Division of the ret Service, by the new administration, an increase of salary over what he re- ved when he held it before, but declined appointment.

Mr. James A. Rand, of Breakfast Hill, e, on Tuesday morning found the horse ently stolen from him, hitched in the ods at North Hampton. Mr. Rand hav- recovered his horse, is quite willing the f should go hang himself if he wants to, his further proceedings (unless he steals horse again) are of no interest.

SUPREME COURT.

Fred D. James of Tamworth, indicted swindling, who was to have been tried Exeter Tuesday, had his trial postponed eek on account of the absence of impor- t witnesses.

Edward H. Parks of this city, charged h keeping a disorderly house, was mitted. William H. Hackett for de- dant.

The "Eelskin" Dress.

f the fashion plates which I see in the il- trated papers of New York are an ex- representation of what the fair of that ly metropolis are wearing, I must be- lieve that one of the most curious eccentrici- ties ever devised has not yet come in vogue there. I allude to the "eelskin" dress, now the great rage both in London and Paris. In the wildest days of the tie-back or pin- back mania there never was seen such a tightness in the matter of skirt as now pre- vails. Whatever the pan [city of folds in the pin-back in the frontier part, in the enor- mous exuberance of the pannier or bustle the balance was struck.

But now, not only is the bustle a thing of horror, but even the necessary underclothing is considered de trop. To lengthen the waist far beyond its natural proportions, a stiff webbing of elastic is fastened to the stays to the depth of half a foot; and to this, at first, narrow skirts were buttoned. But even this is now abandoned for another scheme to acquire slenderness. Mrs. Swisshelm's much ridiculed chemiloon is in demand, and garments made in this way are sold at the furnishing shops, and pat- terns of it pass eagerly from hand to hand among lady friends. Some ladies have had regular stage tights made in thick webbing, and over these they wear nothing but the outer dress, under skirts being simulated by plaited ruffles of white muslin, sewn to the edge of the dress, which is then tied back till the woman within is shackled al- most like a convict in a chain-gang. No more uncomfortable fashion ever was de- vised. The desired effect of youthful slen- derness is generally obtained by the "eel- skin," but at a good deal of sacrifice of per- sonal ease.—Olive Logan's London Letter.

An Army of Water Rats.

Dr. Van Der Hork, the German traveler of the Arctic Circle, says: "On one occasion we had a curious adventure. While cross- ing a lacustrine part of the river called Kjoalmejaure, in the early part of the night, we were suddenly surrounded by swarms of leming (Myodes torquatus)), an animal like the mountain rat. They swarmed about the boat, and tried to clamber into it, so that it was with the greatest difficulty we could keep the fierce little creatures from boarding us, by beating about with the oars, at which they would set up sharp, shrill screams, similar to those of a musk- rat. After some time we succeeded in passing them. These little animals come unexpectedly down from the mountains, no one knowing exactly whence, and appear in millions, swarming over the whole coun- try, eating up almost everything that comes in their way. Neither rivers or lakes seem to deter them, both of which they swim with ease, usually keeping on their destruc- tive path, until reaching the open sea, which they vainly endeavor to cross, never swerv- ing from the direction once taken until they sink exhausted beneath the wave. Thus perish countless numbers. They commit great ravages, and are as dreaded in the North as the locusts are in Egypt. Years, however, lapse between their reappear- ances, or until they suddenly descend from their rocky retreats. The Lapps tell us that they rain from the sky, many of them stating that they have actually seen them fall."

The Champion Rat-killer.

A tall man, with a nose like a muffin, went into a Main street boarding-house one day last week, and asked for a dinner.

"Owing to the general depression of busi- ness, and consequent scarcity of the rhino," said the proprietor, looking the tall man over, "a dinner will cost you thirty-five cents, in advance."

"I have nothing with me but a check on a Boston bank," observed the tall man.

"Checks on Boston banks ain't worth a copper," remarked the landlord; "I guess you'll have to dine more sumptuously else- where."

"Can't I do something for my dinner?" asked the tall man, as a hungry pang griped him.

"You can pay," said the proprietor, im- pressively.

"You give me my dinner," said the tall man; "I'll agree to clean your house of every rat in it. I have performed the feat in many hotels throughout the country, with the most satisfactory results."

The proprietor accepted the bargain as a most advantageous one to himself, and the tall man seated himself at the table, where he did fearful execution among the victuals. He finished his dinner in half an hour, picked his teeth with a fork, called for a cigar, and proceeded to enjoy it.

"Now, then," said the proprietor, when the tall man had finished his smoke, "let's get to business. Go for the rats."

"Ah, yes," returned the tall man; "with pleasure. Procure me a light iron bar, about four feet in length, and I will pro- ceed to business."

The iron bar was procured, and the loaf- ers gathered around to witness the interest- ing proceedings.

"Now, begin," said the proprietor. "Where will you commence first?"

"Right here," replied the tall man, as he carefully rolled backs his cuffs, spit on his hands, and grasped the iron bar with great anxiety depicted on his countenance.

"Now," said the tall man, impressively, as he slowly elevated the bar, "are you all ready?"

"All ready," returned the proprietor, ex- citedly.

"Then," said the tall man, "bring on your rats."

For the space of five minutes the excite- ment of an entire Presidential election filled the room. When it subsided the tall man was nowhere to be seen, and the proprietor was standing before the glass tying an oys- ter over his left eye. The rats still revel in their native freedom.

Housekeeping by Proxy.

Nothing can be done by any one who does not care enough for the matter to take a good deal of trouble to get what he wants; and to those who insist so warmly that a house cannot be made pretty and at- tractive without money, I venture to insist as warmly that money is the least impor- tant element in the business! Taste and contrivance are of far more importance than money; and of all the attractive houses that it has been my good fortune to see, by far the greater number have owed their at- tractiveness to the taste and to the ingenui- ty of their owners rather than to their long purses. A person with no need to think about the cost of anything may go into Cottier's rooms and buy and order right and left, and give the house commission to decorate and furnish, and upholster, and fill his cabinets with "old blue," and never spare for cost, and when all is done, no- body who comes to visit him shall say, "How beautiful this is! How interesting! What taste you have!" but only, "Oh, then, I see Cottier has been with you!" There has simply been a transfer of goods from one show place to another.

The truth is, we are depending too much in these days on furniture and bric-a-brac for the ornament of our houses, and not enough on things more permanently inter- esting. We ought to seek (at least so it seems to me) the individual expression of ourselves, of our own family life, our own ways of living, thinking, acting, more than the doing as other people are doing, more than the having what other people are hav- ing. I am not in for a tilt against fashion; fashionable people may do what they like; 'twere vain to say them nay. They may buy embossed brass coal-scuttles and put them in the middle of their parlor hearths in front of dummy fire-places, neither coal- scuttle nor fire-place ever having been in- tended to be used; they may put china cats nursing their kittens on their satin sofas, and enjoy their being taken for real ones by old beaus and maiden ladies; they may put artificial flowers in garden-boxes in their windows; they may do anything that comes into their nonsensical pretty heads, and all we shall have to say about it is what old Mrs. G—— said after some stylish girls had been "going on" and "showing off" their new-fangled dress and airs: "How nice it is of 'em to do so, dear!" Scribner for May.

—The Japanese say we are reversed. They call our penmanship "crab writing," because they say it goes "backward." The lines in our books cross the page like a crawfish, instead of going downward "properly." In a Japanese stable we find the horse's flank where we look for his head. Japanese screws screw the other way. Their locks thrust to the left, ours to the right. The baby toys of the Aryan race squeak when squeezed; the Turanian gim- cracks emit noise when pulled apart. A Caucasian to injure his enemy kills him; a Japanese kills himself to spite his foe. Which race is left-handed? Which has the negative, which the positive, of truth? What is truth? What is down, what is up?

—Radcliffe attended an intimate friend, declaring that he would receive no fee. When the cure was complete the patient said: "I have put every day's fee in this purse, my dear doctor; nor must your goodness get the better of my gratitude." "Well," said the doctor, "singly I could have refused the guineas, but altogether they are irresistible."

—Moody and Sankey have captured one Boston reporter. But where are the ninety- and-nine?

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Disease. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

How a Ghost was Captured.

About a mile from the center of Babylon Village, Long Island, stands a house which has for some time been unoccupied. It was some time ago fitted up for the occupancy of a newly-married couple, but shortly after they moved into it the young bride died, and the building was again left vacant. Within a few weeks past, strange sights and flitting lights have been seen in the house; occasionally a pale wan face would appear at one of the windows in the dead of night, and piteous wails would issue apparently from between the livid lips, and then the "perturbed spirit" would wander from room to room throughout the house, as if looking for something that could never be found. Babylon enjoyed the sensation of having a "haunted house." Some of the young fellows in the neighborhood, however, were not superstitious to the extent of being afraid to make an investigation, and one night last week two or three of them concealed themselves in the building to await the "ghost's" appearance. About the hour "when churchyards yawn" one of the windows opened, and his ghostship entered in a very unghostly manner, and commenced his usual performance, his form being just distinguishable in the darkness. In the middle of one of his most interesting acts the concealed persons crept softly on all fours to the spot, and suddently grasped him by the ankles, a proceeding which was followed by a series of terrific shrieks very human in their tone, and indicating an agony of fear, and it was some time before the bogus ghost was brought to the point of believing that he had not been seized by a real one. The explanation of his proceeding is found in the fact that a certain person was desirous of owning the house, but the proprietor refused to part with it on the terms offered, and this novel method was adopted by the would-be purchaser to depreciate the market value of the property. At present the laugh is against him.—N. Y. Times.

—Wonderful discoveries of pre-historic remains have been made at Arkadelphia, Arkansas, twenty miles south of the Hot Springs, consisting of a road from 800 to 1000 years old, skeletons of primitive giants seven feet high, etc., all constituting an archeological bonanza which is to be immediately and thoroughly worked.

—A crusty old fellow once asked: "What is the reason that griffins, dragons and devils are ladies' favorite subjects for embroidered designs?" "Ah, because they are continually thinking of their husbands," was a lady's quick retort.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

I had a serious disease of the lungs, and was for a time confined to my bed and under the care of a physician. His prescriptions did not help me. I grew worse, coughing very severely. I commenced taking your Medical Discovery, which helped me greatly. I have taken several bottles and am restored to good health.

Yours, respectfully,
JUDITH BURNETT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. Have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. Have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I can eat and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later—Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and write you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and forty, lost all my fat, and am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure aches of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, as I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ELI S. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Boxes of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines. With some result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I had suffered most immensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only cure for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. R. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if these pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have now applications to send for five packages to my neighbors. Laura Sherrel.
Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, A. J. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 22, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and druggist of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of a ill Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative arguments of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is always fresh, refined, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS OF THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the chosen standards.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS OF THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

A Modest Request.

Monsieur Arago, the French statesman and nephew of the astonomer, is, in spite of his 65 years, a very handsome man. He has a large nose, of which he is somewhat proud. A short time ago he was travelling by train to Versailles, when a child who was in the same carriage, and who had watched Arago for some time with dilated eyes, began to cry. In vain did the child's mother, Arago, and another Senator endeavor to calm the perturbed juvenile. The poor mother was in despair, and as the shrieks grew more and more piercing, Arago felt bound to interfere and see what he could do. He said to the child, "What ails you, my dear? Are you afraid of me? I don't look very naughty, do I?" Thus addressed, the child sobbed out, "Take off your nose." Arago looked at the mother, who grew very confused and said, "Ah, Monsieur! excuse me; excuse my son." "But, Madame," said Arago, "what does he mean?" The mother then explained that she had, during the carnival, taken her child to see a number of persons in masks and false noses, and he had got so excited that he could think of nothing else. "By an unfortunate occurrence," she added, "we got into the same carriage as you, who for no doubt some good reason, are prolonging the carnival. But you see what a deplorable result has followed. Let me then beg of you to have pity on a poor mother, and take off your nose." But, Madame," said Arago, stupefied. "A little more and my child will have convulsions," shrieked the mother; "take off your false nose." "But, Madame," said Arago in despair; "that is impossible; this is not a false nose, but my own." "Impossible! impossible!" cried the agonized lady. "Touch it," said Arago. The lady gave a pull at the Senator's nose, but it did not come off in her hand as she had expected. "A thousand pardons," she said, "but pray, oh! pray, hide it with your hat." So Arago continued his journey with his nose in his hat, and the child's screams gradually subsided. Arago himself tells the story with much glee.

Whitewashing George Washington.

In the discussion concerning Houdon's "model" of Washington, a letter-writer gives some particulars which go to corroborate the opinion that however great the first President may have been, his relatives have proved excessively stupid, and on occasion, particularly lacking in veneration for George himself. He says:

"Speaking of Houdon's model of Washington at Mount Vernon reminds me of the condition it was in when I saw it. The plaster of which it was made becoming very dark or discolored, every year at house-cleaning John Washington had his negroes give it a coat of whitewash, until it became completely encrusted—it hung down from the nose half an inch."

The idea of whitewashing a valuable bust, is enough to make Houdon turn over in his grave. It has always been fondly believed by his admirers that Washington stood less in need of whitewash than have many of his successors; but it may be doubted if any modern politician, however badly soiled by circumstances, has ever been re-whitened to that extent that the whitewash "hung down from his nose half an inch."

New England Agriculture.

A principal reason why our agriculture has declined has been, not that the west has grown and prospered, or that manufacturers have been thriving among us, but because our farmers have not had confidence in their own business, nor faith in the capabilities of their own soil. They are willing to admit that capital, enterprise, science and skill may be successfully applied to the mechanic arts, but they are slow to believe that the same qualities may be equally successful when applied to agriculture. When we can believe heartily in the capabilities of our profession, and put into it all the capital, science and common sense we can command, we shall be pretty sure to succeed in stopping the decay of New England agriculture.—Homestead.

—A noted lawyer had a case in hand in which, among other things, he wished to prove that his client had no money; and to that end he cross-questioned one of the opponent's witnesses as follows: "You asked my client for money, did you not?" "Well—yes, sir." "Answer promptly, sir. Let us have no hesitation. You asked him for money. Now, what was his answer?" "I don't know as I can tell." "But, surely, you remember?" "Yes, I do." "Then out with it. What was his answer?" "I'd rather not tell." "Ho! ho! you are on that tack, are you? You won't tell." "I would rather not, sir." "But you must; and, if you do not answer my question promptly and truthfully, I'll call upon the Court to commit you for contempt." "Well, sir, if I must tell tales out of school, here you have it. I asked him yesterday if he could lend me half a crown, and he told me he couldn't." "And you believed him, did you not?" "Yes, sir; for he said you had robbed him of every penny of his ready money, and if he didn't get out of your hands pretty soon his wife and little ones would come to——" "That will do, sir. You can step down."

—Sprinkle, sprinkle, little cart; how I wonder where thou art. Come and lay this fearful dust, ere our lungs fill up and bust.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1877.

The Russian Fleet.

The Washington Republican says the rumor that the Russian fleet will soon return to Europe is unfounded. The Czar's vessels were not sent to this country simply to give the Grand Duke a pleasure trip; they came here on business, and until their work is finished they will remain on this side of the Atlantic. One of our best known and most thoroughly posted naval officers remarked in conversation that the Russian fleet would, in the event of hostilities in the East, find a field of work just outside American waters, which would be of incalculable value to Russian interests. This assertion was based upon the fact that Turkey will draw heavily upon American markets for her munitions of war and commissary stores, and that the fast sailing Russian vessels would be employed in running down and capturing these cargoes as the vessels carrying them attempt to leave American waters. It is also known that another Russian fleet is cruising along the coast of California, and there can be no doubt that it is on the same mission. All of the vessels sent to our shores by the Czar are fast sailers, and should England become interested in the struggle, these men-of-war would ravage English commerce.

It would not be a matter of surprise were complications to grow out of the presence of the fleet, which would necessitate extensive naval preparations on the part of the United States to prevent a violation of international obligations. The convention of 1854 between the United States and Russia, relative to the rights of neutrals, recognizes as permanent and immutable the principle that free ships make free goods, to the extent that the effects or goods belonging to subjects or citizens of a power or State at war, are free from capture and confiscation when found on board neutral vessels, with the exception of articles contraband of war. Whether the Russian fleet would assume to search American vessels suspected of carrying articles contraband of war the future will have to determine. It is certain, however, in such an event that the United States will exercise their authority to prevent the Russian fleet from making their harbors a base of operations from which to conduct a patrol of the high seas in search of American or any other vessels that might be suspected of coming within the terms of the convention.

Proclamation.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CONCORD, April 17, 1877.

Be it known, that I, Person C. Cheney, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, in obedience to the request of the Constitutional Convention of said State, holden in December, 1876, do hereby proclaim to the people of this State that the Constitution of the State is amended as provided for in the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, and Thirteenth propositions or questions, submitted by said Constitutional Convention to the qualified voters of the State at the annual town meeting in March last.

All the alterations and amendments in said Constitution covered by said several propositions or questions have been adopted and the Constitution is thus amended by the suffrages of more than two-thirds of the legal voters present at said town meeting, and voting upon said questions.

I further proclaim to the people of this State that the Constitution of the State is not amended, as provided for in the First and Twelfth propositions or questions submitted by said Convention to the qualified voters of the State at the annual town meeting in March last, as neither of these last-mentioned propositions or questions, nor the amendments in the Constitution covered by the same, were adopted by the suffrages of two thirds of the legal voters present at said town-meeting and voting upon said questions.

Given under my hand and the seal of said State, at the Council Chamber, this seventeenth day of April, A. D., 1877, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and first.

P. C. CHENEY.

By the Governor:

B. F. PRESCOTT, Sec'y of State.

Life in Louisiana.

The following account of a Louisiana murder, taken from the Alexandria Democrat, gives an idea of the state of society in the shot-gun parishes:

"On Thursday last there was a difficulty in Rapides Parish between John R. Hanks and Taylor Dyer, both white, which resulted in the death of Dyer. Hanks came to town and delivered himself up, had a preliminary examination before Judge Clements, and was released on bail in the sum of $500. The facts developed on the trial were briefly as follows: Hanks and Dyer had some words the night before and were to settle it the next morning at daylight. At daylight Dyer hunted Hanks up with a double-barrel shotgun and proposed to settle it. Hanks, without saying a word, rode off, and Dyer went to the store kept by Mr. Moore. Some hours afterward Hanks rode up to the store, and this time he, too, had a shotgun. He asked for Dyer, who was in the back room of the store, but parties interfered and Mr. Moore proposed to Hanks to give up his gun and for them to fight it out fisticuff. To this Hanks agreed, and gave up his gun to Mr. Moore. About this time Hanks was told that his wife bearing of his difficulty had fainted, and he got on his horse and started down toward Iggleswood. As he was riding off without his gun Dyer came out from the back part of the store, gun in hand. Hanks, after a scuffle with a Mr. Burgess who had his gun, got it again, but before he could fire Dyer fired at him, some of the shots raking through his clothes at his knee. Dyer then advanced some steps with his gun cocked and presented to fire a second time, when Hanks, who had advanced to a favorable position, fired, the load taking effect in Dyer's breast and killing him almost instantly."

Persons who imagine there is no law against murder—or at least no punishment for murderers—in Louisiana, will please take notice that the murderer in this case was promptly put under $500 bail; and the paper reporting the unpleasantness sternly says: "It was an unfortunate affair which could have been easily avoided by a resort to the old rough and tumble fight without using deadly weapons." Let us hear no more about life being unsafe in the South.

News and Notes.

Robert W. Dickie, seventeen years old, died in Bellevue Hospital, New York city, on the 17th, from hydrophobia (or fright) caused by the bite of a cat. Mr. Richardson, who died April 8th, was bitten by the same cat, as was also a horse which died of hydrophobia before Richardson was taken sick.

A convention of anti-Mormons at Salt Lake City has adopted a resolution urging the United States government to make an amendment of the act organizing Utah Territory, providing that "no person living in the practice of bigamy or polygamy shall be permitted to hold any office, or vote at any election, or to act as juror, and that all votes shall be by secret ballot." That would kill Mormonism as quick as the anti-Mormons would have been killed by the "destroying angels" twenty years ago, had they then dared give utterance to such sentiments. That they can talk so plainly now, and continue to live, shows that the Mormon power is broken.

European advices are warlike. It is said that Russia is negotiating an alliance with Persia, and the Shah is offering 50,000 men to join the army in Anatolia. The Cabinets at Vienna, Paris and London have, it is reported, notified Roumania that the privilege enjoyed under the treaty of Paris will become annulled in the event of that country's active co-operation with Russia. Hostilities have commenced around Nikish. The Turkish troops are very enthusiastic. The Porte has given the American squadron permission to pass the Dardanelles.

Hon. W. H. McLellan, democratic candidate for Congress against Eugene Hale of Maine, last fall, has begun a suit at Belfast against the stakeholders to recover money bet by him and others on the result of the Presidential election.

Mrs. Francis D. Moulton had her pocket-book snatched from her hand a few days ago in the street in New York. The thief, Albert Butler, was indicted, Mrs. Moulton appearing and testifying against him.

Col. S. S. Taylor of Cairo, Ill., has carried in his valise for many years when travelling a rope ladder and a thick pair of gloves. At the burning of the Southern Hotel at St. Louis, where he was a guest, the ladder and gloves saved his life.

In Pittsylvania county, Va., within the past four months four men have been murdered, one child drowned, and another man is now expected to die from wounds recently received. Four of the parties that committed murder are now confined in jail, two have been bailed and one made his escape and is now at large.

Edward S. Rand, Jr., a prominent and highly honored lawyer of Boston, was arrested Wednesday at Dedham, Mass., where he resides, and lodged in jail, on suspicion of embezzlement of trust funds. Mr. Rand had a splendid homestead at Dedham and a large residence at Mt. Desert, on which he lavished large sums as to cause his ruin.

The safe of the St. Louis Southern Hotel was recovered on Wednesday, with its contents unharmed. Later in the day the lofty walls were blown down, crushing the adjoining small buildings as if they had been egg shells. These buildings had been evacuated that morning, excepting one saloon, from which the police ejected the inmates only six minutes before the walls fell.

Hon. A. B. Foster, the Canadian railway king, has suspended payment. His liabilities are about $250,000.

Mrs. Schuyler, of Brooklyn, while en route to Boston, on the 16th, lost her daughter Minnie, aged thirteen, at Stamford, Conn., and she had not been found on the 19th.

The catch of herring at Eastport, Me., for the past two weeks, is the largest ever known. It is selling for seventy-five cents per barrel. A large number of Gloucester fishermen are there, getting bait.

It is hard to make an interesting victim out of A. Oakey Hall. Nevertheless, his fate is not an easy one, and as he wanders about the streets of the Notting Hill district in company with that middle-aged female with a wart under her left ear, he doubtless blames the cruelty of fortune which would not allow him to be a thief and a scoundrel and to continue in good repute at the same time. He made a longer struggle and fought harder to keep a decent reputation than his associates, but complete ignominy has overtaken him at last, and he is worse off than Tweed himself in his last complete surrender.—Providence Journal.

A sister of Gen. Meade was among the clerks dismissed from the pension office last week. She was once dismissed while Grant was President, but upon her application to him to be reinstated he indorsed her papers: "I think Gen. Meade has rendered his country enough distinguished service to entitle his sister to some consideration."

The Hartford Courant reports the death of a gentleman forty-seven years of age, who has been a subscriber to that journal for fifty years. He must have begun quite young.

All the conductors, baggage-masters and brakemen on the Reading division of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad have joined the engineers in their strike, but the passenger trains have generally got through on time. The freight business is obstructed, and there have been two fatal accidents; and the passengers on the road complain loudly that the new engineers are incompetent and untrustworthy. The Brotherhood of Engineers have issued an address setting forth that the Order is in nowise blameable for the strike, and that the action of the road in ordering its employees to sever their connection with the Order was an arbitrary and unwarrantable interference with the private affairs of the members.

The reported confession of Tweed which was published by the New York World a few mornings since turns out to be the work of a clever Bohemian named Don Cardan O'Brian Bryant, who also wrote the Tweed romance which was published in Harper's Weekly. He is a relative of some of the parties mixed up with the Tweed transaction in some of its stages, and probably knows as much of the secrets of the ring as any man entirely outside of it. He made use of all the current rumors and what facts he was able to obtain from one source and another, and exercising his judgment as to other matters, succeeded in writing up a story which had sufficient of truth in it to make quite a number of gentlemen anxious. That Tweed had anything to do with the story is generally discredited.

—Scene in Texas—hotel table—"Good morning, stranger; it looks like rain." Stranger—"I think not." A shot is heard, and the stranger is rolled out the back door.

—Sizing cloth has been carried to such an extent in England, that some of the manufacturers there make two pounds of cloth from one pound of cotton. In a paper recently read before the Society of Arts in London, the essayist said that what purported to be English cloth, was really a compound of flour, tallow and China clay with a little cotton to make it stick together. In this fact we find the explanation of the foreign demand for American cottons.

Two Irreconcilable Conditions.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a trifling, disorder of the system. Atony, or a want of nervous vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promote digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic protects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

One Live Tooth

is worth a dozen dead ones, and to secure the teeth from decay, it is only necessary to use the Fragrant Sozodont. The odor of this pure preparation is so delightful, that it is a luxury to apply it, and its beneficial effect upon the teeth is marvellous.

Emerson Tennent in his history of Ceylon, gives Dr. Kelaart's conclusions from his investigations of the habits of the pearl-oyster in the Indian ocean near Ceylon, one of which was that the pearl-oyster migrates if at any time circumstances make it necessary, such as to escape foul water, or to search for food, etc. It can sever its byssus and re-form it at pleasure, so as to migrate and moor itself in favorable situations. Does not the edible oyster have the same capacity for migration and is not this the probable way they get into the upper part of Great Bay, and thus have given the community in the vicinity an abundance of the delicious oysters?

New Hampshire Items.

The forty-eighth annual session of the New Hampshire Methodist General Conference, Jesse T. Peck, D. D., presiding Bishop, commenced Wednesday morning. Silas E. Quinby was elected Secretary. In the afternoon the annual sermon was preached by Rev. E. Wilkins. In the evening an address was delivered by Rev. J. M. Durell on Conference Services.

The Exeter News-Letter says Chief Justice Doe will send in his resignation soon, having accepted the office only temporarily, and having notified the Governor and Council to that effect when he accepted. The new amendments will increase the duties of the bench to such a degree as, probably, to require the appointment of an additional judge, if not two judges, jury trials being superseded in all cases under $100. As most of these cases will be investigated by depositions, the bare reading of them will entail a large amount of labor upon the court.

The residence of the late William Brickett at Hampstead Depot, and two barns, were totally destroyed by fire on the afternoon of the 18th, together with all the contents. A house and barn belonging to Amos Buck, situated near by, were also destroyed, with part of the contents. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Serious charges have been brought against Assistant City Marshal Stackpole, of Dover, which will probably cause his removal from office. At the time of his election there was strong opposition to him and he was elected by only one majority. He is accused of receiving pay twice for going to Lowell to arrest a man, and of other irregularities.

The brick schoolhouse in district No. 3 at Peterborough was burned Thursday afternoon. It was caused by a defective chimney.

A whirlwind passed over the northerly section of the town of Hopkinton on the 16th, being of such force as to rouse people with its roaring and to be seen for a distance of a mile or more. It moved toward the southeast, and in crossing the Contoocook river raised a water spout six feet in height.

The City Government of Dover have commenced a war on the dogs which will put an end to many of them. The law of the city requires that all dogs be licensed, and also have collars on their necks. But few dogs have yet been licensed, and the police are fast killing them when found on the streets without collars.

At the annual meeting of the trustees of the State Agricultural College, at Manchester on Wednesday, three professorships were established and the following officers elected: President, George N. Nesmith of Franklin; Secretary, Joseph Kidder of Manchester; Treasurer, Frederick Smyth of Manchester.

Considerable excitement and indignation prevail among the Irish population at Suncook, owing to the refusal of a French Catholic priest, Rev. N. N. Hardy, to allow the use of the church for a Hibernian funeral ceremony. The procession, headed by Hildredth's Cornet Band, and the Suncook Order of Hibernians in full regalia, reached the church and was met by the priest, who refused them admission and locked the doors. The remains were carried to the cemetery and interred.

There is to be a musical festival in Dover, next week, which is expected to excel anything of the kind ever held in this part of New Hampshire. The Temple Quartette and other noted singers from Boston will be present, besides the best talent of the State. The festival will begin Tuesday and continue four days.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald thus gives what "is said" to be the reason Col. Daniel Hall got the appointment of Naval Officer at Boston: "The appointment of Mr. Hall to the Naval office at Boston is said to be made for several reasons. The fact that he kept the New Hampshire delegation in the Cincinnati Convention from being solid for Blaine has an important bearing upon the case. The New Hampshire delegates came to Washington last June, on their way to Cincinnati, and called upon Mr. Blaine. The latter was then informed that all the delegates, with the possible exception of Governor Straw, were for him for President; but before the Convention met, Noyes of Ohio, who was originally a New Hampshire man, got hold of Hall and dissuaded him and another delegate from voting for Blaine. The result was that three votes were given for Bristow on the first ballot, and the delegation stood seven for Blaine and three for Bristow, until Hayes was nominated. This was a serious blow to Blaine and a great service to Hayes."

The constitutional amendments which were adopted by the people of New Hampshire at the late election are to go into effect at a time to be fixed by the Legislature, which assembles in June. There can be no doubt that the election will be held in November, 1878, when the next elections for members of Congress are held. It is a question whether in that case there would be another election next spring. Should there be no election then it would devolve upon the present Legislature to choose a Senator to succeed Hon. Bainbridge Wadleigh. This will render the coming session more than ordinarily interesting and important.—Boston Herald.

The Manchester National Bank is to have two new vaults built, the one above the other, having walls two feet thick and a four inch air space in the centre. The lower vault will contain the books of the institution and be fire-proof, while the other will be calculated to defy the most enterprising burglar.

A serious accident occurred on the 7th inst. to Mr. N. J. Hayden, at Hollis. While attempting to hang a carpet upon a pole used for swinging purposes, the pole gave way and he fell a distance of twenty-five feet, injuring him internally, and his recovery is considered doubtful.

A seven-years-old daughter of Mr. Charles O. Hall of Croydon, while walking in a cemetery in that town, had one of her legs broken by a marble tablet falling from its pedestal and crushing her to the ground.

Political.

A letter written to Samuel J. Tilden by Charles Francis Adams, dated March 5th, in which Adams speaks of President Hayes as "the person," says he "must forever carry upon his brow the stamp of fraud," and intimates that no matter how good a President he may be he should be condemned, has just been published. So the few republican papers are indignant at Adams' display of egotism, but such indignation is uncalled for; for Charles Francis only means that Mr. Hayes, not having been endorsed by the Adams family of Massachusetts, (who are presumed to have created the Creator,) therefore cannot be a gentleman, an honest man or a sensible one. It is only Mr. Adams' way of saying that the Adams family monopolize the brains and honor of the United States—that's all.

Secretary Manning of South Carolina, under instruction from Gen. Wade Hampton, at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning sealed the office doors of all the State offices. Four constables were placed on duty to guard the doors. This was considered by many, even of his supporters, as a violation of the pledge that he would rely on the action of the courts, suits for the possession of the offices being now in progress.

That portion of the democratic press conspicuously deficient in sense, doubtless thinks it a bit of political shrewdness to continually speak of President Hayes as "his fraudulency," the "usurper," and the like, and to have every day day an editorial loaded to the guards with abuse of him, to say nothing of the allusions here, there and everywhere in the paper. This same portion of the press will not take advice from the News, so we put it in the shape of a prophecy, to wit: This course if persisted in, while it may make the red-nosed and moused-backed among the faithful roar with pleasure, will disgust every intelligent citizen and drive them from the support of a party whose political pleasantries have such a nauseous twang of lawlessness. Four years from now the men who gave Tilden his quarter of a million popular majority, will be found wedded into a compact opposition to any democratic candidate who shall be representative of the counsels which control the present course of the ribald press and endorse its sentiments.—Indianapolis News (ind.)

The Tribune announces that Col. Pride, Stamp Agent at New York, formerly of Grant's staff, has been superseded by Col. Chambers, an ex-Confederate.

It is now questioned if Charles Francis Adams ever wrote any such letter as was published recently in the New York Sun. The fact that the Sun says Adams did write it is about the strongest proof that he did not that could be adduced.

The Supreme Court of California has issued a peremptory writ of mandate to the Secretary of State to issue to Pacheco, republican candidate for Congress in the fourth district, his certificate.

The New York Mail rather questions the statement of Mr. Adams in his letter to Mr. Tilden to the effect that the present Chief Magistrate is the first whose elevation to office was stamped by fraud. It remarks that a good many Jackson men entertained the same opinion respecting the method by which Mr. Adams' father was made President in 1824.

How Mrs. Hayes Looks.

Mrs. Hayes is of medium height and squarely built. Here head and features are large. So is her waist, and her hands and feet are in proportion. She has a magnificent suit of hair. It is so heavy and black, and is dressed so smoothly, and in the daytime it looks dark and precise in contrast with her clear olive complexion. The most prominent feature of her face is the mouth, which is large (the jaw is as broad as a man's) and conspicuously filled with strong white teeth. The lips are particularly firm and full, with the jaw indicating decision of character and an ardent temperament. The forehead is broad and smooth, and the eyebrows are regular. The eyes are large but deeply set, and are of that peculiar gray which does not mean a twilight depth of blue, or an azure light of gray. They are a decided gray, admitting of all the steel tints from that of cold metal to the gleam and glitter of the polished ore. In the glow of intense feeling such as animated her on inauguration day and at her first public reception, her eyes looked as black as night, and they had a luster such as is rarely seen. She made no effort to conceal her delight.—Cincinnati Commercial.

—In the language of the tramps the letter "H" on the gate-post means that the residents will give the caller a handful of grub; "S" that he will get a seat at the table; "S M" that he will get a square meal, and "G B" that he will get the "grand bounce." Now that the secret is out let every householder hit himself to his gate-post and dig in letters deep and that cannot be misunderstood the mystic sign "G B." Here at last is the complete solution of the tramp problem.—Chicago Journal.

—Sir William Grant, the very learned Master of the Rolls, was a native of the county of Banff, and for a considerable time represented that county in Parliament. Though a most forcible and easy speaker, scarcely inferior to any of his time, at the bar or in Parliament, he was a remarkably silent man. He was the most patient of judges. The story is well known of his hearing an elaborate and lengthened argument for two days on the meaning of an act of Parliament, and, when the counsel finished, simply saying, "Gentlemen, the act is repealed."

—Some detonating gun-cotton rockets, the joint invention of Mr. Prentice and Messrs. Brook, were tried recently at Stowmarket, England. They are intended to act as fog-signals for use on board ships and at lighthouses. The effect of the density of the atmosphere, or of sonorous fog, is rendered apparent by these rockets, which are scarcely heard at a distance of two miles and a half at the sea level, but when they burst at an altitude of nine hundred yards, the report is heard as a thunder-like peal for a distance of ten miles.

—It is related that the late Ross Winans secured a whole square in Baltimore, on which he built an elegant house. He laid his grounds out in fine taste and filled them with statuary and ornaments, and threw them open to the public. Some of his neighbors, not being accustomed to unrobed statuary, made a complaint against Mr. Winans. Thereupon he went to work and built a strong, close wall of brick, high enough and strong enough for a penitentiary, which turned the whole of the delightful neighborhood into a deformity. The wall remains standing to this day.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Toxic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG—My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such account."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

Seed Grain.

It will pay to sow the very best seed of all kinds, as I know from trial. I clean it thoroughly through the fanning mill, to get all the weed seed and small and light grain from the heavy, and have a side spout for the mill, so I can take out the heavy, dump grain and sow the very best and keep it free from weed seed. There will always be enough volunteer weeds without sowing them, and if farmers generally would be more particular about seed grain, they would get well paid for it. The grain will grow taller, the heads longer and yield more. It is just as necessary to take the best grain for seed as it is to take the choice corn or potatoes, or to select the best cattle, horses and hogs to breed from. Now, when we probably will now and then have a leisure day, is a very good time to prepare seed grain and not wait until we are crowded with spring work. If we wait until we want to sow it, the chances are that it will not be cleansed so well, and perhaps not at all. Don't put it off.—Country Gentleman.

—It is asserted that the reason why the British government declined to produce the correspondence which took place relative to the entry of captain the Hon. A. C. Hobart into the Turkish navy, is that the correspondence was somewhat remarkable in tone. Quoth the admiralty by telegraph, "If you do not quit the service of the Sultan, your name will be scratched out of the navy list." Telegram from Captain Hobart in reply, "Scratch and be blowed."

ESTABLISHED IN 1853.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG, SUCCESSOR TO Dr. TELLER, DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1853 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 29 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificent furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Available out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

COMMON PAPERS-FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR! THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an organized Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and Naturalize the Best Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes a considerable portion of its space to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, Poultry Yard, Apiary, Bee Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-digested review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. Was time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to your agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; and I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would so too bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. About time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had; or you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PI. LS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I cross I do not know how many physicians, and spent a good deal of money, but I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. M. M. Modlin, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that one dose will do the work and will cure my body. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrod, Sulpur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves to anyone that will give them a fair trial. Send those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Mary Duhak is the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cureative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCIDE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

1877. ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE. THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Mark Hunter, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

CERTIFICATE OF SUPERVISORS OF DRAWING.

This is to certify that the first drawing of the Kentucky Cash Distribution Company took place on the 6th of December in Masonic Hall, Frankfort, Ky., in our presence and under our immediate supervision.

We further state that every ticket, and part of ticket, that had been sold, were represented in the wheel, and that the drawing was fairly and honestly continued. We further state that we had no interest whatever in the enterprise, nor any connection with the same, except in the character of supervisors, whose sole duty was to protect the interest of the the ticket holders and to preside over the drawing. Hon. Alvin Duvall, late Chief Justice Sup. Court of Ky.; James G. Bond sr., Chairman Board of School Trustees; Grant Green, Cashier Farmers' Bank of Kentucky; Hon. S. I. M. Major, Public Printer State of Kentucky; Hon. Thomas C. Jones, Clerk of Sup. Court of Kentucky; Judge A. A. Thompson, Presiding Judge Franklin Co. Court; James G. Crockett, Clerk Franklin County Court.

Remittances can be made by Mail, Express, Draft, P. O. Order or Registered Letter, made payable to G. W. Harrow & Co.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is also eminently learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The purest circle in society is not polluted by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMERS PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the strongest standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advancement of science and the power as of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

—It is claimed that iron can be so prepared as to permanently resist the action of rust. If this claim prove true, the discovery will rank among the most important ones of this age of iron. It would revive the waning confidence in iron bridges and give a fresh impulse to the building of iron ships.

—A Chicago father, who is opposed to card playing, entered his kitchen a few evenings since and caught his son dealing from a pack of cards. He quickly seized the pack, threw it in the stove and left the room. As the door closed behind him that son seized a pair of tongs, pulled the cards from the stove, laid them on the floor, and the way he "stood on that burning deck" was enough to have made poor Casablanca hand over the belt, if he had been present.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it has effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, N. H., testifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1876.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

SATURDAY, APRIL 21, 1877.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.

We had just got comfortably settled down to a contemplation of our enviable national prospects as compared with distracted Europe, when the old Boss hurls his bombshell from his parlors where he has remained a guest of the city since his return from his European tour, among the politicians, some fragments of which reached as far southward as Washington. But beg your readers not to do us the injustice of supposing we are dependent upon alien communities for startling sensations. The latest of domestic origin, and which is having similar effect upon some of our ex and present officials as Tweed's has had on his fair weather friends, relates to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Treasury Department, otherwise known as the official Botany Bay of the Departments here.

A discharge of about 300 employees from it to-day will bring despair to many who have found it difficult to keep the wolf from their doors in the past, and it is said that a still further reduction of one or two hundred is contemplated on the 1st of May. The Secretary has deemed it incumbent upon him to make some explanation of this wholesale decapitation; and while he is very careful to place the odium of mismanagement on no one in particular, his statements will go far to confirm the truth of many of the scandals heard in the past relative to the management of this Bureau.

Among the charges often heard against a late Superintendent who "bossed" its affairs for five or six years, were those of a system of favoritism and the exercise of a petty tyranny that is the reproach of many of the Departments. He seems to have been responsible to no one but himself, and is said to have regulated the pay of the employees according to the details of his own partiality or those of "influential" members of Congress and other powerful officials, who are claimed to have had the places crammed to repletion with their male proteges and female friends; and the discharge of nearly a half of the entire force within a month, invests these stories with an air of great probability.

It is alleged further that many of the hardest workers of the female employees received the lowest rates of compensation, because deficient in influence. On the other hand it is a subject of common report that some of those receiving the highest salaries were rarely seen about the building except on pay day; or if they were in attendance, they were applied to ornamental uses rather than the legitimate work of the Bureau. Still another charge has been to the effect that in more than one case have the hard worked, poorly paid girls been required to pay to the preferred bummers a certain per centage of their pittance each month, it being tacitly understood that if they refused or turned informers they would lose their places; and that the whole machinery of the government of the Bureau has been so prostituted that it was not difficult to discredit any statements that those mutinously inclined might dare to make.

The fact is a good deal of "reform" can be utilized in the Departments here. The work cannot begin too soon, and it would not be any damage to the service to extend it upwards to the higher grade of officials and not confine it exclusively to clerks, who are too often made the scapegoats of their superiors. I have devoted considerable space to this matter, and beg your permission to make some statements relative to the methods in vogue among the "counters," in a future letter.

We are still excited over European rumors. As one of the first fruits of the expected war, we have to pay six, instead of five cents, as heretofore, for every loaf of bread consumed. It is now believed here that war cannot be averted, and its formal declaration is looked for with every cable dispatch.

The new Board of Police Commissioners seem to be in earnest in their efforts to break down the gambling dens that have disgraced our city so long. KNOX.

News and Notes.

Mr. Sanford's American filly Donna won the handicap plate at the Newmarket races, England, on the 18th. The betting was twenty to one against the winner, and the favorite came in seventh.

Just before the convening of the United States Circuit Court, in Portland, Oregon, on the 18th, Dr. Ralph Wilcox, Clerk of the Court, commited suicide in his office, by shooting himself through the head. He was a pioneer of the State, had filled many positions of trust, and left a note stating that drink was the cause of the suicide.

Mrs. Frina of Naugatuck, Conn., tried to extinguish the flame of a kerosene lamp by blowing down the chimney, was very badly burned by the explosion and spreading of the flames which ensued, and died the same night in great agony. Her husband was badly burned in trying to save her, and the neighbors came in too late to render her any aid.

Schooner J. M. Leonard, of Fall River, Capt. Crowley, from Philadelphia for Providence, was run into and sunk, Tuesday evening, the 17th, in a thick fog, twenty miles west of Shinnecock, by British steamship Arragon, from New York for Bristol, England. The vessel sunk in five minutes. The captain and crew, seven in number, were picked up by the steamship, transferred to a pilot-boat, and again to a schooner, which has reached New York.

German barque Oudel, from Doboy, Ga., for Elsinore, was disabled at sea in a gale on the 19th inst. The crew, thirteen in number, lashed themselves on the forecastle and remained there four days without food or water, when they were taken off by steamer New Orleans and carried into New York, where they arrived on the 19th.

President Hayes entertained the Russian Grand Dukes, Alexis and Constantine, at a State dinner Thursday evening.

John Farrell, bartender in a Hanover street saloon in Boston, was arrested on Thursday on a charge of outraging a Swedish woman named Adelia Peterson, who went into the saloon in the evening. He was held in $2000.

An explosion and inundation at the Troedyhiw colliery at Pontypridd, Wales, on Wednesday, April 11th, imprisoned nine men behind a column of coal forty yards thick. Continuous operations for their rescue resulted in opening communication with them on the 19th. Five were found alive. Four wandered to other parts of the mine and it is believed perished.

John Ruel was found in a canal at Blackstone, Mass., Thursday, dead, and probably murdered. John Lodrell, a fellow workman in the mill, is suspected.

It is stated ex-President Luther W. Frost of the Continental Life Insurance Company is in Europe, and has begun negotiations as to what terms he will be allowed to return to New York. Rufus C. Frost is doing the same. The latter was Vice President of the Continental.

They do say that certain New Bedford skippers have been hanging around the Russian officers in New York, seeking to know whether there is to be any "Alabama business," in case England takes a hand in the coming war. Yankee skippers have long memories.—Transcript.

Congress passed a joint resolution at the close of the last session directing the President to select a suitable site in the harbor of New York for Bartholdi's colossal statue of Liberty Enlightening the World. After some hesitation between Governor's Island and Bedloe's Island, the latter has been selected, and it was evacuated by the garrison on Thursday. The Lighthouse Board will assume charge of the statue when it shall have been erected as a beacon light.

The Governor of Maine has pardoned Patrick H. McCloskey of Bethel, sentenced to life imprisonment for rape; Rufus Littlefield of Kennebunk, the same; Samuel A. Frazier of New York, sentenced to six years for robbery, and Cornelius Mehan, four years for larceny.

Political.

Despatches from New Orleans, Thursday evening, reported the Nicholls legislature as having secured a quorum in both branches. This establishes the supremacy of the bull-dozers, and shows that the shotgun is mightier than the returning board.

A third attempt of the city of Providence, R. I., to complete its delegation in the State legislature, was made on Thursday, and resulted as follows: for Senator—Tillinghast, repub., 2170, Davis, dem., 2416; for Representative—Rhodes 2053, Spooner 2391—both republicans. Tillinghast and Rhodes were the regular republican candidates, but were defeated by the democrats and freerum republicans, led by Gov. Lippitt and Chairman Dawley of the republican city committee of Providence.

Mr. Charles Francis Adams has written a letter to Mr. Tilden which shows that he coincides with Beebe and Springer and other democratic statesmen in their views about Mr. Hayes' title. Mr. Tilden may how regret that he did not inject Mr. Adams into the House in the place of Mr. Field. He would have made fillibustering majestic, and never would have danced on his desk.—Tribune.

New Hampshire Items.

Joseph P. Stickney, an old and highly respected resident of Concord, died Thursday morning, aged eighty years, nine months. The deceased endured amputation of the left hand a few days since, because of cancer that had made much progress, which hastened his death. He was one of the five children of Thomas Stickney, and a grandson of Col. Thomas Stickney, of Revolutionary fame. He was a large-hearted, generous citizen, and did much to promote the prosperity of the city. In the days of stages he was largely interested in staging, and widely known throughout New Hampshire as a man of sterling integrity and moral worth. The Stickney family were among the early settlers of Concord, and the name is closely identified with the history of the place. The deceased was twice married, and leaves two children.

The following story is traveling the rounds. It should be accompanied by a physician's certificate: "A rare event has occurred in New London, N. H. A healthy girl child was born of Mrs. Edwin Messer, Sept. 2, 1876, and a well developed, living boy, Jan. 27, 1877, the births being four months and twenty-five days apart."

The Manchester mills are making a coal bin 300 by 50 feet, with the capacity of 12,000 tons. A railroad track will run through the centre of it, on trestles, from which the coal will be dumped.

Sumner Bemis, while shovelling sawdust in E. Buttrick & Co.'s mill at Troy, Thursday, was caught by a set screw and his arm torn off, and he was horribly mangled otherwise. He lived about two hours. He was 62 years of age.

A very old copper coin, about the size of a half-penny, was lately found in Chester. The obverse side bears a crowned figure, date 1559, and the legible part of the inscription reads: "Henri do France." On the reverse side is the word "France" in large letters, and three lilies, the symbol of royalty.

Stebbins' Block at Hinsdale was burned on Friday. Loss $10,000; insurance $7000.

—Mr. A. M. Swoope has been appointed internal revenue collector in Kentucky. Thus with one Swoope the President comes down on the people.

—A Pennsylvania woman who went to Kansas a few years ago writes back that she has done as well as could be expected under the circumstances. She has had three husbands, two pairs of twins and the ague.

—Holyoke, Mass., boasts a woman who, married for the first time at fourteen, has had seven husbands, four of whom are dead, two divorced and the seventh now living with her. Local theologians are bothering as to whose wife she shall be in the resurrection.

—Laura D. Fair, the San Francisco manslayer, was recently in Court as defendant in a lawsuit, and a reporter asserts that every spectator dodged whenever she put her hand in her pocket to get her handkerchief. They thought she was reaching for a pistol.

—It was stated, and generally believed that a live princess was visiting friends in Baltimore, but now it turns out that instead of being the daughter of King Louis of Bavaria and Lola Montez, she is only the wife of the foreman of a composing room in a French newspaper office.

—An effort to make Good Friday a business holiday was promptly voted down at the New York gold exchange, and also at the Chicago board of trade. The dealers can't see what Good Friday or any other thing religious has to do with "puts" and "calls," and neither can anybody else.

"The Age of Reason."

The boy who went to the mill on horseback, carrying the grist in one end of the bag and a stone in the other, when reproved by the miller, and told to divide the grist, replied that his father and grandfather had carried it that way, and he, being no better than they, would continue to do as they did. Similar, or equally as absurd, reasons are accounted as sufficient by some to warrant them in indiscriminately condemning Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines, even though there is overwhelming proof that they possess the merit claimed by them. For many years the Golden Medical Discovery has been recognized as the leading liver and blood medicine in the market. Each year has brought an increase in its sale, and it is now used throughout the civilized world. Thousands of unsolicited testimonials are on file in the Doctor's office, attesting its efficacy in overcoming aggravated coughs, colds, throat and lung affections, also scrofula, tumors, ulcers, and skin diseases. Are you suffering with some chronic malady? If so, and you wish to employ medicines that are scientifically prepared; that are refined and purified by the chemical process employed in their manufacture; that are positive in their action, and specific to the various forms of disease for the cure of which they are recommended, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Full particulars in Pierce's Memorandum Book, kept for free distribution by all druggists.

MEMORIAL DAY.

All persons interested in a suitable observance of Memorial Day are requested to meet at the Common Council Room at half-past seven o'clock, Tuesday evening, April 24th. A full attendance is desirable, as the time for preparation is brief.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

On Tuesday, the 17th, a man accompanied by a young, slightly formed girl, got into the band-stand at the rear of the police station, and then and there the couple proceeded to fare sumptuously on a lobster. Having no reason to suppose them anything but ordinary tramps, the police merely took a good look at them and let them severely alone; and after they had reduced the lobster to such a condition that it would have broken the heart of any street dog who might have found it, the feasters went their way unmolested. Some hours later the police received warning to look out for this very pair, who are "wanted" in Vermont and other places, the advices stating that the man is Frank Blake, who stole a team in Sharon, Vt., last summer, kidnapping and carrying off with him "a simple-minded girl named Dyer." The couple have slept in barns and woods, and Blake has stolen horses and goods various places. One of his last exploits was stealing a horse belonging to William Hunt at East Salisbury, Mass. That the pair had been in this city was promptly made known to the officers of surrounding towns, and on Wednesday they were discovered in a field at Salisbury; the man took to the woods and escaped, but the girl was captured and brought to this city, Blake having told her that if he got into trouble at any time he should come here and she was to follow him. She was lodged in the station house all night, and taken away by the officers on Thursday, Mr. Blake not having put in an appearance. Notwithstanding her having been "kidnapped" and being "simple-minded," the girl evidently did not desire to say anything to injure her paramour, nor did she give any information of value; and her story as to Blake's plans was probably only a "blind." The fellow can hardly keep clear of the police much longer, and when caught will go up for a good long term. Evidence has been procured showing that it was he who left horses in a famishing condition in a field about a mile from Newburyport, and he is also the thief who took Mr. James A. Rand's horse at Breakfast Hill on the night of the 15th, which horse was also found hitched in the woods.

CITY AFFAIRS

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, protest of Frank Jones and others against the passage of the bill relating to the removal of night soil was accepted. A message was received that the Common Council non-concured in the Aldermen's amendment to the bill entitled "an ordinance relating to the removal of night soil." The question was then stated to be "Do the Aldermen adhere to their amendment to said bill?," and it was voted to adhere.

John H. Grant's complaint of the grade of the common sewer in Brewster street, and the petition of Jos. P. Morse to be appointed constable, were referred to the proper committees.

The Mayor, to whom was refered the subject of Harry J. Freeman's execution against the city, reported the Solicitor's opinion.

Voted, That the execution be paid when there are funds appropriated to pay it.

Voted, that the Mayor be directed to present the city's claim for payment of above to the Eastern Railroad.

The following preamble and resolution, passed by the Common Council and sent up, was read and passed in concurrence:

Whereas, The General Court of the State of New Hampshire, by an act approved July 7th 1871 authorized any town or city to exempt from taxation for a term not exceeding ten years any establishment therein or proposed to be erected therein, and the capital used in operating the same for the manufacture of fabrics of cotton, wool, wood, iron, or any other material; and

Whereas, The City of Portsmouth possesses unsurpassed advantages for many manufactures; and

Whereas, The City Councils of said city desire that such advantages should be developed and that manufactures of every kind should be established within said city; therefore,

Voted, by the City Councils of the city of Portsmouth, that manufacturers of fabrics of cotton, wool, wood, iron or any other material, are invited to put into operation within this city, establishments for carrying on such manufactures; and that this city will vote to exempt from taxation for a term of ten years any such establishment, and the capital used operating the same, which may be so put into operation prior to the first day of January, 1887, with a working capital exceeding five thousand dollars, application being first made to the Board of Aldermen and their approval obtained.

In the matter of the Petition of the Portsmouth Trust and Guaranty Company to the Supreme Court for abatement of the tax assessed upon them by this city in 1876, to be heard at the present term, it was Voted, That the Mayor be requested to see that the city is properly represented at said hearing.

The Board heard all parties who appeared relative to the petition of Franklin K. Brown and others for a new highway from North street to the foot of Jackson Hill street, and the petition was referred to committee, to report the cost of the same.

Repairs of pound were referred to Mayor, with power.

Application of B. F. Webster for purchase of a part of the City Farm was referred to joint committee on city lands and buildings; sent to Common Council for concurrence. The same action was had on the application of John Grant for the purchase of Lot No. 10 of the City Farm.

The application of James Lowery for purchase of a lot in Cotton's Burying Ground was referred to joint committee on burying grounds. Sent to Common Council for concurrence.

The committee on fire department reported that a new boiler can be put in the steamer Sagamore for $1050 and extra charges, or the steamer can be put in complete repair and warranted perfect and as good as new at a sum not to exceed $1750.

Voted, That the committee on fire department, with the Chief Engineer added, are authorized to make a written contract for the complete repair of the steamer Sagamore for the sum of $1750 or less.

City Marshal's quarterly report was approved.

Voted. That the City Marshal be ordered to enforce that part of the city ordinances which requires the removal of night-soil in water tight and covered carts.

Voted, That the committee on fire department, with Chief Engineer added, be requested to ascertain the cost of building a salt-water reservoir near the distillery on Christian Shore, and report at the next meeting.

Adjourned for one week.

JOTTINGS.

On Wednesday. Mr. Wm. F. Grant, of Noble's Island, who has been at work on a bridge in Boston, had his right arm shattered by the falling weight of a pile-driver. The arm was so badly injured as to necessitate its amputation at the elbow.

The ownership of the pair of pants picked up off the Shoals some weeks ago by fishing schooner Mary S. Roundy has been traced. They belonged to one of the crew of schooner Abbott Lawrence, which vessel was run down and sunk off Boon Island by an unknown schooner.

The Governor and Council of Maine have assessed the tax against the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad for the current year at $8920; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, $206. The Boston & Maine has to pay $18,686, the Maine Central $3381, and the St. Croix & Penobscot $25.

The Hotel Devonshire of New York is a spick and span bran-new first-class hotel. Every room is bright and cheerful, well ventilated, and elegantly furnished. It is located just across the street from the Grand Central Depot, where every traveler may stop without having to hire a carriage. It is kept on the European plan, and the scale of prices is very moderate. Don't fail to give it a trial on your next visit to the city.

The city of Portsmouth has been punished for raising the grade of Albany street and permitting an iron railroad track to be lain in the same, $150. The raising was done to accommodate the laying of a track to the Jones Brewery at the request of the Eastern Railroad, but the railroad declines to pay the damages which have been awarded by the commissioner. The land is owned by Mr. Jones, but at the actual laying out was the property of Harry J. Freeman.

In addition to the ten-mile road race between Woodbury Locke's chestnut horse "Kauoza Boy" and Frank W. Hilton's horse "Julius Cæsar," to come off between this city and the Union House, Hampton, on or about May 14th, arrangements have been completed for another contest between the same animals to take place May 26th, on the Dover trotting course, "good day and good track," in a five-mile dash, for $250 a side, $100 forfeit, which money is now up.

The American House, Boston, needs no recommendation to the generality of travelers, but it may not be amiss to tell those who are contemplating their first visit to the "Hub" that no hotel in that city is better than the "American." It is convenient to all lines of travel as well as the business portion of the city, and no effort is spared to maintain the high rank the House has held so long.

Fishing schooners Grace Choate and Rover's Bride are fitting out for the Banks, at Tredick's wharf.

There has been a material advance in the market price of shares in the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad, arrangements having been entered into by which the payment of the existing debts is provided for and permanent six per cent. dividends are assured. The stockholders will be called together early in May to ratify the proceedings of the Directors in this respect.

The large brick building on State street formerly occupied by Mr. Thos. S. Nowell as a shoe manufactory, with all the machinery, etc., contained therein, was sold at auction on Friday by Col. William H. Hackett, by order of the assignee of J. C. Carr, bankrupt. The building was bid off by Samuel S. Fryo for $5325. The entire property did not bring much more than $6000; cost about $25,000.

Some destructive and thievish scamp or scamps on Thursday night broke into the Spring Market and stole a quantity of fresh fish—perhaps a hundred pounds or so. To effect an entrance a window in the rear was smashed in, sash and all, the thieves evidently operating from a boat.

While Mr. J. Brooks' store-wagon was backed up to the North Mill recently, standing half-way across the road-way, a runaway team came along and capsized the whole concern, turning horse and wagon fairly upside down and pouring out all the bags of meal, but fortunately doing no harm to speak of.

Schooners Light of Home and Charlie, of Doane's fishing fleet, were ready to sail for the Banks on Thursday, but are detained by the bad weather.

A photograph of the ship Frank Jones, as she lies on the rocks at the entrance to San Francisco bay, is attracting considerable attention in the window of Buzzell's book and fancy goods store.

The female residents of South Hampton own more than two-thirds of the taxable property of the town, and know how to take care of their property, and yet complain that they cannot utter a word in any town election or say how or in what manner the money raised by taxation shall be appropriated, and they pay the larger part of the expenses of the town. This is "taxation without representation" to an extent not shown by any other town in New England.

James Redpath on the Southern Situation.

In response to Mr. Howard, ex-Sheriff of Jefferson county, Mississippi, who asked him what he thought of President Hayes and his policy, James Redpath has written a characteristic letter, in which he bitterly condemns the course thus far pursued by the administration in dealing with the Southern question. He thinks that Hayes is honest enough and means well. "But" to quote Mr. Redpath's language, "as Buckle has shown, the greatest ills that have come to man, through governments, have been inflicted by conscientious rulers—men of excellent intentions, like good little Hayes. As Lincoln will be known as the Liberator of the Slaves, and Grant as the Preserver of the Union, so Hayes will be remembered as the Betrayer of the Southern republicans."

The republican party, as far as President Hayes represents it, is, according to Mr. Redpath, "a leprous Lazarus, whining for the votes that fall from the Southern democratic table." Mr. Redpath, after dwelling upon what he regards as the lapse of the republican party from its old principles, says that "as far as the Gulf States go, the President of the United States is not Rutherford B. Hayes in the White House, but a decrepit old man, wasted and worn in body, but still vigilant and acute in mind, who lies on his sick bed in a committee room at the Capitol—Alexander H. Stephens. Stephens dictates, Hayes executes."

Coming to the consideration of the second question of his correspondent, Mr. Redpath says: "For myself, I propose to remain in the republican party, to do my part to purge it from the thieves on the one hand and the pedagogues on the other hand who now infest it; but if I were a negro and in the South, I should join the democratic party at once and vote for its candidates wherever they were reputable men. If they (the colored men) were to do so in a body, what would be the result? Absolute protection, to begin with, in their rights of life and property. They would not be driven from their homes by the thousands as they were driven into the highways of South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana, because of their loyalty to the republican party. The democratic negro is the safest male creature that I know of in the Gulf States. All other males must fight for themselves. For him, only, every white shotgun is ready to do battle to the death!"

After adding that the advice he gives has the endorsement of Wendell Phillips and Senator Bruce, Mr. Redpath says:

"But if I could lead the blacks, I would say to them still further—pay less attention to politics and seek power through business. Become the Jews of America. There are two great policies, both for men and races—Force and Conciliation. The Anglo-Saxon race fights. The Jewish race conciliates. Both have become great powers by policies entirely opposite. The black race cannot fight. It would be exterminated if it tried that policy. * * * Cease to array yourself against the whites in politics, but at the same time quietly and everywhere and always insist on the right of securing an education for your children. Securing that right your children will secure all others by and by."

A Queer Custom.

From a recent article on French etiquette we learn of a custom wich marks more forcibly than any peculiarity of which we have read, the difference between the Gallic and the Anglo-Saxon character. It appears that it is not quite the thing for a widow to contract a second marriage until her year of mourning expires, but she may lawfully do so at the end of ten months. She lays aside her weeds for the ceremony, but resumes them at its close, and, mirabile dictu, the new spouse also puts on mourning for his predecessor, not, as might be inferred, because he repents of his bargain, but as a mark of respect for number one. We never could see why a second husband should be jealous of a first one, but going into mourning for him will strike the average American man as an absurd way of striking the balance between joy and grief, an excess of sentiment. As men have made the laws they have been more lenient toward themselves than toward women, as while the widow must wait ten months before marrying the second time, the widower may marry as soon as he pleases, although to do so before six months elapses after his bereavement would be counted unseemly haste. Neither does it appear that the bride of a widower wears mourning for the dead wife. —Exchange.

—A Texas stage robber has been caught, and has employed a lawyer who was one of his latest victims to defend him.

—This is all that a French critic can make out of William Black's "Madcap Violet." "This reckless maiden from the very beginning shows herself to be so inconsiderate, so destitute of common sense, that one is not astonished when a violent sorrow dissipates the little reason which she possessed."

Two Irreconcilable Conditions.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a trifling, disorder of the system. Atony, or a want of nervous vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promote digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic profects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

One Live Tooth

is worth a dozen dead ones, and to secure the teeth from decay, it is only necessary to use the Fragrant Sozodont. The odor of this pure preparation is so delightful, that it is a luxury to apply it, and its beneficial effect upon the teeth is marvellous.

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of his polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

—Sportsmen who go West to shoot will be interested in learning that the Illinois Legislature has passed a game law so stringent in its provisions that the Chicago Tribune says that a human being is the only kind of game left which it will be safe to kill during certain months.

—Attention has been called to the fact that the so-called "castor-oil lozenges" contain calomel, which is thus administered to the adult and infant population of the country without a word of warning as to its nature. A case of mercurial salivation in the person of a young girl who had ignorantly eaten half a dozen of the lozenges in two days led to the discovery of the true nature of "castor-oil lozenges."

—Emery grinding stones were until recently made by mixing the emery with gum and shellac. It was found, however, that shellac softened at high speeds, and the grinding-stone, becoming greasy, ceased to polish. This difficulty is remedied by using soluble glass instead of shellac; this is done in certain German manufactories, the grinding-stones of which are not corroded. They may turn at a velocity of from one thousand to two thousand revolutions a minute without losing their form.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG, SUCCESSOR TO Dr. TELLER, DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years a fabric was provided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious accommodations on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

Ladies will find rooms provided for their especial comfort, seclusion and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have by their evil habits and destroyed the vigor of their manhood, thus deprived themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Young's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all by mail, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichoff's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00 per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only Agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

In cases out of the city cure can be cured by consulting Dr. Young by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical column and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two on the Household, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-digested review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pains so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been giving up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $2.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May, John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have hopes I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. He never had any pain. When I gave him 7 It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PI L 18, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and received only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room about all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get money to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Inclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall continue to carry them to all who send them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing to its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

1877.
ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Mde Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

THE ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given by telegraph, weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unerring and almost unlimited accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—SAMPLE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

—Strawberry shortcake is advertised in New York restaurants.

—Injurious, fire; more injurious, water; most injurious, fire-water.

—Augustus Wood, the first white settler in New Zealand, now sixty-six years old and totally blind, has returned to this country. He sailed from Warren, R. I., in 1830, and has several times barely escaped from death by cannibals and shipwreck.

—Another mystery has been exploded. Manayunk thought she had a headless man who promenaded the streets in the day time; but the other day a courageous individual knocked off the "thing's" hat and, by means of a step-ladder, discovered a real flesh and blood head concealed about four inches below one of the new-fashioned exaggerated standing shirt-collars. Fact.—Norristown Herald.

—"How's that mast on the Wabash?" inquired the executive officer of that frigate of a naval constructor, who had been making an investigation. "Mast on the Wabash?" repeated the Secretary of the Navy, hurrying up from the rear. "I know all about that. The beech mast is all gone, the acorn poor, and if it wa'n't for the shellbarks they wouldn't get grease enough out o' their pork to fry a corn-cake," and the Secretary disappeared, humming "A life on the ocean wave, A home on the rolling deep."

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG

SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst Cases. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated lungs, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it's effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of the wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness in the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1877.

Louisiana.

On Friday, at a meeting of the President and Cabinet, it was unanimously decided to order the troops to be removed from the State house at New Orleans on Tuesday, April 24th. Gen. Sherman was directed by the Secretary of War to issue the necessary order. The Nicholls legislature has a legal quorum in both branches, and Mr. Packard will have to step down and out, notwithstanding the fact that he was legally elected and has made a gallant fight for the right. As in South Carolina, the White Line has triumphed by violence and fraud perpetrated in "the interests of honesty and good government;" and Nicholls makes as fair promises as Hampton does about securing all classes in the full possession of all their rights. We sincerely hope they will both try to keep their promises,—which is the most encouraging thing we can say at present.

Railroad Accident.

The express train from Bangor over the Eastern Railroad, due in Boston at half-past seven o'clock Friday evening, on reaching Lynn ran into an empty passenger train on a siding and smashed it, the express engine being somewhat damaged. The cause of the accident was the criminal carelessness of a switch-tender named Jordan. A train from Boston had arrived at Lynn and been set off on the side track for the night. The switchman, who in addition to tending the switches, also has charge of the engine bell or lantern, neglected to throw the switch over after it had been used for the shifting of the train, but hoisted the signal lantern to indicate that the main track was all right for the passage of trains. A few moments after, about seven o'clock, the Bangor express, consisting of seven cars, drawn by engine No. 55, came rushing along some four or five minutes late, evidently trying to make up the lost time, and without any warning rushed on to the siding and into the empty passenger train above mentioned. The momentum of the train had been considerably lessened, owing to the fact that when the rays of the headlight of the locomotive fell upon the switch, the engineer, William Paul, seeing that the switch was open, reversed his engine and applied the brakes, and it is owing to the watchfulness of the engineer that a greater calamity was averted. The engineer was the first to jump from the engine, which he did when the engine was within a few feet of the train, and he was quickly followed by the fireman. The engineer was injured internally and his face was badly cut, but, with assistance, he was able to walk to a physician's, and will be able to be about his duties in a few days. The fireman escaped with a severe shaking up, and was able to travel to his home.

The collision caused a frightful crash. In the Bangor train there were about 200 passengers, who were very much frightened and considerably shaken up, but only one passenger was injured, and that was caused by his falling forward on a stove, slightly cutting his head. C. E. Wheeler, employed as night watchman at the Lynn station, was attending to his duties on the train standing on the siding, and when the collision occurred he was knocked down and slightly injured about the head and shoulders. The loss to the Eastern Railroad will amount to upwards of $10,000. The baggage-car, which was one of the company's best, was telescoped and completely demolished; the next car, a smoker, was driven off the tracks some thirty feet and turned over on the side, completely obstructing the outward track. The locomotive was badly injured about the forward end, the machinery was considerably strained and the right side of the engine was jammed against a stone abutment. Immediately after the accident an extra engine was called into requisition.

The Constitutional Amendments.

The official result of the vote on the constitutional amendments is published. The average aggregate vote, for and against, was about 43,000. The aggregate vote for Governor was 77,880; showing that about 35,000 did not vote on the amendments, or nearly one-half.

The seventh question, abolishing the religious test, is carried by only four votes. Strafford county came within ten votes of accepting the first question, and Cheshire county came within four votes of rejecting it.

Rockingham county rejected the 1st, 6th, 7th and 12th questions; Strafford rejected the 1st and 12th; Belknap rejected the 1st, 6th and 7th; Carroll rejected the 1st, 6th, 7th and 12th; Merrimack rejected the 1st; Hillsborough rejected the 12th; Cheshire and Coos adopted all the questions; Sullivan rejected the 1st and 7th; and Grafton rejected the 1st, 7th and 12th.

By the adoption of the 6th amendment, making solicitors, registers of probate and sheriffs elective by the people, the appointment of thirty officers is taken from the Governor, and leaves him only the appointment of judges and the minor officers such as justices of the peace, etc. It will be incumbent on the coming Legislature to provide for the election of these county officers, and to prescribe the terms for which they shall hold office. As biennial elections are adopted, the term for these officers will probably be either two, four or six years, and without doubt the office of register of deeds will be included in the same provision.

Following we give the questions submitted, with the vote on each;

1. Do you approve of striking out the word "Protestant" in the Bill of Rights, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 27,665; nays, 15,907; rejected by 1383 votes.

2. Do you approve of so amending the Constitution that the General Court shall be authorized to provide for the trial of causes in which the value in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars, and title to real estate is not concerned, without the intervention of a jury, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 35,562; nays, 7,712; adopted by 6720 votes.

3. Do you approve of the biennial election of Governor, Councillors, Members of the Senate and House of Representatives, and biennial sessions of the Legislature, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 32,471; nays, 10,295; adopted by 3961 votes.

4. Do you approve of a House of Representatives based upon population, and constituted and chosen as provided in the amended constitution? Yeas, 31,924; nays, 10,878; adopted by 3470 votes.

5. Do you approve of a Senate of twenty-four members, to be constituted and chosen as provided in the amended constitution? Yeas, 34,085; nays, 8,688; adopted by 5571 votes.

6. Do you approve of the election by the people of registers of probate, solicitors and sheriffs, as provided in the amended constitution? Yeas, 29,267; nays, 12,958; adopted by 1,117 votes.

7. Do you approve of abolishing the religious test as a qualification for office, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 28,475; nays, 14,231; adopted by 4 votes.

8. Do you approve of prohibiting the General Court from authorizing towns and cities to loan or give their money or credit to corporations, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 33,686; nays, 9,081; adopted by 5175 votes.

9. Do you approve of changing the time for holding the State election from March to November, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 36,237; nays, 7,390; adopted by 7153 votes.

10. Do you approve of authorizing the General Court to provide that appeals from a justice of the peace may be tried by some other court, without the intervention of a jury, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 33,392; nays, 8,869; adopted by 5218 votes.

11. Do you approve of authorizing the General Court to increase the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace to one hundred dollars, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 32,592; nays, 9,414; adopted by 4588 votes.

12. Do you approve of the proposed amendment prohibiting the removal from office for political reasons? Yeas, 28,098 nays, 14,523; rejected by 816 votes.

13. Do you approve of the proposed amendment prohibiting money raised by taxation from being applied to the support of the schools or institutions of any religious sect or denomination, as proposed in the amended constitution? Yeas, 35,838; nays, 6,606; adopted by 7542 votes.

News and Notes.

A thunder-storm passed over Butler county, Penn., Thursday evening, and a flash of lightning struck a 25,000 barrel oil tank at a well on the Trostman farm, splitting the tank from top to bottom and setting the oil on fire. Two other tanks, each holding 25,000 barrels, were set on fire by the flaming oil, which rushed all over the town and burned all but two houses in it, and turned a small creek into a river of fire for miles. No lives were lost, but thirteen wells and six tanks (three of them small ones) were destroyed. Two of the large tanks were emptied by means of shot fired through them from a cannon brought from Petrolia.

At Newmarket, England, on Friday, Mr. Sanford's American colt Brown Prince won the plate for three-years-old horses, beating Perat, Bugle Horn and two others. Betting was thirty-three to one against Brown Prince before the start.

The coroner's jury in the case of the murder of Charles H. Gilman, at Rockport, Mass., on Friday rendered a verdict charging Albert Joy alias William Williams with the crime. Joy was lodged in Salem jail to await trial.

John Sullivan, a watchman on the Fitchburg Railroad, in Boston, while attending to his duties at Prison Point Thursday night, caught his foot in a "frog" as a train was approaching, and before he could disengage it his leg was run over and crushed in a terrible manner. He was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where he died in about an hour.

Brig Zinobe was wrecked on Magdalen Islands early in the winter; crew of twelve men saved. Barque Silvia was abandoned near the Island Dec. 22d, and the crew, thirteen in number, landed in a small boat, and were badly frost-bitten. No vessel left the islands from November until April, the first one arriving at Cape Breton with the wrecked crews on the 19th.

Attorney-General Devens has decided that the United States government must pay over to the State of Georgia $190,000 on account of certain railroad transactions, and the Secretary of the Treasury has issued a warrant in accordance with the decision.

A coroner's jury at Welford, N. B., has rendered a verdict of death by murder in the case of Thomas Kingsin of New York, produce merchant, found dead some time ago beside the railroad track there.

New Hampshire Items.

Judge Allen on Friday, at Keene, sentenced Wm. Burgess for breaking and entering to three years in the State Prison, Wm. Thurston for breaking and entering to two years, and Elliot J. Davis for adultery to eighteen months.

The Governor and Council have decided to ask the opinion of the Supreme Court regarding the power of the State returning board to go behind the returns in counting the votes for State Senators and members of Congress, and reject or disregard votes on the ground that they are cast for an ineligible person, "or on the ground that a candidate can have but one name, and the name by which he is commonly known is printed on the ballots, while he has sometimes been called by another name; or on the ground that there is no such man as one of those for whom the returns show that votes were thrown; or on the ground that the name on the ballots was not the legal name of the candidate; or on the ground that certain ballots do not contain the full Christian name of the candidate intended to be voted for." The case directly in point is that of Frank Jones, Congressman-elect in the First District. The republicans claim that his name is Benjamin Franklin Jones, as shown by the will of his father, but that the ballots were cast for Frank Jones. This action of the Governor and Council was not done with the intention of withholding Mr. Jones' certificate, but to obtain the opinion of the Court as a matter of precedent.

Two Irreconcilable Conditions.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a hiding, disorder of the system. Atony, or a want of nervous vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promotes digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic protects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

One Live Tooth

is worth a dozen dead ones, and to secure the teeth from decay, it is only necessary to use the Fragrant Sozodont. The odor of this pure preparation is so delightful, that it is a luxury to apply it, and its beneficial effect upon the teeth is marvellous.

MEMORIAL DAY.

All persons interested in a suitable observance of Memorial Day are requested to meet at the Common Council Room at half-past seven o'clock, Tuesday evening, April 4th. A full attendance is desirable, as the time for preparation is brief.

A BIG DECK-LOAD.

The three-masted schooner Anson Stimson, of Gloucester, Mass., Capt. Reed, arrived at the navy yard last week from Providence, R. I., with the new boilers for the U. S. S. Lancaster. They were built by the Providence Steam Engine Company, and were insured for the trip from Providence to this port, to the amount of $70,000. Four of the boilers, weighing one hundred and twenty tons, were lashed on deck; and two smaller ones, weighing nine tons each, were stowed in the hold. The trip was long and tedious, head winds and boisterous weather prevailing most of the time from the date of the schooner's sailing to her arrival here. An old and experienced coast pilot, Capt. Swift, was employed in the interests of the underwriters. That the schooner is a big one need hardly be said, for it is not a small craft that can carry a hundred and twenty tons of dead weight—and in a most clumsy shape at that—on deck. No worse cargo was ever carried round Cape Cod at this season of the year, than this same deck-load of boilers; and the safe arrival of the vessel is a certificate of her good qualities and the skillful seamanship and carefulness of the master and pilot in charge.

The Anson Stimson is a nearly new vessel, and a fine one; and is fitted with a steam winch and all the other modern improvements and conveniences. She presented a comical appearance when coming up the river, looking somewhat like an exaggerated hay-stack with three masts in it; owing to the bulk of the boilers the booms were shored half-way — or less — up the masts, and in beating against a head wind we imagine she would work to windward just like a hay-stack. The boilers are now being taken out by the navy yard men.

JOTTINGS.

The boys implicated in the thefts from Mr. Wm. P. Walker's store were again brought before the Police Court on Saturday, and the cases against three of them placed on file, to be called up for action in case they misbehave in the future; a fourth one had his case continued for one week.

Valentine Doane, Jr., of this city, has had built a schooner of 235 tons carpenters' measure at Essex, Mass., by Messrs. Adams & Story, which is to be employed in the fishing business out of this port. She was just been launched, is named "Henry A. Clark" in honor of one of our thriving business men, and is built in the most substantial manner and of the best of timber.

The Nowell shoe manufactory was not sold by order of the assignee of J. C. Carr," as stated in our notice of the sale, but by order of E. P. Kimball, Esq., assignee of the Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank, the the bank having taken possession of the property under a mortgage from Mr. Thos. J. Nowell.

We propose to give a series of articles descriptive of present and past business operations in this city, and print No. One of the series in this issue—a carefully prepared account of the method of brewing beer, with a detailed description of the Jones Brewery. Those who don't approve of beer as a beverage, as well as those who do, will find the article interesting.

We are pleased to learn that Portsmouth is soon to have a new directory; the recent numbering of the houses and stores making it necessary. The canvass will be made by experienced men, and we hope the citizens will take pains to see that the information needed is correctly given, thus enabling the publishers, Messrs. Greenough & Co., to issue a reliable work. All the usual information will be inserted, including the street directory, and should sufficient encouragement be given, a new map of Portsmouth will be engraved especially for this book. The business men should see that the advertising department is well patronized, thus showing that Portsmouth is not behind other cities in public spirit and local pride.

Mr. William F. Grant, of Noble's Island, who had his hand and arm badly injured last week by a blow from a pile-driver monkey weighing 1800 pounds, we are pleased to announce did not lose his arm at the elbow, as reported, a portion of his hand only (about one-half) being amputated. But it is a severe accident for an industrious man, at the best.

The sending of the Lancaster's boilers to this navy yard is an encouraging indication that there is to be some work done here at some time or other. It can't get along too soon.

Mr. Cole, who some six years ago was a telegraph operator here, is now on a visit, this city as agent for Chester's Fire Alarm Telegraph, endeavoring to secure its adoption by the city government.

BEER, AND HOW IT IS BREWED.

Ale or Beer is a spiritous liquor made from barley of very ancient and general use. It was originally made in Egypt and supplied the place of wine. Herodotus says (401 B. C.) Egyptians made wine from barley. The antiquity of Egypt is so great that the history of its infancy and youth are as yet unopened books to the student. The first glimpse we have of her existence is 2364 B. C., when she appears to us in the full vigor of manhood, deep in learning and science and under a monarchial form of government. A nation with so venerable a record and a people so remarkable justifies us in the belief that ale was made, perhaps centuries anterior to the date given by Herodotus, of its use. Parks, in his account of travels through Africa, tells of ale made from corn in the same manner as barley is now used. New Englanders made ale from maize, and from the bread made thereof. Some historians assert that there was no malt liquor as distinguished from ale until hops were introduced, which was in 1492 or some time subsequent to that date. Other materials were used, such as wormwood and other plants of similar nature. Beer, in its early days, as at the present time, had its supporters and condemners; one class maintained that it produced leprosy and other complaints, while others (since hops have become one of its ingredients) say that it tends to purify the blood, remove obstructions, etc. To judge fairly of its favorable or deleterious effects, we should be governed by facts rather than theory. The Germans, who stand as high in intellect, energy and sobriety as any nation in the world, are a beer drinking people; one of their social and most attractive institutions is the beer garden; here whole families congregate without distinction or caste; professors, students, mechanics and laborers, in numbers large enough to form a small township; here one hears both vocal and instrumental selections from Meyerbeer, Bethoven, Mozart and other classical authors, while trees, shrubbery, flowering plants and playing fountains present a scene homelike and pleasant. Englishmen, with their rotundity of form and jolly faces, drink their beer. In our own community, since the introduction of beer, its advocates claim that intemperance has fallen off to a great degree, and assert that in supplying the place of strong alcoholic stimulants it has proved a modifier of intemperance, and that our city shows much less inebriety than smaller places where the prohibitory law is in effect.

The success attending the manufacturing of beer in this city merits more than a casual notice. The first (of the kind that is now used) was made by Mr. John Swindell on Bridge street, in quantities to supply his retail trade. This was in 1854. In October 1856 he built a brewery on Albany street, and in January 1857 commenced manufacturing on a larger scale. In the same year Hon. Frank Jones bought in as partner. In a few months the partnership was dissolved, when Mr. Swindell again built on the corner of Islington and Creek streets, and continued in the business some two or three years, until his decease. The reputation of the beer, which to some extent has been attributed to the quality of the water, caused an increased demand. The shrewd business talent and capital of Mr. Jones were brought into requisition; from one building the establishment has grown to its present proportions, and now has facilities equal to any brewery in New England. It takes in an area of about two acres on which are some ten or twelve buildings, including extensions. Within three years a track has been laid which connects with the several railroads. Car loads of grain are carried to (and by means of an elevator placed in) the grain room, and beer is loaded directly from the storehouse, thus saving a great amount of labor and use of teams.

THE MALT HOUSE.

One of the principal attractions is the malt house. This is a brick building 155 by forty-seven feet, three stories high. The upper room or loft is used for storing the barley, and has a capacity of holding 25,000 bushels. Great care is taken in the selection of grain. It must be ripe and sweet, the earliest being the most profitable. The quality must be even. The old and new must not be mixed. That grown in lime districts is hard and not so easy to manage. The first and second floors are used for the making of malt. The first process is steeping. In one corner of each room is a steeper holding 600 bushels, 1200 in both. These are easily filled with the barley by means of conductors leading from the store-room, through the floor, to the cisterns. Water is pumped in until it acquires a depth of three or four inches above the grain; the good or heavy remains at the bottom, while the light or defective rises to the top and is skimmed off. If the water shows any signs of fermentation it is drawn off and fresh is added. It remains in the cistern seventy-two hours, or until it is fully swollen and easily perforated with a needle. The water is then drawn off and the barley is left to drain for twenty-four hours, after which it is taken out and thrown into a pile for six hours. It is then spread on the floor (which is cemented) to the depth of twelve inches. This is called a couch. Although apparently dry when spread, it soon grows moist and acquires a heat ten degrees higher than the surrounding atmosphere; that portion nearest the floor attains a much higher temperature than on or near the surface, the thermometer sometimes indicating sixty degrees. By means of windows on each side the temperature is raised or lowered as necessary. The grain is turned over twice a day; if the heat is in excess of what is required it is "plowed" a third time. It is thrown forward and re-spread every two days, each time diminishing in depth, the last layer being only three or four inches deep. At the second spread or fifth day, the germination begins by the shooting out of the roots from the tip of the grain. At this stage it sends forth an odor which is very pleasant. Water is occasionally sprinkled over it during the next seventy-six hours to hasten the growth. On the ninth day the acrospire or sprout appears and the germination is now checked. By this process the grain is converted from starch to sugar. It is then thrown into the drying kiln, which is directly back of the malt room. The floor is of iron, closely perforated with small holes; the heat being underneath and radiating evenly to all parts. The grain is placed in layers ten inches deep, with at first a temperature of seventy-five degrees, and afterwards raised to one hundred and fifty. It remains there three days. In the drying operation the rootlets become brittle, and break off when passing through the screen. From the kiln it goes to the store room where it is kept free from the air. The pale or amber ale is made from the light colored malt. The dark (which is caused by laying a longer time in the kiln) is browned and made into porter. Malt in this climate is not made during the three or four warm months. The making of malt is as distinct from brewing as a directly opposite trade. There are features about it which one contemplates with pleasure. The pleasant odor and cleanliness which pervades everywhere; the curious working of the plumula or sprout making sugar as it passes through the centre from one end to the other, as when one-half through it is one-half sugar, and when it first appears on the surface the heart of the grain is all sugar,—and if allowed to grow, the sugar then diminishes as the young stock feeds upon it. It requires delicacy of judgment, close observation and years of experience before one can acquire the reputation of, or become, a good maltster.

THE BREWERY.

The brewery is of brick, about seventy feet square and four stories high. Like all breweries it has its windings and turns; rooms here, rooms there, rooms everywhere. What to the visitors seems confusion, to the brewers is all system. Beer is the extraction from malt by water. The malt is taken from the store-room and placed in a revolving screen, where it is divested of all dust and foreign matter; then is conducted to what is called a mill. This has two rotary cylinders, two feet long and fourteen inches in diameter. The malt passes between, is crushed or bruised and ready for the mash, (which is an invention of the Scotch and by them called "pony mash.") The mash is also a cylinder, five feet long and twenty inches in diameter; near one end are two water pipes leading into it, one on each side; a few inches behind and on top is where the malt enters. Inside and running through the centre is a shaft resembling the tooth part of a rake, with strong iron teeth on either side. As the malt runs in, it mixes with the water (at a temperature of 167 degrees) from the pipes; these are four inches in diameter, and fed from two copper cisterns holding three hundred barrels each, placed on the floor above. The malt as it mixes with the water is caught up by the teeth of the shaft, which is revolving from 300 to 350 times a minute, thoroughly mixing the ingredients, which then pass out at the end into the mash tub. An indicator on the side of the room shows the number of barrels of water used. The mash tub is of copper, 6 1-2 feet deep and 18 feet in diameter, and will hold about 700 bushels. It has a false bottom made of heavy copper plate, in which are closely cut narrow slots. This serves as a strainer. The mash remains in the tub about two hours, when it is carefully drawn off; the liquor being the color of the malt employed. At the same time water at a temperature of 175 degrees is let on by means of a sparge, an automatical arrangement. It is made of four copper pipes, perforated with small holes on one side, connected in the centre and extending across the inner part of the tub. The force of the water causes it to revolve and one might compare the effect as representing minature falls of rain drops. This process takes in all about eight hours, and needs great care to keep the water at the required temperature. The next process is boiling. The liquor drawn off from the mash tub runs into the boiler, which is of copper and holds 500 barrels. At the bottom is placed a coil of three-inch pipe, through which the steam (at 270 degrees) passes and boils the liquor. Hops are here introduced, generally in the proportion of nearly one pound to a bushel of malt. A saccharometer is used to ascertain the quantity of the saccharine matter. After it has acquired the proper density it is drawn off into a vat separated from the main building, in order to allow the escape of the great amount of steam which would materially affect the malt and hops in the store rooms. From this it is sent by a force pump into the surface cooler, which is a basin or reservoir 40 by 25 feet, and two feet deep. It remains here about half an hour, and settles to some extent during the time. It is then run off into the cooling room in which are two patent coolers. These are upright stands, nine feet high and twenty-one feet long. A row of copper pipes three inches in diameter, connected with and placed one above the other, are filled with ice water constantly running through them. The beer falls down over these pipes in a gentle shower, and while the beer on top indicates a temperature of 170 degrees, at the foot it shows only 55. This sudden cooling is necessary to prevent acetous fermentation. The beer is caught in a basin at the base of the stand and runs through pipes to the fermenting tubs. The room in which these tubs are placed presents a sight both novel and interesting. There are six, three on a side, each holding when full 400 barrels. At the bottom is an attemperator, or coil of pipes about five feet high, filled with water at a temperature to increase or decrease the fermentation. Yeast is here added, and in about twelve hours the settlings, which are of a dark color (produced by the hops), rise and are skimmed off. This is followed by a creamy froth from one to three feet deep, resembling the foam on the beach during a severe storm. It builds itself into castles and turrets which are constantly toppling over and are as soon rebuilt, ever taking new forms and ever being undermined by its continued working. Aphrodites might revel amidst these gossamer palaces and be as blithe and merry as when decorating themselves with the lace work woven by the sea and fringing the restless wave. It is allowed to ferment for six days, and is skimmed six or eight times every twenty-four hours. Skimming boxes on a rail and moved easily from one tub to another are placed in the centre of the room. The ale which settles at the bottom is drawn off and returned to the tubs; the rest is washed away. From the fermenting it goes to the racking tub, and here the last skimming takes place, the skimmings here being used for yeast. It is estimated that 300 barrels of beer will make 600 pounds of yeast. The racking tub is placed in the cellar and has from twelve to twenty outlets; one man filling two barrels at a time. Sometimes syrup and a few hops are put into the barrel, the bungs are put in and it is then carried to the store room, ready for shipping. In three days it is ready for use. A scald shed 115 feet by 50 is attached, and as soon as the empty barrels are returned they are scalded and cleaned before using again. All the vats, cisterns, tubs and pipes are thoroughly cleansed as soon as emptied, to preserve the flavor of the ale. The vast amount of capital, material and labor requisite to manufacture from 80,000 to 100,000 barrels of beer a year, the perseverance to overcome obstacles which naturally occur, give one an idea of the will, the energy and the strong guiding hand necessary for success. The quantity of grain and malt purchased, will at a fair estimate approach and perhaps exceed 150,000 bushels. The average force employed at the brewery is from 60 to 70 men, twelve horses and one or two yoke of oxen; there are also five persons at the office in this city and four at the office and depot in Boston. There are 21 cisterns for hot and cold water, etc., with an average capacity of 350 barrels each; four boilers, each 50 horse power; three engines, five force pumps, eight furnaces, and innumerable feet of copper and iron pipe for supplying water, steam, etc.; 5000 hogsheads, barrels and half barrels for the transportation of beer; commodious cellars extending under the malt-house, brewery and scald-shed; cooper shop, ice houses and building for the storage of barrels; sheds for teams; and in fact every accommodation and modern improvement for carrying on this great business. Orders and messages are conveyed to and from the brewery and office by telegraph, which assists materially to expedite matters; and the capacity of the brewery can easily be developed and expanded to double the present proportions, should the increasing business demand it.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the state, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

Joaquin Miller Shocked.

I saw Joaquin Miller recently, and asked him what he meant by inaugurating Hayes on the wrong side of the Capitol, as he did in his published poem on the inauguration. He replied that he thought Hayes ought to have been inaugurated on the wrong side, as he considered him a "bar sinister." Mr. Miller was speaking in a political sense, of course. "The poet of the Sierras" thinks fit at times to affect a superior refinement, as, for example, when I reminded him of some attentions he had paid to a remarkably beautiful girl who passes her winters here, he said: "Oh, yes, I did show her attention, and was sorry for it afterward when I heard her make a coarse remark." I expressed my amazement, saying I thought the young lady in question the embodiment of maidenly purity and refinement. Mr. Miller in proof of his assertion then said she had disgusted him by saying that when she saw the democrats of the House and Senate watching Hayes' inauguration she knew it was worse to them than swallowing pills. "Ugh!" exclaimed the delicate Joaquin, "the idea of a lady talking about pills. I never want to see her again." Was it not a pity to shock this delicate-minded man?—Cinn. Enquirer.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years his affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 26 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the attending Physician, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—300 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only authorized agency for the sale of Dr. Vichold's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to Dr. S. Y. R. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their efficacy have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1,

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 23, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effects. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and eighty. My pain is gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition "Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel bound to give them your agency, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What ails him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. FEVARE

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and teeth. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have consulted the most noted doctors all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, TEXAS.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend, of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the hurry trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.
A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.
Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Mrs. Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.
With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in social and healthful literature.
Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.
TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.
The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.
Postage free to all subscribers. Address

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument or no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the cornerstones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST PAPER. THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE. THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE. Has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper or periodical in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

A Senatorial Joke.

An amusing incident occurred in the Senate over the appropriation for the School of Mines. Senator Seay had set his heart on securing an increase of $10,000 for that institution, and has been bending all his energies to the accomplishment of that end. Realizing his anxiety about the matter, Senators Young, Mayor, Parish, Wilson, and others quietly slipped around the chamber and made arrangements with all the Senators to vote "no" on the first vote taken on Seay's amendment to add $10,000 to the appropriation for his pet. Seay made a really good speech in behalf of his amendment, and sat down to tremblingly await the result.

"Those in favor of the amendment offered by the Senator from Phelps will say aye," said Senator Phelan, who occupied the chair.

"Aye!" rang out Seay's voice, solitary and alone.

"Those who are opposed say no," said the chair.

"No-o-o!" responded the entire Senate in chorus.

A deadly pallor overspread Seay's face as he sank back in his chair with a sad realization that his cherished dream had fled.

"The noes appear to have it," said Phelan.

"Division! division!" came up from all parts of the chamber.

"Those in favor of the amendment will rise and stand until they are counted," said the chair, and up stood every Senator except Seay, who had not yet sufficiently recovered from his shock to have strength enough to rise to his feet.

"How does the Senator from Phelps vote?" innocently inquired the chair.

"Why—why—why—of course I vote aye, Mr. President!" said Seay, in a bewildered sort of way, as if he could scarcely believe the evidence of his own senses at the sudden turn of affairs.

"The ayes have it, and the amendment is adopted," announced the chair.

Never was there a more forcible illustration of the darkness of midnight, as it were, in the twinkling of an eye converted into the glorious light afforded by the splendor of the noonday sun, than Seay's features exhibited at this moment. The painful sadness of the moment before gave way to a smile which seemed to illuminate the whole chamber. There was then a big laugh at the Senator's expense.—St. Louis Republican.

A Reporter's Vengeance.

A difficulty arose between a Chicago reporter and a native of sunny Italy who kept a peanut stand in that city of big fires and keen enterprise. One day the reporter, with the daughter of a millionaire hanging on his arm, passed the stand of the Marchese, when the latter exclaimed: "Hi-a, cully, when-a you-a pay me zose pife scudi, hem?" What happened after that the Chicago Tribune relates as follows: The reporter went to the office and took an oath on the assignment book to be avenged—to be powerfully avenged; then he wrote a little item headed "A City Romance," in which he stated that the Marchese was an eccentric Roman prince who had given all his estates to the church in penitence for murdering his brother, who was his rival in the affections of a beautiful countess, and that by economy, poker-dice and speculation in suburban lots he had accumulated a fortune of nearly $300,000 in Chicago. Then he smiled a fiendish smile, and induced the city editor to give it a big display head, and went on his way rejoicing. That poor Italian never knew what ruined him. When he got to his accustomed station next morning there were about two hundred men waiting for him, to borrow money of him on ample security at 10 per cent. a month; to get him to become a partner with $650 in a well-established business that would pay $26,000 a year if the additional capital could only be secured; to sell him some Calumet real estate; to get him to endow a theological chair in the Oshkosh Cosmopolitan University; to sell him a trotting-horse that could show 2.64 every day in the week (price $450), and for various other purposes. His knowledge of English was very imperfect, and he was an excitable man, and when the eleventh speculator came up and asked him to lend him $15,000 to start an oleomargarine quarry he blacked his eye, and in the confusion that arose his portable stove was sacked and the peanuts scattered to the winds of heaven. The police restored order, and then he was notified that if he persisted in collecting such crowds around him and becoming a public nuisance his license would be revoked. Then the collectors for charitable and religious societies began to besiege him, and while he was driving them away with a club his last lot of peanuts burned. Then a delegation from the Chicago Commune visited him, and when he refused to divide, according to the principles of liberty, fraternity and equality, fell upon him as a traitor, and mashed him as flat as several pan-cakes. After the police surgeon had sewed on his ear, and stitched his nose together, the Marchese started for home, wheeling his cart, which had only half a shaft and one wheel left, and surrounded by a bevy of anxious mothers who wanted to secure him and his title and his $300,000 for their daughters. After a while he placed himself under the protection of the police, and about 10 o'clock the coast was sufficiently clear for him to venture out. When he had nearly reached home he was sand-bagged and gone through by a highwayman, who had tracked him all day, and who, when he only found two nickles and a door-key on the Marchese, sand-bagged him till he was black and blue and sore all over. After lying senseless a while he managed to crawl to his lonely hovel, and found that a gang of enterprising burglars had already been there and torn up the floors, and ripped up the bed, and smashed up the furniture, and dug out the chimney with pickaxes, looking for his $300,000. The poor Italian had merely strength enough to crawl to the river and pitch himself in, and as the reporter was going home about 2 A. M. and saw the splintered peanut-cart he knew that his vengeance was complete, and hurrying back to the office, put a little item in the "Personals" to say that the Italian Marchese and millionaire, whose wealth had been described the day before, had purchased a palatial residence in Naples, and left Chicago the evening before to occupy it and spend the remainder of his days in opulence. Such was the reporter's vengeance.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1877.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.

Washington folks are largely with the Russian, or rather almost uniformly against the Turk, in the Eastern unpleasantness. No doubt seems to be entertained either in private, government or diplomatic circles, that a formal declaration of hostilities will be declared in a few days at farthest; and there is a general agreement as to the stimulating effect a war of the character and magnitude threatened would have upon almost every United States industry.

The scenes in the different rooms of the printing bureau when the lists of the doomed were read at the close of office hours on Wednesday, were pathetic and touching to the last degree to those not wholly heartless and indifferent to the sufferings of those around them. Among them were mothers with families of small children wholly dependent upon the small pittance received for food, clothing and shelter; fathers in a like condition; widows, and those still more unfortunate in having worthless, drunken husbands, who squander what the wife earns; and the son or daughter with sick or aged parents, who find themselves face to face with starvation, not only for themselves but for those whose comforts are still more a matter of concern than their own. Yesterday, many of those discharged were before the officials pleading and begging to be reinstated; but it was not learned that a single one of the entire number was successful. Startling disclosures are undoubtedly in store for the public should the manager of the management of this bureau ever be overhauled and the results made known. More than one official, it may be safely said, is now in a state bordering on frenzy lest that course be adopted.

The course Wade Hampton has adopted in virtually ejecting some of the Chamberlain State officials whose claims were before the Courts for adjudication, and in filling the vacancies thus made by appointees of his own, has aroused a good deal of indignation here, and even some of his more cautious friends condemn his action as very unwise and unpolitic. He is openly charged with having broken his word given the President, by those who have warmly espoused the Southern policy. KNOX.

News and Notes.

The Czar of Russia visited the troops at Kischeneff on Sunday. It is said the Czarwitch will accompany the troops through the campaign. A telegram from Constantinople says that the Sultan has decided to go to the Danube and take command of the Turkish forces during the war. Prince Charles of Roumania will assume command of the Roumanian troops, who will co-operate with the Russians.

Boston has had two more fatal shooting affairs. On Saturday a boy named Stephen E. Cox, aged six years, was deliberately shot in the head by Dudley D. Kimball, a boy four years of age. The wounded boy died in a few hours. On Sunday, Mrs. Alice Wooley, aged twenty-five, was fatally shot in the head by Miss Josephine Taylor, aged twenty-two, in a "club-house" where both resided.

Edward S. Rand, Jr., of Dedham, Mass., the lawyer who lived in such grand style on the trust funds in his possession, on Saturday took the poor debtor's oath and was discharged from jail. Throughout his dishonest career he has done nothing rendering him amenable to the criminal law.

Base ball, Saturday: in Boston, the Bostons beat the Lowells in an eleven-innings game, 4 to 2; in Lynn,—Harvards 6, Live Oaks 5; in Louisville,—Louisvilles 1, Indianapolis 2.

Charles M. Sterling was hanged at Youngstown, Ohio, on Saturday, for the murder of a young girl. The wretched man was thirteen minutes in dying, the knot having slipped around under his ear.

The mail steamer between Brest, France, and the island of Ushant, has been wrecked, eight passengers and all the crew being drowned.

Lieut. J. L. Knapp, U. S. A., Post Surgeon Andrews and Post Sutler J. S. Moore were drowned at the mouth of the Columbia river last Thursday, by the upsetting of a boat.

Adam Holderbaum, on trial at Oroville, Cal., Saturday, for complicity in the attempt to burn the Chinese quarter at Chico, pleaded guilty, and will probably get the full benefit of the law.

The cost of burying the dead who were burned to death in the Brooklyn Theatre was about $10,000, which the city has paid. An examination of the bills makes it pretty plain that 30 per cent. went to political leeches.

Eighty lodges of Cheyennes, under Dull Knife and Standing Elk, surrendered to Gen. Crook on Saturday.

Professor Albert E. Carpenter, a mesmerist and lecturer, was arrested in Worcester, Mass., on Saturday, charged with a criminal assault on Miss Mary Eva Sperry, a young woman who has been a "subject" at Carpenter's lectures. Miss Sperry, who has borne a good name, is a clergyman's daughter, and says she was twice "impelled" by Carpenter to accompany him to his room, where the assault was committed on the occasion of her last visit, she being semi-conscious but unable to resist.

Rev. Baman N. Stone, for the past three years pastor of the Congregational church Fryeburg, Me., publicly acknowledged Sunday his full belief in the Swedenborgian faith, and tendered his resignation at the close of the morning service.

The cutter of the United States steamer Gettysburg has defeated the crack boat of the English gunboat Cockatrice in a four-mile race on the Bosphorus, by more than three minutes. The American boat was a third heavier, and by agreement pulled ten oars, carrying a coxswain and 100 pounds dead weight. The Britisher, who was challenger, pulled eight oars. Time—Americans 28m 21s, Britishers 41m 33s.

The decree in favor of Mrs. Myra Clark Gaines commands the defendants to account to the Master in Chancery for all income from the property during their long possession. They are ousted from their titles and from all accumulation therefrom. The decision involves also heavy claims against the city of New Orleans, which has sold a large amount of the property in question with full warranty of title. When Mrs. Gaines comes into full possession of her property it is estimated that she will have $40,000,000 or more. It isn't every forty-years-long law-suit that ends so well for a litigant.

We are pleased to learn that the Singer Company have adopted the Johnston Ruffler, they having very recently perfected arrangements with Messrs. C. W. Handy & Co., of this city—they being agents for the Johnston Ruffler Co., of Ottumwa, Iowa, whereby these excellent rufflers are to be placed in the hands of the Company's numerous agents throughout the civilized world. From the fact that dealers sell about ten of these rufflers to one of any other, proves them to be the standard ruffler of the world.—Sewing Machine Journal, N. Y.

It is a remarkable fact that in less than one year, in 1843-44, Maine had five different Governors, which number has probably never been equalled in any State of the Union within a similar period of time, as follows: Gov. Fairfield, elected for 1843, resigned; Gov. Kavanagh, President of the Senate, 1843, resigned; Gov. Dunn, Speaker of the House, 1843, superseded by Gov. Dana, President of the Senate, 1844; Gov. Anderson, elected for the year 1844.

Certain Washington correspondents have quoted Secretary of the Navy Thompson as saying that ex-Secretary Robeson was certainly guilty of gross maladministration and dishonesty; but Secretary Thompson himself says: "Since I have been in the Navy Department I have found nothing which led me ever to suspect, certainly not to believe, that Secretary Robeson had been guilty of any act of personal dishonor. All the charges made against him probably grow out of disappointment on the part of individuals. The utmost that can be said, and all that could be said, is simply that there is some difference between Secretary Robeson and myself as to the methods of administration in the Department. What has been said by various newspapers affecting his personal integrity, is in no sense authorized by me, or founded on anything I have said or done."

Political.

The democratic Index-Appeal of Petersburg, Va., is evidently ill at ease, and exhorts the faithful as follows: "The signs of a new issue in Virginia politics are becoming evident, and will doubtless complicate the next Gubernatorial contest. It is tolerably certain that the republican party will make no nomination in this fight, but will await the development of an Administration party, whose candidate they will support in order to defeat the regular conservative nominee. This design will be materially aided by the intense sectional feeling now pervading the conservative ranks, and a dangerous alliance is possible, if any section so far forgets its loyalty in a moment of defeat as to yield to the suggestion of an independent candidate to gratify its resentment. The plan has but one object—the disintegration of the conservative party—and should be strongly discountenanced by every man who claims to be faithful to the principles of his party."

The New York Tribune speaks of Charles Francis and Samuel J. as "prehistoric statesmen," says the former's letter "reads like a fragment of correspondence between twin mound-builders," and asks: "If Mr. Adams was inspired to 'seize' the 5th of March as the appropriate time for giving a character to himself and to Mr. Tilden, why didn't somebody 'seize' an earlier day for letting the world know something about it? Is the Reunion party making such prosperous headway that the dry bones of all the political fossils in the country feel called upon to rattle up in windrows to block the way?"

Warmoth, the most noted ground and lofty tumbler in the political world, turned another handspring on Saturday. He led all but six members of Packard's legislature over to the Nicholls organization, and made a speech on entering the Nicholls House at the head of the procession. If the Nicholls party will only keep Warmoth and Pinchback, the republicans of Louisiana will feel that the long contest has resulted in some good.

The Portland correspondent of the Boston Globe, speaking of the proposed anti-Blaine paper about which there has been so much talk, says: "Not much is heard about the new republican paper to be started here by ex-Collector Washburn and others. The money does not appear to be forthcoming as rapidly as was anticipated. Congressman Burleigh is said to have subscribed $5000, and Mr. Washburn is said to be willing to sink $10,000 of his money the first year. That appears to be about all the actual money that has been subscribed. Mr. Washburn says, however, that the paper will be issued about the first of July. To carry out the plan that is said to have been laid out will require an outlay of at least $50,000 the first year. There are a good many sceptical ones, who do not believe the paper will be started at all."

MEMORIAL DAY.

All persons interested in a suitable observance of Memorial Day are requested to meet at the Common Council Room at half-past seven o'clock, this evening, April 24th. A full attendance is desirable, as the time for preparation is brief.

JOTTINGS.

The New Hampshire Conference of the Methodist Church at its late session at Dover made the following appointments to towns in this vicinity: Portsmouth, J. Noyes; Greenland, George W. Ruland; Hampton, J. P. Frye; Seabrook, W. C. Tansom; Epping, W. H. Jones; Newmarket, H. Dorr; South Newmarket, O. S. Baketel; Exeter, J. H. Haines; Dover, M. W. Prince. Rev. A. C. Hardy was appointed Principal of Pennacook Normal Academy; Rev. C. M. Dinsmore is sent to South Amesbury, Mass.

A marine survey has been held on ship William H. Marcy, of this port, which arrived at San Francisco April 9th, leaking, and the surveyors have directed that she be caulked, coppered and have six additional beams put in.

Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery, while working on his farm last week had the misfortune to dislocate his ankle; but the dislocation was promptly reduced and he will probably not suffer any permanent injury from the accident.

An excursion from this city to Dover, to attend the musical convention in that city, is proposed for Thursday, the 26th.

Tax payers will do well to remember that inventories of their taxable property will be received by the Assessors "until the 25th day of April," and that to-day is the 24th.

Four schooners, deep-loaded with bricks and "waiting for a slant" to get to their ports of destination with a fair wind and smooth water, were moored side by side at the draw of Portsmouth bridge on Sunday. The bricks are from the yards on the banks of the Cocheco river.

The Methodist Conference at Dover on Saturday elected Orin E. Wright, and William A. Loyne of this city, to local deacon's orders.

Mr. George H. Tripp has opened a large stock of room-papers, window curtains and fixtures, etc., at the store corner of Daniel and Penhallow streets. All this stock is new, the whole of Mr. Tripp's old stock having been sold at auction since the fire and water turned him out of his store on Market street. See advertisement.

We have received The Black Hills and American Wonderland, by H. N. Maguire, who has spent twelve years in the Black Hills and Yellowstone region. The book treats of the mining prospects, agricultural and grazing resources, hunting and fishing facilities and great natural wonders of this region. Illustrated with twenty-seven engravings, and a map. Price ten cents, of newsdealers; or sent postpaid, for twelve cents, by Donnelley, Loyd & Co., publishers, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Josiah H. Morrison is putting in the foundation for a block of buildings on the site of the old Akerman house on Islington street, recently sold and removed.

The Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company have their new main wire from Boston to Portland built about half-way to this city, and inside of a week will have it here, it is expected. Having more business than can be accommodated on a single wire, the company intend to immediately open branches in the Rockingham House, Neil's flour store and the Eldredge Brewing Company's office.

Complaints having been made to the police concerning the intrusion of dandelion hunters on private property, the officials have moved in the matter and on Monday two tresspassers were taken to the station. The boys must look out and not infringe on the rights of others, in their hunt for greens.

Mr. George William Bartlett of this city, of the senior class of the scientific department of Dartmouth college, has been appointed one of the prize speakers for Commencement.

Clipper ship North American, commanded by Capt. George Wallace Tucker of this city, arrived at Liverpool, Eng., on Friday, having made the run from San Francisco in one hundred and twenty days.

Referring to Rev. Daniel Austin's resignation of the position of President and Member of the Board of Trustees of the Rice Public Library of Kittery, the Board at the last meeting passed the following resolution: "That the Trustees of the Rice Public Library desire to express their appreciation of the valuable services of Mr. Austin since the institution has been in existence, and his unselfish devotion to the interests of the Library, and deeply regret that the infirmities of ripened years have compelled him to sever his official connection with the Board. That we appreciate his continued interest in the welfare of the Library; and trust he may be permitted for a long time to see it progress in its already successful career of usefulness and benefit to the inhabitants of Kittery."

POLICE COURT.

Monday, April 23d.

William Quinn and William Larkin (colored) brought cross actions against each other for assault and battery; but as Larkin seemed to have all the scars, and Quinn, who claimed to have been hit by several brick-bats at short range, was unable to show the marks where they hit, the former was discharged and the latter fined $3, costs $5.76. Quinn appealed, and gave bonds in $50 for his appearance at a higher court.

DOING 'EM PROUD.

The Franklin Falls Journal gives an account of a grand ball and promenade concert given in that town by Stark Engine Company, and pays the following generous compliment to a deservedly popular Portsmouth organization:

"The music was by Harlow's Orchestra of Portsmouth. H. L. Harlow, the leader, was band-master of the U. S. Naval Band of the Portsmouth navy yard, and all the orchestra were among its former members. * * * All the numbers of the [concert] programme were very finely rendered and those who carelessly neglected the concert lost a rare musical treat. The clarionet obligato by Mr. John F. Shillaber and the cornet solo by Mr. Frank Burnham were especially worthy of notice. Mr. Burnham ranks among the first cornet players in the country. With the exception of Chandler's band of Portland, which played at last year's ball, no music ever gave such unqualified satisfaction to our community as Mr. Harlow's band. The prompter, Mr. J. F. Harlow, was conceded to be the best prompter we ever had. The personal appearance of the band was unusually prepossessing and won the admiration of all. It is hoped they will come again at an early day."

At a subsequent meeting of the Engine Company the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, the success of our third annual ball was largely due to the excellence of the music furnished by Mr. H. L. Harlow's band of Portsmouth,

Resolved, that the thanks of this company be tendered to Mr. Harlow and through him to the members of his band for the complete satisfaction given and for the courteous and pleasant manner with which they accepted all our arrangements.

Resolved, that as men and musicians, Harlow's orchestra is not excelled by any similar organization in this State.

A PUPIL'S SENTIMENTS.

Throughout the various public schools of our city, we are favored with faithful and proficient teachers, who have devoted years of their life to this unremitting and arduous work. Among those teachers whose instructions are not forgotton, and whose faces we are always pleased to meet, is one in whom many feel a personal interest at the present time. Ten years ago I was ranked among his pupils, and the years passed under his tuition, in that old school room in the basement of the Court House, I count among the most pleasant and profitable of my life. Many others remember and prize them, for our school associations are not obliterated from memory by the lapse of time, and the young man who has long since entered upon a business career recalls with feelings of gratitude his former teacher as he realizes it is through his instrumentality that he is competent to sustain the position he occupies in the business world. The young lady who fills the position of teacher is better able to exercise the patience and forbearance which is requisite to accomplish this immeasureable work, when she calls to mind his excellent example, both as a christian and teacher. And those who have entered upon other duties, whether in active life or otherwise (for they are no less important because secluded from the outward world) will cherish his memory in grateful remembrance. This teacher's competency can not be better tested than by noting the careers of his numerous pupils; even those necessitated by the force of circumstances pecuniary to complete their education outside of our High School course will be found to be liberally educated, and a credit to the different positions they occupy. As a gentleman and teacher he has won our confidence and esteem, while his experience and success in his profession is a sufficient reason why he should continue his labors. Let each of his former pupils sustain him with words of encouragement, and may he in the future as in the past be engaged in this work and continue to be honored and respected by those who have and will have the benefit of his instructions; for

"Honor and fame from no conditions rise,
Act well thy part, there's whore all honor lies."

Ex-President Smith of Dartmouth is now able to ride out in fair weather.

An Indian skeleton was dug up at Manchester on Wednesday by workmen engaged in laying out a street, who also found, eighteen inches below the surface, a large stone fireplace. The locality where these remains were found has been noted for the finding of Indian arrow-heads and other indications of an Indian settlement.

George G. Hatch has been appointed post-master at Wells, York County, Me.; Edgar M. Stevens at Contoocook village, and Miles L. Spaulding at Suncook, in this State.

Mayor Williams has reduced the wages of his help in his iron foundry in Nashua, thirty per cent. within the last month.

A man named Blake, about thirty-three years old, shot himself through the head at Suncook, Sunday evening. He was not killed immediately, but the wound is fatal. He leaves a wife and a child.

The jury in the Supreme Court at Dover brought a verdict, Saturday, of $4000 damages in favor of Smith Grey, who sued the town of Rollinsford on account of injuries received two years ago on a road blocked-aded by drifting snow.

Two Irreconcilable Conditions.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a trifling, disorder of the system. Atony, or a want of nervous vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promote digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic protects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

One Live Tooth

is worth a dozen dead ones, and to secure the teeth from decay, it is only necessary to use the Fragrant Sozodont. The odor of this pure preparation is so delightful, that it is a luxury to apply it, and its beneficial effect upon the teeth is marvellous.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's
COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extensive reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual y than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH.
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1876.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Deposit Fund of $100,000 as GUARANTY
"Against all Possible Loss of Every Kind and Nature."

The Company continues to receive sums on deposit as a "SAVINGS BANK," allowing interest therefor. The plan of this institution cannot be better exemplified than by the following extract from a communication from a prominent Bank Examiner:

"I am satisfied that yours is the only true principle upon which a "Savings Bank" ought to be established and which affords perfect security to every depositor."

The Board of Direction is composed of the following gentlemen, viz:

EZRA H. WINCHESTER, President.
JEREMIAH F. HALL, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

FRANK JONES, EZRA H. MANCHESTER,
CHARLES MAIN, JEREMIAH F. HALL,

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

THE Inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their Polls and Estates, taxable by law, on or before the fifteenth day of April.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirements in handing in an inventory of their taxable estate, and making oath to the same, will have no legal claim for abatement.

The Assessors, or any Justice of the Peace, or the City Clerk, are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory shall have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be handed to one of the Assessors, or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's Office on or before the fifteenth day of April.

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as they judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 25th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

By order of the Assessors,

M. BUFFORD, Secretary.
Portsmouth, April 11, 1877.

—In Pittsburg gas has been reduced to $1 a thousand feet.

—In a fashionable family in New York the word "style" is often used, and such distinction given to it that the youngest—a child of six or seven—on retiring for the night, was heard to make this addition to "Now I lay me down to sleep;" "God bless dear papa and mama, and oh, dear Lord, please make us very stylish."

—A story is told of a shrewish Scotchwoman who tried to wean her husband from the public house by employing her brother to act the part of a ghost, and to frighten John on his way home. "Who are you?" said the guidman, as the apparition rose before him from behind a bush. "I am auld Nick," was the reply. "Come awa', man," said John, nothing daunted; "gie's a shake of your hand; I am married tae a sister of yours."

A National Home for Invalids.

The Invalid's Hotel on Prospect Avenue is rapidly approaching completion. When finished it will be the finest building in the city.—Buffalo Independent Leader.

The above-mentioned institution is erected by Dr. R. V. Pierce, as a Hospital Department of World's Dispensary for the treatment of the more difficult cases of chronic diseases, and for the skillful management of deformities and all cases requiring surgical operations. It will be made a comfortable and cheerful home for the sick, and will be under the management of a full staff of skillful physicians and surgeons. For particulars see Pierce's Memorandum Books, which are given away at all drug-stores.

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 30 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—500 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only accuracy in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's Celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $5.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 29, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and eighty. Only, but my health in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that consider thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or go to work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from his Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What did he him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room a great deal the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and using medicinal springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. I was told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. One package of Pills seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrer, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1876.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend them to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after; dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi en could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 10, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.
Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument on no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, truthful, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can fearlessly and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Hermia's House-cleaning.

"But you see, Lena, it's something that has got to be done," said Hermia Vane, nodding her head.

Dr. Electus Vane—he had been mouldering in Holmsworthy churchyard these six years, with the blackberry vines and wild buttercups running riot over his grave—being a great lover of Shakespeare, had called his daughters Hermia and Helena. They were odd names, and of course required an explanation for almost everybody—explanations were sometimes a little awkward. Helena was romantically inclined, and gloried in her nomenclature. Hermia set her pretty teeth together, and wished she had been called Prudence, Noami, or any other humdrum sort of an appellative. Upon this sunshiny April afternoon, Helena Vane sat, with a book in her lap upon the doorstep, making quite unconsciously to herself a picturesque little tableau, under the evening shadows of the great maple which was just showering down the last of its crimson blossom banners to make room for the clusters of tender young leafage; for spring had come slowly the Holmsworthy way that season, and everything was late. Hermia with her sleeves rolled up, had just finished washing the dinner dishes.

"Some one must wash dishes," said Hermia, "and Helena does so hate kitchen drudgery."

"I'll do 'em, dear," said old grandmamma Vane, an apple-cheeked old lady. "Run along to your sewing. I hate to see your pretty white hands in the dish-water."

"You, indeed," cried Hermia. "Not as long as I am here. Why, what are we young folks made for, if not to wait on old people?"

"Helena does not reason so," said the old lady a little bitterly.

"Oh, well, you see, Helena is intellectual and writes poetry. Now, I haven't the brains for that sort of thing, even if I cared for it—which I'm ashamed to say, I don't—and so, it stands to reason, you see, that I should be dish-washer."

Accordingly, Hermia had washed the dishes and ranged them in neat order on the scoured shelves, and now had come out to have a little domestic chat with Helena.

"Got to be done? Of course it has got to be done," retorted Helena impatiently. "And why can't we hire some one to do it?"

"Money reasons, Lena—money reasons," sagely answered Hermia Vane. "We can't afford it."

"Oh what a degradation it is to be poor!" sighed Helena, lifting her turquoise blue eyes to heaven. "Hermy, why in the name of Midas and Croesus, and all those rich heathens we read about, didn't some old rich millionaire fall in love with us when we visited Alice Cope, last winter in Philadelphia? Girls in novels never go anywhere without picking up at least about a half-dozen beaux."

"But we're not girls in novels," laughed Hermia.

"There was Mark Hazeltine—you remember him, don't you, Hermy? That young man with the splendid dusky eyes and white teeth."

"I remember," said Hermia, blushing in spite of herself.

"I know he fancied one of us, or both. Just think how often he usbd to come to Alice's. If we could have remained a little longer, I feel certain he would have become a foregone conclusion. And only think—"

"What nonsense all this is!" impatiently cried our Hermia. "And what on earth has it to do with our spring house cleaning! There are all the lower rooms to be white-washed, the cellar to be cleaned, the west bedroom to be repapered, and—"

"And who is to do all this hard, housemaidly sort of work?" demanded Miss Vane, with a shudder.

"We, of course, Helena, since we can't afford to have it done."

"I shan't touch it!"

"Then I must," said Hermia, with the cool independence which was a part of her nature, "with what help grandmamma can give me."

"Hermy, have you sunk so low as to be a mere household drudge."

"I haven't yet sunk sufficiently low," Hermia laughingly retorted, "to lie in the dirt so long as I am physically able to purify my surroundings."

* * * * * * *

A golden mid-April day! The violets making a blue carpet along the sunny side of the orchard wall; the primroses writing their hieroglyphics adown the course of the gurgling stream; and Helena practicing a new song with her blue ribboned guitar, in the parlor, while Hermia, in the shed at the foot of the garden, was mixing a prodigious pail of whitewash, and singing as merrily as if the lumps of lime had been balls of embroidery floss, and her bristly brush a dainty needle, weaving itself in and out of silken canvass. She was dressed appropriately to her work, this enterprising young damsel, with a crash apron tied around her trim waist, and an impromptu Normandy made out of a pocket handkerchief, perched on her head, concealing the whole of her bright hair, except where one or two stray curls had escaped, and hung like wandering spirals of sunshine on her blue-veined brow. And if Hermia had only known it, she never looked prettier in her life.

"And now grandma, I believe this cauldron of foaming snow is ready," said Hermia gally, "and if you'll take hold of the handles—just to steady it, you know—I'll do all the lifting. We will begin operations at once."

While old Mrs. Vane and Hermia were rolling slowly up the back garden walk with the whitewash tub between them, an elegantly dressed young gentleman, with diamond studs in his shirt, straight, cameo-like features and dark blue eyes, fringed with long lashes, was advancing briskly up the path.

"I think this must be the house," said Mr. Mark Hazeltine, "as nearly as I can guess from the confused direction of that old idiot at the railway station. And—"

But the current of his soliloquy was cut short by the sudden appearance of a bright face in the door—Helena Vane herself in pale muslin, with blue fillets of ribbon in her hair, a sash picturesquely looped at the side, and rosetted slippers, like a dream of Cinderella.

"Miss Vane, can you pardon this intrusion?" he began, lifting his hat.

"Oh, Mr. Hazeltine, I am so glad to see you!" cried Helena, extending both her hands.

The same moment Hermia and the pail of whitewash appeared around the corner of the house. In her surprise at the sight of an unexpected visitor—and this unexpected visitor above all others—Hermia dropped her end of the tub, coloring scarlet as a rose.

"Oh, my dear!" cried old Mrs. Vane, trying in vain to save it. "There goes your whitewash!"

"How do you do, Mr. Hazeltine!" said Hermia, recovering her self-possession, and advancing with proffered hand.

"My sister is—ahem—practicing for a masquerade," stammered the scandalized Helena, "and—"

"It's no such a thing!" retorted Hermia, blushing more vividly scarlet than ever. "I am not masquerading at all, Mr. Hazeltine. I'm in real earnest. I'm going to whitewash the back kitchen ceiling."

"But can't I help you!" said Mr. Hazeltine laughing. "I used to be a good hand at the brush in my schoolboy days."

"I've no objection to your trying," said Hermia gravely. "But you'll have to borrow a white sheet from grandmother to cover up your fine clothes."

"I'll risk the fine clothes," said Mr. Hazeltine, resolutely.

"Hermia! Hermia! are you crazy?" protested Helena, turning pink and white by turns. "Go change your dress at once and come down to the parlor."

"Not until I've done my whitewashing," insisted her obdurate twin sister. "Remember, Mr. Hazeltine, it is your own offer!"

And Mr. Hazeltine, looking into the sapphire depths of those sparkling eyes, stood to his colors.

"My own offer!" said he. "Of course it was; and I shall feel much honored by its acceptance."

And to Helena Vane's infinite disgust, Mr. Hazeltine spent the whole morning in the kitchen disguised in a paper cap and a piece of an old sheet, helping Hermia to whitewash the ceiling.

"Hermy," cried Helena, when Mr. Hazeltine was gone, and she had contrived to obtain audience of her sister, "I'm ashamed of you!"

"And why?"

"To let Mr. Hazeltine into the secret of our poverty."

Hermia's eyes flashed.

"If he despises us on account of our poverty," she said, "his friendship is not worth having. I shall not play the hypocrite to accommodate any man!"

"He will never come again!"

"I beg your pardon, Lena. He is coming to-morrow."

And sure enough Mr. Hazeltine made his appearance the next day, quite ready for another job of work, as he himself expressed it.

"But you are not in earnest, Mr. Hazeltine?" Helena pleaded.

"Yes I am. I never enjoyed myself more than I did yesterday. With Miss Hermia's permission I'll see the house cleaning through."

"You'll be no use at all with the scrubbing brush and broom," said Hermia, mischievously; "but I have no objection to you helping paper the little west room when we get the paste ready."

It was nearly a week before they got to the west room, but Mr. Hazeltine came every day. And when they had put on the last strip of bright colored bordering Mr. Hazeltine laid away his paper cap.

"Hermia," said he (they had grown to be great friends during this al fresco sort of life) "I've a question to ask you."

"Well?"

"Don't you think we work together nicely?"

"Yes, pretty well, considering," laughed Hermia.

"Would you object to me as a life partner?"

"Not at all."

"Then may I consider myself accepted?" he asked eagerly.

"Yes!" she answered with a half blush and half a smile.

That was Hermia Vane's last job of house-cleaning. Helena is single yet. She says she can't comprehend the men of the present age.

—A West Brimfield, Mass., man who wanted to dig a well in his cellar says he struck the remains of three human bodies in as many holes, and at the same depth. Then he dug his well out-of-doors rather than disturb the burying ground of some previous tenants.

"Will those goods wear well?" asked a lady of the clerk. "Oh, yes, ma'am," was the assuring response, "they will last as long as there is a bit of them left." She seemed satisfied and the glib clerk sold a large bill of the material, as well as the woman.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1877.

Hostilities Begun.

On Monday, a Russia detachment of forty sappers and miners crossed the Roumanian frontier at Bestinak, followed by a thousand on Tuesday. Russian troops crossed the river Pruth, at three points, on Tuesday. The Czar on Tuesday issued a manifesto declaring his object to be to aid the Turkish Christians, and announcing the commencement of the war.

News and Notes.

The two higher stories of the New York Journal of Commerce building were burned on Monday. Loss $17,000; in addition to which the bound files of the paper from 1828, and a valuable reference library, were destroyed.

Frank Lynn, a hotel keeper of Belmont, Va., and a married man with a large family, ruined a girl of sixteen, named Mary Risler, and the girl's mother hunted him down and shot him dead with a revolver.

John Stacey, a police officer of Dorchester, Mass., committed suicide by shooting himself in the head, Monday.

Steamer Leopard, at Boston from Philadelphia, on Sunday ran down and sunk schooner Willow Harp. The crew were all saved.

Omaha, Neb., had a $250,000 fire on Monday.

The trial of Edward Tairo for the murder of Mrs. Alice M. Butler began at St. Albans, Vt., on Monday.

The London Spectator says that it is curious that in the blue-glass theory the ingenuity of inventors should hit on the exact contrary of the truth. It claims that experiments in the Royal Gardens at Kew demonstrate that the blue rays in sunlight actually have a retarding effect on plant growth.

Gen. Campos says he is going to kill every Cuban captured after the 1st of May. He dare not carry out his infamous threat. It is contrary to all the rules of civilized warfare and antagonistic to every sentiment of humanity. Such proclamations and brutal threats as these only react upon the persons making them. It will be remembered that Maximilian issued a proclamation announcing that every Mexican rebel captured after a certain day would be summarily executed. This threat was never executed nor were the prisoners, but when Maximilian fell into the hands of the enemy the threat he made against them was executed against him, and he suffered the death which he had planned for the foe, Thus it may be with Captain General Campos. At least one thing is as certain as taxes, and that is if he executes his threats all Christendom will brand him as a modern Nero, and the island will soon become free by the combined efforts of the Christian nations of the world.

New Hampshire Items.

C. B. Mahan, agent of the Granite Agricultural Works at Lebanon, was arrested at Enfield, Monday forenoon, on a requisition, and taken to Belfast, Maine, for the alleged crime of swindling. It is charged that his operations have extended throughout the New England States and the West. It is alleged that he sold agricultural implements, taking notes in payment therefor, and did not deliver the goods, but got the notes discounted and appropriated the money. The case at Portland involves about $500.

Lewis Campbell died in Keene Monday, aged 75 years. He held the office of Registrar of Deeds from 1825 to 1856. He was born in Acworth, but has lived in Keene since 1825.

The Dartmouth College Seniors and Sophomores played a game of foot ball Saturday afternoon with the Juniors and Freshmen, and were beaten, 5 to 4. The former side had 70 men, the latter 105.

The Free Baptist Society of Laconia, who lost their church by fire a few weeks since, have resolved to build a new one, the cost of which they estimate at $9000, half of which has already been raised.

The full bench of the Supreme Court were in session at Concord Monday, considering the election questions submitted to them by the Governor and Council. The Judges decline to state whether an opinion has been made or whether one will be made.

Real estate in Rochester has declined nearly one-half within the past five years.

A little daughter of Simeon Barley of Danville fell from a hayloft a few days ago, and it is feared is fatally injured.

The Cheshire Railroad wood shed, at East Westmoreland, and 500 cords of wood were burned Monday. Insured $2000, which nearly covers the loss.

The Boston base ball club had a game with the Manchester club on Monday, the Manchesters winning much honor but no points, the score at the finish standing—Bostons 10, Manchesters 0.

The Catholics of Franklin have collected several thousand dollars for the erection of a new church, and the Hon. W. F. Daniell has given them a lot of land on which to build.

Work on the Peterboro' & Hillsboro' Railroad was commenced on Tuesday, when ground was broken at Hillsboro', Deering and Antrim. Mr. A. M. Shaw of Lebanon has the contract for building the road, and will hasten its construction as fast as the circumstances of the case will admit. He will employ six engineers and superintend the work in person.

The Ranlet Manufacturing Company at Laconia is filling a contract of 200 freight cars for the National Car Company, and is employing 120 hands, turning out ten a week. This company will ship from its works the coming week a long, first-class baggage and postal car for the European and North American Railway Company. The running gear of two passenger cars for the White Mountain Railway has been rebuilt by this company, making them perfectly safe on their track. Instead of the air-brake, a double line or friction brake, an important invention of Walter Akin, Esq., has been applied. This invention will insure safety under all circumstances.

John R. Champlin of Laconia has erected a handsome and spacious lookout structure on Jewett's Hill in that village. Mr. Champlin has nearly completed a large and powerful seven-inch lens telescope, which will be in use at this lookout. Much interest is manifested in this enterprise, as Mr. Champlin has proven himself master of this branch of science, and this will prove an additional attraction to this flourishing New Hampshire town.

About thirty families of French residents of Nashua took a special train on Monday, bound for Winnepeg and the Red River country. The party received an addition of several families at Manchester. The crowd at the depot when the train started was very large; several of the Frenchmen leave numerous creditors behind.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS (formerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton), at the corner of Creek Street and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 30x40 feet and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

For terms enquire of the owner,
CLARENCE B. MASON.

SICK HEADACHE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 3, 1877.

I have suffered with Sick Headache as often as every two weeks, for Fifteen Years. At times in such severe pain I fainted away. I tried every thing I could hear of and was attended by Physicians. I continued in this condition until last December when I commenced with the Little Giant Pills. I have not had a Headache since. I want every person who suffers as I have, to try this Medicine and be cured, and if any such are not able to pay for a box, I will buy a box and give them.

BLAST THE ROCKS.

The following item of local news is published:

An order has been issued from the War department at Washington, directing that the appropriation of $14,000 for the improvement of navigation of the Cocheco river be expended in the manner prescribed in the bill. The appropriation was made last summer, but Gen. Grant refused to expend the money appropriated by the river and harbor bill on account of the lateness of the session.

It has long been a mystery to us why our citizens generally, and those interested in shipping in particular, have remained so passive while there is so much room for (and so much need of) improvements in our harbor. Large sums have been expended by the government in removing obstructions from places where there never has been and never will be any great amount of shipping, while this port, with its large trade, has been entirely unrecognised in that direction. We do not envy our Dover neighbors the improvement of the Cocheco river channel; we are quite willing the government should blow the bottom out of the whole concern; but we cannot see that commerce is to reap any benefit commensurate with the amount of money expended there, and are sure that at least an equal amount could be laid out to far better advantage in removing certain dangerous obstructions to navigation in this harbor. After all the blowing up and clearing away of the Cocheco's bottom, we are told that twenty thousand tons of coal, or more, to be brought into this port this season for Dover parties, instead of going up in the vessels that bring it will be transshipped into gondolas; the reason for this we believe is the opposition masters of vessels make to taking their craft up the Cocheco; and we have been told by a schooner's skipper that he would not go up there with his vessel for double the freight. This does not show that the money expended in improving the Cocheco was wasted; but it does show that whatever the benefits which in the future may accrue from the improvements, navigation has not been essentially benefitted by them as yet.

One-half the money expended on improving the Cocheco, if laid out in this harbor would have materially improved the navigation of the river. It is notorious to seafaring men that there are several dangerous obstructions that could be removed at little trouble and expense, and the removal of which would be of great advantage. Much damage has resulted to vessels at various times from striking these rocks,—unavoidably swept on by the swift and varying current, which often makes it impossible to keep a vessel off even by the use of her anchors. In almost every case in which a large vessel has struck she has been under the charge of a skillful pilot—and we believe the pilots on the Piscataqua will compare favorably with any others—and in every case, we believe, the pilot has been exonerated. The removal of the rocks to which we refer would tend to make the currents run truer, and reduce to a minimum the chances of accident to a properly-handled vessel.

The places which annoy mariners the most and "pick up" the most vessels are Ham's Ledge, off the north side of Concord Railroad wharf; the ledge off Badger's Island point; a rock to the eastward of the stone beacon, almost in the ship channel, and the ledges inside of it; the ledge at Peirce's Island, known as the Bass Rock; and the ledge off the point below the Narrows, by seamen called a name smacking of profanity, but which we at present can not recollect. Most, if not all of these obstructions, could be easily removed, and should be; and we would suggest to the Portsmouth Board of Trade that here is a fitting field for the display of a little energy. Some time ago the Board ably agitated the question of building a breakwater between two islands at Newcastle, to prevent vessels being swept ashore on Clark's Island by the lateral current,—an accident that we never heard of as having occurred to any vessel. Similar action in the case of removing the rocks spoken of, on which many vessels have struck and which could be cleared away for much less than the proposed breakwater would have cost, will no doubt result in the proper authorities looking into the matter,—and an official examination could only result in a decision that the obstructions need removal. It is no very uncommon occurrence for a heavy-laden coal vessel to hit Ham's Ledge a good rap, in making a berth at the Railroad wharf; Badger's Island Ledge is greatly in the way of vessels beating up the river, as they must make a tack below it and run great risk of being swept upon it by the tide; the rock in ship channel is a positive peril to a deep keel; and Bass Rock is a nuisance, always ready to scrape any unwary craft that ventures too near. Within a very short time three fishing vessels have been ashore on Bass Rock, one of them having to employ steam to get off, and coming off considerably damaged. As to the point with the evil name we do not know much; we know it is a bad place, and has got in the way of a number of vessels, but how much of a job it would be to blow it away we have no idea. But the other obstructions named could be easily removed, and we hope the Board of Trade and citizens interested in shipping will take hold of the matter in earnest, in which case the rocks will be removed beyond question.

POLICE COURT.

Charles McGinnis, a man with a very large carpet bag which had evidently once been new, was taken in at the police station Saturday evening and cared for until Monday morning, when he was dismissed on promising to leave the city at once. Along in the afternoon Mr. McGinnis was found on the street in so hilarious a condition that he was as ready to lie down as to stand up while he sang, and his carpet-bag had the appearance of having taken a prominent part in a nitro-glycerine explosion or railroad collision. On Tuesday he was brought before Judge Batchelder, who fined him $3, costs being assessed at $8.04. Brentwood for Charles.

JOTTINGS.

The following jurors have been drawn in Ward Two to serve at the Supreme Court at Exeter, to report next Monday: John Stavers, Thomas E. O. Marvin, Luther E. Martin, Samuel Adams.

Quite a large crowd of interested gamins assembled on the wharf at the foot of Short street, near the Raynes shipyard, Monday afternoon, to watch the landing of a gondola load of flat stones imported from Durham on the city's account, for cross-walks.

The San Francisco Chronicle of the 14th says "the condition of ship Frank Jones remains the same. Her lower masts and topmasts are still up, and chains have been lashed from the mast heads to the hull on the starboard side to carry out the plan of heaving her down on her broadside when the ballast has been got out. The pumps were started on Thurday, but no effect was visible, as the tide ebbed and flowed in her. A bulkhead is being constructed forward, aft of the holes in the vessel's bottom, and this, after being made water tight, will, of course, neutralize the leaks in that quarter. After the ballast is all out it is calculated that with three tugs, one on each mast, she can easily be hove down on her broadside and then towed off."

A thief effected an entrance into Mr. Rufus A. Preble's grocery store in Newcastle, Monday night, by boring out a door-shutter, and stole what money he could find, but how much is not known.

In an item concerning the schooner Anson Stimson, Capt. Reed, of Gloucester, Mass., published in the CHRONICLE on Monday, it was stated that a "coast pilot was employed in the interest of the underwriters," giving the idea that the schooner's master was not solely responsible for his vessel and her management. This is incorrect; Capt. Reed runs and always has run his vessel without the supervision of any coast pilot.

The Eastern Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Boston on Friday, the 27th, on the regular trains, at half-fare rates—$1.70 for the round trip. Tickets will be good to return on the 27th and 28th; and as this is the last opportunity that will be afforded to hear Moody and Sankey, no doubt many will avail themselves of it. The advantage of being able to take any of the regular trains will also be appreciated. Trains leave Portsmouth at 7:15, 8:23 and 11:09 A. M., and 5:08 P. M.

An entertainment for the benefit of the Children's Home is to be given at the St. John's chapel, State street, on Thursday evening, at which there are to be readings and recitations in which the humorous will predominate, to be given by the rector of the church, Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, Mrs. Julia Van Ness Whipple, Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, Miss Nellie Robinson and Mr. William Russell Foster. The tickets are placed at 50 cents, to be had at Goodrich's bookstore.

—Abe Rothschild, who killed his mistress (a young married woman who deserted her husband in Pennsylvania to run off with Rothschild,) in Texas, is now in jail in that State and quite enjoys himself. He is "permitted to have the society of ladies" whenever he pleases; his visitors number from fifty to three hundred a day, and he is abundantly supplied with bouquets; twice a day he is allowed to promenade the streets, and does not feel at all like a prisoner.

—In an English court of justice a man testified recently that he was awakened about half-past one A. M., by his cat jumping on the bed and scratching his face. He started up and found a burglar in the room, and soon after his wife discovered another under the bed. Both men were found guilty and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.

—An exchange solemnly inquires, "Watchman, what of the night?" And away down the long vista of street lamps we hear the echoing reply, "Whaz of yer night? Like t'no howeuny mansgoto fin' where I put nigh' key when er door stuck plum full 'stray keyholes. Ats whazzer marter 'z night."

—They have a curious way of deciding law suits in Siam. Both parties are put under cold water, and the one staying the longest wins the suit. In this country both parties are got into hot water and then kept there as long as possible. The result in the end is the same.

—Deacon Jones, just deceased, had a very red nose. His widow thought it rather personal in the minister to begin his funeral discourse, "Another shining light has been taken from our congregation."

—Laura D. Fair has filed her petition in bankruptcy in San Francisco. Liabilities $21,000; assets small.

Two Irreconcilable Conditions.

Debility and health are irreconcilable conditions. Weakly people, that is to say people who lack the vitality requisite for a vigorous discharge of each and all of the bodily functions, are invariably afflicted with some, though it may be a trifling, disorder of the system. Atony, or a want of nervous vigor, is accompanied by poverty of the blood and leanness. A certain way to overcome it and prevent the aggravated maladies to which it must ultimately lead is to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promote digestion and assimilation of the food, and thus are the means of furnishing the body with a supply of blood of a quality essential to its proper nourishment. Invigoration through the instrumentality of the matchless tonic protects the feeble from a host of bodily ills which lurk in ambush for the debilitated. The Bitters are an article which it is most desirable to keep constantly on hand.

One Live Tooth

is worth a dozen dead ones, and to secure the teeth from decay, it is only necessary to use the Fragrant Sozodont. The odor of this pure preparation is so delightful, that it is a luxury to apply it, and its beneficial effect upon the teeth is marvellous.

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs this Remedy needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

Notice to Tax Payers.

THE ASSESSORS call attention to the following extracts from the laws of the State, and give notice that it is their intention to enforce the same:

"Every person liable to be taxed in such town shall exhibit to the Selectmen, at the time and place appointed by them, or upon such personal application, a true account of the polls and estate for which he is there taxable, either in his own right or otherwise, on oath if required by either of the Selectmen, which oath either of the Selectmen may administer."

"If any person shall neglect or refuse, after due notice given as aforesaid, or when called upon by any Selectman, to give such account, the Selectmen shall set down to such person, by way of doomage, as much as the judge equitable, which shall be conclusive in all cases, unless the party shall show, by his statement under oath, that it was not in his power to exhibit such statement."

The Assessors of cities have by law all the powers of Selectmen and Assessors of towns in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes.

Inventories will be received until the 28th day of April.

No application for reduction from the invoice of any person, on account of debt, will be considered unless made during the month of April.

Daily Chronicle.

—"Got any pocket handkerchers?" said a small, soiled boy, with the chief part of his wardrobe hanging from his shoulder by one suspender, and a bundle of newspapers under his arm. The shopkeeper stared for a moment, but hard times have made even small purchasers desirable, and he answered blandly: "Here you are, sonny; all sizes; fifteen cents." The young merchant cast a scornful look at him and said: "I wonder at yer showing them cotton sleves to a gentleman. I want suthin in fancy silk, with a chance for my mo-nog-ram in the corner. Where's there a fust-class dry goods house 'round here, young feller?" And he got out of the door just in advance of a shower of yardsticks and scissors.

—A singular specimen of native Hindoo English, in the shape of a petition for pecuniary help, was recently received by an officer at Secunderabad. After imploring the beneficence of the regiment, the applicant stated: "I got three brothers and two sisters including me, but my brothers are dumless and they have no legs and hands, but for my another sister she have no eyes, and for myself I can't talk, and besides that my brothers and sisters they never eat rice nor bread except milk and sugar, and my brothers and sister they are turned as Christians."

PULMOCINE.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their special access modest and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates, price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

To the LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Moit's Celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

Dr. S. Y. R. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y
HOURS—Daily from 8 A. M., to 8 P. M. Sundays 10 to 1 A. M., and 2 to 5 P. M. 6mayr7

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Contributors, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, devoted special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most imperfect of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Household, and an impartial review of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $5.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them, direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No time equalling it in pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know of, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I have tried to see not how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intense pain. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. They told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am about well. The impression of my friends seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Please send five three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hunt county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend the Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after, dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and notknowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Bachman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or any where else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

"Inventors cannot employ a more competent, more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."
Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.
Notices of the Press.
Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, letter-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.
The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.
The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.
The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is as once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.
I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.
II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wise and discharge of their responsibility.
III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.
IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.
V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.
VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is a Mine more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."
VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Live Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.
VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.
IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country, who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.
X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

An Old Notion Revived.

Eighty years have passed since the metallic tractors of Dr. Elisha Perkins acquired their sudden and short-lived fame. No less than 5,000 cures of rheumatism and similar disease were said to have been effected by the use of those two small pieces of metal—probably one was brass and the other steel—which were slowly drawn in a downward direction along the skin over the seat of pain. The influence was supposed to be magnetic or electrical. But when similar cures were effected with sticks of wood painted so as to pass for metal, the whole effect was ascribed to the power of imagination, and the tractors were dismissed to ignominy. There is a chance now that the invention may be again received with favor. Prof. Charcot, assisted by M. Burq, has been making experiments at the Salpetriere, which seems to show that where, as in hysteria, a part of the body becomes insensible to pain, the sensibility can be temporarily restored by the outward application of pieces of metal. With some patients only gold will serve this purpose; with others, only zinc; with others again, only copper. The effect is produced throughout a space of five or ten centimeters above and below the place of the metal, and lasts for a day. It has been successful even where the insensibility to pain was a result of softening of the brain. On one occasion Dr. Charcot wished to show some of his friends that hysterical patients are insensible to pain on one side. To illustrate this, he passed a long needle into the arm of such a patient. She uttered a frightful cry of pain. Upon inquiry it was found that M. Burq had been applying a metallic disk to her arm a few hours before. The sneering lines of Byron will be recalled:

Look at the wonders as they pass:
The cow-pox, tractors, galvanism, gas.

It was long since noted that three out of the four "wonders" have turned out as discoveries of the highest value. If the tractors should be resuscitated in medical practice, the sneer will have been wholly misplaced.

Old Times.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Blauvelt, of Lamington, in his recent semi-centennial address speaking of the changes during his pastorate of half a century, says:

"The greatest evil, however, in practice, with which we had formerly to contend, was intemperance. Strong drink was used freely in every family, and even good men drank it so as to affect their reason and conduct, while absolute drunkards were neither few nor far between. Nor was this to be wondered at, when common civility required that the bottle should be offered to every visitor; when it was deemed indispensible at raisings and in the harvest field, and when a tavern was in close proximity to every church. Such was the general state of things in our land at that day. The temperance movement had hardly commenced; and when begun here there were some who were so much displeased that they left our church. Thanks to God it is not so now, nor has it been so for many years among those who worship with us. We have no drunkards among us at least, nor do I now fear that the good impression made by the sermon will be effaced by a subsequent dram."

Teaching Horses to Face Strange Animals.

To prepare the horses of the Prince of Wales for his visit to India, it was deemed necessary to practice their introduction to the various wild animals that they would be likely to meet in the jungle. They were therefore ridden up to the Royal Park where various wild animals are kept on exhibition. Instead of entering the gardens at once, they were slowly ridden up to the park fence, on the road known as the Outer Circle, and from this position they could clearly see the large male African elephant walking about in his paddock; in this way they felt somewhat safe, as they had the open road before them, and the elephant was behind the fence. As soon as the horses had recovered their surprise at the sight of this animal, they were ridden into the gardens, and brought near enough to the elephant to make a close inspection of his general appearance. They were a little nervous at first, more especially when the great brute set up his large ears, and made an attempt to rush toward the horses, and gave his shrill note of alarm; they, however, soon began to acquire confidence, and cease to start or jump from him, and, after a day or two, would allow him, when let out with them, to come close enough to touch the end of his trunk. The next thing was to introduce to their notice the large male Indian rhinoceros. However quiet the horses were inclined to be, this savage monster was extremely angry at the sight of the men on horseback in so close proximity to his abode, and he rushed and snorted about in and around his paddock in a frightful state of excitement, and had it been in his power to get at them, he would, doubtless, have made short work with his new acquaintances. Notwithstanding his fury, "Coomassie" behaved in the most cool and composed manner. It was most delightful to witness the watchful and intelligent gaze with which this beautiful animal kept his eye upon the frantic and enraged rhinoceros, without exhibiting any particular fear or alarm; and no doubt this coolness on his part assisted greatly to quiet his two companions, "Cockney" and "Dashwood." It soon became evident that the task would be safely and perfectly accomplished. The camels were soon afterward tried. Their long shaggy hair, the strange humps, and queer heads and necks, seemed to puzzle the horses considerably; but after a while, they allowed them to come near enough to smell them, and gradually acquire more confidence, until they would stand side by side and pass around or between them, touching them with their noses, and becoming quite familiar. It may appear singular, but the horse "Coomassie" appeared to have a wish to examine and re-visit all the animals in the gardens; he required no urging to bring him face to face with the lions and tigers, notwithstanding the excitement into which the sight of the horse caused these animals to fly, but "Coomassie" looked at them with a most inquiring eye, not appearing in the slightest degree alarmed. This, then, ended the training of three of the finest of the Prince's horses.—Land and Water.

The War.

Much interest has been excited by a speech of Von Moltke in the German Parliament, which is taken as a warning to France that Germany is watching her movements.

Prince Nicholas, of Montenegro, has gone to the frontier.

Turkish troops are being hurried into Roumania.

Skirmishing is reported near Kars.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.

The President's order withdrawing the troops stationed in New Orleans to their barracks, though anticipated, has been received by open signs of mutiny by a portion of the republicans here and is not a cheerful subject of conversation with those of the party that have endorsed his "Southern policy" heretofore. Indeed I think almost everyone would be much disappointed if there was not a lively "shindy" inaugurated when Congress convenes in extra session on the 4th of June. Ex-Senator Wade's letter has acted as a fire brand on material all ready to blaze up whenever the fire should be applied; and should Hampton and Nicholls fail to live up to rigid compliance with the profuse promises they have made, it is now freely predicted that the President would have to make back tracks, else he would find himself without a party.

Many people here are rather disposed to applaud the English opposition in its severe chatechising of the Government as to its position toward the principal belligerents in the impending Turco-Russian war. There still exists among many people residing at or visiting Washington, much latent dislike of the party now in power in England, because of its unfriendly attitude toward us during our late war; and anything tending to embarass the Government while administered by it will be hailed by such with feelings of satisfaction.

It is said that Mr. Evarts is watching the tyrannical Spanish Governor-General of Cuba with a vigilant eye, with a view of tripping him up should he attempt to collect the ruinous taxes, amounting virtually to confiscation, that have been assessed against American property holders in that island, among other foreigners. But the reported instructions which that official has received from the home government to cease all forcible attempts at its collection from subjects of the German Empire, will probably be successfully urged to protect the property of all aliens doing business in any part of Cuba. KNOX.

New Hampshire Items.

A Hanover correspondent writes: "The graduating exercise of class '77, New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, will take place in Culver Hall, Tuesday evening, May 1st. The exercises will consist of orations by members of the graduating class, an address by Hon. John W. Hoyt, L. L. D., of Washington, D. C., and remarks by the President and members of the examining board."

The Supreme Court of New Hampshire, without a dissenting voice, has answered the question propounded by the Governor and Council relative to going behind the returns, in the negative. The opinion of the Court was prepared by Chief Justice Doe, and signed by all the Judges except Judge George A. Bingham, who says, "for reasons peculiar to myself I think I should be excused from sitting as a member of the Court in the decision of this question." As a citizen he hopes that the question may be considered as finally settled and put at rest.

Elephants and Milk.

A lively gallop soon brought me twelve miles on my way easterly, over the hills, to the little village of Somerstown. Like a great castle on the Rhine with its two or three adjacent appurtenances, a large brick hotel looms up among the few small houses in its neighborhood. This seemed disproportionate, but my curiosity was particularly attracted by an immense statue of an elephant, nearly as large as life—I mean the life size of a small elephant, of course. This remarkable resemblance to the animal was mounted on a high post before the door of the hotel, and painted over the front of the building I read, in enormous letters, "Elephant Hotel."

It was time to breathe my horse, and the ride had given me an appetite for any thing I might find within, even if it should prove to be an elephant steak. The landlord observed that "the women-folks were not at home, but he guessed he could find something." He accordingly placed a cold turkey and a bottle of London porter on the table, and thus proved that his guess was very correct. As he sat down by my side, I asked him the meaning of all this great elephantine display.

"Why," he answered, "Hackaliah Bayley built this house himself!"

"Hackaliah Bayley! Who was he?"

"Who was Hackaliah Bayley! Don't you know? He was the man who imported the first elephant into these U-nited States—old Bet; of course you have heard of old Bet?"

"No, I have not."

"What, never heard of old Bet! Well, Sir, you are pretty well along in life. Where have you been all your days?"

I told him I had not spent them all in Westchester County.

"I should rather think not," replied the landlord, "or else you'd have heard of Hackaliah Bayley and old Bet. Right here, from this very spot, he started the first show in this country. Right round here is where they breed and winter wild animals to this day. Folks round here have grown rich out of the show business. There's men in this town that have been to Asia and Africa to get animals; and Bayley's big circus (he's old Hackaliah's son) has grown up out from the small beginning when Hackaliah imported old Bet, and that wasn't more than fifty or sixty years ago. Yes, Sir, Hackaliah began on that one she-elephant. He and a boy were all the company. They traveled nights and showed daytimes. Old Bet she knew just how much every bridge in the country would bear before she put her foot on it. Bimeby they got a cage of monkeys and carted them along, and gradually it got up to bears, lions, tigers, camels, boa-constrictors, alligators, Tom Thumb, hippopotamuses, and the fat woman—in fact, to where it is now. Yes, Sir; P. T. Barnum got the first rudiments of his education from Hackaliah Bayley right here in Somerstown. Elephants and milk have made this town. In fact, we all live on elephants and milk."

"Elephants and milk! Good gracious," I exclaimed, "what a diet!"

"Lord, Sir," retorted my landlord, "did you think I meant that we crumbled elephants into milk and ate 'em? No; I mean to say that the elephant business and the milk business are what have built up this place. I've told you what elephants have done for us, and now I'll tell you about milk. There's farmers round here owning a hundred cows apiece. From the little depot of Purdy's you'll pass a mile beyond this we send four thousand gallons of milk every day to New York; and it starts from here pure, let me tell you, for we are honest, if we were brought up in the show business. Then right in our neighborhood are two condensed-milk factories, where they use as much more. There's eight thousand gallons. The farmers get sixteen cents for it on the spot. So you see there is a revenue of twelve hunnred and eighty dollars a day to this district. Now you've been telling me of the West, how they raise forty bushels of wheat to the acre, and all that. Well, what does it amount to by the time they get their returns, paying all out in railroad freight? You ride along this afternoon, and if you come back this way, tell me if the houses and fixings and things, especially the boys, and more particularly the gals, look any better in them fever-and-ague diggings than they do here, if we do live on elephants and milk."—Harper's for May.

Scotching Malaria.

It is a fact widely and amply attested that where the powerful and pernicious drug, quinine, and other mineral poisons, administered as remedies for fever and ague and bilious remittents, fail to yield more than temporary relief to the sufferer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters scotches those tremendous epidemics most thoroughly, and by strengthening the system and regulating its functions, protects it against malarial attacks. No resident of a locality where the above maladies prevail, or where they are likely to break out in consequence of the poisoning of the atmosphere by noxious exhalations, should fail to take practical cognizance of the above important truth, and by a timely use of the Bitters avoid the ravages of maladies so disastrous to the physical constitution. There is not in existence a finer tonic, corrective and defensive cordial.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The citizens' meeting called for Tuesday evening, preliminary to a proper observance of Memorial Day, was well attended. The meeting was called to order by Mr. John H. Locke; Col. William H. Sise was chosen permanent chairman, and Mr. Oliver H. Loomis secretary. In accordance with a vote of the meeting, the chair appointed a committee of three to nominate a general committee of fifteen, to take charge of the arrangements, the nominating committee being as follows: John H. Locke, Robert E. Rich, O. M. Knight. This committee reported the following list of names for a general committee:

Chairman, Ichabod Goodwin; Vice Chairman, Wm. H. Sise; John W. Parsons, James R. May, John Laighton, Plumer D. Norton, J. E. Colcord, Samuel Dodge, Adolph Nelson, John H. Locke, E. A. Tilton, Thomas Entwistle, Wm. H. Lovell, Charles N. Osgood, W. Russell Foster, Wallace Hackett.

The list as reported was approved, and E. G. Pierce, Jr., was chosen Treasurer. On motion of Mr. Locke, the meeting then adjourned to the call of the Chairman.

MAGGIE MITCHELL

Will appear at Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening next, May 2d, as "Mignon," in her new play of that name. This favorite actress, it is well known, finds it difficult to procure new plays suited to her power, but it happily turns out that in "Mignon" she has succeeded, the Boston Sat. Eve. Express saying "her Mignon is a fitting companion-portrait of Fanchon, and likely to become as permanently popular." The ground work of the play is Goethe's novel "Wilhelm Meister," and the Advertiser says it "is full of incident" and has "considerable romantic interest;" the Herald says "it will be classed in the same school as the half dozen other plays made famous and familiar by Miss Mitchell's acting, but will outrank most of them in the vitality of its story, the skill of its construction and picturesqueness of its scene," and that "Mignon is a character exactly fitted to the peculiar talents of Miss Mitchell, who enters into its delineation with all the enthusiasm and ardor of her vivacious nature;" the Journal calls the play "one of the most delightful of recent contributions to the stage in the vein of the romantic drama," and adds that "Miss Mitchell embodies Goethe's beautiful creation with a poetic grace and loveliness rarely to be met with on the stage;" and the Traveller says "Mignon is a remarkably effective acting play" and that Miss Mitchell "is as vivacious and amusing, as well as capable of exciting the deeper emotions, as ever." Wherever Miss Mitchell has appeared in her new play she has been as well received as formerly in Fanchon and Little Barefoot. The support is worthy the play and the actress. See advertisement for particulars.

"FROM ONE WHOM IT CONCERNS."

PORTSMOUTH, April 25.

I noticed in yesterday's "Times" a communication "To whom it may concern," from Hon. J. R. Reding, in regard to an effort being made for the removal of Mr. John Durgin from the position of teacher in the public schools.

With all due respect for the opinion of Mr. Reding in regard to the qualifications of Mr. Durgin as a teacher, I—and others who have children under Mr. Durgin's charge—would suggest that perhaps the parents of the children, and the school committee, may be supposed to know more about the administration of the school and the capability of the teacher than out-siders who have no direct interest in its welfare. As a man and a citizen, I believe Mr. Durgin to be without reproach, and as such I have a sincere respect for him; but as a teacher, I consider him in the wrong place, —and there are other parents who are of the same opinion, and who have just grounds for their conviction. PARENT.

LANGDON PARK.

Eds. Chronicle:—I see by the papers that there is a proposition to have a May-pole raising in the Park this year. This is well, for the Park is certainly a beautiful place, —and the only trouble is, that hardly anyone likes to walk a mile to get a quarter of a mile distant; it is repugnant to Yankee nature; the Yankee must have a short cut. The Park is just what our city has needed for many years; it is the surest way to prevent our boys having "Club Rooms," which are but little better than schools for crime, —and our city has several such, as was developed by our police court a short time since.

Last year an effort was made to get a highway laid out from the foot of Rogers street to the Park, the Park Commissioners promising to build a bridge without cost to the city; but our fossil economists and "pinchback" monied men rushed in their protests, asserting the road would cost fabulous sums. The city now pays seven-tenths of the expenses of the County Farm at Brentwood; and $6000 per year direct tax, for the running expenses of a private Poor Farm besides. Mr. B. F. Webster has made a proposition to the City Government to purchase a portion of the City Farm. [If the city had given the whole of it away ten years ago there would have been a saving of sixty thousand dollars, up to date!] Mr. Webster owns a field at the foot of Rogers street, which the Park Commissioners last year expressed a desire to get, and which is just the place for the boys to play ball in. In view of the tendency of the boys to congregate in their "club rooms" does not the present appear an opportune time to dispose of undesirable property, acquire desirable property, reduce taxes, exert a good influence on the morals of the youth of the city, and encourage the Park Commissioners in building the bridge,—to say nothing of the gaining control of the north-shore-effluvia-generating Mill-pond.

Now let some of our "patent right economists" appear at the city rooms and oppose the new laid scheme of a supposed desire "to gain notoriety." REVILO.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, April 25th.

John Atwood, John McNulty, Thomas Allen and Hugh Riley, all marines, were all adjudged guilty of drunkenness, and each assessed $9.90, fine and costs.

Thomas H. Brown, another marine, was accused of brawling and tumulting; that he was engaged in a brawl was proved, but the Court, thinking it quite likely that his story that he acted only in self defence was true, allowed him to go.

1819. I. O. O. F. 1877.

The Odd Fellows of this city and vicinity having decided to have a street parade in connection with their other observances of the fifty-eighth anniversary of the Order, this day, April 26th, the procession will form as follows:

Platoon of Police.
Chief Marshal—Edward D. Coffin.
Aids—Andrew J. Sides, John S. Perry, D. Webster Barnabee, Daniel J. Vaughan, Albert A. Fernald, Plumer D. Norton.
Portsmouth Cornet Band, W. Critchley leader.

Mt. Sinai Encampment, No. 19;
George H. Tripp, C. P.; Hiram B. Lord, Marshal.
Strawberry Bank Encampment, No. 5;
Daniel Parry, C. P.; John H. Locke, Marshal.
Dirigo Encampment, No. 7, of Kittery, Me.;
Joseph D. Parker, C. P.; Calvin L. Hayes, Marshal.
Osgood Lodge, No. 48;
Edwin B. Prime, N. G.; William Kennedy, Marshal.
New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17;
James C. Lamos, N. G.; Moses H. Tilton, Marshal.
Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6;
Wm. G. Billings, N. G.; Wm. W. Cotton, Marshal.
Riverside Lodge, No. 72, of Kittery, Me.;
Frank E. Rowell, N. G.; Daniel W. Marden, Marshal.

The procession will form on Pleasant street, the right resting on Market square, and will move at four o'clock P. M., sharp, over the following route:

Through Market, Deer, Vaughan, Congress, Islington, Cabot and Middle streets to Cass street, countermarching at Cass street, back through Middle, State, Chapel and Daniel streets to Market square, thence up Congress street to Franklin Hall.

Encampments will meet in Pythian Hall at 3:30 P. M.; Lodges will assemble in Odd Fellows' Hall at the same hour.

Ladies will assemble at 4:45 in Franklin Hall, where they will be joined by their escort for the supper.

The supper will continue from five o'clock to eight, Joseph H. Gardiner presiding; then literary exercises will begin and continue to about half-past nine, when dancing will commence, the floor management being as follows:

Floor director, James F. Hartsborn; aids, Wm. W. Cotton, Joseph H. Gardiner, Hiram C. Locke, Moses H. Tilton, Benjamin Plumer.

The ladies are requested to send in their contributions for the tables between nine and twelve o'clock this forenoon, at the Fleet street entrance to Franklin Hall.

Past Grand Representative True Osgood, of Concord, is expected to be present.

JOTTINGS.

Messrs. C. E. Myers & Co. claim to be selling spring clothing cheaper than has been done for eighteen years past, and cheaper than the same quality of goods can be bought at any other place in the city They certainly sell a good article at a very reasonable price, and offer the purchaser a very large stock to select from; at their extensive store, No. 3 Bow street. They also cut and make up piece goods in styles to suit customers, and only ask a fair, living profit. See their advertisement.

Schooner Ida E. Latham, Capt. Potter, which arrived at this port from Philadelphia on the 24th with seven hundred tons of coal, is largely manned by one family, one of the captain's sons being mate and another second mate, while a third does seaman's duty before the mast. The schooner is a big one and a beauty; and seven hundred tons of coal is not a full cargo for her.

Mr. Rufus B. Emery has sold his house on McDonough street to the Portsmouth Aqueduct Company, and is about to remove to Vineland, N. J.

Fred D. James, of Tamworth, having pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling money from the Times, was sentenced to six months in jail and to pay $50 fine. He should have been hung right off.

Engineer James Colby and fireman Stephen Varnum, of the engine "Monitor" on the Concord Railroad, had a narrow escape from death on the afternoon of the 23d. A pipe burst under 115 lbs. pressure, letting into the cab the steam confined in the boiler. They were both severely burned about the head and face, and saved their lives by immediately jumping.

The May term of the Circuit Court of the United States for the district of New Hampshire will begin on Tuesday, May 8, in this city; Hon. George F. Shepley will preside. Justice Clifford has informed the clerk that, as the Supreme Court of the United States will not adjourn until the close of the session on the 7th of May, he will not attend at all at this term of the Circuit Court, unless the circuit judge finds some case which requires his attendance.

The Howard Atheneum Specialty and Pantomime Troupe, including Maffit and Bartholomew, and Miss Jennie Ingle, will give an entertainment in Franklin Hall on Monday evening next, the 30th. See advertisement.

Timothy Murphy has been arrested at Greenfield on suspicion of causing the death of Samuel Dascomb, a well-to-do farmer with whom he has boarded and with whose wife he has been improperly intimate. Dascomb was 76 years old, and his wife 30 years younger. Murphy is a railroad laborer.

Under the influence of the war news from Europe, grain and flour have commenced to go up at a rate that unless it is soon checked will carry them so high that a poor man will only be able to see the bottom of a flour barrel. Speculation is of course largely responsible for the rise in prices.

Steamer Mystic, of Dover, on Wednesday evening was lying alongside a gondola at Sise's wharf, waiting to tow her to Dover as soon as she was loaded with coal. The little steamer has been painted and fixed up generally, and looks as neat as a new pin.

On Wednesday afternoon a man, arrested in Dover on a charge of horse stealing, was brought to this city by an Ipswich (Mass.) policeman, and lodged in the lockup on suspicion of breaking and entering Mr. Rufus A. Preble's store at Newcastle on the night of the 23d. He refused to give either name or residence.

York, Me., is preparing for the war. Schooner D. S. Ives, Capt. Donnell, of York, was on Wednesday taking in a cargo of corn and flour for that port, at Charles Robinson's. She will carry a hundred barrels of flour and three or four hundred bushels of corn.

Persons visiting Dover to-day can go and return on any of the regular trains, as well as on the special return train from Dover at 10 P. M. Tickets at the depot. The first and second days of the Musical Convention were highly successful, the interest and attendance increasing with each session.

The following is the city marshal's report for the quarter ending March 31: Drunks, 63; tramps, 5; brawl and tumult, 5; assault, 5; disturbing the peace, 4; larceny, 3; breaking glass, 3; deserters, 2; suspicion, 2; truants, 2; escaped convict, 1; threatening life, 1; breaking and entering, 1; attempting to rescue prisoner, 1; assaulting officer, 1; giving liquor to prisoner, 1; bastardy, 1. Total, 101. There were 280 persons lodged during the quarter. The amount of fines and costs collected during the quarter was $21.80.

—Dr. Winslow of London thinks medical degrees will be valueless to men if women are also to receive them. Mrs. Winslow should give him some soothing syrup.

The American Popular Life Insurance Co., whose failure is announced, when organized was said to have a paid up capital of $306,700. Dr. Lambert, its President, is well known as a lecturer on the subject of longevity.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for Dr. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

SICK HEADACHE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 5, 1877.

I have suffered with Sick Head-Ache as often as every two weeks, for Fifteen Years. At times in such severe pain I fainted away. I tried every thing I could hear of and was attended by Physicians. I continued in this condition until not December when I commenced with the Little Giant Pills. I have not had a Head-Ache since. I want every person who suffers as I have, to try this Medicine and be cured, and if any such are not able to pay for a box, I will buy a box and give them.

Daily Chronicle.

—Mr. James Gordon Bennett, it is understood, has taken a lease of a handsome property in Leicestershire, in England, in the heart of a fine hunting country.

—They got a voluble female witness on the stand in a San Francisco Court the other day, and an exasperated juror arose and offered to pay one-half the amount in dispute out of his own pocket rather than wait there until the witness got though.

—As John Brougham sat, the other night, in the Union Square Theatre, behind a lady who wore one of the new tall, tower-shaped hats, he was reminded of a story about Bateman, the manager. Mr. Bateman, who is a big man with a rich crop of hair, he said, was sitting in the Theatre one night, with his hat on, shutting out the view of the stage from the gentleman in the seat behind him, when the latter, touching him lightly on the shoulder, politely said, "Beg pardon, sir; but will you please take your hat off?" Mr. Bateman promptly complied with the request, but had no sooner done so and thrust his fingers through his bushy hair, making it stand up like a wall, then the stranger tapped him on the shoulder again, and said, "Beg pardon, sir; but will you please put your hat on again?"

"Became Sound and Well."

HATCHER'S STATION, Ga., March 27, 1876.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:
Dear Sir: My wife, who had been ill for over two years, and had tried many other medicines, became sound and well by using your Favorite Prescription. My niece was also cured by its use, after several physicians had failed to do her any good.
Yours truly, THOMAS J. METHVIN.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have contracted their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Moit's Celebrated Guinea Bills.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittances. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, practical and scientific, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained from the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commends to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and—Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined and stayed for two years in bed, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as incurable. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have paid, I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $2.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 23, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I gain daily in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say, yet, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not feed them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head, and I do assure you I have tried many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only cure for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of the Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have the applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the benefit of others I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

MAMMOTH HAND PRESS.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait, executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about it.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is one more to the point to farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and are universally and almost infallible accuracy. Its Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent larger, the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

How She Fooled Him.

John Sanscript's wife went to bed Saturday night, March 31st, with her mind made up to fool the old man next day or die in the attempt. In previous years she had found John impervious to jokes of all kinds, and she realized the Augean task before her on the morrow. With her mind full of her self imposed task she went to sleep. At daylight she awoke and at once began to operate. Her victim was lying with his back toward her, apparently in a sound sleep. She poked him vigorously in the ribs with her sharp elbow and clawed his shins with her toe-nails, preparatory to startling him with a half-whispered warning.

"John—oh, John—there's some one ringing the door-bell."

"Lem 'in ring," was the sleepy response.

"But, John, maybe it's the man on the next square who owes you that $100 come to pay you."

"No 'taint, neither," said John, with a yawn.

"But you don't know, and it may be that very man."

"I guess not, for he's buried; died last week. Besides, old woman, your ears deceive you. I took the bell-knob off last night to fool April foolers."

Heavens, what a mess she made of it to begin with! But when the old man rolled out of bed, yawned and picked up his pants she rammed the sheet in her mouth to plug up her laughter.

"Oh, jimmy, won't he tumble when he puts his foot in them pants and find the legs sewed up!" she said to herself.

Judge of her rage when the provoking brute innocently took the blockaded pants to the wardrobe and inquired:

"Nancy, where's them chocolate-colored pants I had on last week?"

"Put on the ones you have in your hands, John; what's the matter with them pants?"

"I burst a button off yesterday, and they need mending."

At breakfast she poured out a nice cup of coffee for him and sweetened it with two spoonfuls of salt.

"You needn't give me any coffee," he said; "keep that yourself."

"Why, John, what's the matter? This is the first time since we were married you refused coffee."

"The blame stuff has made me very nervous lately; and, as this is the first of the month, I thought I'd break off and only drink it for supper. You keep that yourself."

When he came home to dinner she had prepared him a neatly-directed envelope with a sheet of blank paper inclosed within. He eyed it suspiciously, and throwing it into the fire, said:

"I know that handwriting. It's from that crazy lunatic who wants me to vote for him to-morrow. So much for his letter."

In the evening she disguised herself in one of her husband's old suits and came to the door to beg for charity.

"Please give me a nickle to buy some bread."

"Get out, or I'll give you a nickel with my boot."

"But, sir, consider. I'm starving."

"The devil you are! Now, I'll bet you $50 against the suit of clothes you wear that you are an impostor."

"But sir"——

"If I were to search you now I should not be surprised to find you loaded with wealth. For two cents I would see."

"For heaven's sake"——

"Now, none of your soft-soap on me. I don't believe in beggars. Here, you policeman, take this infernal impostor to the station-house."

Just as the "peeler" grabbed the supposed beggar by the back of the neck a shrill voice yelled:

"John! John! you wouldn't send your wife to the station-house, would you?"

"The d—l I wouldn't!" was the cool response. "Anybody who lies to me about my door-bell, sews up my trousers, puts salt in my coffee, writes me anonymous notes, and steals my clothes, ought to go to the Penitentiary for life."

"But how did you know?"

"If you women wouldn't talk in your sleep you might keep a secret once in a while."

Mrs. Sanscript says that hereafter when she attemps an April-fool joke she intends to sit up all the night previous.

Early Vegetables in New York.

The Grocer gives the following information in regard to the early vegetables sent to the New York market:

Among the first vegetables to arrive in this market is asparagus. Our first supply comes from California, and is shipped in the ice cars containing salmon. It brings about 75 cents per bunch. A little later on we receive asparagus from Florida at one dollar per punch. Gradually as the season advances our sources of supply work northward to Savannah, Charleston, Norfolk, until about the first of May, when the product of the New York market gardens begins to appear. California has also the honor of supplying us with the first cauliflower, which is shipped in the same manner as asparagus, and is worth when it first appears, about one dollar per head. Among the most prominent of our January arrivals may be mentioned cucumbers and lettuce, the first arrivals of both of which we receive from Massachusetts. The first cucumbers to arrive are big fellows, measuring from twelve to fourteen inches in length, and bring sometime as much as $2.50 each. About the middle of June when the season is at its height a cent apiece is more than is realized by the New Jersey and Long Island product. The lettuce comes also from the Boston hot-houses and is worth one dollar per dozen. In May we begin to receive lettuce from Long Island at half that price. Canada also contributes her part toward supplying us with luxuries by sending down the finest rhubarb and mushrooms received here. They are grown in large galleries 20 feet under ground, on the estate of Col. Rhodes, near Quebec. Green peas have begun to arrive in small quantities. These are, however, bought up by the restaurant keepers for advertisement in their show windows, while their customers regale themselves on the delicious products of the Baltimore canneries. The finest green peas received in this market come from Anne Arundel Co., Md., about the first of June, and are worth from about $15 to $18 per bbl. Early potatoes, onions and tomatoes come from Bermuda at first, and later from Savannah, Charleston and Norfolk.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1877.

The Latest Letter of Charles Francis.

When the New York Sun published, some six weeks after it was written, Charles Francis Adams' letter to Samuel J. Tilden, under date of March 5th, we did not consider it of enough importance to copy; but there has been so much said about that ridiculous screed of the champion egotist that we feel compelled to give it to our readers. It is as follows:

My Dear Sir: On this day, when you ought to have been the President of the United States, I seize the opportunity to bear my testimony to the calm and dignified manner in which you have passed through this great trial. It is many years since I ceased to be a party man, hence I have endeavored to judge of public affairs and men rather by their merits than by the name they take. It is a source of gratification to me to think that I made the right choice in the late election. I could never have been reconciled to the elevation by the smallest aid of mine of a person, however respectable in private life, who must forever carry upon his brow the stamp of fraud first triumphant in American history. No subsequent action, however meritorious, can wash away the letters of the record.

Very respectfully yours,
CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

We do not believe Mr. Adams wrote that letter, and have two very good reasons for not believing it. In the first place, the New York Sun says he did; and secondly, the letter contains an absolute falsehood, which Mr. Adams could help knowing was such,—and though it is said he believes the Adams family created the world and furnished a Savior for mankind, he is not open to the charge of being a liar. Even admitting Adams' statement that Hayes was elected by fraud to be true, his further statement that such fraud was on this occasion "first triumphant in American history" is untrue; for the notorious Plaquemine parish frauds which gave Louisiana to James K. Polk, and the equally notorious Empire Club frauds which gave him New York, were "triumphant" in defeating Henry Clay and making Polk President; and the Tilden-Tweed frauds of 1868 were "triumphant" to the extent of giving New York to Seymour and Hoffman,—as Mr. Adams very well knows. And Mr. Adams' present political party maintained that his father was elected by "a corrupt bargain and sale" between "a blackleg and a Puritan" (Henry Clay and John Q. Adams), and they utilized their charges and proofs so well that at the next election Adams was defeated by Andrew Jackson, by a vote of over two to one in the Electoral College.

There is yet another reason why we cannot credit the sage of Quincy with the authorship of that whole-souled endorsement of his own lofty honor, characteristic of him though it certainly is; and that is that he has never been accused of being a joker. No one but a reckless joker could have written to Tilden of "the calm and dignified manner" in which he passed through the Presidential campaign. Not at all admirable, even to his own party, are the calmness and dignity with which Tilden advertised himself through the agency of Bates & Locke, purchased his nomination at St. Louis, "whispered to a few friends" when his nomination was announced to him, spread his money and his ready-made editorials broadcast over the land in his desperate efforts to elect himself, allowed Nephew Pelton to carry on a cipher correspondence with Cronin from Gramercy Park, and sent a Tomb's pettifogger to Congress to act as his attorney,—a mighty "calm and dignified manner" that was in which to conduct himself, surely! Adams is unquestionably a first-class egotist; but he is not naturally an ass, and if he wrote the ridiculous letter attributed to him he must be well advanced in senility.

The Senate Steal.

The Supreme Court has made short work of its review of the Senate steal of 1875, and has branded that piece of stupid villainy in a way which will probably deter all future governors from attempting to duplicate it. The postscript which Judge Bingham, "as a citizen," adds to the opinion of the other judges is about as neat a specimen of a man's swallowing himself as we have seen lately.

CONCORD, April 23, 1877.

To His Excellency the Governor, and the Honorable Council:

The undersigned respectfully reply to your communication of the 16th inst. The question you put is:

"Whether, in counting the votes for representatives in Congress and State Senators, it is the duty of the Governor and Council, or whether they have the power to go behind the returns and throw out, reject or disregard any votes, on the ground that any candidate is ineligible, or on the ground that a candidate can have but one name, and the name by which he is commonly known was printed on the ballots, while he has sometimes been called by another name; or on the ground that there is no such man as one of those for whom the returns show votes were thrown; or on the ground that the name on the ballots was not the legal name of the candidate; or on the ground that certain ballots do not contain the full Christian name of the candidate intended to be voted for."

This is a question of law; and, so far as it relates to power, it necessarily means legal authority. We are not asked whether, by writ of mandamus or other legal process, the Governor and Council can be compelled to perform their duty, or whether there are remedies or penalties for their violation of it. They ask only what their duty is, what they can lawfully do and lawfully leave undone, what is legally right and what is legally wrong.

It is settled, by the decisions of the court, in 53 N. H. 473, 641, that the constitution of New Hampshire requires the Governor and Council to ascertain, not who are chosen, but who appear by the returns, to be chosen State Senators; to find the apparent result of the election, not by acting as judges of the election, but, so far as the result appears in the returns, to find it by arithmetic; to make a computation, not of the votes that would have been cast in a fair election, nor of the legal votes that were cast, nor of the votes legal and illegal that were cast, but of the votes which the returns show were declared by the moderators. It is also settled by those decisions that the returns to be computed are the town clerks' true copies of the town clerks' true records.

The duty of making this computation being imposed upon the Governor and Council by the constitution, and accepted by them with an official oath for its faithful and impartial performance, they cannot be authorized to violate it. This duty is, not to count a part of the returns, but to count them all. Whether some or all shall be counted, is a matter not submitted to their discretion. Their declaration that they reject a part of the whole number of the votes returned, would be a refusal to make the computation which the constitution commands them to make—a statement of the fact that their duty is left unperformed.

The Legislature, by reasonable regulations, may secure and facilitate the exercise of the constitutional right of voting; but that right cannot be legally destroyed by the Governor and Council refusing to count the returns which the constitution directs them to count. Executive, as well as legislative and judicial powers and duties, exist only within constitutional limits. Acts of other branches of the Government, as well as acts of the Legislature, may be unconstitutional, beyond the scope of their authority and void. The plain meaning and legal construction of the constitution is, that the returns which it requires the Governor and Council to count, it forbids and disables them to reject. The power of rejection from which it excludes them, cannot be conferred upon them, and cannot be exercised by them. Their rejection of returned votes for Senators would be the exact opposite of what the supreme law of the State authorizes and requires them to do, and beyond the constitutional bounds of their jurisdiction. And the statute requires them to count the returns of votes for Representatives in Congress in the manner in which the constitution requires them to count the returns of votes for Senators.

Our opinion is based on these reasons, and on other reasons which it is not necessary here to set forth, because the foregoing are, in our judgment, conclusive.

The question is, whether, in counting the returns of votes for Representative in Congress and State Senators, the Governor and Council have any duty or power to go behind the returns and throw out, reject, or disregard any votes. Our answer is, No.

For reasons peculiar to myself, I think I should be excused from sitting as a member of the court in the decision of this question.

As a citizen, in view of recent events, I may properly be allowed to express the hope that, in this State, the question having now been three times decided by the court, without any dissent, and without any conflicting decision, it may be considered as finally settled, and put at rest.

GEORGE A. BINGHAM.

The War.

The Russians are reported to be advancing on Kars, on the frontier of Turkey in Asia, in force. This is not the way the newspaper correspondents had decided the Czar's forces should advance. Russian troops have seized Baboroussi, in Roumania, a railroad station of great importance. The Turks have also taken possession of important points in Roumania.

It is expected Turkey will appeal to "the Powers," under the treaty of Paris, against the action of Russia; much good that will do. A Turkish victory over the Montenegrins, near Nicsics, is claimed, and that the Miridite insurgents are routed.

In England the impression prevails that all Europe will be embroiled before the war closes. Many English officers are in the Turkish army. There is a large British fleet at Constantinople and the English are accumulating immense stores of war material at the Island of Malta. The army has also been increased. It is considered certain that if a combination can be made with Austria or Russia, France will eagerly take part in the general contest which every one fears is inevitable.

GOOD ADVICE.

Come, all ye Bilious people,

A TEST OF FITNESS.

Eds. Chron.: In the discussion of the fitness of a man for a teacher, the question seems capable of being compressed into very narrow limits. It is simply, "Is he the best man, in acquirements, in dignity and power of discipline, in patience and fidelity, whom we can get for the money we pay?" If the pupils offered to the High School by a certain teacher stand as well as those offered by any other teacher, the verdict must be in his favor,—the city needs the man as much as the man needs the school. As a general thing the parents of pupils are totally incompetent to decide this point; hence the matter is put into the hands of a committee, and that committee should decide the question without fear or favor. The committee, like a judge on the bench, should neither listen to the suggestions of envy or enmity, nor to the pleadings of friendship or personal bias, but should do simple and exact JUSTICE.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Another brilliant wedding took place at the Navy Yard on Wednesday, between Dr. Presley M. Rixey, U. S. N., son of P. M. Rixey, Esq., of Culpeper, Va., and Miss Earlina English, daughter of Capt. Earl English, U. S. N., present Commandant of the Navy Yard.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chas. A. Holbrook, Rector of St. John's church of this city, and took place by gaslight, which added very much to the effect of the decorations of the rooms, which were extremely beautiful and showed the excellent taste of those who had the affair in hand. There was a profusion of flowers of the choicest kinds ornamenting every available space; the walls and ceilings were draped and festooned with bunting, and the chandeliers decked with green leaves and scarlet fuchsias; stacks of arms stood in the corners, and articles of bric-a-brac were distributed about the rooms in profusion. The paintings deserve special mention, for they are very fine, the work of the best artists, brought from Italy by Capt. English. The effect was beautiful when the rooms were empty, and when they were filled with ladies and gentlemen was indescribably charming.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nellie English and Miss Mamie Wyse. The groomsmen were Drs. Boyd and Ruth, of the navy, and the ushers Chief Engineer Williamson and Lieut. Comdr. Shephard.

The bride's dress was a very pale pink silk, extremely rich and heavy, trimmed with orange blossoms and tulle, and duchesse lace; very long train and veil; orange blossoms in the hair, and pearl jewelry. The bride's mother wore a black velvet dress, trimmed with duchesse lace, and coral jewelry.

Mrs. Taunt, the bride's sister, was dressed in an elegant white silk dress with very long train. Her dress was trimmed with orange blossoms (very appropriate, as she has recently become a bride,) and duchesse lace. Silver ornaments on the neck and in the hair and ears.

The bride's-maids wore dresses of white tarlatan trimmed with flowers.

The ceremony was very beautiful. The orchestra played Mendenssohn's Wedding March while the wedding party came down stairs, preceded by young girls strewing flowers in their path; and when they reached the altar commenced to play Shumann's Traumerie with muted strings, which continued until the ceremony and prayer were concluded, when the musicians gave a brilliant selection during congratulations. The whole effect was impressive in the extreme, the music being rendered in Harlow's usual style.

The march commenced at 6:04 and the happy couple were declared one at 6:15. The bride was given away by her father. The costumes of all the ladies were very rich and elegant, but our space forbids extended description. The officers were dressed in full uniform.

The wedding presents consisted in part of an elegant silver pudding dish, sardine dish, setts of silver knives and forks, card receivers, ice cream ladle, cake basket, and many other articles. We noticed an elegant fan of white silk, covered with hand-wrought lace, which deserves especial mention.

After the ceremony there was a reception; and several hours were passed pleasantly in dancing and in enjoying a most elaborate and delicious supper.

There were present three ladies who were married in this same house, viz.: Mrs. Macomb, married in 1857; Mrs. Taunt, married Jan. 31, 1877; and the bride of the evening.

Shortly after the ceremony the newly wedded couple started on a tour to the West.

JOTTINGS.

Cerebro spinal meningitis has again made its appearance among the horses in this city. It shows no preference, attacking those in private as well as those in livery stables. One or two horses have died, but as the nature of the disease is now understood the owners of ailing animals have hopes of saving all that are at present sick. One peculiarity of the disease is that it attacks only mares.

The Commencement appointments in the Chandler Scientific Department of Dartmouth College have been made, Mr. Geo. W. Bartlett of this city standing second on the list, with "Some considerations in regard to the study of modern languages."

The Portsmouth Dramatic Club will play "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" at the Town Hall in Rye this (Friday) evening, half the proceeds to be donated to the Rye Cornet Band, whose orchestra will furnish the music for the evening.

Half fare tickets from Portsmouth to Boston ($1.70) obtained at the Eastern Railroad ticket office for any of the trains running to-day, and these tickets will be good to return on the 27th or 28th. This is the last week of Moody and Sankey in Boston; doubtless many will improve the opportunity thus afforded to visit the great Tabernacle and see and hear these celebrated revivalists.

The parishoners and friends of Rev. A. J. Patterson, D. D., formerly of this city, now of Boston Highlands, remembered his fiftieth birthday, which occurred a few days since, by assembling at his residence and presenting him with a beautiful silver tea service.

In another column will be found an advertisement of the "Little Giant Pills," with a number of certificates of persons who have been cured by them of dyspepsia, billiousness, sick headache and other complaints incident to impaired or sluggish digestion. It will be noticed that these certificates are not given by persons in Oregon, Iceland, Senegambia and Siam, but by residents of this city and Kittery, and at places specially located in other cities not many miles away. These pills are not announced as a sure remedy for every complaint, from idiocy to impecuniosity, but it is claimed for them that they are the best remedy yet discovered for diseases consequent on disarrangement or imperfect action of the digestive organs.

The first number of the new Portsmouth Weekly (by Frank W. Miller & Co.) is out; about everybody has seen it, so we need not describe it, and if its readers have not found out that it is a breezy and readable sheet it is of no use for us to tell them of it. It is of course extreme anti-rum and anti-tobacco.

John Blake of Hopkinton, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences, Wednesday evaded the Sheriff and left for parts unknown.

Frank Duprez, a laborer on the Concord Railroad, had both bones in his right arm broken while unloading ties at Hooksett, Wednesday afternoon.

News and Notes.

Commodore J. C. Howell, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, has been promoted to Rear Admiral, in place of Almy, placed on the retired list.

Schooner Frank & Emily, of Rockport, Mass., sunk off Wilmington, N. C., on the 14th of April, and four men were drowned, the captain only being rescued, after being twenty-four hours in the water, by schooner Flora Woodhouse. The latter vessel also took off the crew of schooner Charles H. Kelley, which was sinking.

The strike of the Wamsutta Mills operatives at New Bedford is ended, they gladly going to work at the old rates. The strike has lasted nine weeks, and resulted in much suffering and a loss of $125,000 in wages to the operatives.

The banishment of wine from the White House table recalls some piquant words of John Adams, written from Philadelphia in 1777 to his wife Abigail. "General Washington," he says, "sets a fine example. He has banished wine from his table, and entertains his friends with rum and water. This is much to the honor of his wisdom, his policy and his patriotism."

The New York Senate has passed a bill to prevent pool-selling.

On Wednesday forenoon the dead body of Samuel Kuhl, a Swiss, about fifty years of age, was found concealed (all but one foot) in a pile of rubbish in an outhouse attached to Conrad Zeigler's dye house at Boston Highlands. Kuhl's head was enveloped in a bag, and had gashes in it evidently made with an axe or hatchet. Gottfried Zeigler, an employer of the dye house, has been arrested for the murder, the evidence being almost conclusive against him. The crime was committed for money—about one hundred dollars.

It has transpired that the Oriental Powder Mills at Gambo, on the Penobscot river in Maine, have contracts partly filled for a quarter of a million dollars' worth of rifle powder for Russia. This was the reason for their anxiety to save the water in the late drought, which occasioned the law proceedings.

The proclamation of Gov. Packard, issued on the 25th, says that on that day, "the fifteenth anniversary of the surrender of New Orleans to U. S. forces, it becomes his duty to announce to the republicans of Louisiana that the countenance of the national government has been withdrawn from them and a revolutionary government established."

John Kelly acknowledges that he gave the information on which the "confession" of Tweed was based, and that he really knows nothing about the matter. The editor of the New York World acknowledges that more than half its reputed Albany dispatches purporting to be an abstract of Tweed's confession was written up in the office of the World by its city editor from rumors and information gathered here and there. All of the names of Senators who were reported to have been bribed by Tweed were added at the New York office to the Albany dispatch. But Kelly and the World are hot for "reform."

It is said that the Central Vermont Railroad has asked its engineers to withdraw from the Brotherhood, and that most of them will comply.

The Court at Orville, Cal., has sentenced four of the Chico incendiaries to the penitentiary, as follows; H. S. Jones, twenty years; James Hay, ten years; Pleasant Slaughter, ten years, and A. Holderbaum, five years. A motion for a new trial in the case of Jones and Hay was denied.

Scotching Malaria.

It is a fact widely and amply attested that where the powerful and pernicious drug, quinine, and other mineral poisons, administered as remedies for fever and ague and bilious remittents, fail to yield more than temporary relief to the sufferer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters scotches those tremendous epidemics most thoroughly, and by strengthening the system and regulating its functions, protects it against malarial attacks. No resident of a locality where the above maladies prevail, or where they are likely to break out in consequence of the poisoning of the atmosphere by noxious exhalations, should fail to take practical cognizance of the above important truth, and by a timely use of the Bitters avoid the ravages of maladies so disastrous to the physical constitution. There is not in existence a finer tonic, corrective and defensive cordial.

Vacant Places

in the dental ranks will never occur if you place your trust in Sozodont. From youth to age it will keep the enamel of the teeth spotless and unimpaired. It has the same effect upon them that kyanization has upon wood: rendering them impervious to decay.

All fractures, except of the bones, cured by Spalding's Glue.

No remedy heretofore discovered has been so successful in curing Consumption and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs as Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. The medicine is pleasant to take, and guaranteed to cure if taken in season. It can be procured of your Druggist.

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, will sustain its well-merited popularity, and earn greater, by the sensible reduction of its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Purity is the great desideratum in any article of general consumption. Walter Baker & Co. have shored a hundred years to make this the leading claim of their Chocolates and Cocoas to public confidence, and the constantly increasing demand for their goods evinces their great success.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It Will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

—It was a good thing that Mr. Spurgeon once said when asked how he filled his church, and he replied that he had never tried to do such a thing. He considered it his duty to fill his pulpit, and his people filled his church. Perhaps here is a hint some ministers might profit by.

—A dog on shipboard, is thought a good omen. He can be used for a mastiff necessary.

COMMENCED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and prospects of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Markets of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merit have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1876.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1876.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
YOUR WM. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them. He has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partially relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend them to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative no could prescribe, after; dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Wouldn't be Pleased.

Some time ago there lived in Edinburg a well known grumbler, Sandy Black by name, whose often recurring fits of spleen or indignation produced scenes of senseless irritability which were highly relished by all except the brute's good, patient little wife. One morning Sandy rose bent on a quarrel. The haddies and eggs were excellent, done to a turn, and had been ordered by himself the previous evening, and breakfast passed without the looked for compliment.

"What will you have for dinner, Sandy?" said Mrs. Black.

"A chicken, madam," said the husband.

"Roasted or boiled?"

"Confound it, madam, if you had been a good and considerate wife you would have known before this what I liked," Sandy growled out, and slamming the door behind him, left the house. A friend who was present heard the wife say:

"Sandy is bent on a disturbance to-day; I shall not please him, do what I can."

The dinner time came and Sandy and his friend sat down to dinner. The fish were eaten in silence, and on raising the cover of the dish before him, in a towering passion he called out:

"Boiled chicken! I hate it, madam. A chicken boiled is a chicken spoiled."

Immediately the cover was raised for another chicken roasted to a turn.

"Madam, I won't eat roast chicken," roared Sandy; "you know how it should have been cooked!"

At that instant boiled chicken, with mushrooms, was placed on the dinner table.

"Without green peas?" roared the grumbler.

"Here they are, my dear," said Mrs. Black.

"How dare you spend my money in that way?"

"They were a present," said the wife.

Rising from his chair and rushing from the room, amid a roar of laughter from his friend, he clinched his fist and shouted:

"How dare you receive a present without my leave?"

—In the libel suit brought recently by Dr. Starkweather of Westfield against the Springfield Republican, Judge Brigham, who presided, gave some very curious rulings, though of course it is not for the uninitiated to question the technical legal correctness of the points that he made. Judge Brigham holds that when a public journal says rumors of a certain thing are rife, it is bound to establish not only that there are such rumors but that "the rumors were true and the facts to which they relate were true." And this likewise when the rumor refers to the merest incident of a main fact that is proved to be true. Upon this theory we can hardly see that newspapers have any existence except under the sufferance of a generous public. If a man poisons his wife with arsenic and a newspaper should say he did it with laudanum, we do not see but the murderer has the journal in chancery to begin with, and so on through the whole scale of damaging stories that form part of the current news of the day. Not a newspaper in the land is published but is full of libel, according to this ruling, no matter what the intent or the essential truth may be. Time was when the greater the truth the greater the libel, but times have changed. Absolute accuracy in whole and in part must now be required in the newspaper profession, though we believe it is not insisted on or expected in any other. —Post.

—M. Saint-Saens is a frenzied musician as well as the most near-sighted of all near-sighted persons. It is told of him that at a party recently given he consented after much pressing to play, and for an hour charmed the company. Then they got tired and departed, exchanging as they retreated a significant smile with the host and hostess. Presently the hostess herself became weary and retired. Saint-Saens played more brilliantly than ever. The clock struck 2 A. M. The host feeling drowsiness master him completely, went to M. Saint-Saens, and laying his hand upon the musician's shoulder, asked: "My dear sir, how can I ever sufficiently express my gratitude for the delightful evening you have made all of us spend; but I am afraid you must be a little tired; aren't you?" M. Saint-Saens replied, without looking up or stopping his play: "Tired? I am just beginning to get in the humor to play." To confirm speech by deed, M. Saint-Saens dashed off with a fire, vehemence, vigor which he had not shown during the whole evening. The host despaired. He went to sleep and the composer, it is gravely said, stopped playing about daybreak, bowed low, right and left as he retired to the door, and went home delighted with the still and breathless attention he had received.

—A Norwich man has invented a plan in three parts by which no one need lose his life in a burning hotel. The first states that a man should never stop at a hotel. Omitting the other two parts, the plan is generally considered a success.

—A Baltimore lawyer, who found his cupidity running away with his conscience, put himself under the blue-glass treatment, and the very next day a client coming in was only charged three quarters of the fee of the estate.

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 1877.

The War.

A despatch from Bucharest, via London, Friday morning, says the first engagement between the Russian and Turkish forces has been fought between Kars and Batavna in Turkey in Asia. The Turks claim that the Russians were routed, losing 800 men.

Prince Charles of Roumania will lead an army of 30,000 men to prevent Roumania being made the seat of war between the contending parties.

The Khedive of Egypt will send 18,000 men to aid Turkey.

The Sultan on Thursday made an address to the troops. He promises to raise the sacred banner of the Caliphate and to accompany the army to battle.

Germany, Spain, Italy and England are all sending more war vessels into Turkish waters. The United States man-of-war Vandalia has sailed for Salonica, and the Marion and Alliance for Smyrna and Bayrout.

The Turkish embassy has left St. Petersburg. Russia will embargo all Turkish vessels in Russian ports after May 1st.

Advices from Vienna represent that one of the first contests between the opposing armies will be for the bridge over the river Sereth at Barboschi. The Turks unaccountably missed the opportunity of forestalling the Russians in seizing the bridge, and the Russians are now prepared to defend it. Three Turkish gunboats have entered the river to destroy the bridge. The Russians will continue to cross the Pruth by four pontoon bridges for the next few days. The opinion in military circles in Vienna i sthat Austria will occupy Bosnia in the second week of May with two divisions of her army. There was a good deal of controversy in Vienna over a possible misunderstanding between Russia and Roumania over the occupation of the latter's territory by the army of the Czar and the ultimate designs of the Russian Generals.

A Turkish fleet has bombarded Chekfetik.

The latest London advices, Friday, report the renewal of the fight at Batoum, in which the Russians are said to have lost 800 men. Also, that England has resolved to interfere in behalf of Turkey, being urged to it by Austria.

News and Notes.

The number of girls received at the Maine Industrial School, since Jan. 1, 1875, is sixty. Of these four have been returned to friends, three dismissed as incorrigible, one escaped, one deceased, and twenty-four placed in families, of whom eight have been indentured. The girls placed in families, and especially those indentured, with few exceptions, are doing well, and give good promise of becoming useful members of society.

Statistics show that there are 125 temperance reform clubs in this State, with a total membership of 55,000, of whom 27,000 are men of 21 years, and over 10,000 were habitual tipplers. The State has, in proportion to its population, more names upon the pledge than any other in the Union.

Zeigler, the suspected murderer of the Swiss Kuhl (or Koller), has confessed the deed, but says he killed Kuhl in a fight about $1.50 which Kuhl owed him, he refusing to pay more than $1. It is known, however, that Zeigler owed Kuhl $50; and the detectives regard the affair as a deliberately but very blunderingly planned murder.

Hon. Caleb Cushing arrived home from Spain Thursday morning.

The following notice has appeared in all the London papers: "We are authorized to state that Her Majesty's birthday will be kept on Saturday, the 2d of June, instead of Saturday, the 26th of May, as originally announced." This discrepancy of date is due to the fact that Her Majesty was born Old Style.

Miss Nellie G. Bearse of Hyannis, Mass., arrived at home from Boston on the evening train Thursday, and, going to the house of her mother, walked through the house, and in one of the best rooms shot herself in the forehead. She lived about one hour.

The Supreme Court at Springfield, Mass., which adjourned Thursday, granted twenty-six divorces during its term of two days and a half, only one application being refused.

Mr. George N. Comer, Principal of the Boston Commercial College, died Wednesday night at the age of nearly sixty-one years. He was a native of Liverpool, Eng., and came to this country when eighteen years of age. He started his commercial college twenty-four years ago. During this time he has had under his tuition not less than twenty thousand young men.

Sixteen persons were killed by the explosion of a steam boiler in Alexandria, Egypt. Thus the civilization of the West is making its way to popular regard in the East.

Hon. Edward McPherson of Gettysburg, Penn., Ex-Clerk of the House, has been tendered and has accepted the position of Chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing of the Treasury Department. Colonel O. H. Irish of Nebraska has been appointed Assistant Chief of the same Bureau.

All the pool sellers of New York, in consequence of the passage of the bill against em by the Legislature, will migrate to Jersey City.

Base ball—at Lynn, Manchesters 14, Live Oaks 3; at Brooklyn, Hartfords 2, Athletics 6; at Cincinnati, Indianapolis 2, Stars 0.

A Mrs. Haskins, who lives in the suburbs of Pawtucket, R. I., is a brave woman. On a recent forenoon, on returning from the yard to her house, she heard footsteps in her parlor, and seizing a revolver which she had handy she proceeded thither, and in the entry met a man with a bundle of clothing on his arm. He ordered her to get out of his way, threatening to shoot, at the same time drawing a revolver. Mrs. Haskins, although naturally frightened, fired her revolver at him twice, at which the fellow dropped his bundle and struck her, knocking her down, and, shutting the entry door, escaped through a window. He was without doubt wounded, as blood was found on the window-sill. The police have arrested one of a band of gypsies on suspicion of being the robber.

Political.

Ex-Representative Impromptu Tarbox of Massachusetts, in a letter to a friend, diagnoses the political situation as follows: "The Administration runs the democratic policy as cleverly as though it had been born to it. Is Mr. Hayes a democrat, or am I a republican? Really, I don't feel quite sure of my political identity."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean remarks: Several papers of independent proclivities lose no opportunity to remark that Bristow and Schurz made speeches that carried Hayes through Ohio. On this point the Sandusky Register says: "The Blaine meetings in size and enthusiasm, were equal to a dozen of those held by either Bristow or Schurz, and for that matter by Morton. Blaine's meeting at Norwalk counted 25,000 people. Schurz's meeting in this city numbered about 800."

Sensible Talk.

The Providence Journal, referring to the charge brought by Miss Sterry of Worcester, Mass., against the mesmerist Carpenter, says: "It is well known that so many and such unfounded charges have been made by women against dentists who have used gas in extracting teeth, that many will not operate unless in presence of a witness. Whatever may be the merits of this case, there is one fact which should not be overlooked by parents and guardians. Professor Carpenter says that 'Miss Sterry visited his rooms; that 'having found her a pleasant acquaintance, bright, social and agreeable, he invited her to visit him as he has others.' So it seems that this lecturer is in the habit of inviting young women to his rooms at hotels, and that in many cases his invitation is accepted. Mesmerism or no mesmerism, this is something which should put families upon their guard. The young and thoughtless girls cannot safely visit such men in such a way and in such a place. Grant that such a scandal as this is not likely to, and does not ordinarily ensue, none the less is it true that there must be a letting down of the discretion, the decorum, the modesty of the sex. For young women, there is no sufficient reason for attending this class of exhibitions; surely none for going on the platform as did Miss Sterry, and none for seeking the apartments of the itinerant lecturer. The stranger who induces women to visit him at his rooms is a humbug or a scoundrel, probably both."

Legislative Muss in Canada.

About ten days ago the Opposition in the Canadian House of Commons attacked the Speaker, Mr. Anglin, of St. John, N. B., declaring his seat to have become vacant by reason of the fact that some government printing had been done in the newspaper office of which he is proprietor. This, it was alleged, was a breach of the "Indipendence of Parliament" act, the penalty of which is a heavy fine and loss of seat. The case was submitted to the committee on privileges and elections. Then the Opposition discovered another member, Mr. Norris, of Lincoln, a shareholder in a steamer company which had performed some government work, and he, too, was sent to committee. Then Mr. Mackenzie, the Premier, bethought himself that if these cases were to be construed as infringements of the law, there must be others, and forthwith turned to the public accounts during the reign of his predecessor, Sir John Macdonald, who had led the attack upon the Speaker. The first case discovered was that of Mr. Currier, of Ottawa, a member of the Opposition, who belongs to a lumber firm, and whose partner, unknown to him and legitimately enough, had contracts for lumber with the government. Mr. Currier at once resigned his seat. Fast upon this revelation came others, including not only those who had taken an active part in the onslaught, but even Sir John Macdonald himself, whose firm (lawyers) had received a number of payments from the government of which he was the head. It is not suggested on either side that there has been any corruption in the matter, but Sir John Macdonald thought he could capture the Speaker's seat, and now he and some of his principal henchmen are themselves in the same box with the Speaker.

—Paterfamilias—"George, these are uncommonly good cigars. I can't afford to smoke such expensive cigars as these." George (grandly) — "Fill your case—fill your case, Gov'nor!"

Superstition.

A panacea, or "cure-all," is one of the myths of the age of superstition. Dr. R. V. Pierce does not recommend any one or even his whole list of standard remedies as adequate to cure every disease. For severe lingering coughs, bronchial, throat, and chronic lung diseases, he believes his Golden Medical Discovery is unsurpassed, but it will not cure you if your lungs are half wasted by consumption. The Discovery not only exercises a potent influence over pulmonary affections, by reason of its pectoral properties, but possesses also the most valuable alterative, or blood-cleansing properties, and is therefore a sovereign remedy in blood and skin affections. But while it will cure scrofulous and other ulcers or sores, blotches, pimples and eruptions, it will not cure cancer, nor does its manufacturer claim any such merit for it as is done by proprietors of other blood-cleansing medicines, who dishonestly try to deceive the afflicted into the belief that their preparations will accomplish impossibilities. By reason of its real intrinsic merit it has a sale surpassing that of any other blood and cough medicine.

New Hampshire Items.

Aretas Blood, agent of the Manchester locomotive works, has purchased of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company the right of patterns and tools for the manufacture of steam fire engines, and these machines in connection with the locomotive works. The old Amoskeag machine shop, which has been the nursery for thousands of mechanics throughout the country, will be suspended, excepting that portion of the shop necessary for repairs in their extensive works.

Work on the new Union chapel at Little Boar's Head is progressing rapidly and it is hoped will be completed in season for dedication on July 1st. The work is done entirely under the direction of the lady guests at that summer resort, who have raised the funds for building the chapel by fairs, levees and private theatricals. It is in the Gothic style of architecture and will be nicely fitted throughout.

The grand jury on Wednesday returned to the Supreme Court, in session at Lancaster, three indictments—one against the Grand Trunk Railway Company for carelessness in managing its train at the time of the death of John E. Willis, at Milan last March; one against Sylvanus Holmes for beating a horse, and one against Johnson G. Kimball of Dalton for murdering his wife on the 26th of March. Kimball pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree; the Attorney-General accepted the plea, and the Court sentenced the murderer to thirty years' imprisonment. Kimball is the drunken old wretch who beat and kicked his wife to death; as he is now fifty or sixty years old, his drunks are about over for this world.

GOOD ADVICE.

Come, all ye Bilious people,
Who would be free from ill,
And try that Magic Remedy,
The Little Giant Pill.
There is no sham about it,
'Tis honest, pure and true;
And all the good it promises,
Most faithfully will do.
If troubled with Sick Head-Ache,
'T will cure the throbbing pain,
And soon its soothing influence,
Will make you well again.
Then try the Little Giant!
How good! words fail to tell!
But if you use it faithfully,
You will be strong and well.

LAND FOR SALE.
THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS formerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek Street and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 20x40 feet and has just been nearly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale, it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.
For terms enquire of the owner,

POLICE COURT.

Friday, April 27th.

William Nolan was brought up, charged with having been drunk. William has been drunk sometimes, he and his wife having both served terms at Brentwood for that offence; but the Court decided that he was not proved guilty this time, and he went his way rejoicing.

George Porter, Alexander McKey and Andrew Drew, drunks, $9.90 each, fine and costs.

Jeremiah Manning, marine, drunk, $9.13 fine and costs.

George W. Parsons, a minister, (according to his own account,) didn't know exactly what he was in the station house for, but wanted to be tried right away, as he could not bear the bad air of the lockup. His request was granted, and he was informed that he was charged with having been most unministerially drunk. He thought this so likely to be so that he pleaded guilty, whereupon the Court observed that $9.90 would make things about square. Mr. Parsons said his money was all out to Greenland, and an officer accompanied him out there to get the city's share of it.

In the afternoon, James Furlong, a seaman, was assessed $9.90, fine and costs, for drunkenness.

Prescott Lord, a man from somewhere down in Maine, was brought before the Court for drunkenness, but was discharged on his promise to leave town at once.

MORE SCHOOL TALK.

Eds. Chronicle:—A short item in your paper concerning the capabilities of a certain teacher in one of our public schools, signed "Justice," has suggested a few thoughts to me. With all due respect for the charitable spirit which pervades that article I would notice some of its suggestions. The writer states that the question under discussion can be condensed into very narrow limits. But are the limits so narrow when we consider it has taken a space of nineteen years to discover this gentleman's qualification as a teacher can be questioned? And during that period of time there has served as our school committee many of the most intelligent, capable and talented men in our city. If the present committee only have made this discovery, they certainly must be considered wise beyond their generation and while it reflects much credit on themselves it throws great discredit on their predecessors.

The writer considers our school interests safe under the supervision of the committee, and while I consider the parents to be oftimes incapable of judging their children's qualifications, there are those beside the committee who are competent, and it is an assertion made by one of our High School teachers, that the gentleman whose ability is now called in question has sent into that school some of the best prepared pupils.

"Consistency is a jewel," and after twenty-nine years of experience in Portsmouth and elsewhere the education and interest of each pupil under his charge may be considered safe, for "there is no royal road to learning."

REASON.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME BENEFIT.

St. John's chapel was filled, Thursday evening, with a refined and appreciative audience, entertained by a varied and attractive literary programme presented in behalf of the Children's Home in this city. The six little beneficiaries, now occupants of that institution, were pleasantly mentioned by the Rector, and the kindly sympathy and generous aid of the audience specially invoked in their interest. The poems selected were of a high order, and were exquisitely rendered. Mrs. Malaprop's code of ethics, vividly portrayed, and the Chinese question, a gem of dialect recitation—as discussed by an Italian lady named Melowney—although involving questions of serious import in matters of domestic and international polity, were dispassionately considered, and pleasantly relieved the intenser dramatic portion of the exercises. The rendering, by the same lady, of two poems so widely differing in character as "Betsey and I are out" and Hood's descriptive "Hullabaloo," was a fine exhibition of a facile adaptation of character which has charmed many an audience here and elsewhere. The gentlemen acquitted themselves handsomely; indeed, in view of their training, nothing else was expected. All who contributed to the success of the entertainment may congratulate themselves upon the genuine pleasure afforded, and the substantial addition of one hundred dollars to the fund of the Home.

JOTTINGS.

Rev. James W. Hubbell will deliver a temperance address before the Woman's Temperance League at the North Church, Sunday afternoon, at the usual hour; all members of the organization are requested to attend.

Subject at Bow Mission, Sabbath afternoon, "Confession."

The mowing season has commenced early this year, in this city. The lawn on the Lord estate was cut over on Thursday and Friday.

The houses on Union street, to be sold at eleven o'clock to-day by Col. Hackett, are well situated in a pleasant part of the city, and will surely be knocked down to the highest bidder, the sale being by order of assignee. At twelve o'clock Col. Hackett will sell sundry bank stock. See advertisements in usual column.

On Monday night, at Franklin Hall, the Howard Athenæum Company, of Boston, including Maffit and Bartholomew and Miss Jenny Engel, will give one of their enjoyable variety entertainments. See advertisement.

Schooners Governor Goodwin, McGrath, and W. H. Y. Hackett, Dunphy, of this port, sailed from Beverly, Mass., on the 21st, for the Grand Banks.

The American House, Boston, is most favorably known all over the country. In spaciousness, convenience of arrangements and liberality of appointments, and above all in the efficiency of management and careful consideration for the comfort of guests, it has few if any superiors among the hotels of the land.

Maggie Mitchell, supported by William Harris and a full dramatic company, will present "Mignon" at Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening. Reserved seats on sale at Stavers' Bazaar on and after to-day. See advertisement.

A queer story comes from the Navy Yard to the effect that on Friday morning, shortly after midnight, two men were detected transporting metal tubes from the old timber shed near the office building, and were chased by the watchmen, but escaped, their boat (a dory) being captured with several heavy pipes stowed away in her. [The dory belongs to a workman on Capt. Marcy's new ship, and was stolen from her moorings.] It is possible that the attempt to steal was genuine, but many persons regard it as a "put up job" on somebody, as it is hardly probable that thieves would undertake such a raid on a night when the moon made everything as bright as day.

James Sterling, a member of the Dover Reform Club, and said to be an eloquent lecturer, will speak on temperance, Sunday evening at half-past seven o'clock, at Mechanics' Hall, under the auspices of the Portsmouth Reform Club.

Since the opening of the new and excellent Hotel Devonshire, opposite the main entrance of Grand Central Depot, first-class accommodations at reasonable rates can be had in this most convenient locality. By all means stop at the Hotel Devonshire on your next visit to New York.

CITY AFFAIRS

The Board of Mayor and Alderman held an unimportant meeting on Thursday evening.

Several requests for leave to open drains, re-laying of sidewalks, etc., were referred to committees.

The committee on burying grounds were empowered to repair the gate at Cotton's burying ground.

Voted, that in all cases when private parties have leave to open the streets for any purpose, the street commissioner be notified.

The committee to whom was referred the claim of Mrs. Webster for additional damages for land taken to widen Middle and Lafayette roads, reported, recommending that she be paid $40 in addition to the sum already allowed.

The committee on burying grounds, to whom was referred the application of James Lowery for purchase of a lot in Cotton's burying grounds, reported, recommending that he be granted a lot near the gate. The report was accepted and laid on the table.

The committee on widening streets, to whom was referred the petition F. K. Brown and others for a new highway, reported that the land damages would amount to $650. The subject was recommitted, to confer with Mr. Wood and all other land owners relative to land damages.

Committee on fire department, to whom was referred the subject of a reservoir at Christian Shore, made a partial report. The subject was recommitted, with directions to ascertain the land damages.

The subject of repairs of Spring Market was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings, with power.

Adjourned for two weeks.

SOUTH SEABROOK.

SOUTH SEABROOK, April 27.

Instead of refitting the old schoolhouse in this district, (No. 5,) and putting another story on it, the committee chosen to carry out that plan will probably call a school meeting to consider the propriety and advisability of building a new schoolhouse instead, they regarding the repairing of the old building in the same light as the putting "new cloth on old garments."

Trailing arbutus is now in its glory, and the woods have many visitors in search of the hidden fragrance.

The bird law is being brought prominently into notice, the stores and shops being placarded by the Portsmouth Society for the Prevention of Cruelty. The boys of the district are having a regular bird-house epidemic,—a good thing, for it will tend to make them love the birds, and strengthen the public sentiment in favor of the law, without which it cannot be even partially enforced.

May Festivals are in order. Hampton Falls will have one April 30th; Seabrook Village two, May 1st, and South Seabrook one the same night.

A citizens' meeting will be held next week, to arrange for Memorial Day services.

ENO.

—"That parrot of mine's a wonderful bird," said Smithers, "he cries 'Stop, thief,' so naturally that every time I hear it I always stop. What are you all laughing at, any way?"

—A young gentleman from a semi-rural town has relations living in the city, and the other day he came down to make them a short visit. In the evening he went out to call on a young lady of his acquaintance, and she proved so irresistible that he did not leave her until one o'clock in the morning. When he arrived home he quietly let himself in, and espying a light through the crack in the door, supposed that some one of the family had thoughtfully left a light burning for him, and so he quietly removed his boots, stealthily entered the room and found his amazed self standing in the presence of a large and brilliant party. No explanation was needed. The boots in his hands, the sheepish expression on his face, told the whole story, and a hole in the heel of his stocking added greatly to his pleasure.—Rochester Democrat.

Scotching Malaria.

It is a fact widely and amply attested that where the powerful and pernicious drug, quinine, and other mineral poisons, administered as remedies for fever and ague and bilious remittents, fail to yield more than temporary relief to the sufferer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters scotches those tremendous epidemics most thoroughly, and by strengthening the system and regulating its functions, protects it against malarial attacks. No resident of a locality where the above maladies prevail, or where they are likely to break out in consequence of the poisoning of the atmosphere by noxious exhalations, should fail to take practical cognizance of the above important truth, and by a timely use of the Bitters avoid the ravages of maladies so disastrous to the physical constitution. There is not in existence a finer tonic, corrective and defensive cordial.

Vacant Places

in the dental ranks will never occur if you place your trust in Sozodont. From youth to age it will keep the enamel of the teeth spotless and unimpaired. It has the same effect upon them that kyanization has upon wood: rendering them impervious to decay.

All fractures, except of the bones, cured by Spalding's Glue.

No remedy heretofore discovered has been so successful in curing Consumption and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs as Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. The medicine is pleasant to take, and guaranteed to cure if taken in season. It can be procured of your Druggist.

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, will sustain its well-merited popularity, and earn greater, by the sensible reduction of its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Purity is the great desideratum in any article of general consumption. Walter Baker & Co. have abored a hundred years to make this the leading claim of their Chocolates and Cocoas to public confidence, and the constantly increasing demand for their goods evinces their great success.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effects has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a selling Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

Early Potatoes.

Early potatoes have the best chance of escaping bugs. The bugs hatch early enough for any kind, and are frequently on hand before the potatoes are, and put in their time on tomato plants and early weeds, but the campaign is shorter in the case of the early potatoes, and they escape the multiplied hosts of the later season. Plant as early as the ground can be got ready, and rush the crop along with early plowing and frequent attention, so as to get them off the field of battle as early as may be. Paris green is the rest of the story.

—Paul Morphy is still in a New Orleans insane asylum, a hopeless maniac. The attending physicians believe that his disorder was caused by the mental strain of playing long, close matches at chess. Over ten years ago he suddenly developed a repugnance to the game, the feeling amounting nearly to a mania, and he rarely afterward played it; but the mental disturbance gradually increased, and several months ago became so bad that the restraint was necessary.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 20 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $5.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was at home I weighed 175 pounds; I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, so I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the best package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What more do him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ELI. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been trav. eling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a family friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cordial he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not know ing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can pretend to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successfu practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. M. A. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Reforming A Husband.

"Just what I have been expecting for about seven years," said Miss Pauline Worthington, looking up from an open letter in her hand with a frowning brow.

"Is not your letter from Herbert, Lina?" questioned Mrs. Worthington, a tiny, silver-haired old lady, with a very gentle expression.

"Yes, mother; Essie is very ill with low, nervous fever, and they want me to come and stay till she is better. The carriage will be sent at three o'clock, mother." Then, more emphatically, "I think it is about time Bert's tyranny over that little martyr was ended. He is killing her."

"Lina! He is your brother."

"I can see his faults if he is."

"I never heard Essie complain."

"She never would. But look at her. Nine years ago, when she was married, she was a living sunbeam, so bright and pretty. Now, pale, quiet and reserved, her voice is seldom heard, her smile is rarely seen. A wintry shadow of her former brightness. Now she has broken down. You have never seen her at home, but surely when she is here you can see the change."

"Yes, dear, she has changed; but family cares—"

"Has Louie changed so? She has been married twelve years."

Mrs. Worthington was silent. Louie was her oldest child, and presided over the home in which her mother had been a crippled prisoner for fifteen years. She took all the household cares, had had five children, and yet Louie had gained in beauty, and certainly in cheerful happiness since her marriage, even if the merriment of childhood was gone.

"Henry appreciates Louie," said Lina, "there lies the difference between her happiness and Essie's dejection. If there is any domestic trouble Henry and Louie share it, while Herbert shifts it all upon Essie. He is an habitual fault-finder."

"Perhaps dear Essie is not so good a housekeeper as Louie. Herbert may have cause to find fault."

"Once in ten times he may. I never saw a faultless housekeeper but Essie, and her house is the nearest to perfection I ever did see."

"You never spoke so before, Lina."

"Because Louie thought it better not to trouble you with anything beyond your help. I intend to give Herbert a lesson. I do, indeed. That is, if you can spare me to go."

"You must go, dear. I shall get along very nicely."

So when Herbert Worthington sent his carriage, Lina was quite ready for the fourteen miles drive to her brother's house. It was most unlike a house wherein any evil spirit of fault-finding should have found an abode. Spacious, handsomely furnished, well-trained servants, and all comforts that wealth can furnish, it seemed a perfect paradise on earth to visitors. But a very demon lurked there to poison all, and this demon Lina had come to exercise. For the first fortnight, Essie took all her time and care, the gentle spirit hovering very near the portals of the eternal home. There was a baby, too, six months old, and its wants filled all the spare moments. Herbert snarled and fretted over domestic shortcomings, but Lina peremptorily forbade all mention of these in the sick room, having the doctor's authority for saying the patient's very life depended upon quiet. But, when convalescence begun, Lina sent Essie and the baby to visit old Mrs. Worthington, and she took control of Herbert and the children, and the household, she determined to show her brother how far he carried the habit of fault-finding. With all her severity, she did not believe he was himself aware of the frequency of his querulous complaints and the exaggeration of his fretful statements. The first dinner saw the beginning of the lesson Lina meant to teach. Herbert entered the dining room, his handsome face disfigured by the habitual frown.

"Soup," said Herbert, lifting the tureen cover; "perfect dish-water!"

"Susan," said Lina, sharply, to the servant, before Herbert could lift the ladle; "take that tureen to the kitchen and tell Jane the soup is not fit to eat."

Susan promptly obeyed. Herbert looked rather ruefully at the vanishing dish. He was especially fond of the soup, and the savory fumes of the really delicious dish were tantalizing. All dinner time Lina kept up a dingdong about that abominable soup, till Herbert wished he had said nothing about it. But his imagination detected a burnt flavor in the pudding he could not refrain from mentioning, and before he could remonstrate that dish had followed the soup.

"I'll get this house in some kind of order before I leave it," said Lina very emphatically.

"Before you leave it," said Herbert, sharply. "Do you suppose you are a better housekeeper than Essie? Why, I have not a friend who does not envy me the exquisite order of my house and my dinner table."

"Herbert, you surprise me! Only yesterday I heard you say you did wish there was ever anything fit to eat on the table."

"One doesn't expect every word to be taken literally," said Herbert rather sulkily. But not an hour after, finding a streak of dirt in the sitting room, he declared emphatically that it was not fit for a pig to live in. What was the consequence? Coming into the room next morning he found the curtains torn down, the carpets taken up, the floor littered with pails and soap and brushes, and Lina in a dismal dress, her hair tied up in a towel, directing two women who were scrubbing very vigorously.

"Good gracious, Lina!" he cried, "what are you doing?"

"Cleaning this room."

"Why, Essie had the whole house cleaned only the other day," he added contemptuously.

"Well," said Lina, slowly, "I thought this room a marvel of neatness myself, but when you said it was not fit for the pigs, I supposed you wanted it cleaned."

"The room was well enough," was the curt reply. "For mercy's sake don't turn any more of the house upside down."

The War.

Despatches through Turkish channels say the Russians lost 2000 men in the second day's fighting at Batoum, and were driven back by the Turks. Also that the Turkish fleet has bombarded the Russian harbor of Poti, forty miles from Batoum, and Fort St. Nicholas, partially destroying both; and that a fleet is off Otessa, ready to bombard the city when ordered. Admiral Hobart Pacha arrived at Rutschuck on the 24th, and Abdul Kerim Pacha, the commander-in-chief, on the 25th.

Montenegro is active against Turkey, and troops are being posted at important strategic points. The Turks have murdered a Kutuschi shepherd, and the Prince of Montenegro has telegraphed to the Turkish commander in Albania that if such acts are continued he will hang all the officers he takes prisoners.

England is making vigorous preparations for whatever may come, large orders for tent-cloth and other materials having been given out, officers of the army on leave ordered to join their regiments, and work on all available iron-clads hurried up. But England is less likely than Austria to be drawn into war immediately, the latter power being more directly interested at present. However, it is said the belief in best-informed diplomatic circles is that within two months England, Austria and France will be allied against Germany and Russia in a conflict in which Turkey and the immediate causes of the present struggle will be lost sort of, unless Russia should accede to the forthcoming Anglo-Austrian demand for an armistice. If France and Austria combine against Germany and Russia, Italy will certainly side with Germany, for Italy has more to dread from her ancient oppressor, Austria, and from ultramontane France, than from all other powers beside. That the war will be long confined to its present limits as a struggle between Russia and Turkey only, there seems to be no hope in European circles.

Navigation of the Danube is declared closed, by the Russian commanders.

The Porte has issued another manifesto, which declares that the Bosnian, Bulgarian and Herzegovinian insurrections and the Servian and Montenegrin declarations of war were instigated by Russia. The manifesto concludes with the declaration that Turkey is ready to fight to the death for independence. It is believed that Roumania will shortly declare in favor of Russia.

England is preparing an army corps of 40,000 men, to be rendezvoused at Malta.

News and Notes.

The Utica & Clinton and Rome & Clinton Railroads, branches of the New York & Oswego Midland Railroad, were sold at auction on Friday for one dollar each. Among the attendants on the sale were Samuel J. Tilden, Abram S. Hewitt (the receiver,) and a number of railroad managers.

The supreme court of Utah Territory has decided, in the case of Ann Eliza Young against Brigham Young, that she cannot recover alimony, never having been the legal wife of the polygamous prophet, the ceremony performed by Sidney Rigdon being null and void by reason of Young having a wife living at the time. This is another hard rap at Mormonism.

At Elizabethtown, Ky., Fielding Sweeney cut the throats of Hayden English and his son Horace. Hayden English shot Sweeny dead, and Horace English has since died.

There was an incipient panic at the Boston Tabernacle on Friday evening, some five hundred people getting terribly frightened because a boy fainted. Mr. Moody assured the audience there was no danger, and the flurry subsided.

Eugene Robinson & Co., one of the largest houses in the New York Stock Exchange, suspended payment on Friday. A lot of weak brokers are expected to follow suit. No matter.

In the United States Circuit Court at Portland, Friday, Charles A. Libby, at postmaster, was fined $20 for bartering postage stamps for merchandise, to increase his commission by large sales of stamps.

The schooner Lantilus, fitted out at Herring Neck, N. F., for seal fishing, was wrecked at Burnet Island. The crew numbered eighteen, fourteen of whom were drowned. During a heavy gale the schooner ran for shelter up Green Bay and was capsized by the heavy ground-swell.

Ex-Gov. Noyes, of Ohio, has been appointed Minister to France, but will not sail for that country until his nomination is confirmed by the Senate at the extra session.

Heavy storms of snow, rain and hail are reported in Illinois, Nebraska and Tennessee, and hopes are entertained that the sudden cold snap will utterly demoralize the grasshoppers.

Frank Leslie is sued by order of ex-Secretary Bristow for $502,000 duties on imported paper passed through the Custom House at undervaluation. Leslie says the amount is only $500.

Ex-Senator Cragin and his clerk have left for the Arkansas Hot Springs, to be joined there by Ex-Governor Stearns of Florida and Ex-Representative John Coburn of Indiana, the Commission appointed by the President to assess the value of the Hot Springs, now the property of the United States.

New Hampshire Items.

A meeting of the Peterboro' & Hillsboro' Railroad was held in Concord, Friday, when it was voted to issue $100,000 first mortgage bonds and $75,000 second mortgage bonds. Nearly one-half of the first mortgage bonds have already been taken and paid for.

Mr. Sidney Page of Nashua was seriously injured Friday by being bitten by a hog while engaged in removing it from one pen to another.

Samuel A. Thayer of New Ipswich, who disappeared recently, had committed forgeries to the amount of about $8000, the names thus used being those of his father, Stephen Thayer, H. O. Preston and C. A. Whitney. These notes have been discounted by banks in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. At first the forgery was supposed to be confined to five banks, viz.: The First National of Peterboro', East Jaffrey, Francestown, Hillsboro' Bridge and Townsend, Mass.; but it is now said that Nashua and Boston banks are added to the list. Peterboro' holds $1100, Jaffrey $2000, Francestown $600, of the forged paper. The young man disclosed the whole matter to a broker in New York, who notified the persons interested. The total amount of forged paper, as far as known, is $8000, and it all bears the names of H. W. Carter of Lebanon and Henry Emery of Lowell, Mass., endorsed as above. The disclosure is considered as a confession by the young man, and was mailed at Chicago and directed to persons East, who promptly endeavored to prevent any further payments by those holding checks or other papers. The whereabouts of Thayer is unknown, but the postmark of the letter indicates that he has been in the West.

Charles B. Dore, of Keene, aged twenty-six years, was killed by a falling limb on Friday, while chopping wood.

Governor Cheney has purchased the "Old Bell Factory" at New Ipswich, and will proceed at once to convert it into a mill for the manufacture of paper pulp.

Oliver Sanborn's house and barn at Lisbon were burned Thursday night; loss $600.

Daniel Jameson's farm buildings at Dunbarton were burned Thursday; loss $1500; insurance $600.

John Blaisdell's farm buildings at Belmont were burned Thursday night; loss $3000; partly insured.

A barn and shed, farm buildings owned by Wilson Gregg, of Newport, were burned Thursday evening at about 9 o'clock; supposed to be the work of an incendiary; loss $500; no insurance.

Singular Case.

A singular case, that is attracting much attention, is that of Anna Moore, of Westfield, Mass., one of the American Cigar Company's hands, who was found at the house of Sylvester Culver near the "iron bridge," her clothes thoroughly wet, her leg broken near the ankle, and a bruise on the back of the head. The girl is very reticent about the affair, but this much is drawn from her: She had quarreled with her lover Tuesday evening, and, wishing to have her "cry out" away from people, went to the iron bridge. Just as she got there she heard a footfall behind her, and, partially turning, saw a man in a long, loose garment and with his hat drawn over his eyes. At the same instant she felt a blow upon the back of her head and lost consciousness, but indistinctly remembers hearing a rushing noise buzzing in her ears and feeling wet. She also remembers feeling an arm under her and hearing a gruff voice say, "Lie there," but recalls nothing more until she found herself lying on Mr. Culver's steps, and about 10:30 o'clock succeeded in reaching the door and making herself heard. The doctor says the wound on her head was made by some blunt instrument, and various speculations are afloat as to the cause of the assault, many inclining to the opinion that the assailant mistook her for some one else, and discovering his mistake, drew her from the river after he had thrown her in, and then carried her to the house where she was found.

—Colonel Brady, a notorious gambler, the other day met a friend who accosted him with, "How are you, colonel?" "How have you been of late?" "Oh! I have had a great misfortune," replied the colonel; "I have lost Mrs. Brady." "How did you lose her," was the next question, "at euchre or poker?"

—Dresses are to be so tight that if a husband kicks his wife on the shins the bruise will be plain to the public eye.

Local Matters.

TWO WORTHY CITIZENS GONE.

The announcement on Saturday morning of the death of Mr. James F. Shores, although it had been prepared for in some degree by his long and painful illness, filled our community with general sorrow. Few men among us have been better known, and none more respected; and his place will be hard to fill.

Mr. Shores was born in Portsmouth, March 20th, 1814, and has passed his whole life here. For many years he was engaged in the book business—first on Market street with his father, and afterward by himself in Congress Block. His well known skill and accuracy as an accountant, and his spotless integrity, caused him to be frequently appointed as trustee both of private and public funds; and when in 1869 he was chosen Treasurer of the Portsmouth Savings Bank, the appointment was felt by all to be eminently judicious. Here he was always at his post, even when suffering pain which to almost any other man would have been sufficient reason for idleness; and here he remained until prostrated by the malady which has now proved fatal. The last time he was out of his house was when he cast his vote for Hayes and Wheeler; although then too ill to walk, he would not omit what he always had felt to be a duty.

In the Unitarian Parish he will be especially missed. His seat at church was never vacant when his health would suffer him to go; and he was ever ready to bear his full share of parish labors. He was for many years Treasurer of the Parish, and more lately Parish Clerk, while for over twenty years he filled the office of Superintendent of the Sunday School.

He was a member of the order of Odd Fellows, in which fraternity he at different times held important offices.

Lafayette Laighton, Esq., another valued citizen, died Friday night of pneumonia, at the age of fifty-four years. He was one of our oldest and most successful grocers, having carried on that business in the same store on Market street for over thirty years. Mr. Laighton was never prominent in politics, nor given to going to extremes in anything; quiet and unassuming, he made no enemies, and was universally respected. He was a member of Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION--FINIS.

Eds. Chronicle: In common with many others, I have watched with much interest the newspaper discussion carried on in your columns and those of the Times, regarding the fitness or unfitness of Mr. John Durgin for the position of teacher of one of our public schools, the Times being evidently in favor of his retention in the position he has so long filled, while the CHRONICLE favors his removal. But I am slightly puzzled by one statement which appeared in the Times, viz.: that "thirty out of thirty-five parents of pupils attendant upon Mr. Durgin's school" signed a petition to the school committee requesting his retention. I cannot make out whether there are thirty-five children attending the school, with but one parent each; or seventeen and a half pupils, with two parents each; or whether it is the fathers only of pupils who are parents, the mothers being left out in the cold entirely on the parentage question; that "thirty-five parents" bothers me considerably,—but I suppose it is all right, and possibly it is not essential that I should understand what it means.

Seriously, the question whether the teacher referred to shall or shall not be longer employed is for the school committee to answer, and their decision should be influenced neither by the unsupported statements of his opponents nor the pleadings of his friends; they should do what is best for the educational interests of the city, let come what will. Every one admits Mr. Durgin's worth as a man, a citizen and a gentleman; no one denies that he has been a faithful and competent teacher; and no one questions his faithfulness now. But it is asserted that the discipline maintained in the school, and the improvement of the pupils in their studies, are not what they would be under a younger teacher—not what they should be—not what they have been in the past, under Mr. Durgin's rule. A correspondent of the CHRONICLE, writing in support of Mr. Durgin's retention, argues that a teacher of twenty-nine years' service must be a good one; and a Times writer says Mr. Durgin has served the city faithfully for twenty-seven years, and from this argues that he should be continued as a teacher. But do not these friends prove too much! Is there not such a thing as an able and faithful teacher remaining in the harness after the ability to do a day's work has gone? Even steam-engines wear out, and so do men; and the man who was in the full vigor of his powers ten years ago may be far advanced on the down-hill track to-day.

In conclusion, let me express the hope that the committee—the other newspaper writers all give the committee advice, and why should not I?—that the committee will carefully consider this matter, and if they find Mr. Durgin as capable and efficient a teacher as he was years ago, will retain him; and if not, that they will do their duty regardless of the enthusiastic endorsements of his former pupils and the entreaties of his personal friends.

PLAIN TALK.

[Our correspondent is in error in saying the CHRONICLE "favors the removal" of Mr. Durgin, as we have expressed no opinion in the matter either way. We have no personal, direct interest in the matter, our acquaintance with that gentleman being very limited; we are not aware that we ever saw him, and until within less than a week did not even know where he taught; and we have no children attending his school or any other, we never yet having officiated as one of the principals at a wedding. We have simply allowed both sides the use of our columns to make themselves heard—our regular rule regarding the discussion of any topic of public interest. The question at issue we believe has been decided by the committee, so we shall decline to publish any more communications in reference to it, should such be offered.—Eds. Chronicle.]

A LUCKY ESCAPE.

Mr. Howard D. Lowd, (son of Wm. B. Lowd, Esq., of this city,) chief of the Order Department of the establishment of Tiffany & Co., was recently thrown from a carriage with his wife, while driving a spirited horse. The animal concluded to take the management of affairs into his own teeth, and started on a run down town from 155th street, New York city. Mr. Lowd's strength gave out after strenuous efforts to conquer the animal. A contiguous curb-stone and a not distant lamp-post bade fair to stop the maddened animal, but he sheered off suddenly, cleared a corner with a quick turn, and brought up at full speed against a loaded truck standing across the avenue. Mr. Lowd evacuated his post of honor without ceremony, and launched forth like a sky-rocket, alighting on his head and shoulders between the truck horses, which did not stir. Singularly to state, he escaped injury except slight bruises. Mrs. Lowd went over the dasher at the same time and landed directly under the runaway horse, who cleared himself from the carriage and continued on like a shot from a gun. Mrs. Lowd was for a short time insensible, but was soon restored to consciousness, receiving severe but not dangerous injuries. The carriage was badly damaged, but the horse, a $3000 animal, escaped without even a scratch, the confusion of teams on the avenue barring his progress. The escape of Mr. and Mrs. Lowd from instant death was almost miraculous.

—A bomb shell was ploughed up in Morgan county, Tenn., a few days ago, which had been fired from one of Gen. George Morgan's cannon during his retreat from Cumberland Gap, in 1862. The finders, to test the keeping qualities, took it home and put it in the fire. A man about two miles away on a hill reports the experiment as highly successful, but the immediate actors in the scene have not yet been heard from.

—The question arising in a Sunday school as to why God created all the animals of the fields and sea and air before man, no one gave a solution until a little boy said: "I know; it's because he didn't want the man hanging around while he was making them."

—A preacher said: "Every tub must stand on its own bottom." A sailor jumped up and said: "But, sir, suppose it has no bottom?" "Then it's no tub," returned he quickly, and went on with his sermon.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS formerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek Street and Boyle's Road now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres, and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 30x40 feet and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyle's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of or immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

For terms enquire of the owner,

JOTTINGS.

The Howard Athenæum Pantomime and Specialty Company play this evening in Franklin Hall. Maffitt and Bartholemew, the celebrated pantomimists, Miss Jennie Engel, Andy Leavitt and others of the company, are too well known in this city to need any praise, and others ranking equally as high in the profession are announced to appear. The company is a large one and a good one. Tickets at Stavers' Bazaar.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Joseph H. Emery of this city was driving through Rye with a team belonging to Mr. Uriah Blaisdell, when the horse ran away and threw Mr. Emery out, breaking two of his ribs and otherwise severely injuring him. We believe it was this same horse that ran away a week or two ago and knocked Mr. Joshua Brooks' horse and wagon exactly bottom up on the north millbridge.

Commodore John Guest, the new commandant at this naval station, has arrived at the yard.

Ship Calcutta, Capt. Hansen, of this port, bound from New York for Bangor, came to anchor in Vineyard Haven, sailing from there on Thursday, April 26th. In getting under weigh she fouled the schooner D. B. Everett, at anchor, and damaged her considerably, carrying away three shrouds, injuring jibs and head gear, and springing her jibboom badly. The Calcutta had sails and copper somewhat damaged.

The sale of reserved seats for Maggie Mitchell's entertainment commenced at nine o'clock Saturday forenoon. The indications are that the hall will be crowded. Seventy-two seats were sold the first half-hour, and throughout the day the calls were frequent. If you want a seat, it were well to go for it at once, and not wait till Wednesday night.

The coal wharves are busy places just now. At Concord Railroad wharf all the berths are constantly taken up; and more schooners than we supposed were on the river were loading at the North End wharves with coal for Dover, last week. Twelve coal vessels arrived on Saturday, up to four o'clock.

The freight business on the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad has greatly increased this year, over the corresponding months of last year, there being an increase in the receipts along the line of nearly thirty per cent.

We have received the May number of the Sanitarian, a valuable and readable magazine, and the organ of the New York Medico-Legal Society. $3 per year.

On Saturday, at Col. William H. Hackett's auction sale, the houses numbered six and eight on Union street were sold for $2841.50, Mr. Peter Emery being the purchaser. At the sale of bank stock Rockingham National brought $65.25 (par $50,) National Mechanics & Traders' $107.50.—the latter sold seller to pay tax and have May dividend.

—The Pacific Medical Journal, commenting upon the announcement that high heels were to be adopted by ladies of fashion, says:—A convention of corn doctors in the interest of their trade could not devise a better scheme for good times. Women whose pedals are solidified may escape with only corns, of which we hope and pray they may have a full and tender crop. But that a whole generation of little girls should have their toes jammed into the toes of their boots, to do the work of heels, and that their legs should be thrown out of the natural balance and the pliant bone bent into semi-circles, is a sacrifice to fashion which would disgrace a nation of Hottentots.

The history of the Second Zouaves, one of the most distinguished regiments in the French army, has been published. It states that during the nineteen years of its existence no less than two hundred of its officers and five thousand privates have fallen in battle.

Scotching Malaria.

It is a fact widely and amply attested that where the powerful and pernicious drug, quinine, and other mineral poisons, administered as remedies for fever and ague and bilious remittents, fail to yield more than temporary relief to the sufferer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters scotches those tremendous epidemics most thoroughly, and by strengthening the system and regulating its functions, protects it against malarial attacks. No resident of a locality where the above maladies prevail, or where they are likely to break out in consequence of the poisoning of the atmosphere by noxious exhalations, should fail to take practical cognizance of the above important truth, and by a timely use of the Bitters avoid the ravages of maladies so disastrous to the physical constitution. There is not in existence a finer tonic, corrective and defensive cordial.

Vacant Places

in the dental ranks will never occur if you place your trust in Sozodont. From youth to age it will keep the enamel of the teeth spotless and unimpaired. It has the same effect upon them that kyanization has upon wood: rendering them impervious to decay.

All fractures, except of the bones, cured by Spalding's Glue.

No remedy heretofore discovered has been so successful in curing Consumption and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs as Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. The medicine is pleasant to take, and guaranteed to cure if taken in season. It can be procured of your Druggist.

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort, the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, will sustain its well-merited popularity, and earn greater, by the sensible reduction of its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS are not unfrequent with consumers of tea and coffee. A well-made cup of Chocolate or Cocoa will be found not only palatable and nourishing, but conducive to a good night's rest. Grocers will furnish the best quality, if you ask for that prepared by Walter Baker & Co.

Purity is the great desideratum in any article of general consumption. Walter Baker & Co. have labored a hundred years to make this the leading claim of their Chocolates and Cocoas to public confidence, and the constantly increasing demand for their goods evinces their great success.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's
COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.
A Safe and Sure Remedy.
The Cough and Lung Syrup
Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.
It Will Cure a Common Cold
In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.
It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.
IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION
Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.
IT WILL CURE CATARRH
More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.
It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.
It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.
It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.
TRY IT.
IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.
For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.
Remember that it
CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.
DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:
For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.
DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Political.

Certain well-disposed persons seem to be under the domination of a prejudice against Judge Spofford, the new senator from Louisiana, simply because he originated in Connecticut. This is manifestly unfair to the Judge. A Connecticut democrat is not necessarily more depraved than any other democrat, provided he emigrates from his native State at an early age and before he comes to his wickedness, as it were. It ought to be borne in mind that Eaton and Barnum did not reach the Senate by the way of Louisiana.—Tribune.

"Hard money, hard work, home rule, free schools, justice to the South, generosity to the blacks—these are the cues to true and beneficent political action; for the spirit of the age is the spirit of the Union, now and forever, one and inseparable." Who says the world does not move, when Henry Watterson talks like this. A better platform could not be constructed.

—Be just, since equity supports the human race. Be good, as bounty attaches every heart. And be indulgent, since thou livest among beings like thyself. Be modest, as pride hurts the self love of every human being. Pardon injuries, as vengeance creates hatred. Do good to him who injures thee, that thou mayest show thyself greater than he, and also gain his friendship. Be moderate, temperate and chaste, since voluptuousness, intemperance and excess destroy thy being, and render thee contemptible.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, last for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have imagined their health already destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only Agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichoff's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians in past days. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send three more packages, as I can get no of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effects. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and taking patent medicines until my suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send you the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the hurrying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the choice of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CERTIFICATE OF SUPERVISORS OF DRAWING.

This is to certify that the first drawing of the Kentucky Cash Distribution Company took place on the 6th of December, in Major Hall, Frankfort, Ky., in our presence and under our immediate supervision.

We further state that every ticket, and pair of ticket, that had been sold, were represented in the wheel, and that the drawing was fairly and honestly conducted. We further state that we had no interest whatever in the enterprise, nor any connection with the same, except in the character of supervisors, whose sole duty was to protect the interest of the the ticket-holders and to preside over the drawing. Hon. Alvin Duvall, late Chief Justice Sup. Court of Ky.; James G. Dudley, Chairman Board of School Trustees; Grant Green, Cashier Farmers' Bank of Kentucky; Hon. S. I. M. Major, Public Printer State of Kentucky; Hon. Thomas C. Jones, Clerk of Sup. Court of Kentucky; Judge R. A. Thompson, Presiding Judge Franklin Co. Court; James G. Crockett, Clerk Franklin County Court.

Remittances can be made by Mail, Express, Draft, P. O. Order or Registered Letter, made payable to G. W. Barrow & Co.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, Leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Reforming A Husband.

(Concluded from last issue.)

At breakfast a tiny rent in Louie's apron caught her father's eye, and he exclaimed angrily that "she never had a decent stitch of clothes, and he did wish somebody would see to her."

Two days after a formidable draper's bill was sent to him, and Lina explained in this wise:

"You said, Herbert, that Louie hadn't a decent stitch, and you wished somebody would see to her, so I bought her a complete outfit. I could not see any fault myself, but of course I got more expensive articles, as you did not like those already provided. I am glad you called my attention to the poor neglected child."

"Poor neglected child!" echoed the astonished Herbert. "Why, Lina, Essie fairly slaves her life out over those children. I am sure I never see any better dressed or neater."

Lina merely shrugged her shoulders. A month passed. Essie gained strength in the genial atmosphere surrounding Louie and her mother, while Lina ruled Herbert's house with a rod of iron. Herbert began to experience a sick longing for Essie's gentle presence. Lina took him so literally in all he said, and yet he could not rebuke her for what he had openly wished.

An arm chair with a tiny spot of dirt being declared absolutely filthy, was upholstered and varnished at a cost of ten dollars. A dozen new shirts, Essie's last labor of love, being said to set like meal bags, were bestowed upon the gardener, and a new set obtained. Every window was opened after a petty declaration that the "room was hot as an oven," and an hour later the grate was fired up to smothering heat because he declared it was cold enough to freeze a polar bear. In short, with apparently an energetic attempt to correct all short-comings, and put the house upon a perfect basis, Lina succeeded in nearly doubling her brother's expenses, and drove him to the verge of distraction. But Essie, well and strong again, was coming home. On the day of her expected arrival, Lina, with a solemn face, invited her brother into the sitting-room for a few minutes of private conversation.

"Herbert," she said, very gravely, "I have a proposition to make to you. You are my only brother, and I tell you I love you very dearly. It has really grieved me to the heart to see how much there is to find fault with in your beautiful home."

Herbert twisted himself uneasily, but Lina continued:

"You know that mother is very dependent upon me, Louie having the house and children to care for, but I think would sacrifice her own comfort for yours. So, if you wish, Herbert, I will come here permanently to keep things in order for you."

Here Lina was obliged to pause and strangle a laugh at Herbert's expression of horror and dismay.

"You are very kind," he faltered, the instincts of a gentleman battling with a very strong desire to tell Lina she would certainly drive him into a lunatic asylum by six months more of her model housekeeping.

"Not at all. A man who has made an unfortunate marriage certainly needs all the aid and sympathy his family can give him."

The last straw was laid upon the camel's back. Herbert spoke hotly.

"You are entirely mistaken, Lina. I have not made an unfortunate marriage. If ever a man was blessed in a wife, I am that man."

"You amaze me, Herbert!" Lina cried, in well-feigned surprise.

"I don't see why you should be surprised. Essie is gentle, loving, orderly, a model mother and perfect home angel—God bless her!"

"Herbert, is that true? I cannot believe it," was the slow response.

"Cannot believe it? Why?"

"Because," and Lina dwelt impressively on every word, "during the nine years of your married life, though visiting here frequently, I never saw one look of approbation or appreciation of any effort she made for your comfort upon your face. Continued fault-finding, constant blame, have changed her from a happy girl to a pale, care-worn woman. Even her last illness was but the unspoken despair of a heart crushed under a load of daily censure and constant striving for approbation never given. And you tell me now she never failed in her duty to you! There is a grave error somewhere, Herbert."

The solemn earnest tone, the face of thoughtful gravity, sent every word home in the young man's heart. He spoke not one word in self-defence as Lina slowly left the room. In the profound stillness that followed conscience reviewed the past, and he knew that his sister had only spoken the truth.

"God help me," he whispered, "to conquer this fault. Essie shall hear no more fault-finding, and if I see her drooping I shall send her to mother, and I'll have Lina here to keep house."

Never had wife and mother a warmer welcome than greeted Essie. The children were unchecked in their loudest demonstrations of delight. But Lina had to rush into the hall to hide her merry eyes when Herbert, kissing Essie, said: "We must let mother have Lina now, dear. She has been very kind and worked hard for my comfort; but there is no home fairy like my Essie."

The quick, glad look in his wife's soft eyes told Herbert one step had been taken in the right direction. As the days glided by, and Essie found appreciation meeting every effort to add home comforts, a word of praise for every little triumph of cookery or needle-work, her pale face grew bright with happiness, and Herbert found his own heart lightened by the cheerful voice and sunny smile, the bright eyes of the Essie he had wooed years before. And Lina, making a visit six month's later, told her mother on her return:

"Herbert learned his lesson by heart, mother. He appreciates Essie now at her value, and lets her know it."

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1877.

The War.

The Russians are advancing with a rapidity that surprises the other nations. The march to Galatz is spoken of as something wonderful; wagons were only provided to carry the knapsacks and arms; the artillery, cavalry and baggage trains all arrived together; it was expected that a detachment would commence action immediately upon arriving, as the Turks had only to cross the river to seize the railway and destroy the bridge. The railway is now secured to the Russians. Russian reports say the Czar's forces on the Danube number 300,000 men, and the army of the Caucasus 125,000, while the Turks have only 100,000 on the Danube and 50,000 or less in Asia Minor. Persia is said to have 20,000 men ready to join the Russians.

The defeat of the Russian advance at Batoum is confirmed. They were checked in battles on Thursday and Friday, and driven back across the river Friday night.

Russia has warned the Khedive of Egypt against sending troops to aid the Sultan, and France has warned him against diverting any sums he has set apart for his creditors to such purpose.

The Russians are extensively fortifying Galatz and putting together small gunboats taken there in sections.

The proclamation of Italy's neutrality has been issued.

Greece is directing troops toward the Turkish frontier.

The British ironclads stationed at Malta have sailed for Corfu.

An official Russian despatch says "the loss by the bombardment of Fort St. Nicholas was one killed. On the 27th instant the Turkish monitors approached the Porti, but went away without doing any damage." Fort St. Nicholas and "Poti" are reported by the Turks to have been destroyed by their fleet. This shows that lying has commenced over there in earnest.

News from Servia is war-like; active preparations are being made to resist any forced occupation by the Turks.

A convention between Russia and Roumania is announced, by which the latter grants Russian troops free passage, gives up control of roads, telegraphs and railroads to Russia, agrees to assist in erecting camps and hospitals, provide materials for boats and bridges, and in other ways aid Russia, the latter to pay all expenses incurred.

Hobart Pacha, the Turkish Admiral, being unable to get down the Danube on account of torpedoes, returned to Constantinople and will take command of the squadron off Crete. The action of the Russian authorities in closing the navigation of the Danube indicates an understanding with Austria, as it is highly improbable that such a step would have been undertaken against Austria's views.

No great battle is expected to take place for some days.

Senator Brownlow, of Tennessee.

William Grannaway Brownlow, Ex-United States Senator from Tennessee, died at Knoxville, Tenn., on Sunday. Mr. Brownlow was extensively known throughout the country as a clergyman, journalist and politician, although he was better known to the public as Parson Brownlow. He was born in Wyeth county, Va., August 29, 1805, consequently was 71 years of age. Being left an orphan when quite young he was in a measure dependent upon his own wits for an existence, and consequently learned the carpenter's trade, at the same time pursuing his studies. In 1826 he entered the Methodist ministry and labored as a preacher for ten years. As early as 1828 he took part in politics in Tennessee by advocating the re-election of John Quincy Adams to the Presidency, and while travelling a circuit in South Carolina in a district where Hon. John C. Calhoun lived, he publicly opposed nullification. In 1837 he became editor of the Knoxville Whig, and in consequence of his trenchant mode of expression he obtained the sobriquet of the "fighting parson." In 1856 he published a book entitled "The Iron Wheel Examined and its Spokes Extracted," being an answer to attacks made upon the Methodist church. In 1858 he held a public debate in Philadelphia with Rev. A. Pryne of New York, which was published in a volume entitled "Ought American Slavery to be Perpetuated." When the secession movement commenced he advocated the preservation of the Union as the best safeguard for Southern institutions. In December, 1861, he was arrested on a charge of treason against the Confederacy and held until March, 1862, after which he made a tour of the Northern States, delivering speeches in the principal cities, and published a book entitled "Sketches of the Rise, Progress and Decline of Secession." In 1864 he returned to Tennessee, of which State he became Governor in 1865, and in 1869 he was elected to the United States Senate. His services in the Senate were not remarkable, except as he occasionally displayed some of his well-known characteristics, and his physical weakness was such that he was debarred from active duties. He was a man of strong passions and undoubted courage; a man who made many enemies and warm friends. Since he left Washington he has lived in retirement, his worn-out body not admitting of any continued labor, either mental or physical.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.

The appointment of Hon. Edward McPherson, late Clerk of the House, as Superintendent of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, has been received with many demonstrations of satisfaction; and so implicitly is his uprightness and honesty confided in, that we confidently expect a cessation of the scandals that have made that Bureau a by-word and a reproach during the past eight or ten years. His Assistant, Mr. Irish, is not generally known, but those having a personal acquaintance with him speak in the highest terms of his peculiar qualifications for the place. The impression is fast obtaining that the Departments are to undergo a rigid scrutiny, and that a general reorganization in each is likely to effect many changes among the higher as well as the lower grade of officials. It seems to be taken for granted that Mr. Wyman, United States Treasurer, is soon to give way to Mr. Gilfillin; and the latest rumor retires the first, third and fifth Auditors.

The warfare for the possession of the State offices having practically ceased in South Carolina and Louisiana with the success of Hampton and Nicholls, will be transferred to Washington on the opening of the extra session of Congress. Corbin and Butler from South Carolina, and Kellogg, Shofford, and perhaps Eustis from Louisiana, are to contest for the Senatorial seats belonging to those States, and now vacant. The struggle bids fair to be a spirited one on the part of those gentlemen, and the Senate is now so evenly divided that predictions as to the result are unusually hazardous. There seems to be a general belief that the disaffected republicans will not neglect the occasion to bombard the administration. It is whispered that should the democrats succeed in seating their man, southern republican Senators will have every possible temptation thrust in their faces to stimulate them to vote with the democrats in securing the organization of the Senate. They will be offered special inducements, it is said, and their resentments against the administration will be sedulously fostered and encouraged and they will be pressed to embrace this opportunity to get even.

Many people profess to think Gen. Garfield was badly sold in consenting to withdraw from the Senatorial canvass in Ohio, giving up a certainty for the delusive chances of the Speakership. Some go so far as to insist that he was the victim of a confidence operation, conducted by several well-known Ohio politicians, who had an eye to the main chance and made use of the President's influence to induce Gen. Garfield's withdrawal and thus forward the preferment of one of the firm. Whether correct or otherwise, it now appears almost certain that Garfield gave up a seat that he might have had in the Senate, for a position that Mr. Randall now appears almost certain to capture. KNOX.

RYE, April 30.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room," by the Portsmouth Dramatic Club, gave a large audience in the Town Hall on Friday evening complete satisfaction. A genuine dramatic entertainment being something new, made it only the more attractive; and undoubtedly it gave to many their first experience in a show that pertains to a theatrical performance.

A May Ball is advertised to come off Tuesday night, which will probably be the finale to the gay season of '76 and '77 in Rye.

Quite a serious accident occurred near the Center schoolhouse on Friday afternoon last, resulting in an injury to Miss Mary A. Caswell, and to a young man whose name at present is unknown to your correspondent. It seems that Mr. Uriah Blaisdell of your city, with said young man, was driving in his carriage, when by some means the horse got frightened and shied, so as to upset the carriage and occupants, and then running, came in contact with Miss Caswell, knocking her down and injuring her considerably. The runaway was finally secured, but the carriage was a wreck.

On Saturday evening another runaway occurred at Greenland depot, by which a nice buggy got somewhat smashed up, but fortunately no person was injured.

Speaking of depots reminds a passenger in the 4:45 P. M. train from Boston on Saturday last, that, if a conductor is liable to be discharged for not strictly obeying orders, there was not probably one among the fifteen or twenty passengers who, for want of seats, had to stand all the way from Newburyport to Greenland, but what would, with great pleasure, have signed a petition to the President and Directors of the road to have them overlook his disregard of orders, and beg to have him retained in the employ of the road, if he had consulted the comfort of the passengers on his train and allowed one of the two cars which were left at Newburyport to run through to Portsmouth. To one who don't of course pretend to know the inside workings of the precise and unalterable rules of railroads, it looked very much like stupidity or ugliness, in the conductor, to allow passengers who had paid their fares and were entitled to seats to stand a distance of fifteen miles, when, apparently, it would not have cost the company one penny more to have let one more car run through to Portsmouth.

The summer terms of the schools are all to be taught by female teachers, and all are natives of the town.—Miss Belinda S. Bunker at the West, Miss E. M. Goss at the South, Miss A. S. Clark at the Center and Miss S. A. Goss at the East.

Rev. S. B. Bowdish will preach at the Christian Church another year; but at the Congregational they are still without a pastor, Mr. Harris, it is understood, having declined the call made him by the society. Nathaniel Marden, Dr. Warren Parsons, and John S. Remick were elected wardens of this society at the annual meeting, held a short time since. NAT.

News and Notes.

The sale of the Stevens battery to the Russian government is announced, at $1,000,000. It cost $3,000,000.

The Chicago Times publishes an interview with an old citizen of Kansas, named Dubois, who claims to have been one of the party which, when the Bender family emigrated so suddenly from the scene of their murders in that State, followed their trail, and having encountered them, had a short, sharp fight, which ended in the summary burial of the whole family. Dubois gives a graphic and detailed account of the encounter.

The Atlanta Constitution says that there are men still in hiding in the mountains of the upper Georgia counties who have never heard of the conclusion of the war, and are afraid to venture out lest they should be conscripted for service in the rebel army.

The Moody and Sankey meetings in Boston ended on Sunday.

Tatro, the murderer of Mrs. Butler at Highgate, Vt., was on Saturday convicted of murder in the first degree.

The New York market is glutted with fresh mackerel.

On Friday, a party of sportsmen found on the shore of Lake Erie, fifty miles from Ashtabula, the body of P. P. Bliss, one of the victims of the accident. It is supposed to have been frozen to the under side of a cake of ice, and thus transported to the lake and along its shore.

There was a disastrous fire at Montreal on Sunday, in the Montreal Novelty Works. The building was five stories high, and contained an immense amount of inflammable material. After burning about an hour a portion of the building fell into a narrow street between the manufactory and a lot of low houses, burying several firemen, and others were killed in adjacent buildings, which were also crushed by the falling walls. Mr. Patton, chief engineer of the Montreal fire department, George Lynch, foreman of the water works, and seven others, were killed, and others were severely wounded. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary. Loss $45,000.

Washington dispatches say the dismissal of Chief Naval Constructor Hanscom is the sensation of the day. It took place on Saturday. Secretary Thompson declines to say why he dismissed Hanscom, further than that it was for cause. He has been contemplating the step for some time. The immediate cause is understood to be irregularities in the recent contracts with purchasers of old stock at the Boston navy yard. Constructor John W. Easby, for some time past stationed at the Boston navy yard, has been appointed Chief Constructor by the President.

Mrs. Phebe A. Hanaford has been engaged for five years as pastor of the Second Universalist Church of New York.

The appointment of Judge John E. King as Collector of New Orleans is announced.

Eight acres of the business part of Canajoharie, N. Y., were burned over on Sunday. Loss $200,000.

New Hampshire Items.

Detectives on Sunday arrested at Farmington, Charles Cook, (who formerly worked for Buzzell, tried for the murder of the Hanson woman,) for setting fires. It is reported that he confessed that he murdered the Hanson woman, being hired by Buzzell for $200. A gun has been found with which the murder was committed. Buzzell was tried for the murder and acquitted. It is also reported that the boy has confessed to burning the buildings of Churchill, a prominent witness in the trial, being hired by Buzzell. Buzzell was arrested Monday morning.

Mrs. James Hurd, of North Weare, on Sunday killed her ten-year-old son with an axe, and then hung herself. She was thirty years old, and had for some time been insane, but not considered dangerously so. The family has always borne a high reputation.

Jeremiah Colbath of Farmington was on Sunday arrested for burglary at the house of Otis Wallingford at Alton. He confessed the robbery and returned the money stolen, and was carried to Alton for trial.

An unfinished house belonging to Mr. Stephen L. Ames, at Hanover, was burned by an incendiary fire on Sunday. Loss $500; no insurance.

Henry Plaisted's house and barn at New Hampton were burned Friday night. Loss $600; no insurance.

James F. Whitney, six years of age, son of James Whitney of Nashua, received quite a severe gash from a knife while at play with a schoolmate on Saturday, named Lewis Shattuck, a lad about twelve years old. The two boys got into a dispute, which resulted in young Shattuck's drawing a knife and striking at the Whitney boy three times, cutting through his clothing twice, the third time the knife entering a little below the hip to the depth of about two and a half inches.

A New Era in Yachting.

The sensation made by the appearance of the Amaryllis in New York harbor will be remembered by all interested in nautical matters. The little nondescript, catamaran, proa, or what you will, gave her competitors a good start, and then sailed through the whole fleet, arriving at the home stake full ten minutes in advance of all, only to be ruled out because she wasn't a pleasure boat. People will differ about the definition of pleasure. It may be pleasure to some to work like a demon in shifting heavy sand bags to windward and then lying down upon them, only to jump up with a sudden start and shift quickly to leeward when the wind fluctuates. But in the catamaran there is no shifting of ballast, no clutching to windward. You sit quietly and pass your competitors as swiftly and easily as a fleet-footed race-horse would pass a sedate old cow. What is principally noticeable in these marvellous craft is their great speed, fifteen or twenty miles an hour being attainable with a strong beam wind. In beating to windward they will outstrip everything under sail, though with less difference than with a fair wind. They careen so little that it is scarcely perceptible on the car for carrying the passengers, which is supported between the two hulls three feet above the water. The hulls are so sharp and have so little disturbing influence that one rarely gets wet from the spray. The motions, too, are most enjoyable. With so great a power as the large sail affords, the double boat seems to fly over the water, darting ahead with every little increase of wind, sometimes almost leaping out of the water as if in indecision which to make its natural element, the sea or sky. Then again, with all the excitement and exhilaration which a sail in the catamaran gives, you have the additional satisfaction of feeling that you are in a life boat. The hulls are placed so far apart that they cannot be upset, and as no ballast is used they are so far as the dangers of the sea are concerned, perfectly safe.

Mr. Herreshoff, the former owner of the Amaryllis, has patented several improvements in double-hull vessels, the first of which is a peculiar manner of connecting the two hulls with universal joints, so they can pitch independently of each other and adjust themselves to the ever varying form of the sea. The rigging and car are supported between the hulls by a system of truss work composed of steel and iron rods. Still another improvement is the manner of connecting the rudders (there being one on the stern of each hull), so that when the boat turns, the rudder on the inner hull, or the one describing the smallest circle, is turned through the greatest angle.

There are several of these marvellous craft now in course of construction in Bristol, R. I., one of which is destined for Boston waters. It is to be owned by Drs. Henry Sanford Mudge and William Appleton. Two will remain in Narragansett Bay, and another will astonish the dwellers along the banks of the Hudson.

It seems as if this would be the coming boat, and most properly, too, for in her is combined wonderful speed, safety and comfort. In fact, they possess everything that makes this sort of recreation enjoyable and attractive.

Mr. Nathaniel G. Herreshoff, the proprietor of the boat described, was recently made an honorary member of the Boston Yacht Club in recognition of his past services to the club and to the cause of yachting generally.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require to be wholly emptied, shall be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any offal, heads, or other refuse of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. And no person offal of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum at twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

—An Atchison (Kansas) girl ate four pounds of wedding cake in order that she might dream of her future husband. And now she says that money wouldn't hire her to marry the man she saw in that dream.

—"I will give anybody ten dollars to get that man out of doors," bawled an auctioneer to his hungry crowd, after he had been bothered for half an hour by a drunken wretch who was constantly giving in empty bids. "Hand over your money," came back from a listener, as he slapped the false bidder on the back and said: "Come along with me and I'll give you half."

—"Doctor," said an old lady to her family physician, "kin ye tell me how it is that some folks is born dumb?" "Why, certainly madam," replied the doctor; "it is owing to the fact they come into the world without the power of speech." "La, me!" remarked the old lady; "now jes see what it is to have a phisic education. I've axed my old man more nor a hundred times that ar same thing, and all that I ever could get out of him was, 'case they is.'"

"Sore Heads."

So long as people persist in "testing" every thing they hear of, or see advertised to cure Catarrh, so long they must expect "sore heads" with an aggravation and complication of the malady. If the drowning man refuse to grasp the rope thrown him, but foolishly trust to straws, can any one be blamed but himself? The safe and certain means of cure are offered the afflicted in Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy which has been a standard remedy for years, and there is no sympathy for those who refuse it and still suffer. One bottle often gives complete relief, though obstinate cases may require the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify the blood. Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books are given away at drug-stores.

The price of brown bread in this city has gone up from ten cents a loaf to twelve cents. All owing to the war; the Russians are supposed to live on brown bread.

The clipper barque Fury, of Boston, G. N. Everett master, sailed from Boston on the 15th of December on a general trading voyage to the West Coast of Africa, and arrived at Goree after a passage of twenty days; from thence to Bathurst (river Gambia), and returned to Goree; from thence to St. Vincent (Cape de Verde Islands), and from there to Sierra Leone (West Coast of Africa), and back to Boston in twenty-seven days and seventeen hours—making the round trip in three months and twenty-three days, the quickest on record. The Fury was built at this port, by Mr. William F. Fernald.

A large number of the reserved seats for Maggie Mitchell's entertainment on Wednesday evening are already taken, but there are still some good ones left. The indications are that the hall will be crowded to see this favorite actress in her new play, "Mignon."

To clean paint, take one ounce pulverized borax, one pound small pieces best brown soap, and three quarts of water; let simmer till the soap is dissolved, stirring frequently. Do not let it boil. Use with a piece of old flannel, and rinse off as soon as the paint is clean, This mixture is also good for washing clothes.

The Appledore House landing stage was taken across the river to the marine railway on Monday, to have its bottom examined before being towed to the Shoals to be moored for the summer. If warm weather should come in May "the season" is expected to open earlier than for several years past. It always does open at the Appledore a week sooner than anywhere else.

The clock at the south end struck eighteen times at 12 P. M., Sunday, apparently trying to get up a fire alarm on its own account; but, probably disgusted with its unsuccessful efforts, it quietly settled back to its business and at one o'clock A. M. it was all right again.

The new schooner Henry M. Clark, Capt. Alvin Cahoon, Jr., arrived at this port on Monday afternoon.

Scotching Malaria.

It is a fact widely and amply attested that where the powerful and pernicious drug, quinine, and other mineral poisons, administered as remedies for fever and ague and bilious remittents, fail to yield more than temporary relief to the sufferer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters scotches those tremendous epidemics most thoroughly, and by strengthening the system and regulating its functions, protects it against malarial attacks. No resident of a locality where the above maladies prevail, or where they are likely to break out in consequence of the poisoning of the atmosphere by noxious exhalations, should fail to take practical cognizance of the above important truth, and by a timely use of the Bitters avoid the ravages of maladies so closstrous to the physical constitution. There is not in existence a finer tonic, corrective and defensive cordial.

Dried Eggs.

A large establishment has been opened in St. Louis for drying eggs. It is in full operation, and hundreds of thousands of dozen are going into its insatiable maw. The eggs are carefully "candled" by hand—that is, examined by light to ascertain whether good or not—and are then thrown into an immense receptacle, where they are broken, and by a centrifugal operation the white and yolk are separated from the shell very much as liquid honey is cleared of the comb. The liquid is then dried by heat, by patent process, and the dried article left, resembling sugar; and it is put in barrels and is ready for transportation anywhere. This dried article has been taken twice across the equator in ships, and then made into omelet, and compared with omelet made from fresh eggs in the same manner, and the best judges could not detect the difference between the two. Is this not an age of wonders? Milk made solid, cider made solid, apple butter made into bricks!—Philadelphia Trade Journal.

—A short time ago a lady residing at Clifton, England, having an income of $5,000 a year, was so struck by the devotion of a young crossing-sweeper to his mother that she proposed to him, placed him in the hands of a tutor for a couple of months, and when he had been intellectually veneered and polished, married him at Wells Cathedral. The experiment was not a success, and the lady is now sueing for a divorce.

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

This above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Liespenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurs at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—Fifty-fifth edition—Price, price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail (post paid).

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

In visits out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as I have many neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 23, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than you have recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time during the last three years, but, by travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced it free from anything injurious to health, and is not acted upon by the strongest boiling solutions of tea, coffee, and chocolate.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after, dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trving climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—DEAR SIR: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions, have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.
